Clinic critics cry foul

Parent calls for trustee's resignation

BY MIKE RUTA
Staff Writer

DURHAM — A local school council chairman called for Oshawa Trustee Susan Shetler's resignation Monday night for her efforts in opposing the health clinic at G.L. Roberts Collegiate and Vocational Institute.

Speakers criticizing the board for allowing the Oshawa Community Health Centre to lease space to run the 'Wellness Centre' once again dominated public question period during a Durham District School Board meeting. One man called it a "referral agency for abortion mills without parental consent", while others accused the board of handing out condoms in the classroom and called for full disclosure to trustees of lease agreements in schools.

The board's senior staff over a year ago made the decision to allow the clinic at the Oshawa school. But, staff and board chairman Elizabeth Roy said the clinic operates separately from the school, and that anything that takes place between students and clinic staff is confidential.

'Stress, secrets' sparked slaying, defence contends

BY STEPHEN SHAW
Staff Writer

DURHAM — A "vortex of stress and pressures and secrets" that simmered under the surface of their seemingly happy marriage exploded in a surge of violence that led James Poland to kill his wife, a jury has heard.

Lorne Sabsay, lawyer for the accused murderer, said in his opening statement yesterday that while Mr. Poland, 38, killed Andrea Schneider in the garage of their Ajax home, the act was committed "in the heat of passion".

Mr. Poland has pleaded not guilty to second-degree murder.

Although "it's obvious" he is responsible for his wife's death, "he did not murder her," his lawyer said.

He suggested to the Superior Court of Justice jury Mr. Poland is guilty of the lesser crime of manslaughter: an unintentional killing or an intentional killing in the heat of passion "caused by sudden provocation".

Ms. Schneider was found dead June 7, 2001 in the trunk of the family car parked at the Durham Centre shopping plaza, at Hwy. 2 and Harwood Avenue.

Court has heard the couple lived on Perfitt Crescent with their two sons, Thomas and John Michael, and daughter Stephanie, who has Batten disease, a debilitating fatal illness that causes blindness and frequent seizures.

Mr. Poland was a stay-at-home father and the primary caregiver to Stephanie, who cannot walk and is fed through tubes, while Ms. Schneider was employed as secretary to the Royal Ontario Museum's board of trustees.

While Mr. Poland and Ms. Schneider appeared to be a normal loving couple, the family was under "enormous pressure" caused by the strain of caring for their sick daughter, and other marital stresses, he said.

Stephanie's suffering dominated the family and each dealt with the pressure in their own way. For Mr. Poland, it was an "almost obsessive devotion", Mr. Sabsay said.

He said the family went through a difficult time after moving from Toronto to Ajax, leaving behind a support network of friends and family.

But, in the months prior to Ms. Schneider's death there were "signs of renewed hope".

In March, Stephanie had an operation to reduce constant vomiting, caused by her illness, and in May the couple were planning to return to Toronto, buying a house in High Park.

"Even though life appeared to be getting better... James and Andrea were spiralling towards destruction, in a vortex of stress and pressures and secrets which would only be revealed in that garage that morning," Mr. Sabsay said.

Two sides spar over Pickering waterfront proposal

BY MARTIN DERBYSHIRE

PICKERING — A lot of public dollars have gone into public space around Frenchman's Bay and allowing 83 townhouses to be built on top of it would be "devastating" to the City's plan for a nautical village on the waterfront, an Ontario Municipal Board (OMB) hearing was told Monday.

As one of several public deputations to the board Monday night, Pickering Ward 2 Regional Councillor Mark Holland told board members $3.2 million from the City and $1.2 million from outside sources was invested in improvements around the bay, including the millennium square and boardwalk, because people "bought into the vision" for a 'Great Lakes nautical village' surrounding the end of Liverpool Road, not because they wanted to see a large number of townhouses.

"Residential development should complement rather than overwhelm," he said. "We've gone to great lengths to improve the area so the community can be proud of it and it can identify Pickering as truly a place that is special and

Budget makes room for new university in Durham

But, Ms. Ecker told business leaders at the breakfast the Eves government is still committed to following a path to lower taxes.

After four consecutive years of growth exceeding five per cent, Ontario saw just one-per cent growth in 2001. Ms. Ecker said the Province needed to react despite numbers that indicate an economic turnaround has already taken hold.

"There was a blip that we had to respond to," she said. "We had to take a sensible and balanced approach... but we did not sacrifice our long-term goals for the sake of this temporary situation."

In fact, the plan to cut small business corporate taxes to 5.5 per cent in January 2003 will go ahead as scheduled and Ms. Ecker said another 50,000 people will be exempt from personal income taxes through an enrichment of the 'Ontario tax reduction' program.

Other highlights of the fourth balanced budget in a row from the Province include an over seven-per cent increase in hospital funding and $117 million in new funding for education.

Ms. Ecker also said in the wake of Walkerton and with other questions being raised about provincial water quality, another $500 million will be spent over the next two years on safe and clean drinking water initiatives.

"We kept the budget balanced and focused on our priorities of health care, education and protecting the environment," she said, adding all economic indicators point to growth of three per cent this year and four per cent next year, allowing the Tories to get back to the same tax-cutting platform they have followed since the Common Sense Revolution began in 1995.

Ms. Ecker said an economic statement updating the state of the Province's books would come this fall and another budget is expected next spring.

More money for hospitals in budget a healthy sign for Ajax-Pickering site

While local impact still to be determined, Ajax official calls funding 'good news'

DURHAM — About $700 million more in hospital funding in the provincial budget is being viewed as "good news" by a local official.

"The government has identified health care as a priority and that's good to see," said Bruce Cliff, chief operating officer at the Rouge Valley Ajax and Pickering hospital site.

During the budget speech Monday, Finance Minister Janet Ecker announced health-care funding will increase 7.3 per cent, to $25.5 billion, while money for hospitals will go up 7.7 per cent to $9.4 billion.

The seven-per cent increase in hospital funding is "certainly good news for us", Mr. Cliff said. "We have to find out the details on how it will be allocated out."

The government also announced more money for capital work and Mr. Cliff said discussions will be held with Ministry of Health officials in that regard.

"More money is better for us," Mr. Cliff stated. "We really need to wait and see what funding increase we receive this year."

Ontario Hospital Association officials are also praising the government, calling the increased funding a "significant step forward in meeting patient care needs across Ontario".

Association chairman Leo Steven added, "Providing funding is adequate, this will significantly enhance the ability of hospitals to plan and deliver patient-care services."

Other health-care highlights include permitting private clinics to provide more services, including diagnostic services such as MRI and CT scans.

Mr. Cliff said a larger role for private clinics won't have any affect on the hospital.

"Anything that takes pressure off our emergency department or other departments is certainly welcome," he noted.

Officials call for return of photo radar

AJAX — Photo radar is needed to lower speeding on 400-series highways, say Ajax councillors.

Council last week endorsed a resolution from the Township of South-West Oxford calling on the provincial government to

"Anything we can do to support photo radar, we should," Ward 2 local Councillor Joe Dickson said.

Since photo radar was removed from highways by the Progressive Conservative government in 1995, speeding has increased, he added.

"I drove stock cars as a kid, but I'm scared to drive on 400 highways," Coun. Dickson said.

Mayor Steve Parish concurred, saying support for the resolution was "appropriate".

Board balances budget, but fears funding ‘crisis’

BY MIKE RUTA
Staff Writer
DURHAM — Public school board trustees approved on Monday a balanced budget for the next school year, but it took almost $6.5 million in reserve funds to do it.

And Ron Trbovich, the Durham District School Board’s business superintendent, said in an interview if the review of the Province’s education funding formula does not address inequities for Durham students, the board could not lean on reserves again next year.

“We’re putting all of our hope, in an informed manner, on their review of the funding formula,” Mr. Trbovich said.

The Durham board receives about $500 less per pupil than the provincial average, he said, and if it received just $200 more, that would mean about $12 million extra.

If the review, expected to be finished in roughly five months, does not result in more local money, Mr. Trbovich said “we would have a crisis in education” in Durham and cuts to special education and the regular day programs would be required.

The $507,382,670 operating and capital budget includes 30 new educational assistants at a cost of almost $1 million, which makes for a $3-million board subsidization of provincial special-education funding this year.

But the board’s special education advisory committee chairman, Laurie Beaton, said the number still falls short, noting members had called for 40 EAs as the minimal need in local schools, still reeling from severe cuts to special education in recent years.

“We’re always asking for a Cadillac model and lately we’ve been settling for a Chevette, and maybe even a Cavalier or a Corsica,” she said in an interview.

“I don’t think we’re back to the Cadillac yet.” Nevertheless, she was “thankful” for the 30 positions, and applauded trustees and staff for their efforts in keeping special education at the forefront of priorities.

Mr. Trbovich said the number of new EAs is not set in stone as staff will monitor the need in schools once the September enrolment picture is clear.

DREN meeting set for June 20

DURHAM — The Durham Employment Network (DREN) is holding its first-ever annual general meeting.

The Thursday, June 20 meeting also marks the grand opening celebration of Industry Canada’s initia-

LAURIE BEATON

Trustees also approved $80,000 requested for school athletic programs, $650,000 for the board’s e-learning program and $30,000 for a payroll clerk.

Budget reductions were unchanged from the first draft, including two administrative officers, five school-based support workers, and other positions for a total cut of $670,000.

The working reserves fund was buoyed by a $2.2 million injection Mr. Trbovich, in his report to trustees, said came from the Province with last month’s grant announcement in the form of “funding adjustments”.

He called it a “big, big assist”.

However, Brock-Uxbridge Trustee Nancy Loraine said the board still has “a huge unmet need” in terms of the $5.5 million in special-education support claims the board says the Province is not funding.

The board took $3.2 million from its working reserves funds, roughly $2.5 million from the retirement reserve funds, and emptied the roughly $300,000 in the Bertelsmann award reserve fund. Almost $500,000 came from the utilities reserve fund.

Mr. Trbovich said the board’s $78.3-million capital budget would have a “huge impact” in Durham both economically and in terms of student spaces. Roughly half of that amount is taken up by a new Whitby high school and a major addition and upgrades to Uxbridge Secondary School.

The school maintenance budget is set at $3,946,100, including $1.3 million for science lab upgrades and additions at Eastdale Collegiate and Vocational Institute in Oshawa and Anderson Collegiate and Vocational Institute in Whitby.

However, 71 maintenance projects valued at $10.73 million are on a list for future years.

Local Baha’is call for universal religious unity

AJAX — Members of the Baha’i faith are taking their fight for religious unity throughout the world.

Leaders of the group have begun to address the escalating problems of religious prejudice in a statement released recently by the governing council of the Baha’i International Community, the Universal House of Justice.

“The governing body has written this statement to say that it’s time we got past religious intolerance and prejudices,” said Sue Misiewicz, secretary of the Baha’i community in Ajax.

According to Ms. Misiewicz, Baha’is believe all religions, although they may have different practices and traditions, are fundamentally the same.

“We want to get religious organizations and leaders to think carefully about the unity of religion and to move beyond that. If we look at how unified religion is, we can move beyond that,” she said.

Baha’i is the youngest of the world’s independent faiths, with a central theme that humanity is one single race, and that the day has come for its unification in one global society. Members believe God has set in motion historical forces that are breaking down traditional barriers of race, class, creed and nation that will, in time, give birth to a universal civilization.

Ms. Misiewicz said there are more than 3,000 members across Canada, including about 40 in Ajax.

She noted the Universal House of Justice decided to come out with the statement because of ongoing recent turmoil.

“It just came out of the religious strife in the world right now. It’s important for religious leaders to look at it,” she said.

According to a press release, the eight-page statement identifies religious prejudice as a grave obstacle to peace, and warns failure by religious leaders to address the issue will lead to “unthinkable consequences”.

The statement also calls attention to the progress made worldwide in combating racism, gender discrimination and unbridled nationalism, and the contrast with the world’s continuing failure to make progress in eliminating religious prejudice, as well as acknowledging the enormity of the challenges still remaining in removing them.

For more information on the Baha’i religion and statement, visit the Web site at www.ca.bahai.org.

Ecker remembers her Durham roots

University part of finance minister's 'responsible' provincial budget

While she certainly had many other concerns to worry about, Finance Minister Janet Ecker clearly remembered where she came from Monday.

In delivering her first budget, only a month after being named minister of finance by Premier Ernie Eves, the Pickering-Ajax-Uxbridge MPP did Durham a big favour. She included the bill to create the University of Ontario Institute of Technology (UOIT) within her budget bill. UOIT had Durham support at the highest level as it was Ms. Ecker's immediate predecessor as finance minister, Whitby-Ajax MPP Jim Flaherty, who introduced the bill to finance UOIT 13 months ago. When the budget passes in the legislature, as it easily will with the majority Tories backing it, the creation of UOIT is complete.

For Durham College/UOIT president Gary Polonsky, "this is sensational news... until the act (to create UOIT) is passed, we are unable to function as a true university. Now, we're one year away from accepting the first class of students."

The "brilliant strategy", as Mr. Polonsky terms it, to tie the UOIT bill to the budget, sidesteps the need to take the university bill through the time-consuming process of committee hearings. Mr. Polonsky has been eager to open UOIT for students in September 2003 to coincide with the increased demand for university spaces created by the 'double cohort', the combined graduation of Grade 12 and OAC students in the same year. Now that will happen.

Time will tell if Ms. Ecker, the first woman to deliver a provincial budget, essentially came to the legislature to bury the Common Sense Revolution or simply delay it. Of course, she had the full support of her boss, Mr. Eves, himself famous for his tax-cutting budgets of the late 1990s.

In many ways, this was a tax-and-spend budget that would have been right at home alongside some of NDP premier Bob Rae and Liberal premier David Peterson's budgets. The one big difference is spending is exactly offset by revenues so no deficit results. An additional sin tax on cigarettes is a no-brainer guaranteed to raise much-needed revenue without any political headaches to follow. More money for education, health care and, most significantly given the Walkerton disaster, for safer drinking water, should please many of the critics who have accused the Tories of insensitivity.

The decision to put off by a year the second phase of the highly controversial private school tax credit could well sound the death knell of a plan Mr. Eves criticized heavily while on the campaign trail. It's also believed Ms. Ecker, who was education minister when the plan was announced, does not favour the school credit idea.

In addition, income tax and corporate tax reductions, promised for Jan. 1, 2003 have been pushed back one year.

Ms. Ecker's budget merely reflects the economic times she is forced to deal with. It's a responsible plan.

Audley Public School c. 1907

*The original Audley Public School was originally built in 1840 at the southwest corner of Taunton and Salem roads. It would be replaced on the same site three more times until a brick structure was erected in 1866. The building would serve as a school for the next 98 years. Many of the students in this photo were descendants of the original settlers. While many of the families have since moved away or disappeared, today the family names Squire and Puckrin are still found in the area. ## Honest labourer beats a politician any day

To the editor:
Re: 'Pickering council plans wage hikes,' June 12.

I read with interest the news item regarding the planned raises for Pickering's mayor and councillors. What struck me most were the opening lines: "Should the mayor be paid the same as a roads maintenance worker? Should a City councillor's salary be comparable with that of a mailroom clerk?"

Why should there be any difference? Is a person serving in the position of mayor any more important than a person working to maintain the roads? People are of equal value no matter what position they fill. If a road maintenance worker is good at his or her job, why should he/she not be compensated accordingly?

The way the questions were posed offends my sensibilities. As a society, we place more value on so-called exalted positions. I'm not denying the mayor and councillors work hard. But, to say they are worth more than a general labourer is specious to say the least.

I have worked at numerous labourer positions. I worked hard to earn my wages. While no longer in a labourer's position, I feel slighted by such statements. Any and all work is equally valuable, when it is done to the best of one's ability. I would rather associate with a labourer putting in an honest day's work than a politician any day.

By the way, since we give the mayor and councillors power to determine their wages, why not do the same for mailroom clerks and road maintenance workers? Or better yet, reverse it, and put the politicians in the same position as the workers.

Will Eves fulfil promise to nurse practitioners?

To the editor:

As a member of the Progressive Conservative Party and a registered nurse currently enrolled in the Ontario nurse practitioner program, I felt encouraged to vote for Premier Ernie Eves during the leadership race in part due to his responsible stance toward reforming health care in Ontario.

I was particularly impressed with his position toward the use of nurse practitioners as a cost-effective way of dealing with increased demands for medical care that he stated during his campaign and repeated in the throne speech.

I was disappointed to find out the health and long-term care minister, Tony Clement, saw fit to only assure positions for around 20 nurse practitioners in underserved areas of the province. Furthermore, I saw no mention in the official news release of the inclusion of any nurse practitioners in the newest Family Health Network recently opened in Oakville. Given the scope of the need for health services, it appears Mr. Eves is taking a position contrary to what he described during his campaign.

When first entering the nurse practitioner program, I thought the nurse practitioner's role was going to be part of the solution toward improving access to health care. I now feel we will only be utilized in desperate situations. In September 2002, I will graduate from the program with little hope of utilizing the training and skills I have worked so hard to acquire.

I'd like to know if there is any plan or timetable for the appropriate use of nurse practitioners in the province?

All one big happy hydro family

Mixture of political parties on board offers validity to premier

Premier Ernie Eves has invited representatives of the two opposition parties to join him in governing, but this is not exactly the equivalent of a free trip to the Caribbean.

The Progressive Conservative premier has appointed former New Democrat premier Bob Rae and former Liberal health minister Murray Elston to the board that oversees the giant, provincially-owned electricity transmission network, which had been criticized particularly for lavish payouts to senior staff.

Mr. Rae is respected for his intellect even by many who had no time for his policies and Mr. Elston has been almost a party leader, starting several months after other candidates in a 1993 race and still losing by only nine votes on the final ballot, so both have status.

Mr. Eves invited the pair as his way of trying to show he is open-minded and will listen to all sides. He has made it clear he will continue to make the key decisions and Tories still dominate the board anyway.

He also will hope — it has been done before — bringing in opponents will take away some of the heat the Tories have been feeling over the board. Liberals and New Democrats may feel slightly more restrained in criticizing decisions by a body that includes some of their own.

When the opposition parties next criticize the board, the Tories will be able to counter, "are you knocking Bob Rae," and "don't you agree with Murray Elston?"

The Tories will have difficulty convincing the public they genuinely want to hear all sides, however.

At Queen's Park

They had many opportunities before to appoint opponents to the hydro board and waiting until now suggests they are doing it only because they are in trouble.

The Tories also make hundreds of appointments a year to boards, agencies and commissions and opponents criticize them often for naming too many of their own and few Liberals and New Democrats.

Now, when the opposition parties complain more generally too many of the jobs go to Tories, the government will be able to demand "what about Mr. Rae and Mr. Elston?"

Mr. Eves's predecessor as premier, Mike Harris, also appointed opposition politicians when he felt it would do him good.

Mr. Harris wooed over Dave Cooke, one of the most capable and hardest-hitting of the New Democrats, to be co-chairman of a commission he set up to help push through his reforms of education.

Mr. Cooke had been education minister and government house leader and was about as severe a critic of the Tories as anyone in the legislature.

But he leaped into his assignment for the Tories with zest, saying teachers' unions the NDP supported were mired in the past and urging them to get on side with Mr. Harris.

Mr. Harris also brought in Floyd Laughren, who had been finance minister in Mr. Rae's government, and made him chairman of the Ontario Energy Board. Whenever an opposition party complained only Tories are appointed, Mr. Harris countered with the names of Mr. Cooke and Mr. Laughren.

Politicians who accept jobs from another party also bestow some approval on it and this is the case with Mr. Rae and Mr. Elston. But their own parties rarely complain, because they are sensitive about reproaching a former colleague and being seen as wounded.

Why do politicians accept posts from opponents they have reviled? Mr. Cooke was feuding with the then newly-chosen NDP leader, Howard Hampton, who would not find him a role befitting his ability, and may have wanted to get revenge by helping the hated Tories.

Mr. Laughren is capable and there has been no better-liked member of the legislature in recent years. A government of any stripe would have been glad to help him and itself.

Some, including Mr. Rae and Mr. Elston, will be motivated partly by the satisfaction they can get from still contributing to public life, the power and prestige that often goes with it, and the implication they are so valuable government keeps calling them back.

It also looks good on their resumes and they may get further calls to serve and more directorships elsewhere — there is even some money in it.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING
HAMLET OF GREENWOOD
(SCOPED) EXPANSION STUDY

In 1997, Pickering Council considered a potential Hamlet of Greenwood Expansion Study. At that time, the expansion study was not conducted due to budget constraints.

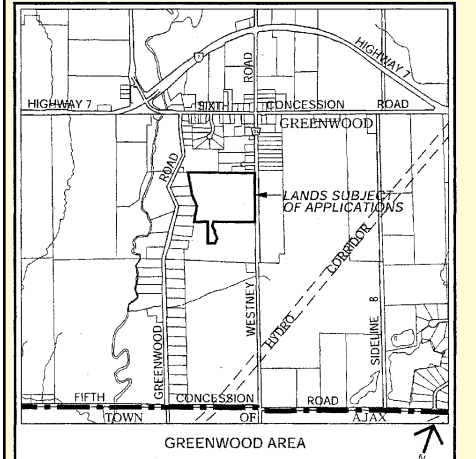

In June 2001, Bitondo Markets Limited submitted Draft Plan of Subdivision Application SP-2001-04, Zoning by-law Amendment Application A 16/01 and Minister's Zoning Order Amendment Application 18-ZO-01901-08 to permit the development of 13 hamlet residential lots with detached houses on the west side of Westney Road, south of Greenridge Drive. Following the Statutory Public Information Meeting held on October 18, 2001, to receive public comments on these applications, comments were received suggesting that a hamlet expansion study should be conducted for the Hamlet of Greenwood to investigate whether an expansion of Greenwood of this nature would be appropriate. A map of Greenwood is provided below.

At this time, Pickering Planning & Development staff would like to invite interested residents, landowners (including the applicant) and any other interested parties to discuss the scope of an expansion study to evaluate a minor expansion to the south part of the Hamlet of Greenwood at the following public meeting:

What: Public Meeting
When: June 25, 2002 - 7:30 P.M.
Where: Greenwood Community Centre

One week prior to the meeting, a proposal for the scope of the study will be circulated to anyone on the circulation list for the above-noted applications and to anyone else who requests this information.

ATTENTION RURAL RESIDENTS!!!

The Council of the City of Pickering has authorized a Growth Management Study that will provide for a study of those lands in the rural area from the Seaton Lands in the east to the York/Durham Town Line in the west, within the northern boundary of Highway 7 and the southern boundary of the C.P. Belleville Rail line.

The Grown Management Study will lead to a review of the current Official Plan and any existing studies conducted either for the City, Region or Province and the review will form the basis for how Pickering will manage future growth pressures.

A Working Group has been established comprised of Members of Council, Pickering staff and various representatives of the community. The task of the Working Group will be to draft detailed terms of reference for the Growth Management Study.

Council is seeking one representative of landowners in the Agricultural Assembly to participate on the Working Group. The Agricultural Assembly is that area between Duffins Creek in the east, the York/Durham Town Line in the west, Highway #7 in the north and the C.P. Belleville Rail line in the south.

Applications for appointment to the Working Group from landowners in the Agricultural Assembly should be forwarded to the undersigned no later than June 28, 2002. For further information, please contact Bruce Taylor, City Clerk at 905-420-4611 or by E-Mail at btaylor@city.pickering.on.ca.

Veridian hydro corporation earns 'A' credit rating

AJAX — Veridian Corporation, the hydro distribution company owned by Ajax, Pickering and Clarington, expects to save its customers about $300,000 a year after receiving an A and A- from two credit rating services. The electricity distributor received an A credit rating from Dominion Bond Rating Service and an A- rating from Standard and Poors. The ratings are the first assigned to the company since it was formed in 1999. "We are very pleased with these ratings," said John Wiersma, president and CEO of Veridian Corporation. "They provide confirmation we are prudently managing the business on behalf of our shareholders and that the rating agencies believe we are well-positioned to prosper within the regulatory framework for electricity distributors." The company decided to obtain a credit rating to improve its buying clout when purchasing electricity from the Independent Electricity Market Operator (IEMO) in the new open electricity market. Veridian Corporation distributes hydro to more than 90,000 customers in Ajax, Pickering, Clarington, Port Hope, Uxbridge, Belleville, Beaverton, Sunderland and Cannington through Veridian Connections Inc.

Auction, Fleet & Off Lease Cars to be Sold to the Public

Courtice Dealer Allows Public to Start Making Payments on Any Used Vehicle for $59 Down Payment Plus Tax & Fees, With Approved Credit***

COURTICE, ON- Fleet Marketers has been retained by Roy Nichols Motors to present a unique "Used Car and Truck $59 SuperSale" this Wednesday, June 19th through Saturday, June 22nd.

Bob Owen of Roy Nichols Motors said, "The reason for the $59 SuperSale is that a record number of auction, fleet, and lease return vehicles have flooded the Ontario market in the past year. We're absolutely swamped with quality pre-owned vehicles and have retained Fleet Marketers to drastically reduce this inventory immediately."

Management at Roy Nichols Motors has decided to sell their used vehicle inventory direct to the public by means of a $59 SuperSale. During this four-day event, every used car, truck, van and SUV will be available for a $59 down payment plus tax and fees, then start making payments.*

According to Mr. Owen, customers pay the $59 down payment plus tax and fees and then start making the payments on one of over $1 million worth of lease returns, rental returns and other used vehicles that will plus tax and fees then start making payments.

Mr. Owen stated that this is "a great opportunity for anyone seeking a quality used vehicle to get a great deal!"

Roy Nichols Motors will have finance representatives on hand to answer questions and help customers obtain the best terms. Trade-ins will be accepted. Customers should bring their vehicle ownership and/or payment book to expedite delivery.

"This really is a win-win situation for everyone involved," Mr. Owen said. "Customers get a great deal on a quality used vehicle, and we are able to drastically reduce our inventory."

After the $59 SuperSale ends at 5:00p.m. on Saturday, June 22nd, the dealership will return to normal operations. Questions can be directed to (905) 436-2222. Roy Nichols Motors is located at 2728 Courtice Rd. in Courtice.

Mr. Owen said, "This $59 SuperSale is about making it simple and affordable for customers to get the used vehicle of their choice."

Students can graduate with green parties

This is the month for graduations, banquets, and other year-end socials. Most schools display environmental slogans, but how well do teachers and volunteers measure up when it comes to creating little or no garbage from graduation parties?

For many functions, the same people who organize the details of the event also clean up the mess. By the end of the evening this group is usually too tired to separate resources, with the result being everything is generally shoved into large green garbage bags for quick disposal. An event organizer should ensure a '3Rs' task force person be on the committee. Being on the 'Rs' team can be fun and offer opportunities to be resourceful, imaginative, and a chance to improvise to 'do the best with less'.

The 3Rs task force, apart from initial input and arranging for recycling containers to be placed beside garbage cans, takes over at the end of the event by separating the clutter so there won't be any garbage. Untouched food should be wrapped and sent to an organization or taken home; food scraps off reusable or paper plates should

Lorraine Roulston

Recycler's Corner

get placed separately in a pail for composting. And don't forget, those paper plates can be composted too. Decorations packed away for reuse; while paper, beverage containers, and cardboard all can be recycled. Even plastic bags and other plastic film can go to depots that accept them.

As annual events basically have the same decorations, it makes sense to store them in boxes for their use in subsequent years.

The order of the 3Rs is reduce, reuse, recycle. Recycling was promoted first as it is a visual image, but we try to reduce, reuse, then recycle what is left over.

Basically we have to raise the common level of environmental understanding by making the connection that by failing to reuse, recycle or compost something, it ends up in landfill.

The Recycling Council of Ontario emphasizes natural resources must be used more judiciously if we are to meet the needs of growing world populations and expanding industries. Only by keeping value-added products and packages in circulation longer, can we adequately address pollution problems and resource limits.

- Reduce — Be creative and look for ways to reduce the amounts of items needed. You'll save money too;
- Reuse — Do not lose sight of reuse as a means of conserving resources; and
- Recycle — Separate resources to save energy.

Dave Johnson, organizer of the Frenchman's Bay Festival, submitted a written request to the City of Pickering to have recycling bins in place and picked up from the event. Also, the City's recycling system included four large green carts to gather organics such as unwanted food. The 2525 Pickering Canadian Army Cadet Corps helped educate everyone with literature and information about recycling.

COMING EVENT: A free Ontario Sustainable Energy Association community green energy workshop is being held Thursday, June 27 at the McLean Community Centre in Ajax.

Former "Diet Leader" Praises Local Hypnosis Program!

My name is Melissa Hayden. I lost 30 pounds with Positive Changes Hypnosis. I went from a size 16 to a size 8 in four short months. I'm at my ideal weight and I feel great!

Daily Struggle

I struggled with my weight all my life. Up and down, up and down, like a yo-yo. I thought to myself, I am an intelligent woman, why can't I control something as simple as food? I knew that I was dealing with more than just weight.

I had tried the national diet chains. I lost weight, but I

"I struggled with my weight all my life." Melissa Hayden Before Successful Weight Loss was hungry and cranky. I am a former diet 'leader'. I had a lot of knowledge about weight loss, but it didn't motivate me. After working so hard to lose 80 pounds, I had gained back 30.

I heard a testimony from a Positive Changes Hypnosis customer on the radio. I was impressed with the weight she had lost and the other changes she had made in her life.

I had carried that 30 pounds for six months. I couldn't get a handle on it. I picked up the phone and called Positive Changes.

100% Satisfied

While on diet programs I was haunted by a feeling that my weight was waiting around the corner to pounce on me. Now that I have lost my weight with Positive Changes Hypnosis, I know I'll never gain it back. Hypnosis makes it that simple, easy and relaxed.

Stop Suffering

I suffered when I was overweight. I went through a period of time when I was almost afraid to leave my home. Hypnosis helped me overcome those irrational fears. Today I feel strong physically and emotionally. I have energy and clarity. I'm thrilled with my improved appearance. I'm living my dreams!

I was embarrassed to give my before picture for this article. Yet there's a part of me that's proud of my accomplishment.

I want people who are struggling with dieting like I was to know that it can be different.

Hypnosis made all the difference for me. I never once felt deprived while losing weight with hypnosis.

"I shed 30 lbs. Hypnosis made it simple!"

"Easy" Weight Loss!

I have lost 33 pounds! That's four pant sizes! Thanks to hypnosis, my weight loss has been easy. Now that I have discovered hypnosis, I completely believe my weight loss will be permanent. Hypnosis makes it easy to stay motivated. I recommend Positive Changes to anyone who wants to lose weight. In fact, I'd get a van and start picking them up if I could!

Maggie Pipes, Photographer

Amazing!

"I lost 22 pounds in two months. I was so surprised. I had been overweight for about 38 years! My weight loss has been easy because it's not a diet. The most amazing thing is I never think about snacking now! It's unbelievable! I would recommend Positive Changes Hypnosis to anyone who wanted to lose weight. I believe this will be a permanent change for me."

Community Care Celebrates 25 Years of Caring

June 10 - Twelve volunteers with more than 150 years of service combined will be recognized for their outstanding contributions when Community Care holds its annual general meeting at Cullen Gardens on June 20, 2002.

This is a special year for Community Care as it is also their 25th anniversary. "We plan to honour our founders, renew old friendships and celebrate our success," says Elizabeth Fulford, executive director. "We want to reach out to those who were/are involved in Community Care; we'd love to see them." Lunch, special presentations and displays, followed by a walk through the gardens are planned for the afternoon.

Community Care began in 1977 with its Home Support Program---a steering committee of the Social Planning advisory group received funding to extend a program to help seniors and those with special needs, which had already begun in Ajax-Pickering and Brock, throughout Durham Region. Then in 1978, the COPE Mental Health Program (formerly known as C.I.V.P.) joined Community Care; this made it possible to support adults experiencing mental health difficulties in communities throughout the Region. And finally, the Respite Program began in 1987 as the need for providing relief to adults caring for family members in their homes emerged; the Adult Day Programs followed in 1992 (Ajax) and 1998 (Newcastle).

Community Care is a non-profit charitable organization, governed by a board of directors, staffed by a small number of employees and a team of more than 2,200 volunteers. Eight thousand Durham residents are recipients of various services such as meals on wheels, transportation, relief for caregivers and support for those experiencing mental health issues.

If you are interested in attending the annual general meeting, please call 905-404-2224 ext. 0 (cost for lunch is $10). For more information about Community Care, contact the office in your area, or visit their Website: www.communitycaredurham.on.ca.

SPORTS BRIEFS

It dozen get any better for Panther girls

PICKERING — The Pickering Panthers under-11 girls 'B' soccer team has roared to a scintillating 2-0 start to its Central Soccer League season.

In their opening two games, the Panthers outscored the opposition by a whopping 14-0 count.

The Panthers second game, against Ajax Warriors 2, was a closely-fought affair. Pickering, however, was able to capitalize on its scoring chances to earn a 2-0 victory.

The Pickering under-11s exhibited great ball movement, excellent goaltending and solid defence. Kayla Schroeder scored a brilliant goal in the first half on a long, hard kick over the head of the goaltender.

Ajax opened the second half with an all-out push to score the equalizer. Panthers' defenders Bethan Davies and Marissa Smith, however, thwarted several scoring threats by making critical checks. Keeper Tiffany Allen made several spectacular lunging saves to preserve the lead.

The Panthers seemed to draw inspiration from the sound defence and began to wrest control of the play. Lauren Giles, Gillian Clayton and Karin Toomsalu moved the ball up the field, while Katherine Rumboldt and Kayla Schroeder kept it pinned in the Warriors' zone with strong clearing kicks. At the 50-minute mark, forward Kelly Craig crossed the ball to Karlie Doucette whose point-blank shot was stopped. However, Doucette pounced on the rebound for an insurance goal.

The under-11 Panthers opened the 2002 league season with a convincing 12-0 victory over the North York Hearts.

This represents the first year the girls have played together at this competitive level.

Put your kid's summer on ice

PICKERING — Players are sought for a Pickering summer hockey league for boys and girls.

The non-profit hockey league is for players ages five to nine, focusing on skills through fun, organized games and practices.

At the end of the season, players receive a trophy.

Cost is $120 and only a few spaces remain.

Art Thompson Arena is on Bayly Street, between Brock and Liverpool roads.

For more information, call Paul Etherington at 905-420-2971.

Mmm... score with doughnuts this week

PICKERING — Buy some doughnuts this weekend and help a hockey team go overseas later this year.

The Pickering Panthers bantam European travel team is selling Krispy Kreme doughnuts Friday, June 21 and Saturday, June 22 to help raise funds for its trip to Europe in December.

The Panthers' players will be at various locations throughout Pickering, including Wal-Mart, Independent Grocers, Price Choppers, Loblaw's and the LCBO on Whites Road.

Selects hope you select garage sale items

PICKERING — Garage salers are urged to select a few items to help a hockey team at a huge fundraiser here Saturday, June 22.

The Pickering Panthers minor midget select hockey team hosts the sale at 2022 Cedarwood Crt., in the Finch and Dixie area, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Patrons can expect a large selection of items.

Proceeds will go to help the team offset costs for the 2002/03 season.

The sale will be held rain or shine.

McMorrow looking to grow some roots

Well-travelled former Panther has eye on long stay in Sabres organization

PICKERING — After living a nomadic life while playing in six different Ontario Hockey League towns, a former member of the Pickering Boyer Pontiac Panthers is looking forward to a less unsettled existence at the next level.

Sean McMorrow, 20, signed a professional contract with the National Hockey League's Buffalo Sabres June 1 — the last possible date NHL clubs can sign their entry draft picks of two years ago before they're dumped back into this year's draft.

For the former Panther, signing a contract took a lot of weight off his shoulders as it ended two years of uncertainty about whether he would ever sign with the Sabres, which drafted him in the eighth round, 258th overall.

"I was really excited and relieved," said McMorrow, a defenceman turned right-winger who's known for his physical play and ferocious hitting. "The Sabres were an organization I wanted to be part of and it was the second-closest team to home in the NHL. They've been really loyal to me since I was drafted. I've attended all the team's conditioning camps since I was drafted."

The 6-foot-4, 210-pound Scarborough resident expects to be in the Sabres' training camp in September, and will likely see action in some exhibition games. He will, however, end up with the Rochester Americans of the American Hockey League for the start of the hockey season. But, beginning the 2002-03 season in the AHL is OK with him.

"Yeah, I'm really excited about it," he said. "I've always known about the St. John's Maple Leafs and the Hamilton Bulldogs (also part of the AHL), so I'm pretty excited to be part of the league."

McMorrow, who played with the OHA Ontario Provincial Junior 'A' Hockey League Panthers during the 1998-99 season, has been a well-travelled player since being drafted by the Sarnia Sting in the second round of the 1999

OHL draft. That year, he played a half season in Sarnia before being sent to the Kitchener Rangers.

In the summer of 2000, the Rangers traded him to the perennially rebuilding Mississauga Ice Dogs. After several tumultuous months there, McMorrow asked to be traded and was dealt to the Kingston Frontenacs in November of 2000. But, his days in Kingston would be short-lived as he was traded for the third time that season, that time to the London Knights in January 2001. He stayed with the Knights until the OHL's 2002 trade deadline when he was on the move once more, going to the Oshawa Generals.

Although there were many changes in addresses during his OHL career, McMorrow said he was grateful to land with the Generals, which had the greatest impact on his junior career. Not having scored a goal with his previous OHL teams, he bagged six with the Generals and added two assists.

"I think it was because of Oshawa that things worked out in Sean McMorrow is hoping to stick within the Buffalo Sabres organization after signing a contract with the NHL club earlier this month. The contract ended two years of uncertainty for the former member of the Pickering Panthers.

Stingy defence keys Dolphins victory over Markham Raiders

Collegiate club earns first victory of COMFL season

DURHAM — The Ajax-Pickering Dolphins collegiate football team picked up its first victory of the season Sunday afternoon.

The collegians (ages 18 to 20) posted a 20-1 Central Ontario Minor Football League victory over the Markham Raiders in the Father's Day clash at Pine Ridge Secondary School in Pickering.

The Dolphins' offence managed to score two touchdowns against a stubborn Raider defence. Meanwhile the Dolphins' defence played its best game of the season, holding the Raiders to one point and scoring a touchdown on an interception by Trevor Small in the final minute of the game.

Also scoring touchdowns for the Ajax-Pickering squad were Ryaan McMillan and Brandon Potte. Mike Amato converted two touchdowns.

Meanwhile, the Dolphins' bantams boosted their record to 3-1 with a default victory over Markham.

The collegiate team plays the North York Grizzlies in North York Sunday, June 23. The bantams play the Scarborough Thunder at L'Amoureux Park at 2 p.m.

Fireman's Prayer

Oh Lord, please help this fireman, to be skillful and be brave.
Please let me never falter, when there are lives to save.

Be with my fellow fireman, and ride with us on each run.
From the moment that we "suit-up", until the job is done.

Be with me as I guide a child, through the dark and smoky haze.
Give me strength and courage, as I fight the deadly blaze.

Lord, I put my safety in your hands, but in the chaos and the strife,
Help me act with selfless courage, God, just let me save a life.

Amen.

The 50th anniversary of Pickering Fire Services is an important milestone that gives firefighters a chance to reflect on years passed and residents a chance to salute their hometown heroes.

"They are dedicated," Fire Chief Bill Douglas says of his team of firefighters. "The job dictates that. If not, they wouldn't last on this job very long. They do what they can to help people. I think a lot of people appreciate that. We get letters from people who thank us (for being there for them and their loved ones). That's what I want our department known for " caring and professionalism."

By Linda White

Special to The News Advertiser

When talk began about establishing a volunteer fire department in the Township of Pickering in the early 1950s, Don Lynde had been out of the army just a few years and was helping his father run a general store in the community of Dunbarton.

He signed on with another two dozen volunteers and kick started a career that would span three decades. Pickering's first fire chief, Mr. Lynde witnessed construction of the first fire hall, battled Hurricane Hazel, approved the town's first aerial truck and helped nurture a strong and proud fire department.

"I had no intention whatsoever of becoming a professional firefighter," admits Mr. Lynde, 78. "I was postmaster at my Dad's store until 1957. That was my full-time job."

He remembers the days when a fire committee that operated under the Township Council agreed to pay volunteers $1 an hour for the first hour of a call and 75 cents for each additional hour. They would collect payment once a year.

The first fire hall was constructed at the corner of Rosebank and Kingston Roads. It was a 'quonset hut' that could be constructed quickly and had been popular during the war years.

"The furnace was on the ceiling, so all the heat would be up top and our feet would be freezing," recalls Mr. Lynde, who was elected fire chief after the first stayed on just a couple of months.

In those early years, when the population hovered around 3,000, Mr. Lynde and Deputy Fire Chief Jim Glendenning were the only full-time firefighters. They relied heavily on volunteers, who never let them down.

The Evolving Role of Pickering's Firefighters

By Linda White
Special to The News Advertiser

The role of today's firefighter has changed dramatically since the early days of Pickering Fire Services. They are trained for just about any emergency imaginable and are equipped with some of the most advanced firefighting equipment available, including a new fire truck and thermal imaging technology.

The first truck was a four-wheel drive pumper, recalls retired Fire Chief Don Lynde, who headed the department for three decades. Because the community had no water services, an oil tanker was purchased in Montreal, sanded down, painted and used as a backup water truck.

"The next big truck was purchased in 1964. It was a tilt truck and cost less than $200,000," reports Mr. Lynde. "In 1974, we purchased our first volunteers, who attended training meetings each Thursday evening.

He lists improved breathing apparatuses and the Jaws of Life as top among the improvements he saw during his tenure.

When Fire Chief Bill Douglas began as a volunteer in 1974, he was one of the first dispatchers. Firefighters used 'plectrons' (comparable to today's pagers), and wives would phone one another to on volunteers.

The role of the firefighter has evolved over time. "We didn't get many medical calls in the past," notes Chief Douglas. "Ambulances usually attended them. Now, we have defibrillators and medical training. Nearly 40% of our calls are medical."

Technology has improved dramatically. "The breathing apparatus was just coming in when I started," recalls Chief aerial truck."

Mr. Lynde and retired Deputy Chief Jim Glendenning were the only full-time firefighters for a number of years, operating out of a fire hall at the corner of Rosebank and Kingston Roads. They relied heavily on alert them of alarms.

When Chief Douglas became full-time in 1976, three men worked at Station 5 and two men at Station 2. Occasionally, firefighters would work alone at Station #2 if others were off and also depended Douglas. "Some firefighters preferred not to wear them. Some smoke would get in your mask if it wasn't on air-tight, though it did filter most of it out."

Infrared cameras have recently been introduced. "They're used for search and rescue and for finding hidden fires in walls - 'hot spots'. They're also for our own protection, to find our own guys," Chief Douglas explains.

"Clothing and equipment has come a long way," he adds. "In the old days, we had a plastic black helmet, hip waders and a big coat. Now we have much safer equipment that is lighter and offers better protection."

Training has also become more technical. In the past, training included pulling hoses, pumping, tying ropes and knots. Firefighters would climb an extension ladder called an 'auditorium raise' and go over the top while it was held by men below, reports Chief Douglas.

The importance of fire prevention has become a top priority.

"The emphasis on fire prevention has changed dramatically," says Chief Douglas.

"Today, we recognize that public education is the key to preventing fires. Kids are taught it at school and bring it home to their parents. They talk about how they would get out of the house in the event of a fire and plan their escape. We need to keep focusing on education. That's the key to fire prevention."

Most-Wanted Vehicle Repairs

1. Worn brake parts. Postponing needed brake service, in addition to being a safety hazard, can escalate the cost of a braking system overhaul.
2. Tired windshield wiper blades. Don't wait for a rainy day to replace worn blades.
3. Burned out lights. Can you see and be seen? Check all of your lights regularly to be sure.
4. Clogged filters. Scheduled replacement of air, oil, gas, fuel, transmission and other filters extend car life and improves performance.
5. Worn spark plugs. Worn plugs waste gas and increase exhaust emissions. They also cause the engine to run poorly.
6. Corroded battery cables. Corroded cables and a weak battery cause starting trouble. Have battery and charging system checked if the engine turns over slowly.
7. Glazed belts, rotten hoses. A slipping belt can affect engine cooling, the alternator, power steering and air conditioner. Replace worn belts before they let you down -- brittle or rotten cooling system hoses can lead to overheating. Others, like vacuum and power steering hoses hinder performance.
8. Neglected cooling system. Periodic servicing of the cooling system helps prevent deterioration of radiator or heater core.
9. Leaking shock absorbers. Worn shocks or struts affect ride control and can cause shorter tire life.
10. Damaged CV joint boots. These rubber boots protect the critical CV joints that deliver power to your wheels. They should be inspected regularly and replaced as needed.
11. Leaking muffler. Have your car put on a lift occasionally to check the muffler and other parts of the exhaust system.
12. Tired tires. Worn tires are dangerous. Proper inflation, alignment and balance will extend tire life.

Buffalo. (Head coach) George Burnett and (former assistant coach) Mike Futa gave me a chance to show my skills. With Oshawa, I was allowed to play more roles than I usually played. With the other teams, I played as an enforcer. In Oshawa, I played on the top two lines," he said.

McMorrow will be training both on the ice and off in preparation for training camp. Since mid-May, he's been working out in a gym and has skated once a week. In July, he plans to increase his skating regimen to three to four times a week with other OHL and some NHL players in Toronto.

He's also been invited to work-outs in Buffalo this summer where he will work with one of the club's strength coaches.
