Pair charged in beating

PICKERING — Durham Regional Police have charged two teenagers suspected in the swarming-beating of a 15-year-old Tuesday.

The victim and a friend were attacked by a dozen thugs about 9:30 a.m. on the basketball court at St. Mary Catholic High School on Whites Road.

While his friend was fighting one of their assailants, the victim was punched, kicked and stomped on the head by the others. Two were brandishing a pipe and piece of wood, police said.

School custodians scared off the attackers, while one member of the group, claiming to be the 'Scarborough Crew,' threatened to return with his "burner," gang slang for gun.

The victim was treated at hospi-

Crisis reaches 'tragedy' status

Durham trustees help formulate education strategy

BY MIKE RUTA
Staff Writer

DURHAM — Trustees at a meeting in Hamilton Thursday night called for emergency interim funding from the Province so school boards can maintain programs and services at last year's levels.

It was one of three recommendations to come out of a strategy summit attended by roughly 40 trustees from about eight Ontario school boards, including Durham District School Board Whitby trustees Elizabeth Roy and Doug Ross.

The meeting was for trustees from boards who have not yet passed a budget this year, who did so but at the same time indicated their financial distress to the Province, or who passed a deficit budget in defiance of provincial law.

The Durham board passed a balanced budget but in letters to the Province indicated it needs more money for special education, employee salaries and technology.

While the call for more funding wasn't new, Trustee Ross said the fact a group of trustees from different boards have come together to be heard, is new. As trustees met, parent activists from several areas of the Province held a concurrent meeting and echoed trustees' recommendations.

"I think (the Province) better listen," Trustee Ross said in an interview. "We know there is a problem; there isn't enough money to go around."

He said the plan is for trustees who attended the meeting to bring back the recommendations to their own boards for approval. The Whitby trustees intend to bring them to the Durham board at its August meeting.

New role for Durham environmentalist

BY JACQUIE McINNES
Staff Writer

SUZANNE ELSTON
Durham environmental activist named executive director of Recycling Council of Ontario.

DURHAM — The chairman of the Durham Environmental Advisory Committee has been named executive director of the Recycling Council of Ontario, a waste reduction education and advocacy organization.

Suzanne Elston, a Courtyce resident and longtime environmental activist, was appointed to the position earlier this month.

Ms. Elston has been involved with numerous waste-reduction and environmental organizations and events in Durham Region for more than 15 years.

In 1988 she began volunteering as a recycling week co-ordinator for the Municipality of Clarington and went on to write a weekly column for This Week newspapers and to work with the public broadcasting system in the United States.

The primary focus of her work "has always been about public education and public stewardship," says Ms. Elston.

The role of the Recycling Council has recently expanded to include representation on the new Waste Diversion Ontario (WDO) board where the organization was given the only non-governmental, non-industry voting position.

"As executive director my role will be to represent the Recycling Council of Ontario on the WDO board," says Ms. Elston. The WDO is composed of representatives from government, industry and the public sector with an aim to developing product guidelines that allow for a 50 per cent reduction in waste through enhanced blue box and stewardship programs. Currently, the majority of municipalities have a diversion rate of about 30 per cent or less.

Only Quinte and Guelph currently have a municipal-wide diversion rate of more than 50 per cent, says Ms. Elston.

Issues such as recycling of tires and glass bottles, including non-returnable liquor bottles will likely be on the agenda, says Ms. Elston.

The RCO began 24 years ago as a collective of small, community-based recycling efforts, says Ms. Elston. But its mandate has grown substantially, she suggests.

"The Recycling Council of Ontario has a major role to play in both the WDO and the future of waste reduction in Ontario. Recycling was just the beginning.

"We must never forget the 3Rs of waste management are reduction first then re-use.

"Recycling has always been our third and least important option."

Nominate groups for conservation honours

DURHAM — Help conserve the deeds of those who help the environment we live in.

The Lake Simcoe Region Conservation Authority (LSRCA) is looking for nominees for its conservation awards. Individuals, businesses and groups having shown excellence in the area of conservation may be nominated.

Six awards in total will be given out by the conservation authority, including education, soil, and water conservation awards. A Conservation Award of Merit will be given to the most significant project of the year, and the George R. Richardson Conservation Award of Honour will be given to the project with the most lasting impact on the watershed.

Nominations for this year's conservation awards will be accepted at the LSRCA's Newmarket office, until 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 24.

Urgent need for Province to address funding: trustee

The trustees in Hamilton agreed they also need more money for employee salaries and benefits and for areas such as transportation. They also want the panel currently reviewing the Province's funding formula to hold more input meetings and open them to parent groups and trustees.

Trustee Ross described the trustees as a frustrated group.

"I think the frustration is because there isn't enough money to do the job the way we think it should be done," he said.

At the Durham board, Trustee Ross said he certainly backs the call for more money for employee salaries and benefits. While the Province, by his count, announced $300 million in new money this year, there was no money provided for salaries, at a time when the board is in the process of negotiating new teacher deals.

"How do you negotiate deals when you don't have any money?" Trustee Ross asked.

The board will start next year's budget process with a roughly $6 million shortfall, he said, asking, "what's Durham going to do?"

While some expect the Province to come through with new money next year in the wake of the formula review, Trustee Ross said the message out of the Hamilton meeting is it's needed now.

"I think there's an urgency here; I think there's a crisis in education," he said, borrowing the oft-quoted phrase from former education minister John Snobelen, and adding it has proved prophetic.

"Now the crisis has become a tragedy," he said.

Trustee Ross believes boards erred in asking for both a review of the funding formula and more money in the same breath. It gave the Province the opportunity to put off the latter request in honoring the former, he said.

Skin Cancer Facts

If you're over 40, chances are you spent a lot of time outside without sunscreen during your childhood and adolescence.

As children we used to run outside to play as soon as we had eaten breakfast and continued to play until dusk, stopping only to eat lunch and dinner. Then when we hit our early teens we lathered baby oil on our skin and layed in the sun for hours trying to get the perfect tan.

We had no idea that we were setting ourselves up for skin cancer later in our lives. And now our daughters, who do know the facts about sun and skin cancer, are encouraged by society and the fashion industry to sport a deep, dark tan. Let's review some of the basics of skin cancer.

Your general practitioner may not have the expertise to look at a mole or other trouble spot and diagnose skin cancer. A dermatologist, preferably one with at least 10 years experience, is the best person to see about skin conditions, especially suspicious moles. And never be afraid to ask for a second opinion. It could save your life.

How your exam is conducted depends on how many moles you have, your family history and how many years you were in the sun without sunscreen. Your dermatologist will always look closely at moles. They may take photographs of your body so the moles can be compared year after year. This technique might be compared to a baseline mammogram. Moles can also be graphed or mapped by your dermatologist. Your dermatologist will also tell you how frequently you should be examined.

Bleeding moles may be a sign of skin cancer or a sign that the moles are in a precarious place where the bleeding is a reaction to an irritation. Moles that bleed but are in a place they are unlikely to be scratched should be examined right away.

In addition to keeping an eye on your existing moles, watch for new ones. If any new ones appear that are larger or are a different color than other moles, they are suspicious. If existing moles discolor, become crusty and dry, or change in shape, they need to be seen.

There is good news, however, on the subject of skin cancer. Even if your skin has been damaged from a childhood of sunburns and tans, you can change your ways now. Lather on the sunscreen, wear a hat and enjoy the sun for shorter periods of time. Your skin cells have the ability to repair themselves, so give them a chance to get healthier. Above all, heed the warning signs of your body.

Car thieves strike twice against Pickering family

Vehicles stolen from driveway Thursday morning

BY MARTIN DERBYSHIRE
Staff Writer

PICKERING — One Pickering family awoke to quite a shock Thursday morning — not one, but two cars were missing from their driveway. Phil Frampton said when he left the house shortly after 8 a.m. to drive his youngest daughter to the dentist, he noticed both his three-year-old Lexus LX 300 and his 2002 Safari Van were not parked in front of the house.

He immediately went in and asked his wife Janice where the cars were.

"I was in disbelief," said Mrs.

Frampton. "Total and absolute disbelief."

Mr. Frampton then immediately called Durham Regional Police.

"It's tough to put into words what I felt," said Mr. Frampton, "You just open the door look out and say, 'Oh my God'."

Durham police Constable Bob Annan took the Framptons' call. He noted they weren't the only ones to find their vehicles missing in Pickering that morning.

"Yes his two were taken," he confirmed in an interview. "There's been quite a rash of them this morning."

Checking his information, he said there were five other stolen vehicle calls for Thursday morning alone.

While talking to the News Advertiser, a sixth report came through on his computer.

"There's so many being stolen now," he said.

"It's not just in the summer it's all year round now."

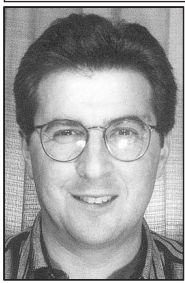

While Const. Annan said he hasn't come across two vehicles from the same driveway being stolen "in a while", he said a lot of stolen cars do turn up eventually.

He said it's often a case of joy riders or a person just stealing a vehicle to get from "A to B."

Ronald J. Klein, B.Sc., D.P.M. Podiatrist-Foot Specialist

Let's Ask The Podiatrist

Starting From Scratch

dish line with flaking, whitish skin, which peels or sloughs off. This is nature's way of trying to rid the body of the fungus. The most common areas are between the toes.

There are many ways to try and prevent the problem from occurring. The best is to avoid walking barefooted in areas such as health clubs, swimming pool decks and common shower areas. Always wear shower shoes.

Secondly, you should keep the environment of the foot as dry as possible. Wear cotton or wool socks, not nylon, polyester or rayon. Natural fibres breathe, and therefore, keep the foot dryer. Also, wear shoes that are made of leather or canvas. Shoes that are made to keep water out will keep perspiration in.

Dry your feet well after every bath or shower, especially between the toes. Putting socks on a foot already wet from the shower will hasten the occurrence of the athlete's foot. Always put your socks on first when getting dressed, even before your underwear. This will prevent the spread of the fungus to the groin, which is also a warm, dark, moist environment.

Sometimes the nails may also become infected by the fungus. They thicken and become yellow. There is a tendency of the nails to reinfect the foot, so flare-ups are usually only temporarily controlled by medication. Once the fungus gets a "foot hold" on the nails, it is difficult to eliminate the problem.

Treatment of an athlete's foot problem involves:

- (1) Don't scratch the area, as you will spread the infection.
- (2) Keep the area dry, cool and in the light as much as possible.
- (3) Wear socks and shoes made of natural materials.
- (4) Keep feet covered in public areas.
- (5) Over the counter creams and/or powders may help milder infections, as well as soaking the feet in tepid saline salt water.
- (6) Prescription creams or orals may be prescribed for more chronic conditions.
- (7) If a secondary bacterial infection occurs (misery loves company), that will also inflame the area - then a cortisone or an antibacterial cream may be prescribed.

Usually fungal infections are easily controlled, but they can recur if the conditions needed by the fungus are met. It seems that some people are more prone to these problems. Remember, you don't need to be an athlete to develop athlete's feet.

IF YOU HAVE A QUESTION YOU WOULD LIKE ANSWERED OR A TOPIC YOU WANT ADDRESSED, SEND IT TO ASK THE PODIATRIST C/O THE NEWS ADVERTISER.

Ask The Podiatrist:

My feet perspire a great deal, and I find myself with itchy feet that always crack between the toes. My friends at the health club tell me I have an athlete's foot problem. Do you think I do, and what can I do to stop or prevent it from recurring?

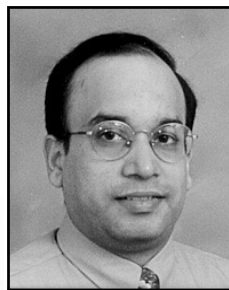

Your friends are right. It does, indeed sound as if you do have athlete's feet (TINEA PEDIS).

First, I must tell you that you don't need to be an athlete to develop this skin condition. It is caused by a fungus which flourishes in a warm, dark, moist environment. As feet may perspire more with athletics, there may be a slightly higher incidence of athlete's feet in people who participate in sports.

Athlete's feet can occur in the healthiest of people with the best feet. It is usually not contagious unless the proper conditions to ensure its growth exist.

The area itself often has a red-

World Youth Day puts spotlight on GTA

Many local young people to take part in celebration of Catholic faith

It's finally here.

For young Catholics eager to publicly celebrate their faith, World Youth Day, on now through Sunday, July 28 in Toronto, is the absolute highlight every second year.

Two years ago, some two million youth (defined as those aged 16-35 for the purposes of WYD participation) attended a special millennium World Youth Day celebration in Rome. The tremendously successful event galvanized Catholics around the world and set the stage for this coming week.

Pope John Paul II's drive and determination to be at this week's celebration is truly an inspiration for all. The 82-year-old pontiff, obviously in extremely poor health, has made it clear he intends to remain as head of the Church until the end. The originator of the WYD back in 1985, the Pope has tried to establish a special rapport with young people.

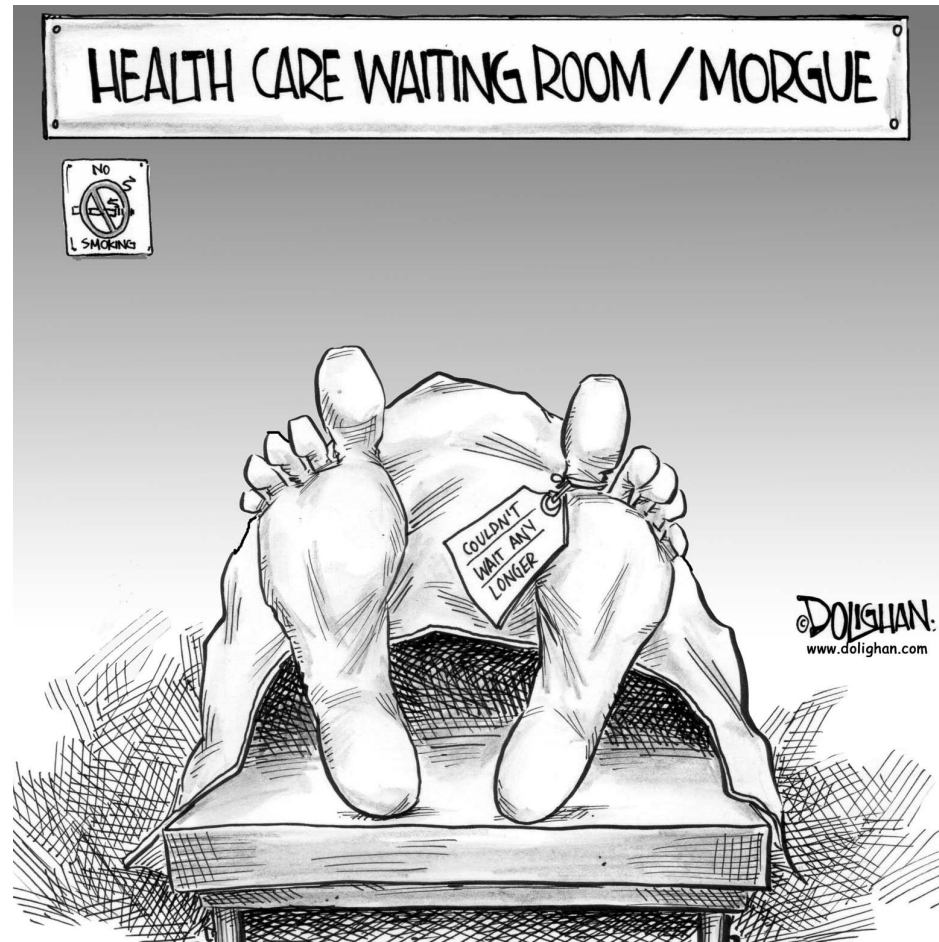

The Pope has fond memories of his visits to Toronto. He celebrated mass for upwards of half-a-million people when he officiated at Downsview Park in 1984. Crowds on July 28, when the Pope again says mass at the same site, could be just as large.

Here in Durham, while numbers are difficult to get, it's expected hundreds of pilgrims, possibly more than a thousand, will attend the various activities ongoing through the week.

Visitors from around the world are finding shelter with some of the area churches through billets that have been lined up. No doubt one of the tremendous benefits of having this event here will be the opportunity to mingle with pilgrims from around the world. Getting some insight into what Catholicism means to them will be a benefit for young Canadian Catholics.

World Youth Day, which will feature hundreds of priests and bishops offering knowledge and teaching the faith, also offers young Catholics a chance to ask questions and gain strength in their faith. The Church's positions on a raft of positions, including homosexuality, females in the priesthood, celibacy for priests, and many others could certainly come up for discussion. What does it mean to be a young Catholic today? What are the responsibilities young people are expected to fulfil? What does the church expect and owe to the youth in its charge?

Such debates and discussions will fill the air around Toronto this week and hundreds of thousands of young people will head away from this event with a new perspective on their faith. That's the purpose of World Youth Day - a chance for the next generation to draw sustenance from the faith they live by.

Alarms should be ringing over Brougham fire hall

To the editor:

Re: 'Firefighters sound the alarm,' July 7.

You can bet I'm concerned! All of us should be.

The removal of the fire and pumper trucks from the Brougham fire hall and the closing of the building because of mould surely will make everyone think.

A fire hall built on vacant land in Brougham would be plausible and commendable. We are at the juncture of three very busy roads — Brock Road, Hwy. 7 and Hwy. 407. The accessibility in all directions dictates the location.

Combining the incredibly busy traffic on these major roads, the reported $500,000-plus spent on refurbishing the Bentley House for Greater Toronto Airports Authority offices, plus the villagers homes, building a manned fire station in Brougham (not west down Hwy. 7 where there are virtually no buildings), should be a top priority now.

Fran Day, Brougham

Boards take mighty gamble on call to reserves

Durham's school boards are taking a big gamble.

In spending about $19 million in reserves this year, they are betting the Province will come through with more funding, millions more, when its task force has completed a review of the four-year-old education funding formula. For their collective sake, it better: the boards have spent beyond their means to avoid cuts.

Grant Andrews, the Durham Catholic District School Board's education director, called this year's budget "rich". The budget utilized over $12 million in reserves, half of it to pay for accommodation plan debt, and added an extra 31 educational assistants (EA) at an annual cost of about $800,000.

The Durham District School Board last fall said it would find $2.4 million in cuts to this year's budget to avoid relying on reserves. As the school year progressed, the figure ballooned to between $6 million and $10 million. The budget cuts eventually totalled just $670,000, but the public board also added 30 EAs at a cost of almost $1 million.

The collective wisdom is that the Province is finally acknowledging what education stakeholders have long been saying: the system is grossly underfunded. As a result, with the review due to be completed in November, it is believed changes to the formula, resulting in more money, will come in time for the 2003-04 school year.

No one would doubt those EAs and many more are needed in Durham. But, without more money, the boards will be in serious trouble, as they themselves admit.

Perhaps local education officials know something we don't, but after the Province added hundreds of millions of dollars in funding this year, it's hard to imagine they're going to do it all over again in a year's time. Doing so would be an admission of what the Province has denied all along: that they have not provided enough money to boards. In owing up to that, it's a small step to say that for four years students have been getting short-changed and the government has ignored pleas to do something about it.

The variable in this is the imminent provincial election. Many believe the Province will increase funding to help ensure another election win. If the opposition Liberals' performance in the last two campaigns is any indication, however, Premier Eves and company have little to worry about.

North Durham Trustee Fred Jones was the only local trustee to oppose the budget, arguing the Catholic board should spend only as much as the Province provides. Lest you think otherwise, he's a critic of the Tory government and the funding formula. Trustee Jones just isn't willing to bet that the Province is coming to the rescue next year.

St. John course offers everything a babysitter should know

AJAX — Taking a safety program could help babysitters avert a tragedy. The St. John Ambulance Durham Region branch offers 'what every babysitter should know' for youths 11 to 13 years old.

Topics during the seven-hour, one-day course include basic first aid and safety awareness, breathing emergencies, artificial respiration, choking procedures, and bleeding and bandaging. There's also information on dealing with temper tantrums and colic. Cost is $35. It's being held Monday, Aug. 12 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the St. John office in the Harwood Shopping Centre, at the corner of Harwood Avenue and Bayly Street, Ajax. The course is also offered in Oshawa Aug. 14 and in Whitby Aug. 23. For more information or to register, call 905-434-7800.

Love of Bluegrass Music

lives on in Pineridge Bluegrass Folklore Society

An anniversary is being celebrated this year that shows just how much having something special in common can keep people together.

The members of the Pineridge Bluegrass Folklore Society have been promoting and preserving bluegrass music in Durham Region for 26 years. "A lot of people drift in and out, and though some are not actual members," says the society's president, Bob Prentice of Port Perry. "We do have between 130 and 140 actual members and the same number of adherents."

'Bluegrass' has its roots in the music brought to North America by early settlers. It can be heard across Canada and is thought to have spread north from the Carolinas, Tennessee, Kentucky and the Virginias. The songs come from pioneers' oral histories about day-to-day life in their new land, especially about the hardships and joys of people living in rural areas. But until the invention of the phonograph and radio in the early 1900s, bluegrass wasn't widely known, and if it was referred to at all, was called "mountain music" or "country music."

But the mountains and the country produced some quality singing by any genre's standard. Names like Jimmie Rodgers, the Carter Family and the Monroe Brothers emerged in the 1920s and 1930s to become famous. It was Kentuckian 'Bill Monroe and the Blue Grass Boys' who first coined the name, in honour of Monroe's Kentucky home, known as the 'Bluegrass State.'

Considered a new kind of country music, the hard-driving, energetic and powerful sound took off at the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville in 1939. With traditional acoustic instruments and characteristic vocal harmonies, bluegrass incorporated gospel music, work songs and country and blues music. In country music circles, bluegrass had become recognized as a distinctive part of country music.

Throughout the 1960s, Lester Flatt and Earl Scruggs and the Foggy Mountain Boys brought bluegrass into the living rooms of North America with the theme music for the television show 'The Beverly Hillbillies.' The same musicians provided the soundtrack for the film, 'Bonnie and Clyde.' Then came 'Deliverance,' the 1972 movie that featured the famous 'Duelling Banjos.' One of the most recent hit soundtracks to attract wider audiences to bluegrass was the Coen Brothers' movie, 'O Brother, Where Art Thou?'

Once a month the local society gets together for what Prentice calls "a picking session." A sound system with stage, plus other rooms where small groups can "jam" prior to performing before the entire assembly were all available at Camp Samac in Oshawa.

"It was a good venue for people to get some stage time when they can play with (skilled) people so they come up to their level,"

*Bob Prentice, president of the Pineridge
Bluegrass
Folklore Society.*

adds Prentice. "It's an ongoing learning experience."

String instruments — guitar, banjo, mandolin, bass and fiddle — are the foundation of bluegrass music, with the addition of the harmonica on occasion and, of course, the human voice.

"We've had people from six years old to 90 and up get up on stage and fiddle," says the proud president. "Bluegrass goes right across the generations." A plethora of Bluegrass festivals are one of the main reasons the Pineridge Bluegrass Folklore Society breaks during the summer. Its members - most from Durham Region but also from Cobourg, Peterborough and Belleville travel far and wide to take in the music to which they are so dedicated. Bluegrass music is not only known throughout North America but in 30 countries. In addition to the classic style, today bluegrass echoes influences from contemporary country music, Celtic music, rock and roll ('newgrass' or progressive bluegrass) and gospel music.

After meeting at Camp Samac in Oshawa for at least 20 of the 26 years the group has been together, its rental agreement was not renewed by Scouts Canada. Several organizations, unless part of the Scouting family, can no longer use the facility because of changes to the Camp's insurance coverage.

"We really loved the place," says a philosophical Prentice. "The ambience matched what we were doing to a tee. But nothing lasts forever. Nobody wants to leave but it's out of our control."

Undeterred, the group that's been making music together for more than a quarter of a century will meet again in September. Beginning Sept. 15 the Pineridge Bluegrass Folklore Society will resume its Sunday schedule from 1 to 5 p.m. at Woodview Community Centre, 151 Cadillac Ave. N. in Oshawa.

Math, science popular with summer students

BY MIKE RUTA
Staff Writer

DURHAM — Math and literacy courses continue to be popular for local summer school students.

Rob Fitzgibbon, principal of continuing and adult education for the Durham Catholic District School Board, said roughly 2,600 students are registered for the first semester of the board's program, while an estimated 1,500 are signed up for the second.

In an interview, he said roughly one out of every three students is taking a math course.

"We have a lot more students who are coming to improve their math mark," said Mr. Fitzgibbon. "Some may have actually passed, but they want to improve their mark."

He said high numbers in the summer math courses has been a constant since the Province introduced the new high school curriculum.

New this year is a non-credit, remedial literacy program for students who had difficulty with or failed the Ontario secondary school literacy test for Grade 10 students.

"We've had a lot of response to that; I think parents are concerned," said Mr. Fitzgibbon.

After a trial run in the fall of 2000, passing the Grade 10 test became a mandatory high school graduation diploma requirement when students wrote the test in February. Overall results are to be released in late September.

The Durham public board offered, for the first time, Grade 9 and 10 remedial math and literacy programs this summer.

"We're tying it in with the high school credit program," said Ken De'Ath, the board's summer school coordinator. "There are a lot of kids signed up."

He said the board counts the number of course registrants, not students, in the summer program and some 3,000 registrants are signed up at the high school level.

The figure is about 10 per cent lower than expected.

"It's always a guess," Mr. De'Ath said of the number of sign ups each summer. "You offer programs and make them available and trust you've done a good job getting the information out."

Some 300 students signed up for an activity camp for students from kindergarten to Grade 6, offered this month. Meanwhile, Mr. De'Ath said 135 pupils have registered for a 'getting ready for high school' program, to be offered next month.

Mr. Fitzgibbon said the board is "always struggling to get math and science teachers" and cited a few reasons. More students are taking courses, he said, and with the board trying to keep class sizes down, more teachers are required. As well, the board is in competition with the Education Quality and Accountability Office, the Province's standardized test administrator, which in the summer hires teachers to mark tests.

The boards' summer school programs end Aug. 1.

Surprise appearance by GM president

Michael Grimaldi's visit to labour talks called a first by CAW head

BY CHRISTY CHASE
Staff Writer

DURHAM — General Motors of Canada president Michael Grimaldi surprised the Canadian Auto Workers when he showed up for the opening of negotiations at the Royal York in Toronto on Tuesday.

It was the first time a GM of Canada president attended the opening of bargaining, said CAW president Buzz Hargrove at a subsequent media conference.

This shows Mr. Grimaldi's "intense interest" in GM's Canadian business and in Canada's economy, said Al Green, GM of Canada's vice president and director of human resources and lead negotiator, at the GM media conference.

Both union and company said they are ready to sit down and work together on a new contract, to replace the existing one that expires Sept. 17. Both local and master talks are starting now, with CAW Local 222 president Mike Shields leading the master bargaining committee.

Major issues for the union include a "substantial wage increase," a commitment from GM to a new Oshawa paint shop, the first phase of which has been announced, and income security, Mr. Hargrove said. Other issues are retirement incentives and benefits. The CAW wants to see GM pick up the cost of health procedures no longer covered by OHIP, he added.

"We talked about the cost of all this," he said. "The productivity of our members far exceeds the total cost of what we're proposing today."

He noted GM could "sign today" and could still lower the prices of cars. He also pointed out GM Corporation just announced profits of more than $1 billion in the first quarter of 2002 and has had profits of $11 billion since the last set of negotiations in 1999. The CAW members deserve their share of that, he said.

"If they're making a lot of money, there's always a lot of rhetoric about not being able to afford putting that into a wage package," he said of the auto industry. "We heard that again this morning."

Mr. Green, highlighting the awards for productivity and quality GM's Oshawa plants have received recently, said the "most significant issue" is the "intense, competitive pressure" from foreign automakers. They now have a 55-per cent market share, compared to 44 per cent in 1999, when the CAW and GM last negotiated, he said.

When it comes to that competition and "cost disadvantages" of GM, he hopes the union will "co-operate in finding creative ways to offset any enhancements they want," Mr. Green said. This includes looking at legacy costs, or retirement costs and post-retirement health costs. While GM doesn't want to change them, it is interested in a look at "cost offsets" here, he said.

MICHAEL GRIMALDI

For all the talk about huge profits and plant awards, there is also concern about plant closures, Mr. Hargrove said. Both GM and the CAW said GM operations in St. Catharines, where more jobs have been lost in recent years than exist in all foreign automakers' plants in Canada, are a big concern during these negotiations. A continued presence of the auto and parts industry in Quebec will be a union position now that the Ste. Therese plant is due to close this fall.

Both Mr. Green and Mr. Hargrove spoke of improving relations between the union and company over the last few years and the intention to further the relationship.

"They're a mature organization and they'll approach (negotiations) on a business case basis," Mr. Green said of the CAW.

"We're not looking for a fight," Mr. Hargrove said. "We want to settle our issues. We'd like to do this without a strike at all three companies."

Negotiations with Daimler-Chrysler and Ford opened later in the week. The CAW and the Big Three automakers will continue talks throughout July and August. After Labour Day, the union will pick one company as its target to work out a new three-year agreement.

Mr. Green said GM would like to be that target.

"We'd certainly like the opportunity to fashion an agreement," he said, pointing out it's an opportunity and not a vulnerability to be the target.

Get carded before hitting the water

PICKERING — Driving a boat this summer?

Then remember, as of September, new federal regulations require operators of vessels under four metres in length to earn a pleasure craft operator card. By September 2009, all operators require the card.

The card is good for life and is earned by scoring 75 per cent on a test of basic boating safety knowledge.

The City of Pickering is offering a boat operator accredited training (BOAT) course, including a six-hour classroom-learning program from the Lifesaving Society to help train for the test.

According to the society, powerboats account for more than half the 200 people who die in boating related incidents on Canadian waters every year.

"Every time you go out on the water, there's a risk that you're in for more of an adventure than you expect," said Barbara Byers, public education director for the society. "The outcome will depend on how prepared you are."

Show some drive next week and stay fire safe this summer

AJAX — Fires don't take a holiday, so learning how to prevent them shouldn't either.

Youngsters can improve their knowledge of fire safety at Home Depot in Ajax Saturday, July 27. The Duracell Fire Safety Drive teaches children about the dangers of fire, and how they and their parents can develop a safety and home escape plan. Children can also meet local firefighters, tour a fire truck, participate in safety exercises and pick up a free safety guide.

Studies by the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs have shown children in North America are more likely to die or be seriously injured in fires than adults.

In addition to firefighters at the event, there will be police officers, ambulance attendants, the local Red Cross and Child Find.

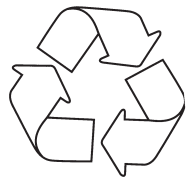

During the day, 25 cents from each purchase of Duracell batteries will go toward firefighter training and development across Canada.

The event runs from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and the Home Depot is on Hwy. 2 at Pickering Beach Road.

"I Prayed for a Miracle . . . I FOUND HYPNOSIS AND LOST 71 LBS.!"

My name is Marjorie Garst. I live with my husband John. I am a homemaker and mother of four. I volunteer as a foster mother for newborn babies. I lost a remarkable 71 pounds in eight short months without dieting. I went from a chubby size 20 to a trim size 10! This is my true-life account of genuine, lasting weight loss success.

Holding my fifth foster baby September 12, 1996 Before Hypnosis

I had read the hypnosis' ads for months. Frankly, I was skeptical. It seemed too good to be true. Then I saw a special report on the News. It featured folks who had quit smoking and dropped weight with hypnosis. One lady said she lost over 90 lbs. She said hypnosis made it simple. That got my attention.

I honestly didn't think the people in the ads were real until I saw it on the 11:00 News. Now it's happened to me and I have my own true story to tell.

Immediate Results
 I was nervous when I called for the appointment. I didn't want to be pressured. The free hypnotic screening was a wonderful surprise. My consultant was genuinely interested in me. The high-pressure sales pitch never happened. She explained hypnosis in a relaxed, entertaining way. She went over the guarantee. I was impressed. If I couldn't be hypnotized, I would get a full refund. I had nothing to lose except a lot of fat. I signed up.

My new eating habits started immediately after my first session. My hunger pangs disappeared. My taste for soda pop vanished. I found myself craving healthy foods. Fruits and vegetables tasted different. It was like my taste buds came alive.

One day I was walking through the grocery store. I marched right past the bakery, candy, chips and soda without a glance. That's when I was convinced. Hypnosis had completely changed my taste.

Doctor's Delight!
 My last visit to my doctor was a thrill! My doctor nodded his head with delight. He confirmed my 71-pound weight loss. For the first time in my life my blood work and cholesterol are normal without pills! I feel fantastic. No more aches and pains. No more cravings or binges. Best of all, hypnosis eliminated dieting for good! Hypnosis made my weight loss easy and effortless. I know I will never gain the weight back. All the changes are permanent. I have a whole different way of thinking about what I put into my body. I never feel deprived.

Self-Confidence Soars!
 When I was overweight I was extremely withdrawn. Some days I hardly spoke a word. I thought everyone was judging me. My self-worth was zero.

When the weight came off I felt better about myself. Hypnosis helped me relax. I gained a feeling of inner peace. I knew I was back in control of my life. My entire family has changed thanks to hypnosis. My son lost 22 pounds. My 83-year-old mother lost 18 pounds. We're saving money on our food bill every week. What a bonus!

 Twenty Years Younger
 I thought I'd never wear a bathing suit again. On the 4th of July I gazed at myself in the mirror. I was wearing a sexy black and purple one-piece suit. I loved what I saw! I wore it that day and many

71 lbs Lighter! After Hypnosis

Invaluable!
 My results at using hypnosis are invaluable to me. That's why I'm sharing my story with you. I believe in hypnosis. I'm certain you'll be as thrilled as I am. I know because I've met lots of other folks who are getting results like mine. They've shed 50, 60, even 90 pounds with ease. Call Now and Schedule your hypnotic screening. It's absolutely free and there's no obligation. Ask about their no-risk guarantee. You'll be glad you did. If your evaluator doesn't think hypnosis is for you, she'll tell you so.

I know how much it hurts to be overweight. I've been there. If you have a weight problem, don't put it off. You'll probably just gain more weight. Do what I did. Call 905-686-7717. Hypnosis worked for me. It can work for you. Call now.

Durham Windows and Doors brings mobile showroom to your door

Wayne Hutchinson brings to the replacement window and door business a new and long overdue feature. It's a Mobile Showroom which just may be the only one in Canada.

"The day is gone when you carried some brochures and a sample window to a customer's home," explains Wayne. "So I obtained a retired North York Mobile Library truck and installed interior walls along with all of my window samples."

When you call Durham Windows and Doors for a free estimate, Wayne will show up at your door with his Mobile Showroom which you'll enter by way of a sliding patio door.

Inside, displayed on the walls, are the Tech Weld 2000 series of vinyl windows which you're free to operate and you'll discover the many special features including how they can be cleaned without going outside.

"After being in this business for 24 years, I can honestly say these are the finest windows on the market," says Wayne. "They're triple sealed to reduce air leakage and come with heavy duty hardware."

All Tech Weld 2000 vinyl windows come with Low E Glass which filters out the ultraviolet rays keeping your home cooler in the summer and eliminate fading of your curtains, drapes and furniture.

All of the windows come with a lifetime warranty on the frame and hardware.

Wayne would also like his customers to know that he does all of the estimates personally, eliminating the cost of a salesperson.

Durham Windows and Doors

also does all of its own installations, which ensures that every customer gets a high quality job done at the best possible price.

Durham Windows and Doors is located at 696 King St. W. in Oshawa. For more information call (905) 579-2222 or 1-888-576-8575.

Pickering players put Games faces on

PICKERING — The City is well represented in just about every sport at the 2002 Ontario Summer Games in Kitchener-Waterloo.

In fact, 80 athletes and coaches from Ajax and Pickering will compete over the four days of the games, which finish today (Sunday). Between 2,500 and 3,500 athletes up to age 22 will compete in 20 sports.

In Pickering, 45 athletes and coaches are taking part, including five members and two coaches with the Eastern Ontario Baseball Association's (EOBA) boys' team. On the squad are Nick Spencer, Michael Wilson, Garrett Russell, Steven Loder and Brad Downton. Coaches are Ryan Johnston and James Fleming.

Meanwhile, Brandon Heard and Andre Windross play on the Wexford boys' soccer team.

Javine Anderson, Jamal Bucknor, Devoe Joseph and Ryan Lerma are part of the Kawartha boys' basketball team.

Caroline Booth and Nicholas Cappa will compete in diving. Robyn Brodie, of the Scarborough Diving Club, will serve as their coach.

Irfan Shamasdin and Maia Kirk are playing tennis.

Jennifer Dunlop, Lauranne Hutton and Mary Lawrence will play on the Toronto Rugby Union's under-19 women's entry.

Brooke Sampson will play with the Ajax Spartans' entry in the girls' baseball competition. Heather Sampson serves as a manager on the team and Wayne Sampson is one of the coaches.

Cara Cornacchia will compete for Brampton in girls' soccer.

Tessa Thomas is part of the Scarborough girls' softball team.

Tim Verboom will play for Region 4 in boys' beach volleyball. Lindsay Wells will serve as a coach of the Region 4 girls' beach volleyball squad.

Ashley Kong, Ashley Brown and Sarah Masterton will play on the Region 4 girls' volleyball team.

Samantha Ferguson and Stephanie Reid will play for the Markham girls' entry in the softball tournament.

Tarik El-Tyeb and Christopher Lupa, of the West Rouge Canoe Club, will compete in the kayak events. Erica Purdy will serve as a coach.

Jessie Darroch will play for the Kawartha girls' entry in the basketball tournament.

Branden Cleary and Tyler Ball, of the Frenchman's Bay Yacht Club, will compete in sailing.

Doug Wilton is a coach for disabled athletes in track and field events.

In early results, the Mississauga All-stars defeated the Ajax Spartans 8-5 in girls' baseball Thursday. In boys' baseball, the EOBA squad defeated Team North 11-2 Friday. In boys' soccer, the Ajax Gunners lost 3-1 to the Nepean Hot-spurs Thursday. Wexford defeated the Mississauga Falcons 2-1, also on Thursday. Meanwhile, in Friday's action, the Kitchener Spirit downed the Gunners 1-0 and they also dropped a 4-1 decision to Nepean. Other results weren't available at the News Advertiser's press deadline Friday.

Whitby stops Pirates' title hopes at tourney

Pickering club wins four straight before dropping final

PICKERING — The Pickering Pirates minor peewee select baseball team didn't have one more miracle in its bag of tricks at the Mississauga West tournament last weekend.

The Pirates played five games, coming from behind in three to win and earn a spot in the championship final. Their luck ran out, however, against the Whitby Red team, losing 12-2 in six innings.

Adam Corless, Andrew Brown, Mark Orlecki, Matthew Marinelli, Tyler Makos, Spencer Foley and Gregory Trusdale all had one hit. The Pirates received outstanding pitching from Brown, Aaron Peaks, Adam Ray and Marinelli.

The Pirates opened the tournament Friday against the Vaughan Vikings. After three-and-a-half innings, Pickering found itself down 10-1. The peewees, however, roared back to score seven runs in the bottom of the fourth and three runs in the bottom of the fifth to pull out the win.

Brown led Pickering with three hits, Peaks and Bobby Gertsakis contributed two each, and Jeff Cernele, Corless, Orlecki, Marinelli, Ryan Schumacher and Makos added one apiece.

On Saturday, Pickering walloped the Mississauga Twins 14-2 after four innings. Peaks and Brown led the team with three hits apiece, followed by Orlecki and Marinelli with two each, and single hits to Corless, Makos, Schumacher, Foley and Trusdale.

In the nightcap, Pickering squeaked by the Mississauga North Bengals 8-7. Peaks and Ray sparked the Pirates with two hits each, while single hits went to Corless, Brown, Marinelli, Makos, Foley and Trusdale.

On Sunday, the Pirates faced their nemesis, the Whitby Blues. After falling behind 4-0 after two innings, the Pirates scored four runs in the fifth to win 7-6. Schumacher paced the attack with two hits, and singles came from Corless, Peaks, Orlecki and Trusdale.

Dave Corless, Mark Trusdale, John Cernele and John Orlecki coach the Pirates.

Health & Wellness ADVERTISING FEATURE Your Guide to Healthy Living

LOSE WEIGHT and Keep it Off!

It has been reported that a large percentage of North Americans are overweight. We only have to look around us, and at ourselves, so know this is true. Given the many 'diets' that are available, this should be easily remedied. Not so! Diets tell us what to eat and how much, and this makes perfect sense. And it works for a while and then we put the weight back on, plus some.

Many people are extremely unhappy about their weight, to say the least, so unhappy that it stops them living life to the fullest. It interferes with their life, their relationships, their careers, their dreams.

To lose weight effectively, now and forever, involves taking a long hard look, not at what you eat but WHY you eat. You know when you overeat, you know those cookies, chips, desserts, etc will put on extra weight, but for some reason you eat them. You end up feeling twice as bad, twice as guilty. You don't like being overweight.

You can stop this crazy cycle now, if you're willing to take that long, hard look at your life.

Hypnotherapy can help in uncovering those 'hidden' reasons why you hold excess weight. A good life management coach can help with strategies to help you make better choices, help you plan and implement a healthy life strategy. There really are no magic formulas or diets. The magic is within you, hidden beneath the extra weight you are carrying. The extra weight is a signal from your body that you need to once again take control of your life, deal with the unacknowledged reasons you overeat, to emerge slender and strong and full of energy.

It is your life, your decision, your body. If you are so unhappy with your weight, why not make the decision to deal with it now, once and forever, and get on with the rest of your life.
