This is the 56th IODE chapter in Toronto and is comprised of young women from Pickering and surrounding areas.

The Regent, Anna Mariani of Cowan Circle, Pickering and the officers of the Rouge Valley Chapter were installed by the Toronto Municipal IODE President, Jean Richards in a ceremony on Tues. Feb. 7 in Committee Rooms 3 and 4 of the Pickering Recreation Complex.

IODE is a women's volunteer organization with 15,000 members active in areas of services, education and citizenship throughout every province and territory.

As a pre-requisite for eligibility for either of these programs, every municipality must have policies relating to community improvement in its official plan.

In addition to ONIP and CAIP, the Branch administers a number of ongoing projects previously funded under other programs.

Contest Winners

During November, Frenchman's Bay Public School junior students participated in a competition sponsored by the Royal Canadian Legion. The contest was divided into literary and poster segments, and related to a child's perception of why we have a Remembrance Day.

The quality of the students' work was good and several entries were sent at the local level. The students fared very well as Suzie Matheson, a grade six student came first with a poem she had written, and two other grade six students, Alison Waldron and Dylan Colman, placed first and second with their posters. All entries were then entered in the zone competition, where Alison's poster placed second.

Congratulations to these students for their commendable effort and success. Towards the end of November, a competition for young people to create a Christmas Card was sponsored by the Toronto Sun. Again, several of our grade five and six students tapped their creative energies and completed many interesting and seasonal designs. And, once again, a Frenchman's Bay student was a winner. Phillip Bonnell, grade six, placed second in the 10 and 11 year old category for his card depicting Santa's sleigh and reindeer.

Market Stronger

Because of bitterly cold weather, the early pace of the January real estate market in the Metro region didn't match activity in the mild days of a year ago, but by the second half, members of the Toronto Real Estate Board were reporting sales at a faster rate. President George King said last week. "Brokers and salesmen are busy. There is confidence in real estate offices and the momentum is continuing," he added.

Residential sales through the Multiple Listing Service reported by members in January totalled 1,591 and they amounted to $155,632,610. In January last year, 1902 MLS house sales were worth $184,156,647, but the second half of the month was better this year.

On Videotex

Teleglobe Canada has introduced a new videotex-based financial service which provides subscribers with daily price information for over 5000 stocks listed on six major stock exchanges in Canada and the United States.

The stockcharting service allows subscribers to analyse, compare and evaluate the performance of stocks by offering a comprehensive range of technical analysis indicators which can be displayed on the user's terminal at will. An evaluation of investment prospects for major Canadian stocks is also provided and is updated periodically. The service is backed by the full financial and brokerage services of McLeod Young Weir, a principal investment dealer in Canada, the United States and Europe.

Tax Workbook

The 1984 Canadian publication of the H & R Block Income Tax Workbook will benefit the millions of Canadians who brace themselves for their annual struggle with Revenue Canada. H & R Block comes forward with sound and authoritative advice based on up-to-date knowledge of the latest tax laws and years of experience.

The H & R Block Income Tax Workbook explains all deductions, exemptions, and credits - including the RHOSP temporary measures; shows you how to calculate your taxes and complete your tax forms correctly - including the new child care expenses form; and shows you how to save money this year and plan for tax savings next year - including the new ISIP provisions. The workbook can be purchased for $8.95 at bookstores.

Dear Miss Brenda

Dear Miss Brenda,
I wouldn't say I'm the fussiest person in the world but when people come into my home and don't bother to take off their shoes, I consider that to be very inconsiderate. Tracking all sorts of city dirt into the house now that winter is here it becomes even more frustrating. The job of keeping a clean home is work enough without having fools making it harder.
There must be some rules in the book that states a person should remove shoes when entering a home.

Dear Reader,

Rules are merely guidelines that certain individuals seek to enforce. Many rules get changed or are broken to conform with situations or the people following them. Removal of shoes is a preference that you as a home owner can enforce. Asking to take shoes off could be as embarrassing to the guest as it should be to the host. Since shoes are not like an overcoat but part of your attire, the host should not even think of asking his or her guest to remove their shoes.

Please send your questions about etiquette to Miss Brenda

To My Valentine

The wedding rings have tarnished,
Our hair is turning grey,
The children have grown up now
And all have moved away.

Our dreams have now all faded,
Into re-ality
The years go by so quickly
The years of you and me.

The lines of age are visible
Our youth traits are few,
But in my heart my darling
Our love is young and true.

We've done a lot together as a team, husband and wife
I thank you for our marriage.
I thank you for my life.

I'd wear the dress again,
I'd willingly say I do,
For after all these years
MY VALENTINE IS YOU.

Reject Donut Shop

Scarborough's Planning Committee has rejected an allocation for a donut shop in a small plaza on the south-west corner of Warden and Lawrence.

The application to turn an empty store into a donut shop came under fire from adjacent residents, the Wexford Plaza on the north side of Lawrence and even from some of the tenants in the same plaza.

Those opposing the donut shop cited the lack of adequate parking, the negative impact of noise and litter on abutting residents and the fact that there are other donut shops in the general vicinity.

What persuaded the Planning Committee to unanimously reject the application was the fact that to allow a donut shop, the city would have to re-zone the entire plaza to permit restaurant uses.

Although the owner of the plaza who would operate the donut shop promised that he would not turn the premises into a restaurant, there would be nothing to stop the larger premises in the plaza from converting to restaurant uses once the re-zoning was in place.

Fresh Vegetables For Seniors

Some Scarborough seniors will be able to enjoy fresh home-grown vegetables this summer courtesy of the city.

On Monday, Scarborough Council approved turning some vacant land owned by Metropolitan Toronto Region Conservation Authority (MTRCA) south of Glen Everest Rd. and east of Wynnview Ct. into 60 garden lots for seniors residing in the McLain Park Apartments on Glen Everest Rd.

While MTRCA is donating the land, Metro Toronto Housing Authority which owns and operates the building is providing topsoil, tools and equipment including seasonal rototilling of the gardens.

For its own part, the city will provide water and numbered stakes to separate the various lots.

The seniors intend to plant flowers to separate the gardens from nearby residences and lessen any potential impact on their neighbours.

Scarborough Planning Policy Called "For Dreamers Only"

by Gay Abbate
Scarborough's Planning Committee has given initial approval to a new energy conservation policy for the city. This policy promotes higher densities and the combining of residential and commercial uses along arterial roads, transit stations and in older areas with redevelopment or infilling potential.

The policy also promotes a mixture of housing types to improve energy efficiency. This conservation of energy will be achieved by placing buildings to improve pedestrian activity and make best use of the warmth from the sun. Landscaping and buffering are also to be used to reduce the effect of winter winds and summer sun on buildings.

While the Planning Committee approved the new policy, it deleted one small section which proved to be highly controversial. The clause deleted promoted smaller lot sizes.

With most new lot sizes now ranging from 20 to 30 ft., Alderman Ed Fulton questioned where the planners were making room for the guy who wants a larger lot. Fulton calls the small lot sizes "dinky".

"We used to put garages on sites larger than that," Fulton told the committee.

Fulton's concerns were echoed by Alderman Maureen Prinsloo who expressed fear that larger lots - 40 ft. plus, might disappear at a time when the city needs to provide executive-type housing in order to encourage large companies to locate in Scarborough.

The new policy also came under fire from Alderman John Mackie who called it "a complete waste of staff time" and Alderman Bill Belfontaine who commented that the policy was put together by "dreamers and street peddlers".

Concern over the movement towards smaller lots was also expressed by the Works Department.

Smaller lots where most of the front yard is given to driveways make it difficult to put in utilities and trees to provide proper drainage.

In their own defence, city planners say they are only trying to provide affordable housing. Lots over 30 ft. take the price of most homes out of the "affordable" range, planners maintain. They also argued that large executive type housing is possible on smaller lots.

Help Special Olympics By Purchasing Products

Canadian Special Olympics - the sports and recreation programs for people who are mentally handicapped - will benefit from a promotion involving the sale of laundry detergent products in grocery and drug stores throughout Ontario during the first three months of 1984.

Special Olympics volunteers are asking people to save proofs of purchase from these Procter and Gamble products. These proofs of purchase can be mailed to the Ontario Special Olympics Chapter office at 1220 Sheppard Ave. E. or people can call Paul McKay at 928-8100 for the location of the nearest "drop off" box.

Procter and Gamble Inc. will be making a $50,000 donation to Canadian Special Olympics. The money will be re-directed back to the provinces based on the number of proofs of purchase collected by each Chapter.

The products involved are: Tide, Oxydol, Bold 3, Cheer 2 and Ivory Snow detergents, Ivory, Zest, Camay, Coast and Safeguard soaps, as well as Bounce and Downy softeners.

Consumers are asked to save the portion of the box or label showing the "bars" or Universal Product code symbol. These can be mailed to the Ontario Special Olympics address: Ontario Special Olympics, 1220 Sheppard Ave. E. Willowdale, Ontario, M2K 2X1. For more information: Canadian Special Olympics, Paul McKay (416) 449-0057.

The men, women and young people who are the volunteer members of the St. John Ambulance Brigade are thoroughly trained in First Aid, and must requalify every year.

IN THE CLUBS:

We love Toronto as only one who was born and raised here can. That doesn't however blind us to its faults. One of the things that annoys us about Torontonians is their approach to entertainment.

They will support always such "really big shows" as Sugar Babies and even, A Chorus Line. And, they will attend even so called little shows but... usually only on weekends.

There seems to be a marked reluctance to go out during the week to see just a good, not necessarily earthshaking show. We seem reluctant to support cabaret.

If we seem to be at pains to make a point it's because we've encountered a show that we think everyone should see - we know they will enjoy it - but we have this fear that it just might not make it however much it deserves to succeed.

It's called "That's Variety" and it's at the Basin Street Cabaret. It's the sort of show we used to see often at The Barclay or The Prince George... a variety show.

Master Mistress of Ceremonies is Marla Lukofsky doing a Vesta Tilley (or is it Vesta Victoria?) looking like Dustin Hoffman. She's a funny woman, rather like a vitaminized Luba Goy, and she keeps the show moving along very nicely.

The lineup includes jugglers Fred and Steve as Circus Shmirkus who are good comedians as well as more than competent jugglers. John Pattison does well as a ventriloquist and illusionist Brad Christian is a young man of whom we'd like to see more. His illusion of transport is most impressive.

There's also Loreena McKennitt who plays guitar, piano and Irish harp. Her singing falls somewhere between that of Maddy Pryor and Kate Bush. That's not an unusual coupling (we're speaking metaphorically sillee!) and she is a treat to hear.

Probably the best and certainly best received performer is Tony Mason the stand up comedian who ends the show. He's funny as expected but, more than that, he's inventive.

His application of Rock lyrics to Chariots of Fire is hilarious. Our companion stated quite positively that it's one of the funniest bits she's ever seen.

So there you have it friends, a show put together for nothing more than the fun of the audience. It's not profound, it's not grand, it's just fun and we recommend that you see it... any night of the week.

Now, having said that we must mention something about the Basin Street Cabaret. We have mentioned before that it has some sight line problems caused by support pillars. The director does not seem to have considered this and has made no attempt to place the performers either further down or upstage.

The result is that there are some seats where it's extremely difficult to see what's going on. We know because we were in one of them. That's not a criticism, it's just a statement of fact. Try not to sit centre aisle left of stage.

ON YOUR TOES:
By now you'll have read of the National Ballet's plans for the '84 '85 season. We won't repeat them here. Apart from anything else we'll be advising you closer to the actual dates.

We do, however, wish to draw your attention to another role debut by Kim Lightheart. She will dance The Sylph in La Sylphide. We await her debut in the role with eager anticipation.

ON RECORD:
Attic Records has announced its Bandleader Series representing some of the finest military bands. We hope to be reviewing some of them shortly but right up front without as yet having heard it, we recommend the L.P. featuring the Combine Corps of Grenadier Guards and Regimental band. Music to stir the blood!

AROUND TOWN:
We suppose that Millie Hull should really feature

places to go

this item. One of the landmarks in Scarborough is the Stone Cottage Inn on Kingston Road at Eglinton.

This Sunday they are featuring a Christian Sunday Brunch. Of course, many restaurants now feature Sunday Brunch and we rather imagine that many are having special features for Valentine's. The Stone Cottage, though, seems to have come up with something unique... Christian background music.

We're not sure just what that means but assume it refers to hymns and other religious songs. We think it's a charming idea.

With Lola Falana holding forth in the Imperial Room, many have forgotten that the Royal York has another fine singer there as well but only until Saturday. We're referring to Betty Carter who appears in Lyte's.

She is considered to be the greatest living jazz singer by many. It's not for us to say. We know only that she's an excellent singer and an exciting entertainer.

Out at The International Centre the annual Auto Show begins this Friday. A good chance to get out and kick a few tires. We'd like to kick more than the tires of our foul Fairmont!

The Autumn Angel Repertory previews Chekhov's The Seagull starting Feb. 14th in the Terminal Building at 207 Queen's Quay. W. Director Richard Rose is apparently melding environment to topic again. He is recalled as the director who staged Tamara throughout Strachan House and, more recently, the "you-solve-it" murder mystery weekend at the Prince of Wales Hotel in Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Now, for The Seagull he is discarding the period costuming and staging the play so that the performers move in and around the audience. There will be no preconceived stage or seating.

One supposes that this is all very adventurous but we have this one niggling question... Why?

ON STAGE:
Regular readers will be aware, because we've mentioned it before, that we were among the last people to see Edith Piaf in Toronto. It was at the Royal Alex more years ago than we prefer to recall and she was heading a program of Continental Varieties with her then husband Jacques Peals.

It was one of the two finest evenings we have experienced in a lifetime of theatre going. Would that one could say the same about PIAF which has just opened at the Royal Alex!

It's a book show - a drama with music - and it purports to tell the life of the beloved Little Sparrow.

Well, authoress Pam Gems has, presumably in the interests of dramatic licence, mixed the chronology, shown Josephine Baker as a St. Louis gum chewer, made Yves Montand look like an idiot, virtually dismissed Jacques Peals, turned Piaf's last husband into a virtual saint and Piaf herself into something just a cut above a slut.

Merde and merder encore! Edith Piaf might have been dissolute, might have been coarse but she was never sluttish. The play is a failure and, in our view, barely escapes being slanderous.

Well, what about the current production? In the title role Adrienne Posta soars like an eagle over her rotten material. She acts well - like a cockney sparrow - and she sings well. It's not her fault that no one - no one! - can even or ever approximate the power of Piaf.

The music is pleasurable - heaven knows, it's all that saves the show apart from Miss Posta - and reasonably well played in musette fashion.

The sets are clever and one is willing to forgive the elephant stampede antics of the opening night stage crew.

We cannot though, and will not, forgive Miss Gems for writing such a play. Even if it were accurate why did it have to be written?

Damme! Allow us to remember Edith Piaf as the sparrow who transcended the gutters of Paris, not as one who wallowed in them.

Soccer Champs

Two overtime goals gave the Today's Business Tomahawks the cup championship in the under 14 division of the Scarborough United Indoor Girls' Soccer League.

Vivienne Nash and Siobhan Dooley powered the ball into the net late in the first period of overtime to break a scoreless tie.

The Tomahawks then held off attack after attack from the Explorers. Tomahawk coach Bill Pollock had high praise for goal keeper Jennifer Smith who played an outstanding game. Fiona Pollock and Petra Blake also played well.

Coach Grant Saunderson's Explorers could not come up with a goal in the championship game. Perhaps all their energies were expended the week before when they upset the league champion J.C. Printing Cougars again in overtime.

In the final and in the semi final Beverly Behanie, Carolene Innis and Denise Rodrigues had strong games.

Cup champion and finalist trophies were presented to the two teams. Presentations were made by coach Keith Walker and statistician Lorraine Innis.

The league championship trophies were awarded by division co-ordinator Alex Rodrigues.

Coach Colleen Walker introduced her champion team. The players are only two years younger than their very attractive coach.

Colleen, who is only 15 herself, plays for her father's indoor team and competitive outdoor soccer for Scarborough United.

Coach Walker is a student at Victoria Park and in addition to playing herself this summer she plans to become a certified soccer referee and will work one night of the week as a house league referee.

Club chairman Tom Galley, who was on hand for the trophy presentations, told the News that "Scarborough United is very proud of Colleen and many other girls like her. This year we could have as many as ten young girls referring. It is great to see the girls giving of some of their time to a sport they played and enjoyed."

Mr. Galley advised that Scarborough United provides house league and competitive soccer for girls four to 44. For registration information call 498-0150.

No Military Trail Sidewalk

by Gay Abbate

There will be no sidewalks on a stretch of Military Trail just north of Ellesmere for use by residents in the Highcastle area.

The final chapter in the ongoing debate between the City of Scarborough and the Scarborough Board of Education was written last Thursday when the city's Works and Transportation Committee chose to receive and take no action on the latest communication from the board of education.

The board wants the sidewalks to make it safer for students from Highcastle who now have to attend Woburn Collegiate as a result of a school boundary change.

Military Trail between Highcastle and Ellesmere is narrow, steep and winding, conditions which make walking hazardous especially in winter.

The stumbling block to getting the sidewalks is the city's request that the board of education pay half of the $33,000 cost.

However, school trustees have refused on the basis that they are only allowed to fund projects which are on board property.

Another of their arguments is that the job of providing sidewalks rests with the city, not with the board whose mandate is education.

Centennial Rouge United

by Millie Hull

Based on a chapter from Job Mr. Butler spoke about

The Hidden God on Sunday morning.

We read that Job was really seeking God and said no matter where he looked he could not find Him. However, if we really want to find God, like Job we will be successful finally.

There was another presentation by the Ventures in Mission committee with Harry Graham speaking on pensions and Bill Dempsey about the rebuilding program. It is now in your hands.

Remember next Monday is Seniors Luncheon time again so we'll see you at the noon hour on the 13th. You are reminded also these get-togethers are for the community, not just Centennial Rouge folk.

The United Church Women are also reminded of their regular meeting on Tues. Feb. 14th at the home of Anne Chillingworth, 329 West Point Avenue, West Rouge. Originally a Tupperware demonstration was planned, but the representative was unavailable. Instead there will be a fashion display with inexpensive clothing for sale. Sounds interesting - see you there.

Don't forget our March Special when Wesley Morris presents his Around the World in 79 days. Wes is a good photographer and makes an excellent Audio Visual presentation as those who have seen them can testify. Keep the date open - March 20th.

We do not always hear of illnesses, etc. so should you know of someone who is ill, needing a pastoral call, please call the office at 282-2024. Mr. Butler is only too happy to drop in, bring the church's greetings and a word of cheer.

Some of us were privileged to help Cathy Closson celebrate another birthday last week. Congratulations, Cathy, you certainly carry those 80 odd years well - may you enjoy many more.

Feature Obstetrical Care

The Salvation Army has incorporated its experiences in obstetrical care with new technology: concepts designed to create a homelike atmosphere for the natural process of labor and childbirth.

The 38-bed Obstetrical Unit will provide a comprehensive program including prenatal assessment and education, care during labor and delivery, and postnatal care and education.

"A family-oriented approach to pregnancy and the birthing process will be the focus of all obstetrical programs and services at the Grace," asserted Major Harold Thornhill, Administrator of the hospital.

"This will include involving the father in every stage of the birthing process: from prenatal teaching, labour and delivery, to postpartum care and the rooming-in of the baby," Major Thornhill explained.

Special birthing rooms for those women preferring a "home-like" birthing setting in addition to single rooms for the care of special cases and the rooming-in of the baby with the mother, are but a few of the innovations that will be provided at the Scarborough Grace.

The Salvation Army has a proud history of providing obstetrical care to millions of Canadian women. In fact, the first Grace Hospital, opened in 1904, in Winnipeg, was a maternity hospital.

Now, eighty years later, the new Grace Hospital will begin a new era of health care for an expanded community.

"Expression Francaise: Litterature, Musique, Peinture et Sculpture" is the title given to an evening devoted to the cultural achievements of French Canada on Mon. Feb. 13 at 7:30 p.m. at Albert Campbell District Library. The public is invited and admission is free.

The program is part of the activities in the Scarborough Public Library system to highlight Canadian heritage during the month of February.

There will be an historical review of French Canadian literature by Prof. Jeanette Urbas, and a talk and slide presentation with recorded Acadian music and singers by Jacqueline Dugas-Rosentals, who will wear an Evangeline costume. The talks will be in English and the songs in French.

The Dugas family was one of the first French families to establish roots in Canada around 1640. Jacqueline Dugas-Rosentals has done extensive research into Acadian heritage for years. Last year, she furthered her project by investigating a wide area of mid-west France, as well as Paris. She presented her talk: "Acadie Je T'aime" with slides of Acadia today to colleges and groups there, as she has done in Canada since 1978, and will do so again on Feb. 13.

Jeanette Urbas has been a professor of French Canadian literature at Seneca College for ten years. Prior to that she taught at Glendon College. She is the author of "From 30 Acres to Modern Times: the story of French Canadian Literature" (McGraw-Hill Ryerson, 1976).

At present she is completing a book interpreting the development of French Canadian culture for English students. Those attending will be able to enjoy the February exhibition at this library of the paintings and drawings of Paul Arteau and the sculpture of Daniel Pokorn.

Valentine Crafts For Kids

Children who take advantage of Valentine craft programs at the public libraries, needn't care if the price of cards continues to go up. All materials are supplied and the cards have the personal appeal of being hand-made.

Children will be able to attend a Valentine program at 2 p.m. at Bendale Branch Library on Fri. Feb. 10. Staff will help the first 30 arriving, ages 5 to 12 years, in making Valentine. Staff will be on hand to assist children with mixed media to create their own Valentines at Cedarbrae Library. The first 30 children, ages six years and up, to arrive on Sat. Feb. 11 at 10:30 a.m. will participate.

The children at Guildwood Library will make Valentine mail boxes on Sat. Feb. 11 at 2 p.m. The first 25 to arrive, ages 6 to 14 years will join in on the fun.

Business Improvement Areas Bring Pride To The Community

A Business Improvement Area (BIA) is a self-help mechanism designed to assist local business and retail communities upgrade and promote their commercial and shopping districts. A BIA can only be established on the initiative of the local business community and with the approval of the local municipal council. Under Section 217 of The Municipal Act, a BIA can be designated by bylaw for:

- the improvement, beautification and maintenance of municipally-owned lands, buildings and structures in the area beyond that which is normally provided at the expense of the municipality; and
- the promotion of the area as a business or shopping district.

The activities of a BIA are directed by a board of management appointed by council and are funded by a special tax levy applied to all businesses within the area.

Since the enabling provincial legislation was enacted in 1970, more than 160 BIAs have been established throughout Ontario.

Benefits of a Business Improvement Area

An attractive and vibrant business improvement area provides a progressive business environment and projects a positive community image. Through cooperation and innovation, a BIA can surmount problems of declining viability, increased competition and physical deterioration. An active BIA can also:

- increase municipal involvement;
- improve the overall appearance of the area;
- more effectively promote the area as an entity;
- generate greater community interest and pride in the downtown area;
- provide a greater spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm within the business community; and
- attract and maintain customers for the area.

Formation Of A Business Improvement Area

The request to designate an area as a BIA originates with the local business community affected. Developed in consultation with the municipal planning staff, and submitted to municipal council, the formal request for designation should identify the need for a BIA and set out the boundaries for the proposed area.

Every business in the proposed area will be notified in writing of the formal request and of council's intent to pass a bylaw designating the area as a BIA. All those notified have a two month period to present a petition of objection to the municipal clerk. To prevent the passage of a designating bylaw, the petition must:

- be signed by at least one-third of those notified; and
  - be signed by representatives of at least one-third of the reality assessment of the proposed area.
- If these conditions are not met, council may pass the bylaw and appoint a board of management. If one or more objections are received within thirty days of written notification being given, council may pass the bylaw subject to approval of the Ontario Municipal Board.

Operation of a Business Improvement Area

Operational direction to a BIA is provided by a board of management. As a corporate body, the board must include at least one member of council. The remaining members will be comprised of persons assessed for business tax within the BIA or their nominees and will hold office for the term of the council that appoints them. Each business sector of the BIA should be represented on the board.

The board of management is responsible for establishing priorities, developing a budget and implementing programs. The board will also provide council with an annual budget estimate of funds required for its promotion and improvement programs. The funds required will be raised by a special tax levy on all businesses within the BIA. This levy will be charged to an individual business on the basis of its assessed value of real property, subject to minimum and maximum amounts or special benefit charges as specified in the bylaw.

The board may not borrow money, and without the prior approval of council, may not incur indebtedness beyond the current year.

Additional Information

Are You Being Bugged?

A regular column on pests, pesticides and pest control by Charles McCormick.

Suggestions, to help keep roaches and other pests out of your life.

1. All empty food containers, such as: jam jars, bottles, cans, milk cartons, etc. to be rinsed clean before putting into garbage bags.
2. All empty food packages, such as: cookie, cake mix, cereal, etc boxes bags to be emptied, and crumbs washed away, before putting into garbage bags.
3. All garbage bags to be sealed effectively, so that contents will not spill when put into garbage disposal chutes or containers.
4. All wine, liquor and beer bottles to be rinsed clean before disposal or returning to vendor.
5. No boxes obtained from any food establishment to be brought into the building without very close inspection to ensure that no insects are carried in with the contents.
6. All food cases - soft drinks, beverages, bulk containers, etc., to be inspected carefully when purchased and before storing in the home.
7. Do not store old newspapers, cartons, boxes, cardboard and similar materials; collect and remove promptly.
8. Do not leave dirty, unwashed dishes, glasses, cooking utensils etc., overnight; rinse and wash promptly.

9. Do not allow dirty clothing to accumulate, especially if at all greasy; wash regularly and often.

10. If you have a pet - do not allow cat or dog food to remain in the feeding bowl all day. Feed the animal regularly and dispose of, or save, uneaten food.

All dry pet foods, including bird seed, should be kept in a tight container, in a cool place, preferably in a refrigerator or freezer, until needed.

11. If you have a balcony, do not put out "food for the birds"; do not encourage birds to land or stay on your balcony or window ledges.

12. Never, never, never smuggle potted plants, cacti or any other containers with earth into the country, and into your suite - it is not only a criminal offence it is the height of stupidity.

If you have any questions or problems relating to pests, pesticides or pest control please send them preferably on a post card to: "Are You Being Bugged", Cliffside Village News, 228 Kingston Road, Scarborough.

Where possible we will answer in this column. We cannot enter into correspondence.

Retires After 40 Years

Last Jan. 15th. was a day of sadness and rejoicing for the congregations of Scarborough Junction and Birchcliff Heights United Churches. Both congregations said farewell to their retiring pastor, Rev. Robert J. McNaught. But at the same time they celebrated his 40 years of ministry in the United Church.

Rev. McNaught was born in Harwood, Ontario in 1918 and was educated in rural schools in Eastern Ontario. He earned his B.A. degree from Queen's University in 1942 and followed this two years later with a B.D. degree.

Following his ordination in 1944 Rev. McNaught moved to Saskatchewan where he ministered for four years. In 1948 he moved to Lanark-Baldersden, Ontario. From 1957 to 1972 he preached in Queensville, Ontario and in 1974 moved to Scarborough where he served as pastor to the low churches.

Rev. and Mrs. McNaught plan to travel extensively this year and he wants to spend some of his leisure time indulging in his hobbies of photography and curling. He also plans to do some writing. The McNaughts will con-

COOK'S CORNER

Sweets for Your Sweetheart

What could be a more romantic finale to a Valentine supper than luxuriating over a seductively rich dessert as the candles splutter.

One of these tempting treats, for instance.

They are so simple that you'll need only minutes to prepare them. A dash of Kahlua liqueur ensures an appropriately dramatic result.

FOND FONDUE

A special occasion combination of fresh fruit and chocolate to select and dip yourself or for each other. Selection of fresh fruits
9 oz milk chocolate (255g)
1 oz unsweetened chocolate (30g)
½ cup light cream (125 mL)
¼ cup Kahlua (60 mL)

Cut larger fruits into bite-sized pieces. Arrange on fondue platter. In fon-due pot, combine milk and unsweetened chocolates, cream and Kahlua. Place over very low heat, stir slowly 'til smooth.

Use spears to dip fruit in chocolate.

POTS DE CREME AU CHOCOLATE

A smooth chocolate dessert to serve in individual souffle dishes, topped perhaps with candied violet or rose petals.

1 cup semi-sweet chocolate chips (250 mL)
1 cup light cream, scalded (250 mL)
½ cup Kahlua (125 mL)
2 egg yolks

(To scald cream, heat 'til tiny bubbles form around edge of pan.) Put all ingredients in blender container; process 'til smooth. Pour into small souffle dishes, cover and chill at least 3 hours. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Fitness Week For Women

For the seventh consecutive year fitness instructors Margaret Cairns and Bonnie Beesley are organizing a fitness week for women only, in a warm climate. They usually go somewhere different every year and this year the group leaves April 15 for Nassau. "Sometimes women feel guilty taking a holiday without their spouses, and this gives them a reason," Margaret Cairns told the News. "Also it's good for women who do not wish to travel alone." The group gets together before leaving and they try to pair up singles with compatible roommates. "We usually meet again after the trip to keep the friendships going," Margaret said. The ladies take part in an exercise class every morning from 9 to 10 a.m. and again for an hour in the afternoon which might be in the form of a walk, volleyball on the beach or exercises in the pool. Anyone interested in joining the group should call Bonnie at 293-2839 from more details.

Sports Report By Glenn Sutherland

The Wexford Raiders were destined to be one of the teams to beat in the Metro Junior B Hockey League this year but after a fast start which kept in line with the predictions, Wexford fell into a mid season slump that they could not escape. Their unfortunate luck showed at the box office as less people turned out to see the team and that just goes to prove that for junior hockey to survive in Toronto, the teams have to be good on the ice to draw well at the box office.

It is not like a small town where the local junior hockey game is one of the only things to do on a Friday or Saturday night.

People in Toronto seem to have better things to do than going to see a losing hockey team. There is not much support from the people in this area.

The game that knocked the Raiders out of contention for the playoffs was a match at Scarboro Arena last Sunday that typified the kind of season that the team has had.

Henry Carr Crusaders came cross-town and came away with a 10-3 slaughtering that showed both the awesome power of the top in the league and the demise of the Wexford Raiders.

The Raiders had a game at home against the Bramalea Blues but a result was not available at time of publication.

Hayes Wins 18K Class

Scott Hayes of the Scarborough Olympic Wrestling Club won the 38k weight class at last Saturday's Ontario Juvenile Wrestling Championships that were held at Newtonbrook C.I. in North York.

Scott, who attends Thomson C.I. defeated Blaine Meunier from Sudbury in final for boys under 18 years.

Another club member, Greg McGunigal of Birchmount C.I. lost to Hayes in the semi-finals and had to settle for the bronze medal at 78k.

Dave Nash of Cedarbrae C.I. was Scarborough Olympic Wrestling Club's other juvenile medalist as he captured the bronze medal at 48k losing only to the weight class champion Steve Sammons from Colingwood.

Scarboro's other placers were Steve Han from Woburn, 4th at 65k, and fifth place finishes by Ross de la Cruz 48k, and Mike Campitelli 56k, both from Cardinal Newman.

The club placed a respectable fifth out of the more than 25 clubs represented at the championships from all over Ontario.

On Sunday George Racansky, who attends Borden S.S. was the Silver Medalist in the 220 lb class in the Ontario Junior Championships for boys under 21 years.

All medalists will be given the opportunity to travel to New Brunswick in March to represent Ontario at the National Juvenile and Junior Wrestling Championships.

TTC Beats Its Own Safety Record

Award winning TTC operators have done it again! The Commission's 4,000 operators have beaten their own 1982 safety record and set a new standard for passenger and traffic safety in 1983.

Last year, the TTC operated over 88 million miles with only 3.11 accidents per 100,000 surface miles, and 11.6% improvement over the previous year, which at that time was the Commission's best ever safety record.

This new record places the TTC once again in competition for North America's top safety award, the American Public Transit Association (APTA) Silver Plaque for passenger and traffic safety in cities with over a million population. The TTC has won the prestigious award for 13 of the past 16 years.

Metro Zoo Accepting Donations To Tiger Brum

Metro Toronto Zoo's Siberian Tiger, Brum, will receive a new home thanks to the response of the general public.

An anonymous donation of $40,000 has already been received helping the zoo to reach the goal of $100,000 the cost estimated to enlarge the existing Siberian Tiger Enclosure.

The TTC has always placed a high priority on safety and every year a Commission-wide safe driving competition is held. This year's winner of the coveted Silver Shield Management, said he is enthusiastic about the overwhelming response by the public. Donations have been received from across Canada, including individuals, groups, corporations and even school children.

However, more money is needed if the goal is to be reached. The public is encouraged to send their donations, which are tax

Free Movies

A series of free National Film Board movies is presented Mondays at Cullen Country Barns, 4290 Steeles Ave. E., at Kennedy Rd. with a different program every week.

Short animated and documentary films start at 10 a.m. and are repeated every hour until 5 p.m. A different program runs hourly on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Several National Film Board films about winter and winter sports will be shown Mon. Jan. 16. Included are Black Ice, about ice-boat racing; an oscar-nominated drama entitled First Winter, and, just in case you've ever wondered, How To Build An Igloo.

Variety Club Fund Raising

As part of its current fund raising drive, the Variety Club of Ontario, in cooperation with Mercury Theatre, will present the Young Variety production of Jan Martin's unusual "Talking With", an award-winning collection of eleven colorful scenes for women, Feb. 14 to 26, Tuesdays to Saturdays, at 8:30 p.m. with a matinee at 2:30 p.m., at Mercury Theatre, 296 Brunswick Ave., Toronto.

Tales about enthusiasms that become obsessions, eccentric confessions that resonate with a humane symbolism and a dramatic humour, the characters are drawn from a wide assortment of contemporary women - housewives, mothers, daughters and professionals; none of them typical, including a rodeo veteran, a baton twirler, and a snake handler.

Take this opportunity to help support the Variety Club's ongoing effort to provide for the needy youth of Ontario.

For reservations call 927-9533.

$361,592 Loss To Local Government

by Gay Abbate
Recent provincial decisions to reduce the value of homes in the McClure Cres. area contaminated with radio-active soil as well as all homes containing Urea Formaldehyde Foam Insulation (UFFI) is costing Scarborough taxpayers about $361,592 per year.

Hockey Tournament

The Scarborough College Athletic Association will be hosting an invitational ice hockey tournament for men, on Feb. 9 and 10th.

The round-robin games will be played at the Scarborough Village Arena, 3600 Kingston Rd. starting at 9 a.m. and at the Scarborough Centennial Arena starting at 8 a.m.

Play-offs and the championship game are scheduled for Fri. Feb. 10 at 9 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. respectively, at the Scarborough Village Arena.

Participating are Scarborough College "A" and "B" teams, a team from Erindale College, two teams from Trent University, Victoria College, an interfaculty team from the University of Guelph and the representative team from the memorial Chiropractic College.

This is the amount the city of Scarborough is losing in tax revenue because of the reduced assessment of these homes.

Scarborough politicians feel the province should reimburse the city for the lost tax dollars and recently voted to petition the provincial government to do just that.

The Ontario Municipal Board's ruling reducing the value of the McClure Cres. homes to $100 per property represents $173,256 in lost tax dollars plus another $13,568 in interest the city has to pay to affected homeowners.

Scarborough is also asking the federal government to notify the municipality when a Scarborough resident receives a special grant to remove UFFI.

Presently, the federal government does not inform either the provincial assessment office nor the municipality when UFFI is removed from a home. As a result, the home continues to be assessed at a reduced amount and the city loses the tax dollars.

The loss of about $361,592 in tax dollars this year will be shared by Metro, the Boards of Education and Scarborough on a 25-50-25% basis.

$200,000 Federal Grant For Salvation Army Heritage Museum

The approval of a $200,000 grant from the federal government to The Salvation Army was announced this week by Norm Kelly, MP Scarborough Centre.

The grant will enable The Salvation Army to design and construct a museum with quality displays and related equipment at its Heritage Centre at the Army's Bayview Avenue officer training college.

The museum will be known as the George Scott

Railton Heritage Museum and is part of the Salvation Army Ministries Enrichment Program, a unique campaign designed to upgrade and expand the Army's leadership training facilities.

Nine jobs will be created during construction which is slated to be completed by the end of December.

The grant was made possible through new job creation funding announced by the Minister of Finance in his April 19 budget and is part of the federal government's program to create employment opportunities for Canadians.

Separate School Board Reduces Energy Costs By $1 Million

The Metropolitan Separate School Board's energy management program is saving the board over $1 million annually. Chairman Edward T. McMahon announced last week after reviewing the program's progress for the past five years.

The savings represent about 25% of the system's annual bill for oil, gas and electricity.

From its inception in 1978 to the end of 1982, the energy savings program achieved an accumulated cost avoidance of $3,867,854. Expenditures of $3,609,730 were partially offset by Ontario Government grants of $932,717. The net saving to the board for the period was $1,190,840.

With the large expenditures of 1981 and 1982 completed (over $1.3 million each year), the board is achieving savings approximate to the 1982 cost avoidance of $1,237,219, pointed out Mr. McMahon.

When the program was launched, the short-term goal for 1978 and 1979 to achieve 10% annual energy reductions through good housekeeping measures at minimal administrative costs. Another objective was to create awareness of the need for energy conservation. The cost avoidance in 1978 was $304,100 and in 1979, $547,435.

In 1980, energy retrofit and gas conversion programs were started in 28 schools. Night setback controls were installed for heating and ventilation systems and group relamping with energy conservation lamps was implemented. Total cost avoidance for 1980 was $804,885.

The energy retrofit and gas conversion programs were continued in an additional 72 schools in 1981. Also, the schools were sealed to prevent excessive air leakage through roof/wall joints and window frames and heat recovery fans were installed in gymnasiums. Energy savings of $969,955 were achieved. In 1982, the retrofit and gas conversion programs were implemented in an additional 52 schools. Total cost avoidance for 1982 was $1,237,219.

The energy conservation program has been the responsibility of Leslie S. Grant, professional engineer, who was employed by the Board for five years as the coordinator of energy.

He has recently established his own engineering firm, Grant Engineering Ltd., to provide services in the energy management field.

Can't Seem To Get New Street Named

by Gay Abbate

Scarborough politicians continue to have problems choosing a name for a proposed new road which is to run parallel to the 401 between McCowan and Bellamy.

Last Thursday, Scarborough's transportation committee decided to name this roadway "Scarborough City Centre Drive" at the request of Don Fleming, president of Equity Development Group who, in conjunction with Prudential Insurance, is building the Consilium project north of Progress at McCowan.

The new roadway is needed to service this project and the recently announced Hilton International Hotel.

Alderman Maureen Prinsloo, refused to support Fleming's request. Mrs. Prinsloo says she will oppose the committee's recommendation at council because the proposed name shifts the focus of the city's centre from the civic centre to the north-east corner of the town centre area.

If any road in the town centre should be known as Scarborough City Centre Drive, it should be the present Borough Dr. where the civic centre is located, Alderman Prinsloo told the News.

Mrs. Prinsloo will be supported by Ward 5 Alderman Marilyn Mushinski who went along with the name at committee but has had second thoughts. Both aldermen say they will now support "Corporate Drive", the name originally proposed last year by city staff but rejected by the politicians.

Not only, argues Mrs. Prinsloo, is the recommended name a mouthful and too long, but it is also misleading to visitors who might mistakenly believe that the civic centre would be located on a road called City Centre Drive.

"Corporate Drive is looking better all the time," Mrs. Prinsloo quipped.

The issue will be decided in two weeks when it goes before Scarborough Council.

Corporate Community Helping

Members of the corporate community in Toronto are lending encouragement and advice to a new computer training program developed specifically for physically disabled adults. Alternative Computer Training (A.C.T.) has been designed with the participation of a 19 member business advisory council, representing major corporations, consulting firms, and educational institutions.

There are still openings available for this free course, which is scheduled to begin March 2.

Praising members of the Toronto business community for their enthusiasm and participation, Managing Director Margot Byrd said advisory council has provided guidance with curriculum, equipment selection and screening. Members will also assist with job placement of graduates.

"The result is an extremely high quality program geared to the specific needs of each participant," she said, "which could include anything from a particular technical aid to solving a transportation problem."

Employee trainees will spend part of the 12 months in the classroom, but will also train on the job in a corporate setting. There is no cost to participants, but they must have a minimum grade 12 education, and be physically able to put in a normal working day.

Alternative Computer Training was initially sponsored by the Society for Goodwill Services, and is now funded by the Federal Government's Employment and Immigration department.

For further information on training or business participation contact Margot Byrd, Managing Director, 362-4711.

Crafts On Display

Beautiful hand made crafts are on display at Devonsleigh Place Restaurant, 4125 Steeles Ave. E., until March 3.

Eileen Sweeney's beautiful hand painted silk purses, pillows, scarves and other articles can be viewed in the showcases along with pottery by Jamie McRae.

Speaking To You

Scott Fennell M.P.
 Ontario Riding

This week the Minister of Finance, Marc Lalonde, made a surprise announcement in the House of Commons that he will be introducing a budget on February 15th. All parties had been waiting for this announcement, but we never thought that the Prime Minister and his cohorts would pull such a sneaky and basically childish trick.

As you are no doubt aware, during the week of February 13th through to the 17th, Opposition Leader Brian Mulroney, had planned a European tour. Because he was aware that there was a possibility that the Liberals would be introducing a budget the following month, he contacted the Prime Minister and advised him that he would be away during that week. Mr. Mulroney then requested that the Government not introduce any major House business during the week that he would be out of the country. The result was that the Prime Minister agreed to Mr. Mulroney's request.

Of course, our problem was that we assumed that the Prime Minister and his life-long pal, Mr. Lalonde, would live-up to this agreement and behave in a decent manner. Instead, true to form, they attempted to use the issue to their advantage, even though they were using something as serious as the Government budget as a vehicle to attack Mr. Mulroney. It gives one a pretty clear idea of how serious the Government's intentions are toward the economy of Canada when they start pulling tricks like this.

The only thing Mr. Trudeau and Mr. Lalonde have succeeded in accomplishing, is to show their true characters to all Canadians. Mr. Mulroney had decided to cancel his tour as he feels that the introduction of a budget is major House business and is of serious concern, an opinion which obviously the Prime Minister does not share.

Report from Queen's Park

By George Ashe, MPP Durham West

Recently consumers have brought to the attention of the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations a number of problems created by vague "food freezer plan" order forms.

As a result of this information, staff met with a number of "food freezer plan" companies in an attempt to solve these problems cooperatively. The gross weight of each type of meat was usually indicated on the form, but purchasers were not aware of the quality and quantity of meat products they received. Customers were permitted to delete items and make substitutions, and this made the order forms almost unreadable.

Ministry and industry representatives established guidelines to identify the contents of the meat section of the food contract to be incorporated into individual company forms. Since January 1, 1984, food order forms have been required to list the weights and cuts of meat products and the price per kilogram. Consumers may also indicate the items to be excluded from the plan, and the appropriate items to be substituted.

Bulk food plan companies market their products door-to-door, by telephone, and advertise in flyers and television listing magazines. In Ontario, bulk food plan companies must be registered as itinerant sellers under The Consumer Protection Act. This Act provides that if any company fails to comply with the guidelines, the Registrar may issue a proposal to revoke the company's registration. The Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations also has the authority, under The Business Practices Act, to issue a cease and desist order, or to prosecute companies for false, misleading, or deceptive practices.

Retail meat outlets also sell bulk beef directly to the consumer. The consumer should be aware that these outlets are not, at least for the time being, included under the new guidelines. This situation is under review.

I think all Ontarians can be proud of the process which was followed to develop the guidelines affecting food freezer contracts. Industry worked hand-in-hand with the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations, and developed a solution which benefits and protects business and consumers alike.
