Controversy Over Passes To Seniors

By Grant Karcich

A recent Pickering Council decision to give the town's blind residents free all hour passes on the dial-a-bus system has thrown some doubt on the value of similar passes issued to senior citizens. The town will give free passes on the buses to all blind people in the town if they are registered with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

The decision follows some controversy over similar passes issued to the elderly which are designed to be good only in non-prime hours.

Pickering's Executive Committee recommended that the passes for the blind be released with the same restrictions.

However, after being pressed by a number of councillors, Noel Marshall, the town manager, was forced to admit that the restriction was not made by previous councils but was implemented by the town's administration because "the dial-a-bus system came under extreme strain and some method of control was needed."

Pickering's senior citizens are now left wondering if their passes will continue to carry the non-rush hour restriction or whether they will have unlimited ser-

Record Year

Despite public uncertainty about mortgage rates and the loss of a week's business in evacuated Mississauga, house sales in the Toronto Real Estate Board's market area through the Multiple Listing Service were high enough to make 1979 a record year. In 11 months the number of buyers increased by 12.3 per cent from the corresponding period last year.

President John Shortill said that in 11 months this year 22,383 buyers committed a total of $1,585,682,743, compared with 19,921 MLS house buyers in 11 months last year whose transactions totalled $1,339,783,882. The best previous mark for 12 months was set in 1975 with 22,020 transactions worth $1,267,953,568.

Mr. Shortill said that there were 1,738 MLS house buyers in November compared with 1,747 last November and residential transactions were worth $120,017,196, up from $117,568,473 a year ago.

"When you consider November results at a time of rapidly changing interest rates and with the lack of a week's activity in an area that produced about 10 per cent of our sales last November, the results of the past month show that we still have a very strong market", Mr. Shortill said. "While a rapid drop in interest rates is highly unlikely, the whole business community is likely to see encouraging trends in the rest of 1979 because of strong indications that rates have peaked."

Bob's Notes

THE BUDGET

As our newspaper is being printed and distributed this week, the P.C. government at Ottawa will be presenting its first budget to the nation.

Most citizens we meet are not happy with the lack of positive action at Ottawa and Prime Minister Joe Clark hasn't got popular support in this part of our country. Hopefully the budget will create some enthusiasm amongst the population and be the right measures to tackle the problems of financing government.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

The Hon. Tom Wells and his lovely wife, Audrey, once again welcomed hundreds of people at their annual Christmas party last Sunday at the Ramada Inn, Willowdale.

Mr. Wells has many strong supporters and he invites many people in the community to share in this non-political event. It's always a good chance to meet friends not seen for some time.

SHEER STUPIDITY

It always escapes us why some parts of organized labour pull such dumb tactics to put across their message to management.

The secondary school teachers in North York are surely in a special category of stupidity. They are asking - nay, demanding more salary increases than their counterparts in East York and Scarborough. They are demanding that most of their members be kept on staff instead of losing their jobs because the number of students has dropped considerably.

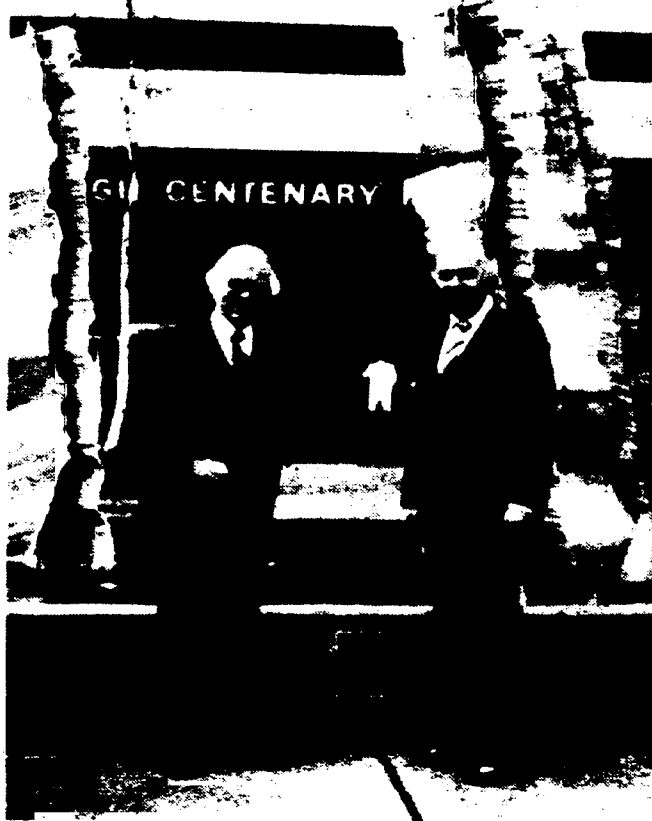

It baffles us why these teachers expect the property taxpayer to pay for teachers' salaries when they are not needed. Our economy cannot afford to pay people more for less work and other workers do not enjoy such feather-bedding.

And the payoff in this almost two year action is the "work to rule" status where teachers do not work after the end of the school day. No help for sports, no extra assistance to students. It's equivalent to an engineer saying that he will turn his brain off at 5 p.m. or a nurse or doctor who stops in the middle of an emergency operation because they have put in their six hour day!

One could even buy this kind of unionism except that the teachers federation won't let students who organize their own sports play with other teams of students who have normal coaches.

We understand that the teachers are being represented in the negotiations by a provincial "team" and not by their own local representatives. The militancy of teachers in this impasse is difficult to understand because the teachers are losing the backing of the public and especially their esteem with the students has been shattered. Is this tough stand really worth it?

Of course, by "working to rule" the teachers have taken no cuts in pay for nearly two years, which hardly shows much fortitude on their side.

OIL CRISIS

We hope that the Clark government has some innovative ideas in its budget about gasoline. It is our opinion that gasoline rationing should be instituted immediately. Such a move would be much more effective in energy conservation than a big price hike.

Some of us need auto transportation to carry on business and don't forget that a significant part of the cost of Canadian products is the cost of transportation, all forms of which use oil.

NOT TURNER ANYWAY

Now that John Turner has announced that he will not be a candidate for the leadership of the Liberal Party, it should be interesting who does get the nod from Liberal delegates next March in Winnipeg. Given the mood of the electorate right now, though, almost any viable person could lead the Liberals back into power. At least that is our assessment in this pre-budget time!

HUMOUR

Our humour this week comes from Scarborough alderman John Wimbis. Know what Hertz-Rent-A-Car was called in King Tut's day? Hire-a-Glyphic!

Mainstream Canada "Biting the Bullet"

By W. Roger Worth

The full length coat of natural Russian silver fox is priced at $17,000. There's a luxurious calf leather day-into-night bag from Italy that sells for a cool $275.

Here's a mohair wool/acrylic sweater from Italy at $230. Or how about a hip-length feather jacket at $550 per copy.

These pricey items are not included in a sales promotion for a firm dealing exclusively with the very, very rich. All the goods are fixtures in a widely distributed catalogue advertising Simpsons' goodies for the Christmas season.

That's what's happening in the real world of merchandising.

Roger Worth is Director, Public Affairs, Canadian Federation of Independent Business.

In the sometimes unreal world of government, economics, and civil service mandarins, there's a different viewpoint.

"Canadians can expect a tough winter," says federal Finance Minister John Crosbie. "It's time to bite the bullet."

Crosbie backs Bank of Canada Governor Gerald Bouey when he claims that without record high interest rates Canadians face "an economic and social breakdown." Harsh words indeed.

Bouey contends that high interest rates will keep a lid on the rate of inflation (now slightly less than 10% per year).

Still, one wonders if even record high interest rates will have an important impact on the shopping habits of Canadian families. Short-term lending by Canadian financial institutions is up 20% or more this year. That means consumers are borrowing more and more money to purchase new products, perhaps in an effort to beat the next price increase.

What both Bouey and Crosbie fail to make clear in their doom-and-gloom pronouncements is the importance of consumers buying Canadian made products, ensuring that a higher proportion of the dollars involved remain in Canada.

While Canada's trading partners might be upset with a real effort to convince consumers to "Shop Canadian," positive results from such an emotional appeal could alleviate Canada's balance of payments problem, as well as provide badly needed jobs.

If, as Bouey claims, Canadians are facing "an economic and social breakdown," perhaps it is time Canadians were really pressed to "bite the bullet."

The difference between a winter vacation in Quebec's Laurentians and a couple of weeks in Florida is important to the country. In the same way, so is buying a Canadian made sled, rather than the imported model.

So, this Christmas, before laying down $17,000 for a full length fur coat keep one thing in mind. Buying a Canadian product might eventually help drive down interest rates, providing savings on the money borrowed to make the purchase. It's worth considering.

Canada Council Awards

The Canada Council has awarded grants to two Scarborough residents under its Explorations program in the competition that closed June 1.

The program is intended to encourage investigation of new forms of expression and artistic activity, the study of aspects of the past which are particularly relevant to Canadian culture, and projects which foster public understanding of the social and cultural realities of Canada.

John Alexander Carroll was awarded $6,900 and Frank Newfeld received $7,000.

One hundred recipients were chosen from 354 applicants and were awarded for specific projects in such areas as film, theatre, research and writing, music, photography, crafts and communication.

Program For Children

There will be two programs for children at the Cedarbrae District Library, on Sat. Dec. 15. The Centennial College Junior Players, under the direction of Susan Daniel, will be presenting another performance of Beth McMaster's play Stick With Molasses, at 10:30 a.m. This light-hearted play would appeal mostly to boys and girls ages 4 to 9. The first 35 children to arrive, ages 7 and up, will make a variety of decorations for the Christmas tree at 2 p.m.

Sat. Dec. 15, will also be a busy day for children at the Albert Campbell District Library. The first 25 children, ages 6 and over, will help trim the library's Christmas tree at 10:30 a.m. The ornaments were made at previous craft sessions.

A special Christmas program has been arranged for boys and girls, ages 4 and over at 2 p.m. Lisa Mann and her muppet, Tobit, will perform an entertaining ventriloquist act. A shadow puppet show, entitled The Mermaid and the Whale, will be performed by shadowmakers Susan Cole and Antoinette Falzon.

A creche will be created, using old Christmas cards, by the first 25 children, ages 7 to 12, to arrive at Woodside Square Library on Sat. Dec. 15 at 11 a.m.

Classes A Success

The only place in Scarborough for sole support mothers to attend Opportunity for Advancement classes is the Albert Campbell District Library. Discussion leaders, Marlene Cooper and Dolores Menard, say the classes have been consistently attended by the maximum number of participants since they started in September. They are very pleased with the enthusiasm and progress shown by those attending the weekly two-hour sessions. There is a hiatus for the holidays, then classes resume on Mon. Jan. 7, at 1 p.m.

The fourteen-week program consists of counselling, group interaction, information about education and returning to the work force. Assertiveness training, orientation, and practical life skills are stressed for these sole support mothers who wish to plan a better life for themselves and their children.

Daycare is provided in the library. This, as well as the classes, are entirely free of charge. Toronto Transit Commission tickets are also provided. The organization is sponsored by provincial, municipal and community agencies.

Just Around The Corner

by Gordon Ashberry

To start with may I thank so many people for the co-operation that they have given to me since this column started. We felt it was important that the various activities taking place within the area served by this newspaper should be highlighted. We have given the reasons before and we stand by them.

But to make this column a service we do need to be notified about upcoming events. That means that for items to be included I should have the information at least two weeks in advance. If it is a performance that you would like to have reviewed, maybe an extra week, because a night would have to be arranged.

Now do not get confused, items for COMMUNITY DIARY should be mailed or called in to the News office but for those which you feel would fit into this column, please address them to: 21 Bluefin Crescent, Scarborough, M1H 2K9.

CONGRATULATIONS
Arts Scarborough have certainly done a bang-up job considering that they are just over a year old as AS. The latest figures show that the total membership for '79 is 526 individuals and 24 groups. If you would like to find out more about their activities and purpose, you can call them at 431-9442.

This is becoming a sort of catch-up column. Frank Rowley is a local artist that I have admired for a long time. His coloured pencil drawings are remarkable. The detail and the shading make them look like photographs. I meant to tell you this before. Frank won the mixed media award at the Carling O'Keefe show last September.

And another kudo, this time to Alan Dent Wilson for his part in a three man show at the Lynn Kotler Galleries in New York. Alan's historic World War II paintings were featured. This too was a couple of months ago.

The Scarborough Needlearts Guild also bring honours to the place where we live. Jeanne Kendall and Ann Dudley were prize winners in the King Tut Embroidery Contest sponsored by the Canadian Living Magazine and the Village by the Grange. Happy French Knots to you both.

A SHOW FOR KIDS If you are wondering how to keep the kids amused before Christmas, I can suggest a way to fill a couple of hours. On Dec. 15th at the Cedarbrae District Library, 545 Markham Rd. at 10:30 a.m., the Centennial College Junior Players will present STICK WITH MOLLASSES.

This show has been around for a while but that just proves it to be a good one. I has a circus, a lion, a female lion-tames a genie and evil villains. All the things that kids like. And so do some grown-ups too.

A SHOW BY KIDS Scarborough College Gallery will display children's art from their neighbouring public school. MILITARY TRAIL PUBLIC SCHOOL. It is well known how proud Principal Bill Joyce is of his school and how enthusiastic art teacher Jill Slonetsky is about her talented pupils. Together they have assembled a showing that will provide a pleasant visit. It opens December 10th and continues weekdays until December 21st.

SPECIAL REMINDER: The Salvation Army Festival of Carols at the Civic Centre on Dec. 20th at 8 p.m.

IDEAS DEPT. Wondering what to give as a special Christmas Gift? How about sharing your talent. It may not be acceptable at Carnegie Hall or at the Art Gallery but there are a lot of places and people who would appreciate it. The Volunteer Centre is looking for Volunteers with special musical or entertainment talents or with craft expertise to bring some enjoyment into the lives of our neighbours in nursing homes and hospitals. They also can use your help in some of our schools.

Remember, when you can give nothing else, you can always give yourself. I know that you will appreciate your gift. For information call 264-2308. P.S. They are also looking for clerical help.

Just Laughing At Us Says Goodlad

by Michael Erdle
Scarborough builders who are fined for building code violations "are just laughing at us," because no one bothers to make sure the fines are collected, says Alderman Jack Goodlad.

Fines levied by the Provincial Court for building code violations have been paid to Metro Toronto in the past but then the provincial government recently decided that the fines should be paid to the local municipality. Building Commissioner George Fleming began checking into the matter and discovered that the fines "are simply not being paid... and there's nothing being done about it".

Mr. Fleming said the courts do issue warrants against builders who fail to pay the fines, but he said issuing and serving the warrants "must be one of the lowest priorities they have".

The commissioner asked the Scarborough building committee to appeal to the courts and police for more diligence in collecting the fines. The committee directed the borough solicitor to take the matter up with the courts.

Mr. Fleming said part of the problem is that the fines are never very large, the largest being $1,000. He said most of the fines are under $100 and are paid quickly.

But the commissioner reported that there are still $1,700 in fines outstanding from 1978.

When Alderman Maureen Prinsloo asked for a list of the "deadbeats", Mr. Fleming said his list had not been verified and he did not wish to make the names public until the accuracy of the information had been checked.

Mr. Fleming did say that some of the most prominent builders in Scarborough are listed among those who haven't paid the fines.

Clearing snow from our highways can be a 24-hour, seven-days-a-week job for the men who drive the province's snow plows.

Bill Watt's World

AT THE OPERA: Well, a new decade of entertainment has begun as the Canadian Opera Company presents the first attraction of its 1979/80 season. The opera presented at The O'Keefe is Donizetti's L'Elisir d'Amore... a pleasant oasis of charm and beauty in the desert of a cold December. It's fitting that it should follow Tristan Und Isolde. The elixir of love, after all, is the common bond that flows through both works. More than that however, it's pleasant to take gentle sips of Italian wine after taking in great draughts of German beer. Wagner is a banquet; Donizetti is a repast. And what a joy to see love triumphant in life instead of death! This corner criticized soprano Norma Burrowes when she appeared previously in Daughter of The Regiment, for having too light a voice. It is still too light in our opinion and better suited to the salon than the opera stage but, if there is an opera for which she is ideally suited, then this is the one. Her light voice and slight frame are just right as she portrays a rich rustic eager for the delights of earthy love but not immune to the practicalities that must exist for those who know that they are desired for their fortune as well as for their body. The role demands a quality of calculated coquetry and Miss Burrowes responds admirably even making one overlook the slight inadequacies of her vocal instrument. One wishes however, that someone would work with on the Italian accent she uses. It is not always consistent. Lyric tenor Benjamine

Prior makes his Company debut in the role of Nemorino (an inspired bit of linguistic humour) who longs for Adina as played by Miss Burrowes. He is short of stature and wisely plays up this feature (or has been so directed) to emphasize his own well meant but apparently doomed declarations of true love. His voice is sweet, his inflections are pure.

Allan Monk is suitably vain as the (literal) comic opera soldier who is Nemorino's rival. All the nice girls love a sailor, it's true. But Mr. Monk proves once again that peacetime soldiers love all the girls... nice or otherwise.

The plummiest role of all is, of course, that of Dulcimara, the quack who dispenses the elixir of love played by Spiro Malas. He has great comedic presence that is admirably served by his superb bass-bantone. But, I tell you friends... although it's a pleasure to welcome Mr. Malas to The Company, I would like to have seen John Dodington given a chance at the role. I believe he could have done it more than justice.

Timothy Vernon had the (apparently) smaller orchestra under fine control and any differences in balance between orchestral and choral values were caused either by the chorus itself or an improper electronic manipulation.

Speaking of the chorus, it was pleasant to spot old friend Remo Marinucci from La Cantinetta. Did you think your presence could be overlooked Remo? Not a chance!

L'Elisir d'Amore is a felicitous beginning to another joyous decade of opera. We rejoice to have been there at its beginning... and we mean that sincerely.

places to go

Glenn Smith locally continues to make good at the Imperial Room on furlough from Las Vegas. So why are local people staying away asks Bill Watt.

become almost a cliché among reviewers when reading reviews of their associates which differ from their own to ask "Did he see the same show I did?" Referring to Glenn Smith who is currently appearing at the Imperial Room, one of our "wilder" critics said he would write a new review when Glenn Smith came up with a new show. The comment was uncalled for. Glenn Smith's act might or might not be familiar but it most certainly isn't stale and this corner sees no reason why the man should tamper with a formula that produces Las Vegas huzzahs and enthusiastic audience response right here in his home town.

His singing is pleasant enough to warrant an attentive ear but it's his ability at the piano that really wins an audience. He can do virtually anything with the instrument and try as he might, he cannot hide the fact that he has been classically trained. His rendition of McArthur Park is of concert hall quality and is surpassed only by Buddy Greco's definitive version.

But he can sing and perform any kind of music.

Boogie Woogie to Country and Western. His playing of Orange Blossom Special is a case in point. When he plays it on the violin, the instrument is indeed played like a violin, not a fiddle. His playing of Bumble Boogie was good enough to evoke Barclay Allan. Or, was it Jack Fina who played it with the old Freddy Martin orchestra? No matter, it's Glenn Smith who's playing it now and knocking audiences - no matter how sparse - out of their seats.

There's something else I want to mention. I saw Glenn Smith last Monday night and the Imperial Room was half empty. In heaven's name, what is happening to us in Our town? Granted, it's close to Christmas but surely most of us can scrape together a few shekels to see one of the better shows in town. After all, it isn't every day that a local boy (he's from Scarborough - surprised?) comes home and makes good... even though one of his fellow localites sees fit to put down his offerings simply because they are not brand new. When was the last time Buddy Greco presented a new show?

Keep your act as it is Glenn. Now, if only more of your townspeople would realize what they're missing.

NEWSBREAK: As it stands now, yours truly will be appearing with the National Ballet in The Nutcracker on Boxing Day. As an extra attraction, I'll be paired with my life's companion. I'll just bet that Tony and Sally DeMarco are glad they're now retired!

BOOK BEAT: Our backlog of review books (come on, Wired City - get off your torchus!) is such that in fairness to all, we'll have to list the following with a minimum of words. There might or might not be minor faults in some of them but their inclusion here should be regarded as our recommendation. ME BANDY, YOU CISSIE (Doubleday). Bandy can best be described as a twentieth century Brigadier Gerard and author Donald Jack as a potential P.G. Wodehouse. The combination is funny and almost irresistible. A whole book of Bandy is perhaps too much but since there is no longer any real market for magazine short fiction, one supposes that Jack has no other choice. THE BOX GARDEN (Collins) is a little gem of style and light narrative. And wait until you see East York conjured up before your eyes as you read this almost mood piece. I wonder if True Davidson had a chance to read it before she was taken from us. THE BOOK OF SMITH (Academic Press - formerly Longmans) Here's a book that's truly unusual and most enjoyable even if you're not a Smith. In nine chapters you'll learn - among other things - the origin of the name, how wide spread are Smiths, historical Smiths and Smiths to remember. There's also a glossary of Smith surnames. Handy for checking into motels.

FAST EXIT: Syndicated columnist Jim Coleman mentioned recently that Winnipeg hockey fans are being requested to wear tuxedos to show that they have class. Morris Freidman agrees with me that they should really show they have Classys. Right on, Morris!

Building Down Sharply In Borough

by Michael Erdle

The widespread slowdown in new construction in Scarborough this year is going to cost the borough an estimated $760,000, according to figures presented to Board of Control last week.

Building Commissioner George Fleming reported that construction is down more than $100 million from his department's $350 million estimate for this year and he said the resulting $850,000 reduction in building permit revenues has created the $760,000 deficit, which will have to be made up from other borough revenues.

"Every department came in with a fairly good estimate except the building department. What are we going to do about it," demanded Controller Brian Harrison.

Mr. Harrison said a $760,000 deficit in a department with a $3 million budget is unacceptable and charged that the deficit is due to over-staffing in the building department. Mr. Fleming told Council two years ago that he would have to lay off eight staff members to keep within his budget said Mr. Harrison.

At that time Council decided to increase the budget, rather than lay off staff. Mr. Fleming said that since then he has reduced the staff from 104 to 98 by not hiring replacements.

Mr. Fleming said the department is not over-staffed now. He explained that although revenues are down, the workload is not. In fact, there has been a five percent increase in building permits, but the average value of the permits has decreased.

One big project produces more revenue for the borough than a lot of small projects, but the smaller projects produce more work for the building department, Mr. Fleming said.

He said the problem this year is that developers planning big construction projects have delayed their plans in the face of high interest rates. He cited the example of apartment construction, which went from more than $70 million last year to less than $1 million this year.

But Mr. Fleming predicted that construction would rebound in 1980, with about $250 million expected.

"There's a lot of latent energy to be put forward in building if the interest rates go down," he said.

Mayor Gus Harris said that building prospects look brighter for next year, with plans already announced for a hotel, a hospital and three major residential developments. "I know it's difficult this year but I think we'll more than make up for it in 1980," Mr. Harris said.

In the meantime, Board of Control directed Mr. Fleming to prepare a more detailed report on how the current deficit can be dealt with and how the building department's construction estimates can be made more accurate.

OK Subway Bldg. Permit

by Michael Erdle

The Scarborough building committee, accepting assurances from the TTC that the new Kennedy Rd. subway station is as safe as possible, last week decided that a building permit should be issued for the almost-finished station.

"There's no question that the Kennedy Rd. station is at least as safe as any other station in the system," admitted Building Commissioner George Fleming, who originally refused to issue the building permit because the station doesn't meet Ontario Building Code standards or guidelines set down by the American Rapid Transit Association.

Mr. Fleming said it was up to the committee to make a "political decision" on whether to issue the permit, but recommended that a fire safety expert be hired to review the station's fire safety features.

The committee decided not to hire an outside expert, but ordered meetings between the TTC and the Scarborough Fire Department to develop evacuation and fire protection plans for the station.

TTC general manager Mike Warren told the committee that the TTC has the best safety record in North America, with only three fires in the past 25 years and no deaths.

"You're safer in a subway structure than in an office building," Mr. Warren claimed. He said the TTC has spent large amounts of money to make the stations and subway cars as safe as possible.

"The stations are made basically out of concrete and ceramic tile," he said, and the TTC has made the cars as fire-resistant as possible "without making everything out of metal".

Mr. Warren questioned the Scarborough officials' decision not to issue a building permit when Etobicoke officials approved the new Kipling Ave. station and stations in Toronto and North York have been approved without any trouble.

Controller Joyce Trimmer said she is "embarrassed" that the fire safety dispute arose over a Scarborough station, "jeopardizing a public transit system that we desperately need."

Committee chairman Alderman Alan Robinson, who proposed the motion that the building permit be issued, said he doesn't share Mrs. Trimmer's embarrassment over the dispute.

"One of our mandates is to scrutinize public safety," he said, adding that he is convinced that the station is as safe as possible.

Council must approve the building permit before it can be issued.

Knit & Chat

by May E. MacLean

I have just returned from a trip to England and was fortunate to spend a whole week in London which hasn't happened for many years. In some ways it was a nostalgia trip as I made a point of visiting both of the schools I attended when I was young learning the art of embroidery.

If there are any reader's who by any chance attended Barratt's Street Technical College, they will be interested to know that it was incorporated into the London College of Fashion in 1966 and is now located on John Princes Street, right by Oxford Circus.

Embroidery is still a two year course on the curriculum, both machine and hand, and I was surprised by the number of young girls taking this course as well as the adult program.

When I thought back to when I was a young student, we learnt all the stitches and methods by regimentation, endless rows of various stitches in sampler fashion. It wasn't until we had been there sometime and our artwork and designing perfected, that we were allowed our own interpretation of colour and application of stitches. Even then the designs had to follow along traditional lines.

I remember spending many happy hours at the Victoria & Albert Museum in South Kensington with its wealth of Elizabethan needlework and crewel embroidery. This part I rather enjoyed, as I was fascinated with this period in history and everything relating to it.

Today the school allows much more freedom of design from the beginning and encourages the student to experiment with freedom of stitches and techniques which I found rather interesting. One could understand the absorption that some of the students had for their work.

For instance, one girl had taken the U.N. symbol for the Year of the Child, using Italian cutwork for part of the design with the clever use of fine bobbin lace in the open spaces and tiny tiny seed pearls as highlights.

There were so many pieces of embroidery which I would like to describe and I will from time to time. I will also be showing slides of these designs on my T.V. program in the near future. Next week I'll be telling you of my visit to the Royal School of Needlework.

If you would like to learn the other stitches used in needlepoint here is your chance? This cunningly designed cushion is ... yes you're right ... all numerals! Learn your stitches while making a cushion cover!

Among many stitches illustrated are Gobelin, Hungarian, Rodes, Scottish and Jacquard as well as Byzantine and many more. Complete directions, illustrations and charts are given on the Leaflet.

To order Leaflet No. 7955, send 75 cents PLUS a stamped self addressed return envelope, long one if possible. ## Deal With Businesses

by Michael Erdle
Alderman Joe DeKort's suggestion that Council members should have a policy to guide their dealings with business who solicit their support in dealing with the borough met with little enthusiasm from other Council members recently.

Mr. DeKort told the Recreation and Parks Committee he continuously receives letters from businesses and individuals, asking for his support in securing borough contracts.

He said he simply passes the letters on to the appropriate department.

Conflict of interest is a current issue," said Mr. DeKort. "I wouldn't want anyone to think that by referring them to staff I'm endorsing them."

The committee defeated Mr. DeKort's motion that an official policy be drawn up so people will know that sending letters directly to Council members won't help them land municipal contracts.

The question was raised when architect John Sullivan, in asking to be included in the list of possible architects for the North Scarborough Community Center, sent a letter to committee chairman Doug Colling stating that Mr. DeKort and Alderman Ed Fulton are familiar with his work.

Mr. DeKort said he doesn't know Mr. Sullivan, is not familiar with his work and wouldn't recommend him to the committee.

Report From Queen's Park

By George Ashe, M.P.P.

As most of you will be aware from recent press reports, an Environmental Assessment Board Public Hearing is scheduled to begin on December 17th in the Town of Ajax Council Chamber. The purpose of this Public Hearing will be to obtain information and hear public views about a proposed Liquid Industrial Waste Treatment plant in Ajax. The site in question is the Duffin Creek Water Pollution Control plant, about a half mile south of Bayly Street on Valley Road in Ajax, which will stop treating sewage waste in the near future.

There appears to be some confusion about the Environmental Assessment Board Public Hearing. I would like to stress that this Board will sit for much longer than just one day. On December 17th the only thing the Board plans to do is meet everyone who wants to be involved in the Public Hearing, officially receive a copy of the proposal and set up a schedule for the main portion of the Public Hearing. Anyone who would like to present their case before the Board, or ask questions of other witnesses during the Public Hearing, should go to the Ajax Council Chamber on December 17th.

The Public Hearing Chairman will first introduce himself and the other Board members. He will then ask who is representing the applicant. The lawyer for the Region of Durham will stand and be recognized. Next the Chairman will ask if any other party is to be represented by a lawyer before the Public Hearing. Any other lawyers will stand and be recognized. At this point, the Chairman will ask if there is anyone else who would like to participate in the Public Hearings. This is the time any member of the public can be recognized as a party to the proceedings.

I am very aware that many people are sometimes hesitant to speak up on these occasions. If any of my constituents would like to participate in the Public Hearing, simply attend on December 17th. When the Chairman asks if there is anyone else who wishes to participate or ask questions of the experts, stand up, give your name and address, state you are a resident of the area and would like an opportunity to ask questions (or present a submission) throughout the Hearings.

Once the main portion of the Public Hearing begins, the general public can keep close tabs on what is happening by phoning Mr. Tom Murphy of the Environmental Assessment Board at 965-2531. After each witness has given his/her evidence, the lawyers may ask him/her questions. Following this, anyone who has been recognized by the Board of December 17th, may ask the witness questions as well.

If you want to present a submission, then you may become a witness, take the stand, present your case and may be asked questions by the lawyers or the public.

The point of my column this week is to encourage any and all of my constituents who have concerns and/or questions about the proposed Liquid Industrial Waste Treatment plant, to attend on December 17th, and make sure you are recognized as a participant to the Public Hearings. Do not allow long technical words and red tape to intimidate you. The Environmental Assessment Board has been set up by the Provincial Government to make sure that everyone has a fair chance to be involved and ask questions.

If you would like further information on the procedures for the Public Hearing, just call my Constituency Office in Ajax, 683-6707, and leave a message. Your call will be returned as quickly as possible either personally, or by my Queen's Park Assistant, Sheila Wilson.

Christmas Fruitcake

Microwave ovens are one of the most popular Christmas gifts, presented typically by beaming husbands to somewhat skeptical wives.

All-Natural Christmas Fruitcake

2 1/2 cups whole wheat flour
1 cup walnuts, chopped
2 cups mixed dried fruits, chopped
3 cups raisins
1 tsp. baking soda
2 eggs
1 can or 1 1/3 cups sweetened condensed milk
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/2 tsp. salt and cinnamon
1/4 tsp. nutmeg and allspice
1 tsp. vanilla extract
icing sugar (optional)

Combine 1/2 cup of the whole wheat flour with walnuts, mixed dried fruits and raisins. Toss to coat well.

In a separate bowl, combine remaining 2 cups whole wheat flour and baking soda. Stir well.

In large bowl, beat eggs and blend in sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice, seasonings and vanilla extract. Stir in flour, then fruit and nut mixture, to form batter.

Lightly grease a 2 1/2 quart ring mold suitable for use in a microwave oven. Pour in batter and smooth

Today's models with minicomputers and a jargon all their own do take some study. They are, however, quick, clean and cool in operation, as promised, and thus ideal for the Christmas baking blitz.

surface with a spatula. Cover with waxed paper. Elevate ring mold on an ovenproof dish in the microwave oven. Microwave for four minutes on one-half power. Rotate a quarter turn. Repeat three more times for a total baking time of sixteen minutes. A toothpick inserted in the centre

Pickering Council

A planning study of the Dunbarton, Highbush, Woodlands area should be completed by Jan. 31st of next year at an additional cost of $21,039.

The increase in the study will be paid by the landowners who signed the original cost sharing agreement with the town of Pickering.

Project Planning Associates Limited is working on the study.

Christmas fruitcake demonstrates the best qualities of the microwave since it reduces a two-hour cooking period to sixteen minutes.

The recipe below is as unconventional as the source of heat. Whole wheat flour replaces the usual all-purpose in order to produce a brown or baked look which cannot be provided by microwave cooking. Natural dried fruits replace the usual candied fruits as a nutritious alternative.

The recipe is equally successful when baked in a conventional oven for two hours at 300 degrees.

should come out clean. Let cake stand, covered, one-half hour. Invert onto cake rack to cool. If desired, wrap in brandy-soaked cheesecloth. Cover tightly and refrigerate.

Before serving, sprinkle with sifted icing sugar.

Makes 2 1/2 pounds fruitcake.

A thermos of hot, tasty soup, a thick slice of buttered crusty French bread, a crisp apple and a Big Oatmeal Chocolate Chip Cookie are perfect companions for the ardent cross-country skier.

Hearty Tomato Rice Soup

2 weiners, cut into 1/4 inch pieces
1 can (10 ounce) condensed tomato soup
2/3 cup Minute Rice
1 soup can milk or water

Saute weiners in saucepan until lightly browned. Add soup, rice, and milk. Place over medium heat and bring to a boil. Cover, reduce heat, and simmer 5 minutes. Makes 3 cups or 4 servings.

Big Oatmeal Chocolate-Chip Cookies

1 cup butter or margarine
1-1/2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-1/2 cups all-purpose flour
2-1/3 cups rolled oats
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 package (12 ounce) Baker's Semi-Sweet Chocolate Chips
1-1/2 cups chopped nuts

Cream together butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Add flour, oats, baking soda and salt; mix until well blended. Stir in chips and nuts. Drop dough in 1/2 cup mounds onto greased cookie sheets, about 5 inches apart and 2-1/2 inches from edge of pan. Lightly grease bottom of pie plate, dip into sugar and use to flatten each cookie into a 5-1/2-inch circle. Bake at 350 degrees F for about 15 minutes or until edges brown lightly. Cool on pans about 5 minutes; transfer to racks to cool thoroughly. Makes about 10 large cookies.

From the Kitchens of McCain Cookies For The Holidays

Nothing adds so much to the traditional holiday season's festivities as homemade bakery treats. Cookies are the mainstay of the homemaker's array of family treats, and the sweet aroma of fresh cookies has come to be as important as the Christmas tree in many Canadian homes.

The following recipes are particular favorites.

GINGER SPARKLES

3/4 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup molasses
1 egg
2 cups all purpose flour (sifted)
2 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. ginger
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
granulated sugar

Cream together butter, brown sugar, molasses and egg until light and fluffy. Measure sifted flour, soda, salt and spices into a bowl and stir thoroughly to blend. Stir dry ingredients into creamed mixture. Shape into small balls 1 inch in diameter. Roll in granulated sugar and place 2 inches apart on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 7-9 minutes. Makes 3 dozen.

DREAM COOKIES

1 cup butter
3/4 cup white sugar
2 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. baking powder
2 cups flour
30 blanched almonds

Brown butter slightly and pour into bowl. Place over cold water and cool. Add sugar and stir until fluffy. Add vanilla, then flour and baking powder sifted together. Work dough until smooth. Roll into small balls. Place on buttered baking sheet with half almond on top of each. Bake in slow oven at 250 degrees F. until golden brown or about 30 minutes. Makes 5 dozen.

VANILLA ROCKS

1 cup butter
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1 egg yolk
2 1/2 cups flour
2 tsp. vanilla

Work butter and sugar until creamy and fluffy. Add egg yolk, vanilla and flour; mix thoroughly. Drop from spoon onto well buttered baking sheet. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 7-9 minutes. Makes 3 dozen.

DATE DELIGHTS

1/2 lb. pitted dates (chopped fine)
1/2 cup water
3/4 cup white sugar
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 egg (well beaten)
2 cups flour
1/2 tsp. soda
1/4 tsp. salt

Cook together the dates, water and 1/4 cup white sugar. Cool slightly. Cream together butter, brown sugar and 1/2 cup white sugar until smooth. Add beaten egg. Sift together flour, soda and salt. Add to mixture and mix until well blended. Roll dough on lightly floured board until 1/4 inch thick. Spread dough with date mixture, roll like a jelly roll, and wrap in wax paper. Chill thoroughly. Slice and bake on greased cookie sheets for 10 minutes at 400 degrees F. Makes 3 dozen.

Two Libraries With New Lustre

The allocation of $50,000 for the repair and refurbishing of two public libraries is presently being spent by the Scarborough Public Library.

The McGregor Park Library will open on Thurs. Dec. 13 after three days of extensive alterations. Externally the building will be more noticeable with the addition of an illuminated sign and Scotch pine trees.

Inside the new carpeting, shelving and modernization of furnishings will add to a more attractive atmosphere and afford a more efficient use of space and better functioning of library services.

The refurbishment of Bendale Library is already being commented on favourably by patrons in that area.

The new uncluttered design and simple-line furnishings give the appearance of more space. The children's department now has low shelving and colourful cushions. It beckons, too, with brand new toys, games and puzzles.

Kid's Flicks

Christmas films will be shown to children, ages 6 and up, at Bendale Library on Sat. Dec. 15 at 10:30 a.m. The titles are: Miguel's Navidad; Brave Little Tailor; and Bremmen Town Musicians

Mr. Andrews came to Canada from England in 1913 and after World War 1 he sent for his childhood sweetheart, Isabella, who arrived in 1919. They were married on Nov. 29, 1919, in St. Peter's Anglican Church, Toronto.

The first 30 years of their married life were spent in Toronto and then for the last 30 years they have lived in West Hill. Mr. Andrews worked for Eaton's and later for Massey Ferguson.

Andrews has been retired for 14 years, but about five years ago he got a part time superintendent's job downtown to give him "something to do".

DECEMBER 7, 1979
A few CHANGES this week, especially in the WEST DIVISION. Because of an ineligible player MACDONALD has had to forfeit its first two games. AGINCOURT and L'AMOREAUX pick up two points each, and Macdonald loses its four points. In spite of this setback, MACDONALD is a very strong team, as they proved by beating previously undefeated LEACOCK and should do well in the rest of the season. Not only did LEACOCK lose its first game of the season, but also first place in its division. L'AMOREAUX, with 11 points, is the new LEADER of the WEST DIVISION. On Dec. 6, CAMPBELL played a strong second period as they came back from a 5-1 deficit to tie L'AMOREAUX 5-5. WOBURN has won 3 games in a row and now LEADS the EAST DIVISION with 8 points. The East Division has started slowly because several schools have been exams. There WILL be more to report next week in this division. In SCORING, DAVE TAYLOR of CAMPBELL leads the list with 10 points. WALLY BODUCH of WOBURN had a very good week, scoring 5 goals in 2 games. He is in second place with a league high of

EIGHT goals.

The list of SCORING LEADERS has been updated to include the changes necessitated by the forfeited games.

ROSEBANK ROAD SCHOOL NEWS

The Intermediate boys volleyball team took part in two tournaments recently. Twenty teams entered the Bayview Heights Invitational Rosebank was first in its Division and thereby qualified for the Championship Round. Rosebank was the smallest school competing and finished 7th out of 20.

On Thurs. Dec. 6th in the Pickering Dunbarton Tournament, Rosebank finished 2nd out of seven teams entered. Woodlands Centennial won by beating Rosebank 2 out of 3 in the final. Congratulations to Coach Bruce McDonald and Team Members: Jim Woodstock, Eric Thompson, Mark Thomas, David Taylor, John Snow, Barry Moore, Bruce Kierstead and Mike Edwards.

The Pre-Christmas Bazaar held recently was a great success and raised over $700!!

Art at Rosebank: We continue to be recognized by our Artistic deeds! Recently several art pieces related to the International Year of the Child were submitted for display at the Ajax-Pickering General Hospital. At the conclusion of the Art Show, the Hospital Staff requested three of our Art Pieces be framed for permanent display. Jessica Hax, Lea-Anne Williamson and Mary Bell donated their Art as a result. We congratulate these students for their efforts and thank Mrs. Brown for her assistance.

Help the Grade Eights to Travel: Already plans are being made for our Grade 8 Class to participate in an extensive Spring tour to Ottawa and Quebec City as a culmination to Intermediate Studies in History and Geography. This class is diligently endeavouring to raise money to offset expenses, and therefore the students are selling attractive candles that would make excellent Christmas gifts. We would be most appreciative if you could support these students in their efforts to make their way to a very historic part of Canada. Please buy a candle and help light their way.

Don't forget the Annual Primary Christmas Concert is being held on Dec. 13th at 7:30 p.m. in the School Auditorium.

FAIRPORT BEACH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

The theme for this week at Fairport Beach Public School is appreciating the spirit of Christmas through poetry. Every morning students are sharing poems with each other using the P.A. system. Christmas carols will be piped into the school each day 5 minutes before afternoon dismissal.

Mark Hartmaier and Stephen Fraser will make their debuts on Cable 10 TV on Fri. Dec. 14th. They will share the highlights of the school with the public.

The "Little Grey Cup" game was played. Cougars played against Stingrays. Congratulations to the Stingrays and their captain Tony Robles, they won the game 20-0.

The students and teachers are preparing for the Christmas concerts. On Dec. 18th at 6:30 p.m. the following performances will be presented - Primary choir, Portable, Room 2, Room 5, Room 8, Room 11, Room 13, Room 14.

On Dec. 20th at 6:30 p.m. the following performances will be presented - Primary choir, Room 10, Room 16, Room 4, Room 7, Room 6, Room 12 and French Club.

The Kindergarten pupils will be presenting a Christmas Concert to their parents during the day on Dec. 19th.

The Home and School has co-ordinated piano instruction in the school for the past several years. Recently some of the students participated in the Music Scarborough '79 competitors held at the Scarborough Civic Centre. This was an opportunity to share what they have learned and to receive constructive criticism in the form of a written adjudication. The students involved were Nancy Fromm, Room 16, Sandra Sotny, Room 14 Nancy Morgenroth and Lisa Sutherland Room 10. Congratulations to Lisa for achieving 2nd place in her session.

PICKERING EAST SHORE COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION

An executive meeting was held Nov. 19th at the East Shore Community Centre.

Special thanks was extended to Mark McKinney, Trevor Bishop, Conrad Bonk and Dan McKinney for contributing their time and energy in preparing our float "The Wizard of Oz", which captured first prize in the local community category at The Bay Ridges Santa Claus Parade.

An inspection was made by the Executive of the Senior Citizens room to see the work completed recently by the Association. It was realized that with a few finishing touches such as plants and mirrors, the overall effect will certainly make it a more pleasant surrounding for the Club Members to meet. A Christmas party is being held for the Senior Citizens on Dec. 8 at the East Shore Community Centre and hopefully will be well attended.

It was learned that the paving has been completed around the canteen at the Bay Ridges Kinsman Park, this was paid for by the East Shore Community Association. It will certainly enhance that property when used next summer.

Dennis Hunter is sitting on the Steering Committee for Canada Day 1980. It is to be extended into a week of Festivities covering most aspects of Community activity and Dennis will keep us informed as plans progress.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all volunteers who have assisted us during the past year. You have given generously of your time, wit and humour, thereby helping us to realize our goals of community service, in the areas of canvassing as well as funding raising and entertainment for others. Once again a very big THANK YOU to all concerned.

Our Executive Meetings are open for public observance and one may easily see and hear what is accomplished by our volunteers and ourselves with the result that you may also wish to give something of yourself to your community. Our Next Executive Meeting is Tues. Dec. 11th, at 7:30 p.m. at the East Shore Community Centre.

Holiday Entertaining Ideas

Holiday season entertaining is on many people's minds. To help you meet the challenge and get organized for your guests, food specialists at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food offer a few helpful suggestions.

Keep it simple. Plan to serve foods that can be prepared ahead and stored at room temperature or in the freezer. For example, make up regular size and/or individual quiches with different fillings such as cheese and onion, mushroom and ham.

They can be stored in the refrigerator for up to three days or frozen for about one month and used for main courses, appetizers or party snacks.

Crepes are another great idea. Crepes can be made in large batches and frozen. Some of the crepe fillings can also be frozen, or prepared the day before and refrigerated.

Savories such as meatballs and sausage rolls can be made and frozen until needed. You can also prepare batches of mini pastry shells and store tightly covered or freeze. Just before serving, prepare some fillings, such as chopped pork, chicken, roast beef or egg.

If you have a favorite casserole dish, such as beef bourguignon, veal or pork goulash or lasagna, that you like to serve to guests, prepare them now and store in the freezer. It's easy to reheat these prepared dishes when guests arrive.

Remember to keep on hand a good supply of staples such as canned vegetables, fruit and juices. They'll come in handy for those unexpected occasions.

Plan ahead, keep it simple, and you'll be ready for the holiday season.

Speed Up

The town clerk has been asked by the Pickering Executive Committee to carry out a new by-law procedure which would accept any present by-laws if there isn't a complaint lodged with the town.

Presently it takes up to eight weeks after a by-law is passed by Council until it is given the go ahead by the Ontario Municipal Board and is implemented.

Under Ontario Regulation 597/79 each municipality can pass their own by-laws without the O.M.B. providing no one objects. If the new procedure is implemented it could shorten the process by five weeks.
