CARING KIDS:

Six young girls walked into the Ajax-Pickering General Hospital Monday carrying a Styrofoam cup labelled "charity". The $7.48 inside, proceeds of the girls' lemonade stand, was given to the hospital for its expansion fund. The caring youngsters, all of Ajax, are Tracy and Amanda Tanos, Ashley Gallagher, Ashley Black, Hollie Chuhaniuk and Meaghan Harkness. Thank you, girls, for your generosity and community spirit.

CAW-Chrysler aim for contract

By KEITH GILLIGAN
Staff Reporter

AJAX - Negotiators for Chrysler Canada and its unionized workers here believe the two sides can hammer out a new contract without a labor disruption.

That's the word from both parties after the Canadian Auto

Workers announced Friday they'll attempt to win a new deal from Chrysler before sitting down with the remainder of the big three automakers.

The chief negotiator for unionized Chrysler workers is "a bit excited" the CAW will take on that big three carmaker first in a bid

Parents slam 'round-about' bus rides to high schools

By LINDA WHITE
Staff Reporter

PICKERING - Parents outraged at sending their teens to public high schools on "poorly-designed" public transit routes are demanding changes.

But it's unfair of them to aim the brunt of their anger at Pickering Transit, according to inspector Garry Coe. "The (Durham Board of Education) elected not to have school buses, not us."

Still, parent Kimberley Cox admits, "I wouldn't have quite as big a beef if there was a more direct route."

She has a "sick feeling" about sending her 14-year-old daughter to Pine Ridge Secondary School next week. That's because most students must take a bus to the GO Transit station on Bayly St. and board another bus to their school.

There is a bus stop directly in front of Dunbarton High School on Whites Rd. But those students attending Pine Ridge, located at the top of Liverpool Rd., a dead-end street, will be dropped off at either Liverpool Rd. and Finch Ave. or Liverpool Rd. and Bushmill St., depending on their route.

"It sounds like a great adventure — find your bus along with all those people going to work," says Mrs. Cox. "Are they waiting for something to happen before saying it's not such a great idea?"

Edith Welton is equally troubled by the "round-about way" buses travel to and from schools and chastises Pickering Transit for not treating students as "a priority."

But Mr. Coe reminds, "Our obligation is to get regular riders to the GO station. We've made slight modifications to try and accommodate students where time and distance are feasible. But the (GO) train is the hub of our operation."

And the board "can't do anything about re-routing or adding buses," according to communications manager Mary Brown. "It's up to Pickering Transit

Banking on a bed

Staff at Canada Trust, Pickering, donned hospital garb at work Tuesday and, using bedpans at wickets for donations, collected the final $900 toward a $5,000 bed at the Ajax-Pickering General Hospital. Customer Jack Anderson, seated, made a $100 donation. The bank had earlier collected most of the money to buy a bed through various fund-raising events. Employees send a heartfelt thank you to customers for their support. With Mr. Anderson are, from left, Josie Loschiavo, Anne DeLippis, Helen Mitchell, Sheri Jackson and Dawn Marsh (with stethoscope).

On an even keel

Dan Duval struggles to get his Laser 2 sail boat on an even keel at the Frenchman's Bay Yacht Club in Pickering. His task was made all the more difficult by gusting winds and the fact his mast was stuck in the bottom of the bay. He did receive some help from crewmate Francisca Coombs.

Chrysler, auto workers at bargaining table to win a new contract.

"I've been predicting Chrysler," says Larry Bauer. "It made sense to me, but you never know until the president makes the announcement."

CAW president Buzz Hargrove announced Friday the union picked Chrysler as the automaker the workers want to sit down with first because of that company's strength in the marketplace, the downsizing at General Motors and the fact Ford's been targeted by United Auto Workers in the U.S.

Chrysler spokesman Walt McCall says, "I guess it's our turn (to be the target company). It certainly wasn't anything like a surprise. Someone had to be picked."

The choice of Chrysler also means that company would be the first the CAW would strike if the two sides can't negotiate a new contract by Sept. 14, the date the current three-year deal expires.

"It's a prime target," says Mr. Bauer, who's also the president of CAW Local 444 in Windsor. "It would very quickly and very effectively be affected by a labor shutdown."

Being the target company will "certainly accelerate the pace of negotiations," Mr. McCall says. "Once the target is named, you can really focus on the matter at hand."

(The CAW and the big three automakers use pattern bargaining whereby the union selects a target company to try to reach a deal with first. Any contract settlement is used as a base for negotiations with the other two carmakers. If a deal can't be hammered out with the target company, unionized workers strike it first.)

The master bargaining committees from the union and the company were to meet yesterday afternoon to discuss a negotiating schedule.

The CAW wants pension improvements, a shorter work week, better job security, early retirement and increased wages, Mr. Bauer reports. (The average hourly base rate is $18.20 an hour.)

He's "very confident" a contract can be reached without a labor disruption.

"In 1990, the same bargaining unit for the union negotiated a good agreement with Chrysler with no labor stoppage. I'm confident we can do it again."

Mr. McCall is more guarded in his optimism, saying, "We did it last time. It won't come easily, but I think it's do-able."

Executive members of Ajax CAW Local 1090 have joined other union officials at the bargaining table at the Delta Chelsea Inn in Toronto.

Chrysler was last selected as the target company in 1987 when workers struck for two weeks before an agreement was reached.

School bus furor in Pickering

to set the best routes...The board had to get out of busing simply because of the cost."

Board chair and Pickering trustee Louise Farr recognizes parents' frustration, but contends, "People are expecting the same level of service (as provided by school buses). We never promised that...These are difficult times."

Earlier this year, the board eliminated free bus service in those municipalities where a full public transit system exists. It will save the board almost $525,000 a year by cutting busing in Pickering alone.

(Pickering students were at first exempt from that decision because the board didn't realize Pickering Transit could provide access to Pine Ridge and Dunbarton. Bus passes are available at schools at no charge to students who live at least 3.2 kilometres from their school — for the month of September only — because the board's decision to switch to public transit came in late June.)

Monthly bus passes, which can be used seven days a week, cost $38. But where they can be purchased is among the kinks that must still be worked out this month.

In a letter to parents, the board said the passes could be purchased at schools. But Dunbarton principal Jim Robb says he's not prepared to collect about $20,000 a month in the sale of passes to more than 500 students, even if he had the staff to do so.

Nor does the board know how it will deal with Pickering Transit's plan to shut down service several school days as a result of the New Democratic Party's social contract.

Finally, it will take "more than a few weeks" to work out any problems Pickering Transit may face when at least 1,000 students board its buses beginning Tuesday, warns Mr. Coe.

He expects that number will decrease in October when "some will buy passes and others will find other ways of getting to school. I don't think September will be a good indicator."

Worker's arm caught in press

PICKERING - A 42-year-old Pickering man was listed in satisfactory condition at Oshawa General Hospital yesterday after getting his left arm caught in a press Tuesday morning.

The accident took place at the MacMillan Bathurst Inc. plant on Water St. in Whitby.

The man was trapped for an hour-and-a-half while the press was dismantled with the help of fire-fighters.

No further details were provided by the hospital or the company.

The ministry of labor is investigating.

Golf cart pranksters damage local course

PICKERING - A pair of early morning pranksters who zoomed around a golf course here are being sought by police.

An employee at 4 Seasons Golf & Country Club at Brock Rd. and Concession 8 was awakened Wednesday around 2:30 by two golf carts being driven up a laneway.

The employee spotted what he believed was a suspect vehicle and passed the information on to Durham Regional Police.

The golf course reported minimal damage to carts and greens.

Local woman calls for Bosnia help

By MICHELE YOUNG
Durham Staff

DURHAM - Despite the distressing stories of atrocities and genocide coming out of Bosnia-Herzegovina, a local woman says there's been a marked lack of interest and donations from Durham residents.

Bosnia-Herzegovina are linked provinces in the former Yugoslavia which have been the focus of a civil war involving Serbs, Croats and the Bosnian Moslems.

Ajax resident Rashida Shabonovic comes from Bosnian Moslem roots, though her family, including five sisters, lives in the area between Pickering and Oshawa.

Because of her background, she's taken a more personal interest in the Bosnia situation. For one thing, she has relatives still living there and she worries about them.

"In our family alone we have lost touch with 10 people." And, contacting them is near impossible. "The Red Cross says their hands are tied."

In order to take part in relief efforts out of Canada, she has had to go far afield. Ms Shabonovic says she knows of relief efforts organized out of St. Catharines and Toronto, but little or nothing is happening in Durham.

The last major effort in the area was a drive last fall by Rotary clubs from Scarborough to Cobourg, which resulted in hundreds of tons of blankets and clothes being flown to refugee camps in the former Yugoslavian province.

"Local involvement is minimal. People feel they have given a lot to local groups and feel their resources are strained."

She also speculates that, because the conflict is a distant one and fairly complicated, Durham residents are perhaps less sympathetic than they might otherwise be.

Nevertheless, Ms Shabonovic says there is a desperate and ongoing need for supplies.

A brief history

DURHAM - While Moslems are not in a majority, they are the largest cultural group in Bosnia, comprising approximately 45 per cent of the population.

It was the Ottoman Empire that first brought the religion of Islam into Bosnia-Herzegovina in the late 15th century. During Turkish rule, many of the Slavic inhabitants of the area were gradually converted to the Islamic religion.

By the late 1800s, the remnants of the Ottoman Empire were being driven out of Europe and in 1878, Bosnia-Herzegovina was taken over and handed to Austria to administer. At the end of the First World War, Bosnia became part of an independent kingdom that was then named Yugoslavia in 1929.

At the end of the Second World War, it was made a separate republic in the Yugoslavia federation under communist rule.

Over the next few decades, there was an influx of other cultural groups, including Serbians and Croats, into the predominantly Moslem area. Communist rule in Yugoslavia, which discouraged religion, kept age-old resentments between the cultural groups in check.

However once Communist rule was lifted, the old conflicts and bitterness came to the fore and it gradually deteriorated into the civil war of today.

While many Bosnians have left the area altogether, she says many have decided to stay, because "That's all they have and all they have ever known."

And for people who remain, life is not easy. Even those who are not under attack are at risk simply from living in unsanitary conditions, since there's a lack of clean water, no electricity, and so on.

Ms Shabonovic says, for Durham residents interested in doing something practical, there's a Canadian medical relief effort being run out of Weston, Ontario by a Moslem doctor who gathers funds, buys medical supplies in Europe and then travels to Bosnia.

Dr. Rashida Alvi has already been to Bosnia, where she has bought two ambulances to act as mobile medical units, and has traveled to some of the more remote areas where even the Red Cross fears to tread.

For more information about the registered charity, call (416) 240-0570 or mail a donation to International Medical Relief, Dr. R. Alvi, 235 Dixon Rd., No. 100, Weston, Ontario M9P 2M5.

Tax receipts will be issued for donations of $20 and over.

Another contribution local residents can make is a political one: "They should be bombarding their MPs with letters and petitions to do something about the problem there. Bosnians are basically unarmed with no way of protecting what they have left."

"Right now no one is going in there to disarm the Serbs, who have a great deal of arms as well as links for more supplies, which keeps the war going," says Ms Shabonovic. "And things have got to be done to stop the inhumanities in the area."

Can you help?

The people of Bosnia-Herzegovina need your help.

The province in the former Yugoslavia is going through a painful period with factions from all sides of the civil war battling each other.

Emotions run high on all sides of this conflict and unquestionably there have been atrocities committed by all parties involved. But often it is the unarmed civilians who suffer the most.

The United Nations peacekeepers there are taking a neutral, hands-off approach to the conflict, which means many of the atrocities, including a systematic rounding up of villagers and the brutal rape of many Moslem women, are carrying on unabated.

And western countries with the power to intervene, such as the U.S., have refused to get involved.

As a result, the bloodshed goes on.

Durham residents have been modest in their sympathy toward the residents of Bosnia. Though the conflict has been growing more bitter as time passes, we in this region have been sitting on our hands.

Only one major relief effort has taken place in the area recently. That was last fall when Rotary Clubs from Scarborough to Cobourg gathered hundreds of tons of blankets and clothes and sent them to the residents of Bosnia.

But that was almost a year ago and the need in Bosnia is no less.

What can we do for people involved in such a remote conflict?

You can read up on the conflict so you understand the issues. Then send letters or faxes, or organize petitions to your MP asking for some way for Canada to become more involved to help solve the problem.

There are also relief efforts you can contact, including that of Dr. Rashida Alvi, a Moslem doctor based in Weston, Ontario, who has set up two mobile emergency medical units in Bosnia. You can call (416) 240-0570 for more information.

You could also organize your own local relief effort.

It's simply no excuse to say, it's too far away, or too complicated, or none of your business. Because human suffering, wherever it happens in the world, is our business, and we all have a responsibility to relieve it.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Ethics couldn't have been covered at seminar

To the editor,

This is in regard to your article "Taxpayers send mayor on campaign-up seminar" in the Wednesday, Aug. 11 edition.

What an outrage. What a bare-faced, two-faced abuse of power and privilege. During budget deliberations, when elected officials were assuring taxpayers they were cutting the fat, slashing to the bone, I don't know how they kept a straight face.

We spent $450 to send Mayor Wayne Arthurs to a seminar on election fund raising? In a town of this size, anyone who can raise $39,771 in campaign contributions does not need lessons in fund raising, he should be giving them.

This seminar is of no use to the poor beleaguered taxpayers who have no need for tips on election strategy and financing. It is of value only to those seeking reelection. While it taught Mayor Arthurs how to talk to reporters, it is obvious that ethics was not one of the topics covered. Mayor Arthurs has an obligation to reimburse the taxpayers.

We spent $2,000 to send councillor Enrico Pistrutto to New York for a personal growth seminar? He desires self-esteem and self-confidence? He wants to be a more effective public speaker?

Don't we all?

However, I should think that one of the "Seven Habits of Highly Effective People" would be self-sufficiency! Enrico, if you want to grow, do it on your own time, at your own expense. Councillor Enrico Pistrutto has a moral obligation to reimburse the taxpayers.

Gentlemen, I don't care where you go or what you do, as long as it is with your own money. But, when you pay the bill with taxpayer dollars, we have a right to know where every dollar is spent, before you spend it.

Therefore, the automatic budget allotment for seminars must be eliminated. A by-law must be enacted stating... "Permission to attend a seminar would be considered only AFTER the purpose of the seminar, along with the daily program and the cost, have been fully provided, disclosed and discussed, with opportunity for public input, at a public council meeting, as the first item on the agenda." (And, not in "other business" at the end of a meeting, nor at an "in camera" meeting.)

In addition, it does raise the question, "What other self-indulgent little fripperies are we paying for?"

Pickering

Have your say: Should retirement be mandatory for public school teachers at age 65?

Susan Douglas says, "No. They should be allowed freedom of choice."

Ray Chatelain says, "I don't think so. Some people get smarter as they grow older. Also, life experiences are a factor."

Carol Gardner says, "No. There are good teachers who have a lot to offer. We should keep them."

Sherry Romaniuk says, "I have mixed feelings, so many good people are coming out of university who can't get a job."

Floating bar draws fire

PICKERING - Residents here are trying to sink a licensed floating restaurant proposed for Frenchman's Bay.

The Primrose, a 136-foot dredger docked at Port Pickering Marina, is planned as a restaurant by James McKean, owner of the marina and the ship. He intends to lease the vessel to restaurateur Al Nassar, who would operate the eatery.

About 30 neighboring residents of the waterfront community attended a five-hour hearing held by the Liquor Licence Board of Ontario last Friday. Most of the residents were in objection to a liquor licence being granted to the restaurant. The board is expected to make a decision in about a month.

in about a month.

Michael Figol, attorney for licence applicant Mr. Nassar, says his client plans to create "a nice family restaurant" catering to both boaters and the neighborhood. Mr. Nassar has previous experience operating a licensed restaurant in Toronto, Mr. Figol adds.

Concerns cited by licence opponents include noise, abuse to the environment and incompatibility with a residential neighborhood, says ward councillor Eileen Higdon, who adds she attended the LLBO hearing as an "observer". She describes the meeting as "a soap opera; a riot."

Some of the residents are tired of private parties in the area, "vomit on lawns" and discarded drinking glasses, she says. The day before the hearing, an anonymous flyer opposing the floating bar was circulated in the community.

Zoning to allow the dredger to operate as a restaurant is already in place, says Mrs. Higdon.

Objections by residents are nothing more than the "Not In My Backyard Syndrome," maintains Mr. McKean, who adds he's confident the liquor licence will be granted.

Mr. McKean himself objected to a proposed licensed restaurant in his community several years ago, but he says that was a different situation. "The whole neighborhood was against it. It was in a house — a private house. It was a rooftop bar."

Celebrity hosts include skater Kurt Browning, while entertainment will be provided by Michael Burgess, The Good Brothers, Randy Bachman, Bobby Curtola and Coda The West. Viewers will also see highlights from the Jerry Lewis Telethon in Las Vegas and will receive updates from other shows across Canada.

Since 1987's discovery of the gene for Duchenne MD, a fatal disorder marked by wasting and weakness of the muscles controlling body movement in young boys, researchers have concentrated their efforts on a potential treatment or cure. They're now testing a drug which may inhibit or slow the progression of Duchenne MD.

In 1992, a Canadian scientist and his Ottawa-based team identified the gene responsible for Myotonic Dystrophy, the most common neuromuscular disorder. This year, researchers discovered the gene responsible for the inherited form of ALS (amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, also known as Lou Gehrig's Disease).

The telethon kicks off Sunday at 8 p.m. and continues until Monday at 7 p.m. In Ajax, tune into Maclean Hunter Cable TV on channel 35. In Pickering, turn to Trillium Cable Communications on channel 10.

Arson suspected in Pickering house fire

PICKERING - An early-morning fire that destroyed a vacant house in north Pickering yesterday is being investigated as suspicious.

Arson had not been confirmed at press time Thursday, according to fire prevention officer Capt. Ron Morgan. The Pickering Fire Department was investigating the blaze and had not yet called the Ontario Fire Marshall's Office, which probes arson cases.

The property, at 3920 Brock Rd., north of Hwy. 7, is owned by the federal government.

Pickering firefighters battled the blaze for about five hours. There were no injuries.

Flames were already through the roof of the empty house when firefighters arrived on scene at 2:15 a.m., says Capt. Morgan.

Loss of the home is estimated at $80,000.

Muscular Dystrophy telethon this weekend

AJAX-PICKERING - Most kids can live without TV on Labour Day. Some can't.

That's the message behind the 24th Annual Labour Day Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy, which can be viewed on local cable TV stations this weekend.

More than 100,000 Canadians are affected by muscular dystrophy (MD), a genetic neuromuscular disorder which destroys motor nerve cells and weakens muscles.

Money raised in the telethon goes toward research into the causes and possible cure for more than 40 neuromuscular disorders. It also funds education, client services and other programs for families affected by MD.

Organizers hope to top last year's tally of $3.6 million. Viewers are asked to call a phone number which will appear on their TV

11 Wanderers on Ontario women's rugby team

AJAX-PICKERING - The Wanderers women's rugby team wrapped up its regular season with a big four-point game against Balmy Beach Monday night in Ajax.

The Wanderers blanked the Beach 41-0 in a contest which combined two regular-season games into one four-point tilt.

Sandra Muller led the way with two tries. Joanne Garner, Chandy Davis, Helen Russell, Caroline Werheid and Charlotte Mathie all scored one try apiece. Annette Shiels added three converts.

Meanwhile, the Wanderers men's rugby teams managed a win, a loss and a tie in action at the Ajax club Saturday afternoon.

The Ajax thirds played to a 10-10 tie with the Barbarian thirds. Corey Whalen and Russ Wilkinson scored one try apiece for the Wanderers.

On Sunday, the Wanderers men's over-35 squad blasted the Kawartha Old Krocs 44-0 at the Ajax club. Floyd Williams led the way with three tries, while Rick Powers scored a pair of tries. Andrew Selbie and Peter McKeown

The Toronto Rugby Union men's team played an exhibition contest against the Instonians from Belfast, Northern Ireland at the Ajax Wanderers Rugby Club last Wednesday night.

A total of 11 Wanderers will suit up for the defending champion Ontario women's rugby team at the Canadian Women's Rugby Championships in Ste. Foy, Quebec, near Quebec City, this weekend.

Seven provinces will send teams to the tournament with Ontario and British Columbia favored to meet in the championship game.

Ontario gets a bye through the first round and will play the winner of Quebec and Saskatchewan in the semi-final contest Sunday afternoon.

Representing the Wanderers on the Ontario team are Caroline Werheid, Helen Russell, Jen Ross, Sandra Muller, Joanne Gardner, Laurie Lundy, Chandy Davis, Annette Shiels, Charlotte Mathie, Doreen Fernandes and Heidi Fischer.

Members of the Ajax Wanderers Rugby Club reside in both Ajax and Pickering.

Pickering skaters meet a world champ

PICKERING - Some Pickering Figure Skating Club members got a chance of the lifetime recently — to meet a former world champion in the sport.

Three skaters — Lisa Gilroy, Amanda Gilroy and Devon Snider — met and had their pictures taken with 1962 world men's figure skating champion Donald Jackson while taking part in the recent Ottawa Summer Skate competition.

The event was held at Ottawa's Minto Skating Club where Jackson is the executive director.

Amanda Gilroy won the bronze medal in the pre-preliminary freeskate level at the Ottawa competition. Nausheen Bashir, Devon Snider and Jennifer Moss also took part.

Skaters with the Pickering club were successful during the recent test day at the Ajax Summer Skating School, hosted by the Ajax Figure Skating Club.

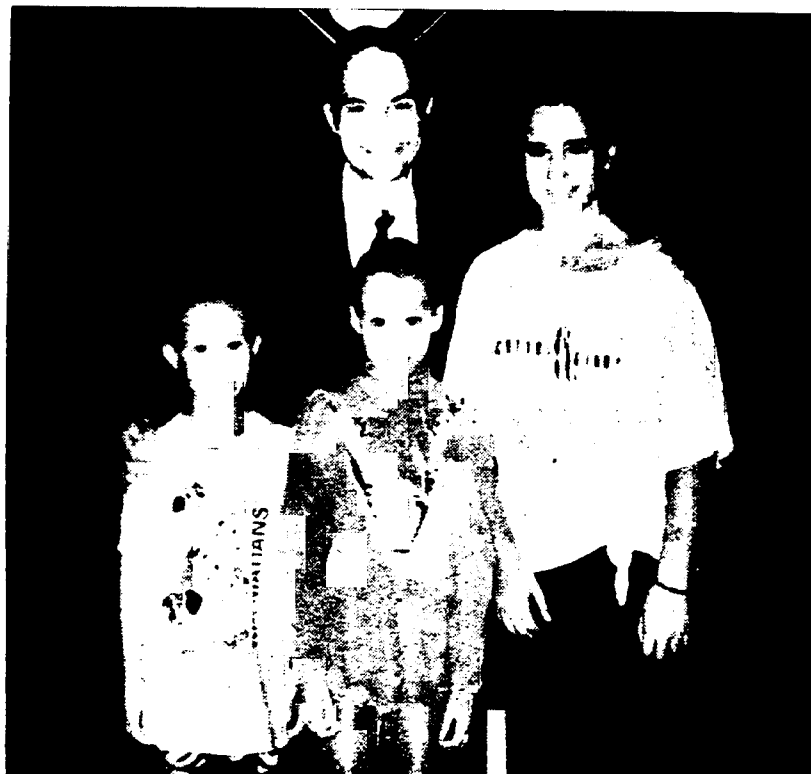

In figures testing, Adrienne Pratt, Melissa Grimshaw and Mhairi McDowell all passed their second figure tests; Lindsay Satterthwaite passed fourth figure; and Nicole Thompson was successful in the fifth figure.

In freeskate, Amy Triumphouraced her junior bronze freeskate test, while Mandy Chapman and Lindsay Satterthwaite passed the senior freeskate test.

Meanwhile, Jayda Everett passed her foxtrot and junior silver dance tests while attending the summer school at the Scarborough Figure Skating Club.

At the movies...

The Man Without A Face heartwarming tale of friendship

THE MAN WITHOUT A FACE (PG): The heartwarming story of an exceptional friendship between a boy and a mysterious recluse played by Mel Gibson. Nick Stahl stars as Chuck Norstadt, a young boy struggling to pass the entrance exam to his late father's alma mater and virtually ignored by his mother and two sisters, asks Justin McLeod (Gibson), an ex-teacher with a tragic past, to tutor him.

THE SECRET GARDEN (F): Kate Maberly, Heydon Prowse and Andrew Knott star as three lonely English children who discover a locked and abandoned garden and, through their friendship and support of one another, bring the hidden glade back to beautiful, luxuriant life.

THE FUGITIVE (AA): Harrison Ford stars as Dr. Richard

Harrison Ford

Kimble, a prominent surgeon wrongly convicted of his wife's murder. When an accident enables him to escape en route to prison, he begins a desperate search to find his wife's true killer and to evade the relentless team of U.S. Marshals who are determined to bring him in. Also stars Tommy Lee Jones. Based on the television series of the 1960s.

SO I MARRIED AN AXE MURDERER (AA): Charlie Mackenzie (played by Mike Myers of Saturday Night Live fame) has had his share of bad luck with women. But now he's met Harriet Michaels (Nancy Travis from Three Men and a Baby), who runs her own butcher shop in San Francisco. She's smart, sexy and crazy about Charlie. And this time he's ready for commitment. Sure, she might have some shortcomings, but what's the worst she could be? An axe murderer?

ROBIN HOOD: MEN IN TIGHTS (PG): The men in tights have arrived in the theatre. Mel Brooks' parody of Robin Hood and his merry men promises silly fun for all. Carey Elwes stars as Robin Hood and television actor Richard Lewis is the tyrannical and hysterically nervous Prince John.

ANOTHER STAKEOUT (PG): Richard Dreyfuss and

Mel Gibson, right, and Nick Stahl star in The Man Without A Face, a heartwarming drama about friendship.

Emilio Estevez are back and they are still spying on people. This time the two undercover cops are teamed up with Rosie O'Donnell and are trying to locate a key witness in a mob trial.

THE CONEHEADS (PG): The classic Saturday Night Live skit has been lengthened into a feature film. Dan Aykroyd and Jane Curtin recreate their roles and are joined by a host of former SNL comics to consume mass quantities.

HOCUS POCUS (PG): It's a little early for Halloween but Bette Midler, Sarah Jessica Parker and Kathy Najimy have donned their broomsticks already. The trio of hags have risen from the dead and are out to terrorize Salem all over again.

IN THE LINE OF FIRE (AA): Clint Eastwood stars as a maverick Secret Service agent who is pitted against an assassin (John Malkovich) who has sworn to kill the president. Cat-and-mouse thriller with plenty of action. Directed by Wolfgang Petersen.

WEEKEND AT BERNIE'S II (PG): Bernie's back, and he's still dead. Bernie II picks up the story on the day after the original film ended. Having survived an outrageous weekend escapade on Hampton Island with the late Bernie Lomax (Terry Kiser), junior insurance executives Larry Wilson (Andrew McCarthy) and Richard Parker (Jonathon Silverman) return to New York City where they find out they've been fired, and have the mob chasing them.

The Housesitters will look after your pets and more

It's been nearly a year since your last much-deserved vacation, and nearly a year also since you acquired that new puppy. This time last summer, you didn't have to worry about the responsibilities of home ownership, let alone Snoopy.

That's where The Housesitters come in. Not only will a Housesitters staff member provide food, lots of attention, play and exercise for Snoopy, its staff will also make sure your home is not a prime target for burglars by giving it a lived-in look.

One of 20 offices across Canada, the Durham Region branch of The Housesitters has been providing travelers with peace of mind since 1981. A professional, fully bonded sitter will visit periodically to care for your pets; water your plants; take in mail and flyers; ensure utilities are in working order and generally see to it the house looks occupied.

Another popular service offered exclusively by The Housesitters is live-in care. This service is often requested by customers requiring companionship and/or supervision for children and seniors, as well as pets.

Owner-operator Sherry Goodwin points out that pets are usually happier staying in their own home while their owner is away.

"Our sitters are experienced in pet care, and we try to duplicate the pet's routine as closely as possible to help minimize the trauma of an absent owner," Sherry says. "We're all animal lovers here," she adds. "Many of our sitters refer to their clients by the pet's name."

Services provided by The Housesitters vary according to the client's individual needs. Sitters provide periodic visits of twice per day, once per day, every 48 hours, twice weekly and once weekly.

Even if you are not travelling, The Housesitters offers a completely personalized range of services provided on a regular or as-needed basis. These include weekday noon hour dog walking for the working dog owner; supervision of appliance or repair people; movers, contractors or deliveries.

One of The Housesitters most unique features is its staff. The majority of people who look after pets and homes are early retirees. These reliable people have experience with home ownership and all the responsibilities it entails. Consequently, clients feel comfortable having a mature adult in their home, and sitters enjoy the opportunity to provide this service in their own community.

An unattended home can be a prime target for vandalism and burglary - nothing looks more conspicuous than two weeks worth of papers and flyers piled up on the front doorstep. The Housesitters staff will put out your garbage; tend to lawns, flower beds, gardens, adjust lights and drapes, bring in mail and flyers - everything necessary to make a home look lived in.

"Not only does lawn and garden maintenance contribute to a lived-in look, but we all invest a lot of time and money in our gardens, so upkeep is very important," says Sherry.

Hiring a housesitter leaves you free to enjoy your time away, knowing your home and pets are being cared for by a professional.

If an emergency were to occur, Housesitters staff make sure the problem is promptly taken care of. Client information - home insurance, heating and veterinary contacts are all kept on computer for easy access.

If you would like a free brochure, more details about the Housesitters service, or if you are a retiree or senior who would enjoy looking after animals in your own community, call Anne at The Housesitters: 686-1691 or fax 683-0421.

STREET HOCKEY CHALLENGE

to benefit Big Brothers

Sunday, October 3, 1993
at the Ajax Community Centre
(outdoor box lacrosse facility)

Come out and have fun in a day of recreation and good-natured competition. Entry fee is $20 per team and guarantees you two games. Prizes for top teams in championship and consolation rounds.

All proceeds to United Way, care of Big Brothers

Team captains must register their team at the News Advertiser, 130 Commercial Ave., Ajax.
Deadline for entries is Friday, Sept. 17, 1993.

Registration and waiver forms will be provided. FOR MORE INFORMATION, CONTACT
GREG COATES AT 683-5110

THE RULES:

1. Each team is to supply three players, all of whom play the whole game. One player must be under the age of 14. 2. Your team is free to choose between having a goaltender or not. The goaltender is allowed to join the play and score. 3. Goalie equipment such as pads, gloves and blocker are allowed. 4. Each team will play at least two games. Round one winner advances to the championship round, losers to the consolation round. 5. Each net will be clearly marked with a crease. Opposing players can't enter the crease. 6. If the ball is knocked off the playing surface, the team who last touched the ball gives up possession to their opponents. 7. Swearing, cursing, fighting, slashing and hitting is not permitted. This is a fun, recreational non-contact street hockey challenge. Those who do use profane language will be ejected from the tournament with no refund provided. 8. After each goal is scored all players must return to the centre of the playing surface and await a face off. 9. Games are 10 minutes in length. The clock only stops when the ball is knocked out of play. If games are tied at the end of regulation play, each team will take three penalty shots to determine the winner. 10. A stick cannot be raised above the waist. No slapshots are allowed. 11. All other normal hockey rules apply. 12. The referee's decision is final.
