Pickering bingo hall appealed at OMB

PICKERING — Town council's approval of a bingo hall is being appealed to the Ontario Municipal Board.

The appeal's being launched because of "obvious and glaring errors" in the approval decision, says Adam Brown, the lawyer representing the Liverpool West Community Association.

In a letter to the Town clerk's department dated Sept. 5, he outlines the association's reasons for challenging Pickering's approval of a zoning bylaw amendment allowing for the facility at Dixie Road and Hwy. 2.

will remind people "that women and children are not safe on the streets."

Despite numerous setbacks, Mrs. McDonald says she never gave up because "it's such a just, just cause. It came from my heart. That's what kept me going."

Organizers altered the march route slightly in hopes of getting approval. It will begin at the Pickering Civic Complex on The Esplanade, travel north on

Glenanna Road
to Kingston Road, west to Liverpool Road to Glenanna and back to the Civic Complex

On Kingston Road, participants must walk on the sidewalk, the works committee decided at the appeal hearing.

At that hearing, Mrs. McDonald corrected errors in a proposal which she believes led the works committee to turn down the walk earlier this summer after it had already been approved by Pickering Town Council.

(Both Hwy. 2 and Liverpool Road are under regional jurisdiction, which is why the Region's approval is needed.)

PICKERING — A group which overcame numerous obstacles in its bid to host the first-ever walk here to raise awareness of violence against women and children is glad it never gave up hope.

"I knew I was doing something good for my community," Take Back the Night organizer Rita McDonald told the News Advertiser after Durham Region's works committee approved the walk Tuesday. (Durham council is expected to endorse the walk next week.)

"I kept fighting for the children of the next generation and generations after that. It's important for young people to be involved so they realize that violence is unacceptable."

OMB appeal could delay bingo hall by a year

Firstly, the letter charges, in approving the hall proposed by Emix Holdings Ltd., council failed to comply with Regional and Town planning policies.

Durham's Official Plan adopted last year states planning should "maximize the area's highway exposure as a main-street and gateway to the Region" and the "improvement of its visual impact from Hwy. 401 and Hwy. 2" should be a major consideration. The bingo hall, the association says, does neither.

The group contends the bylaw amendment conflicts with the Town of Pickering Official Plan and the Woodlands Community Plan, Part A (the District Plan). The District Plan designates the site "highway industrial-commercial" land, which allows for "special commercial uses", such as support service for industry, firms that require exposure to traffic or extensive storage, hotels, and automobile dealerships or service stations. The association says the bingo hall therefore does not fit into the designation.

The same plan also directs council to consider the development of a site plan prior to any zoning bylaw amendment, with drawings showing the design of proposed structures in the area. The association says that no such documentation was submitted to the Town before the bylaw was passed.

The letter draws attention to the Town Centre West Urban Design and Land Use Study which designates the area "mixed use regional commercial". It sets out that buildings should be a minimum of two storeys, and have a minimum coverage area of 40 per cent of the site. The approved bingo hall, when constructed, will be one storey high and will take up only 20 per cent of the lot to allow for extra parking.

The appeal notice points out the potential traffic and parking problems caused by the hall's shared peak periods with nearby businesses. It says it is premature to approve the bingo hall before a traffic and parking study is prepared by the Town.

"Naturally we are disappointed that the LWCA has taken this position," says Guy Kellett, representing the bingo hall operator Top Rank. "We recognize that the development being proposed does not conform totally with the guidelines for the area. Given, however, the financial benefits that would be realized by the charitable organizations of Pickering, council made what they felt was the best decision for the entire community."

Top Rank, which planned to spend $3.5 million on the bingo facility, will now have to review its options, says Mr. Kellett. "But we remain committed to this site and to the Town of Pickering."

Carol Bamford, a director on the community association's executive, says, "The litigation process has to run its own course (now)."

Mr. Brown says the appeal process could hold up construction of the bingo hall for six months to a year.

Be 'pro-active' in GTA reform, Durham advised

By KEITH GILLIGAN
STAFF REPORTER

DURHAM — School boards should be eliminated and the number of Durham municipalities halved from eight to four, recommends a report on reforming the Greater Toronto Area.

Brampton mayor Peter Robertson told Durham councillors Wednesday the draft report is a combination of earlier documents released by the chairmen of the four regions surrounding Metro Toronto and by GTA mayors.

The draft gives municipalities and regions surrounding Metro a voice in any changes the provincial government might make, he noted.

"We could let it happen to us, let Big Daddy do it to us, or we can take a pro-active stance and be a partner," Mr. Robertson said.

Creating a "super GTA" region from Oakville to Oshawa, as suggested by Metro chairman Alan Tonks, would be "unresponsive to taxpayers, cumbersome and unmanageable," he added.

And, a large GTA region would be a "mini-province" that could challenge the Ontario government and isn't likely be endorsed by Premier Mike Harris, he said.

The report recommends:

- Keeping the five regions in the GTA

- Identical property assessment rates for all municipalities within a region

- Municipalities pay all costs for 'hard' services like roads, transit, sewer and water, and waste management while the Province would cover the cost of 'soft' services such as welfare, homes for the aged and child care (including Children's Aid Societies). At present, municipalities and the Province share the tab for both hard and soft services.

The report suggests there be three or four municipalities in GTA regions. In Durham, there'd be four, but the report doesn't suggest which communities should be merged.

"If our report is to have any bang, we have to get our act together and consolidate some of these municipalities. If we don't do it, someone else will do it for us," Mr.

Robertson said.

He noted that in one media report, provincial Municipal Affairs minister Al Leach said the number of municipalities in the GTA should be cut from 30 to between 10 and 15.

"How do you sell this (consolidating municipalities) to the people?" asked Whitby councillor Joe Drum. "I don't know the answer," Mr. Robertson replied.

Ajax councillor Steve Parish said combining communities could be a "poison pill" for the report because "it's not a real political seller out here."

Mr. Robertson said school boards could be eliminated and replaced by a Regional council committee. The Regions would be responsible for building and maintaining schools and for busing students, while the Province would negotiate teachers' salaries, set curriculum and provide some money to operate schools.

Combining public and separate school boards into one would bring a "constitutional challenge", he noted.

"What we're suggesting ducks out of that. There would be no school boards, but a council committee. It doesn't eliminate the Catholic component, the religious component. That's still there," he said.

Mr. Robertson wanted a "consensus" from Durham council on recommendations in the report, but councillors were reluctant to give it.

"It terrifies me. This council could make the biggest decision of this term based on how fast we could write it down," Oshawa Mayor Nancy Diamond said. "I cannot and will not vote on something of this importance based on an overhead display."

Regional councillors listened to Mr. Robertson, but didn't take a position.

GTA mayors and chairmen will examine the report and a final version will be sent to the Golden Task Force by the end of September. The task force will submit GTA reform recommendations to the provincial government in November.

Pickering firefighters use a fan to remove smoke from an Annland Street home damaged by a blaze Friday morning. photo by Walter Passarella

No one hurt in Pickering fire, but home damaged, birds killed

PICKERING — No one was injured in a Friday morning house fire that caused extensive damage and killed three pet birds.

No one was home at the time, but the blaze caused about $125,000 in damage to the house at 697 Annland St.

The back of the building was badly burned and there was extensive smoke damage, according to Pickering Fire Department deputy chief Bill Douglas.

The 10:14 alarm brought three pumpers and a rescue truck to the scene. Firefighters retrieved the birds' cage from the burning house but it was too late. The animals were likely killed by smoke.

Fire prevention officers are investigating the cause of the blaze.

Crash hurts man

DURHAM — A 24-year-old Whitby man remains in critical condition after the car he was driving collided with a transport truck in Oshawa early Friday.

Police say Joey Sinclair was driving a 1989 Chevrolet van on Raleigh Street just after 1 a.m. when it struck the side of a 1986 Freightliner transport towing an empty tanker south on Farewell Street. Police believe Mr. Sinclair failed to stop at the intersection stop sign.

He was thrown from the van during the crash. Mr. Sinclair was rushed to Oshawa General Hospital and was later transferred to Sunnybrook Health Sciences Centre where he remains.

The driver of the transport, a 41-year-old Claremont man, was uninjured.

The investigation continues.

High marks

Our school boards could soon be graduating into a more responsible era if proposed reforms are adopted.

While a great hue and cry of protest has gone up over the proposal, which would reduce Ontario school boards from 168 to 82, this idea gets high marks from us.

The provincial School Board Reduction Task Force suggests one public board to cover Clarington, Northumberland, Peterborough, Haliburton and Victoria, with a vast reduction in the number of trustees to serve on it.

School board officials there are busy criticizing the idea of one "megaboard", complaining no one gave them any details of potential cost savings.

It seems to us, working out the specifics of the savings is the job of those officials and elected trustees.

In Durham Region, both the separate and public boards are enthused about the prospect of financial reform, which would divide provincial funding equally among students enrolled in Ontario schools. Currently, some boards have a larger tax base to draw upon than others.

However, concerns have also been raised in Durham and neighboring Northumberland about how much input parents will have, given school boards covering larger geographical areas with fewer trustees.

No one ever promised making do with less would be easy. But we've all been doing it, in a thousand different ways, for several years now. School boards should not be exempt from cutbacks, change and reform. If combining boards means combining resources, so as to cut both costs and duplication of services, we're for it. If it means all school boards will have a level financial playing field, we're for it. This proposal means cutting back at the administrative level rather than in the classroom and we're for it.

Fewer trustees? We're for that, too. Those who sign up for the job at election time will know in advance we still expect them to be accountable.

And those who are right for the job will be.

Sunday's best

Start doing the job now!

To the editor:

Re: Being overtaxed and over-governed.

Let me begin by saying that in a very few days I will be handing over a large dollop of scarce money to the Town of Pickering. Is it not time for Pickering council to start looking for ways to cut taxes, just like Mike Harris is doing right now? I would suggest we start at the top by cutting two councillors from the roster we now have; we do not need the seven councillors and a large support staff to watch over 73,000 people.

Consider also gold-plated pensions, seminars, the wine and cheese, all at taxpayers' expense. Look too at the cumbersome, bureaucratic Regional government gobbling up our scarce money. Why do we need so many levels of government? How can we spend money and create jobs if we have to give so much to the bureaucrats?

I would suggest we follow the U.S. system and cut the level of representatives in all governments starting with the federal government. It is only a matter of time until we have to cut governments at all levels if we want to stay competitive in this tight global economy. Why not start now?

▼ CHILD SUPPORT

Solution can be reached gently

To the editor:

The first line in your Aug. 27 editorial says it all: "Divorce, by its nature, is a messy business".

You're right about the children.

There are approximately one million separations or divorces in effect which we don't hear much about.

These are parents who have managed equitable, amicable separations without government interference. In most cases they have joint physical custody of their children, minimizing the impact on the children and on each other. There must be something to be learned from these people but there is no evidence that anyone in government, or the committees formed by government, have sought out this resource and tried to determine why it works.

Instead, government acts judgmentally trying to configure an all encompassing 'fix' for the 300,000 broken families which have problems.

Inevitably, they miss the fluidity of the situations and the huge variances which exist across the country.

Imposing support payment formulas and restricting licensing are punitive actions which will cause a lot of collateral damage which are likely to be met with a lot of resistance.

Actions such as these are simply government's guess at averaging out what it perceives to be the problem. Government action cannot possibly account for the characteristics of each situation.

Government's average solution will inevitably not fit and each broken family will be hurt further.

People will either suffer through the damage or courts will get loaded with cases being contested. The result of the judgmental, punitive action by government will only be to feed the billion dollar bureaucratic-legal industry which thrives on the misery of broken families.

The real solution is to equip marriages and relationships so as to minimize separation and divorce.

Societal values which have been lost through liberalization can be retaught. Priorities for life can be regenerated.

Relationship and parenting skills can be reacquired.

I have noticed a tendency in the media to support the government's proposals regarding child support issues.

When one speaks about issues regarding children, emotions are evoked. It then becomes very tough to deal with issues in the very pragmatic way required.

Inevitably, if emotion takes over, collateral damage due to lack of foresight will likely occur. This is the case in the child support issue. Payers who don't pay are one issue. The collateral damage, breaking paying payers, will deprive the children of their rightful benefit. This is the self-defeating aspect of punitive action.

There is a solution, but just like raising children, we must be gentle so as to get the behavior we desire without upsetting the child emotionally or physically.

If we force a solution, we will get a reaction to the force not the solution.

News you can use wherever you may be

The News Advertiser isn't just a newspaper anymore. We are all that, but we're more too. And from where we sit, we can see clear into the next century. Let me explain:

The News Advertiser and our sister papers in Oshawa, Whitby and Clarington, are getting ready to open our own lane on the information highway. For those of you familiar with it, you'll know what I mean when I say we'll be providing news and views on the global Internet.

Stories carried in our Friday edition, including an update from Editor-in-Chief Joanne Burghardt, explained everything those in the know need to know to access us on the web.

You are the people familiar with the Internet language, its codes and symbols.

For the rest of you I would suggest, in the vernacular of the Internet:

Don't. be. afraid

It's true that people tend to resist change; we must accept that.

But so too must we accept the notion that, in today's evolving world, a third sure thing in life can be added to death and taxes...change.

Here at the News Advertiser, we're excited about becoming a part of the electronic global village.

Consequently, along with providing information on the printed page, we'll be providing it on an electronic one. And we want you to continue to turn to us for your community news and shopping information, whether it's by phone or computer modem.

We're getting ready, we're excited about the prospect of new opportunities and we're inviting you to come along with us. To many of us, the Internet is still something new.

If we 'car pool' we can get on to the information highway together and find things out along the way.

As your community newspaper, the News Advertiser is committed to providing top-notch news, features, advertising information and sales flyers.

By looking to the future, we will continue to be your primary source of that community-based information.

You choose the medium, we provide the information.

It's that simple. But remember:
Don't. be. afraid

Lecture on strokes, third largest killer

Heart and Stroke Foundation sponsors free lecture for residents interested in learning more AJAX — A free lecture on Canada's most neglected disease is being held Wednesday.

Stroke is this country's third largest killer and the largest contributor to disability among adults. About 50,000 Canadians suffer a stroke each year and one-third of those victims are between 35 and 65.

Heart disease and stroke combined continue to be Canada's number-one killer, accounting for more than 75,000 deaths in 1991. That's 30 times more than infectious diseases, including AIDS, and 20 times more than vehicle accidents.

To help shed some light on strokes, the Heart and Stroke Foundation, Ajax, will host a free lecture Sept. 13 at 7 p.m. in the council chambers of the Town hall at the corner of Harwood Avenue and Kings Crescent.

Toronto Hospital neurosurgeon Dr. Christopher Wallace is guest speaker.

"If we educated patients and doctors alike on the warnings and the precautions one can take to avoid a stroke, then many patients could make healthy lifestyle choices or undergo procedures that could help reduce their chances of suffering a stroke in the future," Dr. Wallace says.

A stroke occurs when blood flow to the brain is interrupted and the glucose and oxygen in the blood don't reach nerve cells. As a result, the cells may die and the parts of the body they control stop functioning.

Blockage of an artery or a rupture with bleeding from a vessel that supplies blood to the brain may cause a stroke.

Signs of a stroke include:

- sudden weakness or numbness and/or tingling of the face, arm or leg;

- sudden trouble speaking or understanding speech, sudden loss of vision, particularly in one eye, or double vision;

- sudden severe, unusual headaches.

If you have one of these symptoms, get medical attention immediately.

Age and family history of heart disease may significantly increase one's chance of suffering a stroke.

You can reduce the chance of stroke by controlling blood pressure, diabetes and cholesterol. And, smokers must butt out. Call the Heart and Stroke Foundation, Ajax, office at 686-1521 for more information on the lecture.

ATTENTION! Sea cadets recruit youths

AJAX-PICKERING — Young people interested in seamanship, physical fitness and serving their community are being sought by a local Royal Canadian Sea Cadets corps.

The Cadets' Corps Harwood is welcoming new members beginning Sept. 13 at Wednesday training sessions from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at 1915 Clements Rd., Unit # 1 in Pickering. The Royal Canadian Sea Cadet program is a nationwide youth organization sponsored and administered by the Canadian Forces and the Navy League of Canada. Membership in the local group is open to males and females between the ages of 12 and 18, from throughout Durham. There's no charge and uniforms are supplied. The Harwood corps has participated in activities such as parades, concerts for seniors, maintenance and clean-up of Harwood Ave. (which the corps has "adopted"), and inter-corps competitions in skills such as first aid, seamanship, team drills, swimming and marksmanship.

The program aims to encourage a strong sense of Canadian citizenship, develop strong leadership skills, promote physical fitness, and foster interest in Canadian maritime service.

United Way seeks volunteers to help distribute funding

AJAX-PICKERING — Who is it that really benefits from your donation to the United Way of Ajax-Pickering?

You can find out and help the United Way at the same time by taking part in next month's Citizen Review Panel Process.

Each year, the United Way seeks volunteers who can devote 10 to 12 hours to review member agencies which receive funding from the United Way.

Accounting and/or budgeting experience is helpful.

During each agency visit, panel members discuss such issues as how the agency serves the community, whether it is meeting community needs, how changes in community needs are influencing the agency, and factors which affect the agency's operating costs.

For more information on the Citizen Review Panel Process, call the United Way at 686-0606 before Sept. 27.

'Free Witty' blitz on as Ajax mayor 'arrested'

AJAX — Ajax Mayor Jim Witty has been arrested and is asking for your help in collecting enough money to ensure his release on bond.

According to a press release issued by the Town of Ajax, Mayor Witty has been charged with "willfully exceeding the good deed limit".

A police escort will take the mayor to Cross Country Donuts at Harwood Avenue and Hunt Street on Tuesday. Sympathizers can contribute to the "Free Witty Fund" between 8 and 10 a.m.

Mayor Witty must collect $500 before he can be released on bond.

As a way of paying his debt to society, the mayor has been ordered to donate all money collected to the United Way of Ajax-Pickering, the press release states.

Town of Ajax employees Cherry Sevigny, left, and Alison Sheppard display a "Captured" poster announcing the arrest of Ajax Mayor Jim Witty. He won't be 'released' until $500 for the United Way is collected in the community.

More items added to blue box pick-up in Durham

- ☐ Household paper, boxboard can be included in your blue box this month

DURHAM — More fibre is being added to our blue box diet.

Durham Region has announced that mixed household papers and boxboard products have been added to the list of materials that can be recycled through the residential curbside blue box program. Collection will begin this month, which is expected to divert an additional 110 garbage trucks full of paper each year from landfill.

Mixed household papers include computer paper, envelopes, writing paper, magazines, catalogues, paperback books and junk mail. Boxboard items are boxes for toothpaste, laundry detergent, cereal, tissues and paper towel rolls.

According to the Durham works department, the inclusion of these items in the program came about because of operational improvements at the Region's recycling centre, and the development of strong markets for used fibres.

The preparation of blue box materials has been revised to make the program easier for residents.

Mixed household papers should be placed loose in the blue box with newspapers. With boxboards, liners and handles should be removed, the boxes should be flattened, bundled, tied with corrugated cardboard, and placed in or beside the blue box. Bundles are restricted to the size of the blue box.

The Region says it's important that residents include only "clean fibre" — items which are not contaminated by food or plastic, as such substances interfere with the recycling process and lower the market value of the recyclable material.

Officials say Durham's 20,000 tonnes of recyclables currently have a contamination rate of less than 0.5 per cent.

There is help in Durham for those suffering post-partum depression

By LINDA WHITE
STAFF REPORTER

DURHAM — Her son was six months old when her world began to fall apart.

"That's when I had my first anxiety attack," recalls Leah (not her real name). "I almost felt like I was going to faint. The room was spinning and my hands were shaking uncontrollably."

"I began sobbing uncontrollably, too. I'm not sure if it was because I didn't know what was happening to my body or because it was a way of releasing stress."

She was taken to hospital, where doctors told her she was suffering from post-partum depression (PPD). Leah went home that night, but while seeking help the next day, was admitted to hospital for a week.

"My biggest problem was not knowing what I had," recalls Leah, who had been attending school part-time and had been looking for day care when she suffered her first anxiety attack.

"I wasn't convinced I was suffering from

— 'Leah', a victim of post-partum depression

PPD...I had this beautiful baby and kept asking myself, 'How can I be depressed?'"

Still, she recalls feeling unable to cope. "I wasn't getting much sleep, yet I was still expected to look after this baby. I remember times when it felt like my life was over and this baby was going to be tied at my breast forever."

She read countless books on the subject and asked many questions while in hospital and accepted the doctor's diagnosis. "I had a desperate need to be back with my child. I was on a mission and was never as assertive as I was then. I learned so much."

Leah soon began seeing a psychiatrist who prescribed antidepressants, was visited at home by nurses, and attended a PPD support group offered by the Durham Region Health Department.

While Leah believes she was on the road to recovery when she attended the support group, still in its infancy stages, she says it was still very helpful.

"We were a help to one another. I could show the other ladies there was a light at the end of the tunnel. It brought back a lot of emotions and was very painful at times, but just hearing that someone else knew exactly what I was going through was good for me."

"I'm not glad I went through it, but I don't regret it," Leah says of her bout of PPD. "I'm a much stronger person and more confident. It was the most painful experience of my life, yet I learned the most from it."

Great change arrives with baby in any family's life. Post-partum depression can afflict as many as one in five women.

According to statistics provided by the Pacific post-partum Support Society, one in five women become depressed following the birth of a child. It can also hit women of adopted children.

PPD is often accompanied by anxiety and overwhelming feelings of guilt, shame, isolation, fatigue, a sense of loss, inability to cope and sometimes very frightening fantasies.

It's different from the so-called Baby Blues, experienced by about 80 per cent of women who feel tearful several days after giving birth.

"It's not unnatural and it's not uncommon," public health nurse Lesley Borchuk says of PPD. "It can happen to anyone. The people you think will cope the best are the ones who may have trouble."

"Women suffering from (PPD) are not alone," she assures. "Women have gone through it, are good mothers and resume a normal life afterwards."

The United Way of Ajax-Pickering is helping fund a series of PPD support groups co-sponsored by the public health department and the Ajax/Pickering COPE Mental Health program.

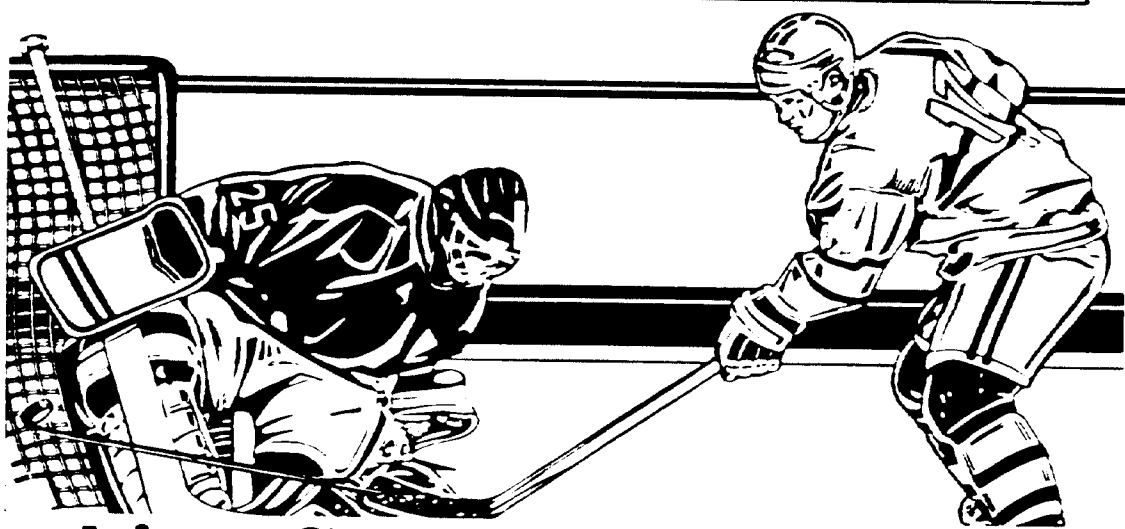

The 10-session groups will be offered once a week for two hours and will be limited to about eight people.

Though held in Ajax, they are open to all Durham residents. (No start date has yet been set.)

"Most women won't share their thoughts because they think they're crazy," says COPE program director Christine Kent. "That's why (PPD) is so isolating...But research says support systems really help, more than drugs alone or having a helping partner."

For more information on the support group, call the health department at 723-8521.

Word and song celebrated at Pickering Museum Village

The Word is Out that plenty of creative offerings are on museum agenda

PICKERING — A celebration of word and song is coming to town this month.

Pickering Museum Village hosts The Word is Out '95 Sunday, Sept. 17 from noon until 5 p.m. The event, presented by the Writers' Circle of Durham Region, will bring together writers, storytellers, musicians, poets and performers for an afternoon of entertainment.

"The Writers' Circle was formed to encourage literary artists," says president Marjorie Green. "Through The Word is Out, we can share the considerable talents of our members and friends with the community — and have a great time doing it."

Participants include authors and broadcasters Alex and Ted Barris, romance writer Kate Freiman, award-winning author Gregory Ward, Susanna Kearsley, winner of the 1993 Katherine Cookson Fiction Award, and Roy Condy, author of Christopher, Please Clean Up Your Room.

Among the musicians will be The Country Four Barbershop Quartet, folksinger Glen Hornblast, country artist Riana Krangle, children's singer Marji Jackman, Laurie Mitchell's Suzuki String Ensemble, and folk rocker Jory Nash.

There'll be readings by poets Philip Arima, Jill Battson, Lucy Brennan, Nancy Bullis and Owen Neill, plus a variety of children's events and swordplay demonstrations.

Books, magazines, specially designed mugs and T-shirts will be sold, along with barbecued food and home-baked goods.

Admission is $4 for adults, $2.50 for seniors and students, $2 for children, and $12 for families. Pre-schoolers get in free. Pickering Museum Village is three kilometres east of Brock Road on Hwy. 7 in Greenwood.

For more information, call 434-6932.

Curtain rises on brand new Herongate theatre season

PICKERING — Herongate Barn Dinner Theatre has opened its 1995 season.

It will run for seven weeks until Oct. 28.

The second comedy, If The Shoe Fits, a pantomime about a woman's search for love and happiness in a cruel world, will run from Nov. 3 to Dec. 31.

The price for dinner and the show, including tax, is $31.95 on Thursday, Friday and Sunday, and $36.95 on Saturday. The rate for groups of 20 or more people on Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday is $29.95.

Some nights are already sold out, so it's best to book early.

To reserve your space, call 472-3085.

Applications for season tickets at a 10-per cent savings can be sent to P.O. Box 96, Whitevale, L0H 1M0.

Pickering's Rod Davies third at national meet

By AL RIVETT
SPORTS REPORTER

PICKERING — Pickering's Rod Davies is back where he belongs — among the best laser sailors in the country.

After many months of recovery from a back injury which almost ended his sailing career late last year, Davies hit his stride at precisely the right time.

The long-time member of the Frenchman's Bay Yacht Club finished third overall, and was the second fastest Canadian, at the National Qualifying Regatta for lasers (one-man vessels) on St. Margaret's Bay, near Halifax, Nova Scotia Sept. 2 to 4.

In the seven races which made up the regatta, Davies finished fifth, eighth, second, seventh, second, fifth and third for the third-place overall ranking.

New Zealander Rod Dawson, Davies' current training partner, finished in top spot, followed by Jason Rhodes of Victoria, B.C. Rod's younger brother Ray Davies finished sixth overall and earned a spot on the national development sailing team.

The third-place finish at the qualifying event ensures Davies a spot on the national laser sailing team, and guarantees his status as a carded athlete, giving him government funding for the year.

Davies notes he focussed all summer on the National Qualifying Regatta in order to remain on the national team. It also reaffirmed his status as one of the top Canadian laser sailors.

"It was definitely the goal all season. The main objective was to establish myself again on the national scene. It took on pretty important significance because all the work has paid off," explains Davies.

After a short break, Davies will take part in the U.S. Nationals in Annapolis, Maryland Wednesday through Sunday.

The last major North American event of the sailing season is the Fall Pre-Olympic Regatta in Savannah, Georgia Oct. 5 to 9.

Savannah is the site of the sailing events at the 1996 Summer Olympic Games in Atlanta.

Davies says he'll train full-time in Florida or possibly in New Zealand throughout the winter in preparation for the Olympic Qualifying Regatta in Kingston in May of next year. Davies will vie to be the lone laser sailing representative for Canada at the Atlanta Olympics.

"There will be a lot of competition. Jason (Rhodes) and I have been duking it out for years. He's my main competition right now, but my brother is very fast and there are a lot of other guys who will be good when the time comes," he says.

Football Dolphins pound opponents

AJAX-PICKERING — The Ajax-Pickering Dolphins football teams swept a slate of Central Ontario Football League contests Sunday.

The Dolphins' tyke division 'tackle' squad blanked the Brampton Bulldogs 30-0 at Kinsmen Park in Pickering. No scoring information was provided.

Meanwhile, the Dolphins' atom and pee-wee teams played at Markham with the Ajax-Pickering atoms prevailing 25-0 over the Raiders. Wide receiver Sean Bennett and fullback Greg Mair scored the touchdowns for the Dolphins. Free safety Justin Berry was named player of the game on defence. The Ajax-Pickering pee-wees scored a 24-12 victory over Markham. No scoring information was provided for the pee-wee contest.

The Dolphins' bantams beat the Brampton Bulldogs 26-14. Touchdowns were scored by Jason Gomez with a pair of majors and fullback Bruno Azevedo and Paul Serra with single touchdowns. Gomez was named the player of the game on offence, while the defensive star was defensive end Steve Kimberly.

The tyke tackle squad plays host to Scarborough on Sunday, Sept. 10 at 11 a.m.

All four Dolphins teams will play home games on Sunday, Sept. 24. The tyke flag football team plays Scarborough at 9:30 a.m., followed at 11 a.m. with an atom clash with Burlington. The pee-wees suit up against Burlington at 1 p.m., with the final game of the day pitting the Dolphins' bantams against the Oshawa Hawkeyes at 3 p.m.

Under-17 girls Power way to tourney win

PICKERING — The Pickering Power Harvey's girls' under-17 rep soccer team returned home from La Belle Province with a gold medal after a dominating performance on the Labor Day weekend.

Power won four consecutive contests in cruising to the championship title at a tournament in Brossard, Quebec. In the gold-medal match, Pickering upended Les Conquerants de Laval 1-0 in a hotly-contested match. Rupi Randhawa's low shot found the right-hand corner to give Pickering the only goal it needed. Caren Maher earned an assist on the play. Karine Plouffe registered her third consecutive shutout of the tourney with help from her stalwart defence.

Pickering dominated its opening game against Ste. Julie and earned a 3-0 win. Megan Tucker, Melanie DenHeyer and Natalie Higgins scored for Power, with Plouffe providing shutout goalkeeping.

The second game resulted in a default win for Power as their opponent — St. Laurent — opted out of the tourney.

Playing game three in a steady downpour, Pickering posted a 3-0 victory over Longueuil, Quebec. Chantal Malcolm scored off a shot by Seema Mistry to give Power a 1-0 half-time lead. Early in the second half, a thundering header by Higgins put Pickering up 2-0. DenHeyer picked a loose ball out of a puddle of water and blasted a shot past a startled opposition goalkeeper for Power's final goal of the contest. Andrea Mitchell earned an assist on the play. Once again, fine defensive work allowed Plouffe to record the shutout in net.

Team members are Melanie DenHeyer, Seema Mistry, Megan Tucker, Angie Dunn, Andrea Mitchell, Rupi Randhawa, Natalie Higgins, Chantal Malcolm, Caren Maher, Kerry Irvine, Natalie Brewster, Sarah LeGresley, Natalie Melnyk and Karine Plouffe.

The team is coached by Don Maher and Jimmy Irvine and managed by Laurine Brewster.

Basketball loop recruiting men to shoot hoops

AJAX-PICKERING — The Ajax-Pickering Men's Basketball League is recruiting players for the coming season.

The league, for men 18 and over, begins the 1995-96 season in October with play continuing until April. Games are at Pickering High School Wednesday nights.

Cost is $95 per player.

For 25 years, Ken Primrose of Prim Heating and Air Conditioning has been installing the best in furnaces for customers all across Durham and Scarborough.

In less than two weeks summer will be officially over. While you may not want to think about it, cool weather will be here before you know it.

So if you want to be prepared for those days that make you dream of the weather we had this summer, then it's time you called Prim Heating and Air Conditioning.

For 25 years, Ken Primrose has been installing the best in furnaces for customers all across Durham and Scarborough.

"I run a family business and we take pride in the fact we give our customers an honest job at a very competitive price," he says. "When I give a free estimate I stick to it. There won't be any hidden costs and if there are any problems they will be dealt with right away."

Ken knows that people are always looking around for the best price but he is not a price taker.

"I will not take any price for a customer's problem," he promises.

without heat during those cold days and nights of winter. The line goes directly to his home. No answering service. He's right there when you need him.

Ken installs Weathermaker furnaces and they all come with a manufacturer's warranty. He also does oil to gas and electric to gas conversions. His company also installs electric air cleaners and humidifiers.

Ken says he keeps his overhead low and passes those savings onto his customers. He also offers a 10% discount to seniors and an annual maintenance contract for furnace cleanings.

He explains that if you don't get your filters changed and the burner assemblies and blowers cleaned you'll burn excess fuel driving up your heating bills. You also take the chance that your furnace will break down when you need it most.

Ken says he enjoys his work and that every job is different.

"I like people," he says. "And they like the fact that I connect the dots to solve their problems."
