Attends World Meet

In the middle of African poverty that seems impossible to change, a small international health team, including a half dozen Canadians, is confounding the world with their ability to save lives.

The success of the unorthodox methods used by the African Medical and Research Foundation (AMREF) has won them support from African presidents to England's Prince Charles, from millions of individual donors who provide the money to make it possible.

To share their success, AMREF held a special symposium on Third World Health Care in Toronto on May 14.

One of those attending the conference was Bridget Lawson, the Pickering based Executive Director, who was married to one of the flying doctors.

As an adult Bridget returned to school to study business administration, then spent two years in Malawi, with two of her children, where she ran a girl's hostel, helped promote local handicrafts and occasionally bailed her charges out of jail.

AMREF is most famous for its Flying Doctor Service. In a fleet of tiny planes, their medical crews have logged more than nine million kilometres.

They reach out equally to nomadic cattle herders in drought zones, and to executives of multi national corporations who contract to be rescued in the event of snake bite, sun stroke or safari mishaps.

Less dramatic, but no less effective, are AMREF's "under the tree clinics". Over the years the mobile health team has treated a million patients and immunized another 1.2 million people.

The Masai children who had a 90% certainty of eye infection, and possible blindness, a few short years ago, now are in danger only 25% of the time.

Far more help will be needed to continue AMREF's success. Tax-deductible donations can be sent to AMREF, Box 580, Pickering, Ontario L1V 3T3.

give an update on the situation at the Pickering Generating Station.

This meeting will also be the Board of Trade's annual "Appreciation to Secretaries" luncheon, giving business people the opportunity to say "thank you" to their secretaries.

The meeting will be held at Grenada Restaurant and Tavern, Sheridan Mall, 1355 Kingston Rd. It will begin at noon with a short "mingle period" and lunch will be served at 12:15 p.m. The meeting will be adjourned at approximately 1:20 p.m.

Reservations are essential and may be made by calling the Board of Trade office at 683-0291 prior to noon on Fri. May 25th. The cost is $8.50 per person.

Too Big A Jump

The present desperate circumstances which Fanfare '84 finds itself is not surprising to those who previously have entered into the uncertain field of entertainment . . . and business.

In our opinion, the organization was buoyed up with a great deal of enthusiasm, encouraged by a lot of government grants, but apparently short on cold, hard accounting and business knowledge. The 47 day extravaganza was, in our opinion, too big an operation for its first year and faltered because it expected too much money from the private corporation area. After all, there is the remains of a very serious recession in existence in this country and large corporations are not "loaded with loot" for awarding to outside groups, no matter how terrific they are.

It is no dishonour to fail with this kind of enterprise, but it would be poor if the leaders of the art community in Scarborough, who want such a project to succeed did not learn from this first attempt and work on another one next year. Perhaps more Scarborough-based people would be better because those from outside the city boundaries, naturally do not share the community spirit which residents of Scarborough enjoy.

We hope that Fanfare '84 can recover sufficiently to pay its bills and end its present campaign without too much damage to the morale of the arts world.

Leaders For Lunch

Lunches With Leaders is a new forum designed to give women access to politicians, says a press release which announces that Brian Mulroney, Leader of the Official Opposition, will speak to over 2000 at the Harbour Castle Hilton in Toronto on Fri. May 25th.

Frankly, we didn't know that women had trouble getting access to politicians, but we think it is a great idea to get the leaders out for lunch and quiz them on their ideas on many issues. You may not get a ticket if you want one because 2000 have already been sold!

Planting Trees

Our non-military youth organizations, called "Katimavik", is busy planting 400,000 trees in the forests of Ontario. The project emphasizes outreach and public education on the value and significance of the forest environment for Canada along with silviculture (tree planting). Some 800 youth are working in dozens of Ontario communities in large and small projects. This year there will be 5000 young people aged 17 to 21 working in the program across Canada.

New Hydro Rates

Ontario Hydro has taken the first in a series of steps to establish new rates by proposing an average increase of 9.1 per cent for 1985.

The proposal has been sent to Philip Andrewes, Ontario Minister of Energy, who will refer the proposal to the Ontario Energy Board. The board will then hold public hearings to examine Hydro's 1985 rate proposal and report its findings to the Minister of Energy. Following review of the Energy Board's recommendations, Ontario Hydro will announce the new rates in the fall. New rates become effective Jan. 1, 1985.

The increase will vary among the 320 municipal utilities and approximately 100 large direct industrial customers according to their monthly electrical demands and service conditions. Without this increase Hydro's revenues would be $349 million short of the level needed in 1985.

The main factors contributing to the additional revenue requirement are continued inflation, the retubing of Pickering Units 1 and 2, and new generating units coming on line.

The 1985 rate year is forecast to be the peak year for operating cost increases related to new generating units being placed in service. In addition to one unit placed in service earlier this year, five more units will be started up at Pickering B, Bruce B and Atikokan during 1984 and 1985.

"Although these factors result in a proposed rate increase slightly above our forecast of inflation in 1985, reduced fuel costs from these units will mean overall savings for our customers for many years to come," Chairman Milan Nastich said.

"Our rates will remain among the lowest in North America. We have made good progress in cutting expenditures without reducing our standard of service. We are keeping up this effort so that we can continue to provide a competitively priced and reliable supply of electricity for

Famous Canadians

Vincent Massey 1887-1967

Vincent Massey was born in Toronto in 1887. He attended the University of Toronto where he received his B.A. and completed his Master of Arts at Balliol College at Oxford in 1913.

From 1913 to 1915, Vincent Massey was a lecturer in modern history at the University of Toronto and was the Dean of Residence at Victoria College. He married Alice Parkin in June of 1915, who shared Vincent's obsession with Theatre and music.

During the First World War, Vincent Massey served in active duty and became Lieutenant-Colonel in 1917 and later became Associate Secretary of the War Committee of the Federal Cabinet responsible for preparing pamphlets of information about Canada's War activities. He served as a Minister without Portfolio in the Liberal Cabinet under MacKenzie King until he was defeated in the election to the House of Commons in late 1925. In 1927, Vincent Massey entered the newly established Canadian External service as the first minister to Washington and made the world aware that Canada was more than a mere appendage of Britain.

He was largely responsible for bringing the Liberals to victory in the election of 1935 and shortly afterwards became High Commissioner for Canada to the United Kingdom for 11 years. In 1952, Vincent Massey became the first Governor-General of Canada of Canadian birth and served in this position for 7 years.

He traveled across Canada and tried to build a National identity for Canada, something he strived for most of his life.

Jobs on line as firms look south

By W. Roger Worth

Canadians may be pricing themselves out of the North American job market.

Indeed, a recent study of 300 smaller Ontario manufacturing firms suggests high labor costs, as well as onerous municipal taxes and payroll taxes, have already convinced many companies to set up shop in the United States, and that a lot more manufacturers are considering the move.

"More than 75,000 manufacturing jobs are at risk in Ontario alone, and the trend has serious implications for the rest of the country," says John Bulloch, president of the Canadian Federation of Independent Business, the organization that did the research. "Our medium-sized manufacturers clearly believe the business climate is better in the U.S., and it's tough to dispel that attitude."

What amazed Federation researchers was the phenomenal response to its questionnaire, and the in-depth information supplied by the medium-sized companies with more than 20 employees.

In fact, a full 48 per cent of the firms contacted responded. Of those, 16 per cent already have a plant or branch in the U.S., and another 25 per cent have investigated such a move.

"This is ominous news for Canadians, not only in Ontario but across the country," says Bulloch.

The reasons the 41 per cent gave for relocating or considering a move? The survey indicated manufacturers believe Canadian labor costs are more than 10 per cent higher than those in the U.S.; that the cost of meeting labor standards is higher here; and that municipal, business and payroll taxes far outpace those in the U.S.

Ontario," he said.

"I'm confident we will be able to meet our target of no real increase in the cost of electricity over the 1980s," Nastich added.

Hydro's rate proposal does not recommend the implementation of seasonal or time-of-day rates in 1985.

Old Business Saying

It is easier (and cheaper) to learn how to stay out of trouble than it is to get out of trouble.

What you don't know CAN hurt you!

My Canada

I heard them curse you for your arctic winds,
- but I have seen the waters of the lakes kissed into smiles
by southern breezes.
- I heard them curse you for your ice and snow before the late arriving spring.
- But I have seen the beauty of the goose and eagle on the wing,
- your northern light
my soul and heart with magic pleases, and I can bells of freedom hear-and walk - my head up high - and children playing without fear.
I love you Canada - I do - until the day I die.

Scarborough Election Update

by Gay Abbate
Federal Ridings

Tory nomination meetings have been held in all but one federal Scarborough riding. May 31 is the scheduled date for the PCs to choose who will carry their banner in Scarborough Centre, presently held by Liberal Norm Kelly.

Gordon Mewhiney, whose candidacy the News announced in late March, has withdrawn from the race leaving the field wide open for Pauline Browse.

Mrs. Browse, who is chairman of the Scarborough Board of Health, is being opposed by Bryan Butler, a frequent candidate in municipal elections.

Mr. Mewhiney withdrew because of an illness in the family. However, rumour has it that his campaign never got off the ground.

There is no word yet when the Liberals will hold their nominations but one name being touted as a possible candidate is that of ward 13 Alderman Joe DeKort. Mr. DeKort announced after the last election that he would run for mayor in 1985.

Provincial Politics

All is still quiet on the provincial campaign circuit. To date, only one NDP riding association has held its nomination meeting.

David Warner, former M.P.P. for Scarborough-Ellesmere won the nomination to take on Alan Robinson again in a rematch of the 1981 election. Mr. Robinson ousted Mr. Warner in that election.

Still with the N.D.P. Ward 2 Alderman Barry Christensen is seeking the nomination in Scarborough Centre and hopes to take on Frank Drea.

In Scarborough East, no one has yet come forth to declare from either opposition party. Everyone is still waiting to see whether Margaret Birch decides to seek re-election.

However, one name being mentioned as a possible Liberal candidate in this riding is that of Paul Cosgrove should he decide he has had enough of the federal scene.

In Scarborough North, the situation is much the same except there hopefuls from all three parties are waiting to see whether the riding will be split into two prior to the next provincial election.

Names being mentioned as hopefuls keeping their fingers crossed that the riding will be adjusted are N.D.P. Jerry Daca, Tories Roy Pahuja and Susan Hunt and Liberals Gerry Phillips, former school trustee, and Ward 11 Alderman Scott Cavalier.

Rumours are also flying these days around another politician by the name of Christensen. In this instance, it is Ward 4 Alderman Kurt Christensen.

According to the grapevine, Kurt will be running for the Tories in Scarborough West in an attempt to unseat N.D.P. Richard Johnston.

However Mr. K. Christensen refused to confirm or deny the rumour. He did admit though, that he has been approached to run and is considering his options.

His possible running as a Progressive Conservative will come as news to those people who supported him when he ran on a Liberal ticket in the 1981 provincial election against Frank Drea.

Kurt Christensen explains this away by saying that the Liberals did not help his campaign and, in fact, failed to contribute financially.

Before that, it is believed that Mr. K. Christensen was a member of the N.D.P.

THE ONTARIO WEED CONTROL ACT

as it applies to persons in possession of land within the City of Scarborough.

Unless noxious weeds are destroyed by June 1st, 1984, and as often as necessary throughout the season to prevent the ripening of their seeds and dispersal of their pollens, the City of Scarborough may enter private property and destroy these weeds. The cost will be charged against the property owner and collected in the manner of Municipal Taxes.

Goatsbeard, Thistles, Chicory, Poison Ivy, Ragweed, Wild Carrot and Milkweed are among the weeds considered noxious and must be destroyed wherever found. Complaints regarding Dandelion and Goldenrod will not be accepted as these are not considered noxious under the terms of the Weed Control Act. Anonymous complaints will not be accepted.

Armenian Centre Wants Back Taxes Cancelled

Scarborough's Board of Control has postponed making a decision on a request by the Alex Monogian Cultural Centre to be given an exemption from some $146,000 owing to the city of Scarborough in back property taxes.

The centre located at Progress Ave. and Markham Rd. applied to the province in January 1982 for tax exemption status. Its request for an exemption was supported by Scarborough Council. A bill approving tax exempt status for the centre was passed in December, 1983. However, the bill provides no provi-

Going Since Early 30's

High school track and field championships have existed in one form or another since the early 1930's.

At that time the Ontario Athletic Commission conducted district meets for students. The winners were then given two weeks training at the Ontario Athletic Leadership Camp (O.A.L.C.) near Orillia and a meet was held to declare the provincial champions.

The last such meet was held in 1946 and from that time till the current system of rotating the site, the meet was held at O.A.L.C. under the direction of the Ontario Federation of School Athletic Associations (O.F.S.A.A.).

The metric conversion of O.F.S.A.A. track events occurred in 1970 and field events in 1971. Success has been spread over many schools with championships being awarded over the years to schools from every area of the province.

Only in the 1970's did one school dominate the overall championship and that was Michael Power High School from the Toronto District Catholic Association.

Under the direction of their coach the late Father John Redmond, Power won over-all team championships from 1971 to 1978. Scarborough's Woburn Collegiate interrupted their string of victories in 1975.

The championships will be held on Friday and Saturday, June 1 and 2, at Etobicoke Centennial Stadium. Support your local athletes at their high school meets and district finals during the month of May.

sion to allow Scarborough to grant an exemption from taxes prior to the passing of the bill.

Last Wednesday, the centre's lawyer argued that the bill did not state that Scarborough could not give the exemption dating back to 1982 if it so wished.

Board of Control has decided to wait one week before making a decision to give the centre's lawyer time to discuss the issue further with the city's solicitor.

Bill Watt's Worlds

ON STAGE

"Patience is a virtue. Possess it if you can". Otherwise, you might be tempted, as we were, to leave at the end of Act 1 of Trafford Tanzi, the current sell out attraction at Toronto Free Theatre. To do so however, would be to throw out the bath water before the baby is washed.

Trafford Tanzi is described as bold, brash and brimming with energy. It's all that. As well, it's clever, cute and, in Act 1, cruel in the manner of the rock ballet Tommy.

In fact there is a similarity in plot line. Tanzi of Trafford (Old Trafford is a working class district of Manchester, England, rather like old Gorbals of Glasgow), is the daughter of lecherous sub-retentive parents who virtually ignore her and unthinkingly abuse her emotionally.

Forced into a demeaning job far below her talents and aspirations she turns to marriage with a professional wrestler.

Well, we dislike any work that capitalizes on the misfortunes of others. It's our thought that there is enough tragedy in the world and well enough known to knowledgeable people that dramatizations of it are not necessary and certainly not entertaining.

So, we would cheerfully have left had it not been for our obligation to the readers. How glad we are that we stayed. You see, not only does Tanzi triumph over her life, she does so in a manner that has the audience literally cheering and having a bloody good time, rather like at a wrestling match. And, why not? It is a wrestling match!

That's right, a wrestling match. The play takes place inside a wrestling ring and the action is accompanied by real honest to Nanjo Singh wrestling moves. They're all there...body slams, back breakers, scissors, spreads. About the only ones missing are nelsons and flying drop kicks. (Yes friends, we did some wrestling in our youth).

There are ten scenes marked off as rounds in which the audience sees Tanzi emerge from being an emotionally beaten girl and young woman into a champion. The action is accompanied by music and some of the songs are downright hilarious.

The title role is played by fresh faced Martha Burns. Such is the strength of her portrayal that she can bring you from tears of sorrow over her earlier plight to triumphant cheers for her eventual triumph.

Page Fletcher plays her husband Dean Rebel, a cocksure young man who tries to subdue the strong willed Tanzi and fails. He is quintessential macho and a treat to watch but it's in the wrestling scenes that he really shines.

His sneering acknowledgement of a temporary besting would do credit to any professional wrestler.

Bridget O'Sullivan is Tanzi's Mum, a common tart more interested in the pleasure of the body and the hearth than in the welfare of her daughter. And yet, she's funny! Her rendition of "Stand By Your Man" is one of the funniest bits we've encountered this season.

Brian Tree is her lecherous father and one alternates between the desire to punch him one or to laugh at his leering ways.

Caroline Yeager is a comic vamp as Platinum Sue and Gordon Clapp is the referee who keeps the entire play in literal motion. In many respects he is the hit of the evening. He is typical of every referee we used to encounter at club smokers and stages many years ago. With his head tucked into his shoulder and his stooped stance he can reduce you to laughter just looking at him.

Now, and this is most important, all the performers actually wrestle and, by heaven! wrestle well. At the same time, they are delivering tragi-comic lines in that execrable Mancunian accent. Really, a noteworthy accomplishment for all the performers.

The direction of Ray Jewers is crisp and the musical accompaniment of Christopher Mounter just right.

We have been harsh on Toronto Free Theatre in the past but have to admit and proclaim that they have a palpable hit on their hands with Trafford Tanzi. Go see it, if you can get tickets.

SUPPER CLUBBING

If enthusiasm alone can do it, then Salute To The Movies a the new cabaret East Dinner Theatre could be the next long running, must see attraction in out town.

The title tells you all there is to know. This is a musical salute to music from the movies (well, most of it is) performed in song and dance by a talented quintet of young people.

At this point it's still a little uneven (segues are vague) and all the production values not yet established (why cheap paper top hats instead of the real thing when wearing tails?) but it's a fun show, nevertheless.

Director Brian Pearcy is a fine singer (though he really shouldn't essay that almost embarrassing Jolson imitation; Jolie never said "N'yah") and as well he moves the show along while providing some very real humour. (We loved the joke about the man with five hours to live. "Easy for you. You're not getting up in the morning!")

Bonnie Pegler is a sweet faced and voiced young lady who does nicely by some of the more tender ballads. We liked her Tammy.

Lithesome Laana Taylor dances nicely on the admittedly small stage and she delivers a comic line nicely as well.

Wayne Jones and Alan May are two young men with good voices and good dancing skills. Like most of the younger dancers they're better at jazz dancing but they manage some creditable hoofing.

Pianist Flo Humphrey is as good as any we've heard at what she does and she too can deliver a comic line very nicely thank you.

We didn't sample the buffet dinner but we're told that the Roast Beef au Jus is particularly good.

For now, Salute To The Movies is playing only Thursday through Saturday but we have this idealistic thinking maybe that it's going to catch on and be a full week presentation. It deserves to be.

Cabaret East is on Danforth at Pharmacy above (ahem) the Mansion House. It's tastefully decorated and the service cheerful. Our young servitress was smashing looking. The cost is moderate for dinner and show or the show alone and we think it's a nice place to spend a pleasant evening. Good luck to it.

IN PRINT

Here are three books recommended for your lazy summer reading. All are from Collins. The Collected Stories of Isaac Bashevis Singer contains Yentl, The Yeshiva Boy from which Barbra Streisand took her most recent motion picture. Mr. Singer has himself chosen the 47 stories that appear here from the eight collections published to date.

There are also some previously uncollected stories. Mr. Singer is not Sholem Aleichem but there is a similarity of style that is quite winning.

Morris Gibson is not James Herriot either but he manages to do for the general practice of medicine that which Herriot has done for animal husbandry. A Doctor in the West continues that story of Dr. Gibson and his young family in the Canadian West. Not Herriot it's true but enjoyable light reading.

Man Alive, The Human Journey is another print manifestation of Roy Bonisteel's popular television program featuring incisive pieces on those people who stand as examples of what The Creator intended us to be. We were particularly taken by the chapter on Cardinal Leger, a true man of God.

There is more of course -

Bonisteel is, above all else, an investigative reporter - but it is the human pieces that most readers will enjoy. Bonisteel appears an egotist but his good writing style cannot be gainsaid.

MUSIC NOTES

We commend to your attention Ann Mortifee who is appearing this week at the Imperial Room following last week's great engagement of Hal Linden. Miss Mortifee has been called one of the most emotional entertainers in the world and that just might be so. She doesn't merely sing her songs, she makes them an emotional experience.

Frankly, we think she's wasted on the night club circuit. She properly belongs on the stage where she could be the next Barbara Cook. Whatever, she's an exciting experience and you should catch her while you can.

Tomorrow night at The Forum it's Larry Elgart and the orchestra with "Hooked on Swing". The stage won't be the only thing swinging!

To hand are a number of L.P.'s on the Concord label, a marque dedicated to the presentation of tasteful jazz. Now, jazz needn't necessarily be wild. It need only pay due obeisance to syncopation and its proper values. By those standards, Rosemary Clooney is one of the best popular song interpreters extant.

She sings her songs straight, gives just the right amount of interpretation and still swings the way she used to with her late sister Betty and the Tony Pastor orchestra.

You really must hear Rosemary Clooney Sings The Music Of Cole Porter (CJ-185). The Lyrics of Ira Gershwin (CJ-112) and My Buddy with the big band of Woody Herman (CJ-226). Wait till you hear The Glory of Love on the last named!

An exciting new dance program will be offered this summer for children four to nine years of age at Malvern Community Centre.

Classes will operate Monday to Friday for four two-week sessions.

3 Scarborough Residents To Get Civic Awards Of Merit

Three Scarborough residents, well known in the field of performing arts, visual arts and sports, are the recipients of this year's Civic Award of Merit.

The 1984 winners are jazz guitarist Ed Bickert, painter Nikita Marner and Don Farquharson, president of the World Association of Veteran Athletes.

The Civic Award of Merit was started in 1975 and since then 15 Scarborough citizens have been honoured for their achievements not just locally but nationally and internationally. The award was not presented last year.

Ed Bickert has performed with such well known groups as the Moe Koffman Quintet and the Peter Appleyard Orchestra. He has appeared at the Monterey Jazz Festival in California and other festivals in England, Ireland, and Switzerland. He has also toured in concert in Japan and Australia.

Nikita Marner, a native of London England, has won an international reputation for his oils and water-colours. He recently completed a series of acclaimed paintings on the Canadian Arctic.

Mr. Marner spent 1983 travelling through China on a painting trip. As a result of his trip, Mr. Marner was invited to spend three months as a teaching artist at the Fine Art Academy of Sechuan in Chungging.

Don Farquharson is a former runner and rugby player. From 1972 to 1977 he was president of the Canadian Master. In 1977 he was elected president of the World Association of Veteran Athletes, a position he still holds. All three recipients of this year's Civic Award of Merit have helped put Scarborough on the map through their international achievements.

Under Coach Shelagh Croxon, who last year coached her Junior team to solo, duet and team championships, the Scarborough Leaside Aquamaids Junior "A" team is favoured to take first place.

Kelly Hogan and Deana Inglis are favoured to take the duet title and both girls have had strong performances in solo routines during the 1984 season.

Janine Brisbois and Sheri Walter, Carrie DeGuerre and Nicole Sadinsky are also strong contenders to be among the top five duets who will advance to Junior Nationals to be held at the Etobicoke Olympium June 21 - 25.

Scarborough Girls Sweep Soccer Tournament

by Ken Lahan-Port

Two teams from Scarborough United Women's Soccer Club made exciting starts to the 1984 season.

Competing in the Royal City Tournament in Guelph, over the May 19-20 weekend, the Mosquito girls beat Oakville 4-1, and the Juniors were victorious over Rexdale by a 3-2 score.

With Skipper Mirsya Marambio anchoring the defence for the Mosquito girls, sponsored by Bicks Pickles, Lina Guglietti with 11 goals and Jennifer Johnson with six led the goal scorers.

Also finding the net for the Buccaneers were Debbie Kyriakou 4, Lori Hawkshaw 3, and singles from Andrea Hanson and Joyce Maligeorgos.

On the way to the final the Buccaneers defeated Guelph 7-0, Burlington 11-0, and Oakville 4-1. The repeat score over Oakville in the final gave the Buccaneers the trophy.

Alan Southard's junior girls led 3-0 into the second half of their final, but Rexdale came back to score twice. However, the Scarborough girls held their one goal lead until the final whistle.

Centennial Rouge United

by Mike Hull

"Thou shalt not take life for granted." A sentence for some serious thought which Rev. Butler explained on Sunday morning. One cannot make long range plans as did the wealthy farmer in Luke's gospel who had become very wealthy and decided to replace his present barns with larger ones, then sit back and take life easy.

There were other plans for this man. Neither should we take people for granted. Do not expect them to fall into your plan of things. We should try to live from day to day, fulfilling our Christian heritage and so be ready for whatever may happen.

Members of Session are to meet following service next Sunday morning and the official Board will meet on June 4th. Many important items must be discussed and a full attendance is requested.

Our 94th Anniversary is only two weeks away. Rev.

George Birtch is to be guest speaker and following the service luncheon will be served.

Former members especially are requested to return if possible so that we may enjoy a real celebration together in this church started nearly a century ago by early settlers in our community.

The seniors enjoyed a fine luncheon last week with the highlight being spring bonnets. Several of the ladies participated and even a couple of the men. The trimmings in some cases were almost out of this world.

The winner, Anne Tonkin, had a garden theme complete with miniature tools and tiny baskets of real violets suspended from its brim. Next luncheon will be June 11th.

We'll see you next Saturday morning at 9:30 with your garden tools as we rake and clean and plant our church grounds for spring clean up.

Buy 2 Types Of Meters

Scarborough Council has decided to buy two types of parking meters for installation on Borough Dr. and around the civic centre.

Council has approved the purchase of 50 meters from Dometec at a cost of $248 each and another 50 from J.J. MacKay at $413.17 each.

Since council was unable to make up its mind last year which meters to buy, it decided to split the contract and see which work out better.

However, Controller Carol Ruddell argued against the split and in favour of all 100 meters from J.J. MacKay. "It's false economy to save $8,000 and go with the cheaper model," Controller Ruddell stated.

She is concerned that repair and maintenance costs for the cheaper model will offset any saving accrued by not buying the more expensive meters.

Scarborough To Host Track/Field

The 1984 Ontario Federation of School Athletic Association will hold its annual High School (O.F.S.A.A.) Track and Field Championships at Etobicoke's Centennial Stadium on June 1st and 2nd.

The host association will be the Scarborough Secondary School Athletic Association (S.S.A.A.). Meet Director Eric Boyd of Agincourt C.I. in Scarborough is encouraged by the co-operation and enthusiasm his colleague's are showing in an attempt to make this the biggest and best high school meet in North America.

"We have been pleased with the response from teachers in our system ready to act in committee's and officiate during the 2 days of heats and finals." "In addition, the support shown by our board has been terrific," commented the Meet Director.

Scarborough and other provincial high school populations will be well represented with athletes who earn a place in the O.F.S.A.A. Meet by competing in local district meets in May.

Nothing Can Be Done

Scarborough politicians and planners say there is nothing the city can do to stop landlords from converting their apartment buildings into "hotel-like" accommodation.

This position did not sit well with some 15 tenants who waited from 2 p.m. last Thursday until 1:30 the following morning so they could ask the city's Planning Committee to take some action to preserve existing apartment stock.

Four apartment buildings in Scarborough have already been converted to hotel uses: 1050 Markham Rd., 3895 and 3950 Lawrence Ave. E., and 15 Orton Park Rd.

According to city planners, a change in the definition of apartment and hotel would not help those buildings already converted since by-laws cannot be enforced retroactively.

The only solution offered by the planners and adopted by Planning Committee is to ask the province to amend the Residential Tenancies Act and the Landlord Tenant Act in order to reduce the economic incentive for landlords to convert apartment building into hotels.

At the heart of the issue is the landlord's attempt to skirt rent controls by converting to hotel uses which are not subject to rent increase restrictions.

Ward 5 Alderman Marilyn Mushinski believes the city should be addressing the issue of hotel conversions from a land-use problem. Mrs. Mushinski wanted Planning Committee to refer the issue back to staff to address it as a land-use problem and to come up with some solutions. "While landlords and other people can make a mockery out of municipal land use plans by finding loopholes in municipal and provincial laws, it is our responsibility to negate this process by clearly identifying and ensuring the strength of official plan tools and related instruments," she told committee.

The committee also received a letter from Howard Johnson's on Progress Ct. expressing concern about the conversion of 1050 Markham into a hotel. To allow this premise to continue to operate as a hotel seems unjust to us licensed hoteliers" the letter from Barbara Bone, the hotel's General Manager, stated.

Sports Report

By Glenn Sutherland

JUNIOR BASEBALL

Scarborough's game against Richardson's of Leaside on Monday was cancelled and no result was available from their game against Rexdale on Wednesday.

Future games see them at home to Oshawa on Sunday (1:00) and Monday against North York (7:30) with both games being played at Macgregor Park. They visit Etobicoke tonight playing at Wadlow Park starting at 7:30.

JUVENILE BASEBALL

Scarborough raised their record to 1-3 with a 9-4 victory over Martingrove on Thursday. Mike Morningstar went the distance striking out eleven. On offense, Rob Conroy went 2 for 4 with a triple and double while Jeff Eberle had a triple in his 4 for 5 night.

They visit Thornhill tonight, return home to face North York on Thursday, and visit Leaside on Monday. The North York game goes at 7:30 at Macgregor Park.

MAJOR LACROSSE

Peter Mutch and Ron Brown scored four times each and sparked the Scarborough Saints to a 20-9 victory over St. Catharines in Ontario's top lacrosse league. Wayne Crawford, J.D. Gibbs, and Mike Klukwak all had hat tricks.

Klukwak and Mutch scored twice on Thursday but it wasn't enough as an injury riddled Saints lineup lost to Brampton 11-10. Because of so many injuries, Saints' trainer Mark Higgins, a former lacrosse player himself, had to suit up but had limited playing time in a few shifts.

Their only future game this week sees them in Fergus on Friday night.

JUNIOR LACROSSE

The Saints registered two wins last week to raise their record to 4-1.

On Tuesday they played at home to Owen Sound and squeaked out a 12-10 victory as Len Meloff scored four times along with Rob Hanna who registered a hat trick.

They travelled up to Aurora on Thursday night and defeated the Stallions 21-2 in their second meeting this season. Last week, the Saints defeated them at home 32-5. Meloff again had the hot hand scoring five times along with Paul St. John's three markers.

Their only future game this week sees them in Orillia on Tues. May 29th.

Report from Queen's Park

By George Ashe, MPP Durham West

"Economic transformation" was the theme of the 1984 Ontario Budget presented in the Legislature on Tues. May 15th.

In my view it was a realistic budget, recognizing that the economic system in Ontario is on the move, and at the same time addressing the economic problems which continue to face the province. High unemployment and retraining for those skilled people who have lost their jobs for whatever reason were two of the issues which were addressed by the treasurer in his budget.

Two major initiatives were outlined to address these two areas of concern: the Ontario Youth Opportunities Fund and the Ontario Skills Fund. Some $600 million will be invested over the next three years, in a variety of programs which will deal with the serious challenge that we continue to face.

The $150 million Ontario Skills Fund involves a four part program to invest in retraining and upgrading of experienced workers. Training trust funds will encourage workers and firms to undertake continuous training efforts.

This year, $40 million is targeted for special training initiatives to assist women, older workers and others adversely affected by technological change.

There is a further $2,000 incentive for employers to hire and train workers over age 45 who have been laid off. And last but not least a program to provide financial assistance to unemployed help centres run by trade unions.

I believe that while addressing the problems still within the system, the positive aspect of the budget is that additional taxes have not been imposed on the taxpayers of Ontario. I know the opposition will say "you should have spent more - you should have done more". But we have to be realistic.

We still have a large deficit, and although there is a substantial reduction in the proposed deficit for the 1984/85 fiscal year, it is still there. No doubt it places demands on future generations and we must bring it under control.

In that regard, I might point out to you that the 1983/84 budget forecast a 2.685 billion dollars. The forecast in the new budget is to further reduce the deficit to just over 2 billion dollars. That's still a lot of money.

Let's put the province's total debt into perspective and compare it to the average household. The projected total debt for Ontario by the end of the next fiscal year is something just over 24 1/2 billion dollars. That for the province, is a little less than one year's revenue.

Are you operating your household, all of your debts included, mortgage too, for a little less than one year's income?

Our carrying costs are about 11 cents on the dollar. Again, think about this in relationship to your family budget - do you carry your debts for 11 cents on the dollar?

One thing I can assure you - with prudent management, judicious overseeing of all of the responsibilities that we have, I can guarantee you that in the coming year Ontario will continue to be the leader in not only Canada, but all of North America.

Speaking To You

Scott Fennell M.P.
Ontario Riding

On many occasions I have discussed with you the importance of job training and retraining in the future of industrial growth in Canada. The P.C. Party is committed to enhancing Canada's activity in technological research and development, and this is the reason Mr. Mulroney formed the P.C. Task Force on Technological Change and Manpower Retraining to address this problem.

The Task Force reported to a special meeting of the P.C. Caucus in April, and their main conclusion was that Canada is ill-equipped today to provide the necessary training and retraining to meet the technological challenges of tomorrow. I have already advised you that in our first term of Government, the P.C. Party would double the national funding for R & D, thereby ensuring that technological innovations are applied within Canadian industries to help them compete more effectively in the world market place. However, unless Canadians are trained and educated, any advances in new technology will be wasted.

There are nearly two million people unemployed in Canada today - but at the same time Canadian companies are desperately searching for trained personnel. Without a doubt, the real problem is in training and retraining. It has been estimated that nine out of ten people in today's workforce will still be in the workforce in 1990. This workforce will have to adapt to the new technologies.

The Task Force came up with many recommendations which they felt would improve Canada's chances in competing with other countries who have already faced this problem and have already allowed for the constant new developments in technology. The Task Force suggested that we emphasize "on-the-job" training and provide the necessary incentives to encourage industry to use this form of training. They also recommended that individuals be able to invest in their own futures - the creation of tax-sheltered plans (like R.R.S.P.) which would enable you to invest in educations for yourself or a member of your family. Another recommendation which I feel is important, is the amending of the U.I. Act to commit more benefits to employment not unemployment. Right now, only 2.57 per cent of the $10 billion which we spend on unemployment insurance goes toward job training.

We in the P.C. Party believe that we must plan for change. Through the process of consultation with industry, educational institutions, and provincial governments, we can prepare Canadians for a future where our nation will achieve success in the technological age.
