Finishing Touches

Allan Lee, a second year student in the forest technician program at Sir Sanford Fleming College, Lindsay, makes the finishing touches to an owl's nest at the Kortright Centre for Conservation, near Kleinburg. Several nests, made with laundry hampers and twigs, were hung from trees. The nests are designed for great horned owls, but some could be claimed by red-tailed hawks.

Durham Region District Health Council

Regional Geriatric Program For Toronto

The Ministry of Health has approved a 3 year implementation plan and start up funding of $1 million for a comprehensive regional geriatric program in Metro Toronto. The program is a coordinated system of specialized health services for older people with complex health problems. Geriatric assessment, mental health, emergency, acute care, and rehabilitative and chronic care will be delivered in either the hospital or the community.

The goal of the program is to reduce preventable institutional admissions, improve quality of care and shorten the length of hospital stays. Implementation of the program was recommended by the Metro Toronto District Health Council to serve all districts in the Central East Ontario Region, including Durham.

Organ Exchange Program Receives Funding

On Dec. 28th the Minister of Health announced that $1.3 million will be used to establish Toronto headquarters for Ontario's Multiple Organ Retrieval and Exchange (MORE) program and to install a computer network linking 5 transplant centres. The transplant centres to be linked are located in Toronto, Hamilton, London, Kingston and Ottawa. The network will keep a record of potential recipients in Ontario, placing them on a single waiting list.

Health Innovation Fund

Twenty-two technological studies students from Durham Board of Education secondary schools competed in the Provincial Skill Olympics at the Hamilton Convention Centre on Sat. June 3rd.

This all day event included 15 skill competitions. Durham students competed in 12 of the 15. Each of the students qualified for this competition through the Durham Skills Challenge held on May 11th.

The Provincial Skill Olympics showcased the top 245 students in 15 skill areas. Eight boards of education participated this year. Sponsorship of the event included most of the major industries in the Hamilton region.

As with the Durham Skills Challenge, the Skill Olympics program offers a unique opportunity to demonstrate the quality of Ontario's technical training in secondary school programs to representatives of labour and management and at the same time to recognize the province's outstanding students who are enrolled in these programs. It is a showcase of their talents, abilities and expertise.

Sponsorship of the 22 participating students from Durham was provided by the Durham Region Action Committee for Training, the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, District 17, and the Durham Board of Education.

All students profited as a result of their participating, and all were recognized as outstanding technological studies students by H-W STAC.

The following students are acknowledged for their specific accomplishments: Frank Alexander - bronze medal in welding; Phil Brown - bronze medal in auto mechanics; Becky Johnson - gold medal in architectural drafting; Themmy Papanicolopoulos - gold medal in electronics; James Piper - bronze medal in precision machining; Laurie Theabou - gold medal in culinary arts; Ted Vetzal - gold medal in auto mechanics and Dyanne Vlieger - silver medal in culinary arts.

The following received awards as the top team in each skill competition: Themmy Papanicolopoulos and Chris Smith in electronics; Becky Johnson and Annette Simpson in architectural drafting; Phil Brown and Ted Vetzal in auto mechanics and Laurie Theabou and Dyanne Vlieger in culinary arts.

Not a pretty picture

By Ann M. Smith

It's no secret that the current state of relations between small business and the banks has been less than ideal the past few years. For its part, small business has made it clear that improvements are long overdue.

So the results of a recent "report card" on the banks shouldn't come of as much of a surprise: based on a survey of approximately 20,000 small business owners, the Canadian Federation of Independent Business found further evidence that certain members of the banking community are not adequately serving this vital - not to mention lucrative - customer base.

In short, the set of marks received by the "Big Six" (Bank of Montreal, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, Bank of Nova Scotia, Royal Bank, Toronto Dominion Bank and National Bank) were atrocious.

Trust companies, on the other hand, stood out as the best overall performers, gathering top marks or a share of top marks in four of the five service areas. Credit unions, small chartered banks and other institutions such as Alberta Treasury Branches and finance companies were closely grouped as the next leading performers according to their small and medium-sized clientele.

The results of this report, entitled "National Business Watch", strongly reinforce previous CFIB findings that smaller financial institutions are better able to understand the characteristics and needs of the small business community. It concludes that:

"Bank branches are generally smaller, decision-making is more often made at a local level, and account managers typically stay in their jobs longer. These qualities serve to improve the level of communication between businesses and their banks and help ensure proper service at reasonable prices."

Despite the protestations from representatives of the larger banking institutions that all is well, clearly the disenchantment expressed in this study is part of a much larger story. When CFIB released the results late last year of the most in-depth report on the relationship between small business and the banks, the president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, Robert MacIntosh responded, not through consultation, but by criticism instead. In a letter sent to CFIB, MacIntosh refuted a good many of the report's most valid recommendations and, in the process, seemed to indicate that, on the whole, the relationship between small business and the banks was reasonably healthy.

Small business, however, tells quite a different story. For example:

- all six of the country's largest banks received failing grades in the area of service charges;

- Nova Scotia, CIBC and Montreal also received Fs in the area of collateral while the remaining three were graded D-minus;

- all six were below the C-range on the subject of interest rates;

- and, with the exception of TD, the large institutions all hovered around the C to C-plus range in manager continuity.

Only in the area of availability of financing did the banks manage to produce some semblance of respectability: all six received Bs and B-pluses.

Otherwise the picture has changed very little. And the Big Six banks, with their glacier-like speed, are unlikely to change at any time in the near future.

Here and There

May's Market Stronger

Sales activity in the Metro Toronto resale market was steady during May. Stephen Moranis, Vice-president of the Toronto Real Estate Board (TREB) has announced.

"Queen's Park dealt a hefty blow to the pocket books of the residents of our community, but an easing of interest rates obviously freed up enough money to keep the market active. In fact, on a year-over-year comparative basis, May's resale market was a lot stronger than April's."

$50,000 Grant To German Cultural Festival

A major festival of contemporary culture from Germany will take place at Harbourfront in October and November, thanks to a $50,000 provincial grant. A co-production of Harbourfront and Toronto's Goethe Institute in Toronto, "FOKUS - The Contemporary Arts of Germany," will showcase German artists, performers, dancers, film makers, crafts people and authors.

Among graduates of post-secondary courses, the largest numbers were in the fields of secretarial science, education and nursing, the 1986 Census found.

Set Target Of 2.5 Million People For Metro Toronto By Year 2011

by Gay Abbate
If you think Metro Toronto is getting too congested with people you haven't seen anything yet.

Metro Council wants more people living in the region and has set a target population of 2.5 million by the year 2011. This means an increase of 300,000 people. Metro's present population is 2.2 million. To accommodate this growth, 11,000-12,000 residential units will have to be built per year.

Scarborough Mayor Joyce Trimmer did not support the new population goal. "I'm not sure officials have enough information to justify the figures," she said in an interview.

Trimmer said before Metro adopted any new figures it should have considered some of the problems posed by a population increase. "We need to consider the amount of garbage these extra people will produce. We already have a garbage crisis," she said. "Metro is putting the cart before the horse."

Scarborough Councillor Doug Mahood said there is not much land left in Metro for new subdivisions so it will have to intensify housing which means accommodating more people with the housing that presently exists.

Mahood said there is already a problem in parts of Metro with overcrowding in schools. "Metro will have to look at where to put these new students," he said, adding that Metro has to lay the foundation to provide accommodation and services before it can say how many more people it can accept.

While Metro wants to increase the number of people living here, people are leaving in large numbers. An average of 40,000 have left Metro Toronto.

The number would be even more were it not for Scarborough and Etobicoke which are still growing. The other Metro municipalities have all lost residents. Scarborough has gained 45,000 and Etobicoke, 27,000.

However, Metro is asking the area municipalities what they think of the 2.5 million population figure so Scarborough will have a chance to express some of its concerns, Trimmer said.

Top Maths Students At West Hill Collegiate

Following are the results of the mathematics contests held at West Hill Collegiate.

In the Pascal Contest for year one students Kevin Gale had a score of 133.75 to finish fourth in Scarborough and 37th in Canada. Other winners in the Pascal Contest for year one students were Ricardo Catibog, 93; Michelle Davis, 90.25; Jason Kay, 88; Carolyn Paul, 84.5 and Eric Kirsten, 83.

In the Cayley Contest for year two students, David Pham finished first with a score of 89.75 followed by Jane Groat with a score of 83.75.

In the Fermat Contest for year three students the top three were Steve Miller, 86.25; Sanjay Bhatia, 78.75 and Daniela Spiroski, 78.5.

All of the above mentioned students received a certificate of distinction for finishing in the top 25% in Canada. First place finishers also received a medal.

In the Euclid Contest for year four students, Rob Smart finished first at West Hill Collegiate and received a medal. In the Descartes Contest for year five students, Raymond Pao finished first, Siva Siva second, Tyrone Singh third, and Fred Doucette fourth. All four received certificates of distinction.

Claude Watson Choir Performs At Choral Festival

The Claude Watson School for the Arts choir represented North York at this year's International Choral Festival at St. James Cathedral.

More than 4,000 performers from Canada and 12 other nations will demonstrate their talents in churches, synagogues and venues across Metro Toronto throughout June. The North York Board of Education school choir is the only elementary school to perform.

More than 70 concerts in 30 days, up to three concerts a day, will dominate the month. No previous Canadian musical event has equalled the festival, called "The Joy of Singing" for sheer size.

The festival, which boasts some of the world's best choirs and orchestras from around the world, has three components, the largest of which is called "Festival in the Community".

"Festival in the Community" is really a festival within a festival. It includes some of the international choirs, but consists mainly of top Canadian choirs from 10 provinces. University, high school, church, community, ethnic, boys and girls, and public school choirs (Claude Watson's entry), were selected from across the country by the Ontario Choral Federation.

Scarborough To Pay Legal Costs

The City of Scarborough has been ordered to pay all legal costs involved in an appeal of the results in two races in last November's election.

The Divisional Court of the Supreme Court of Ontario ruled last week that the city should pay the costs of Ward 4 Councillor Lorenzo Berardinetti, defeated Ward 4 Alderman Kurt Christensen, Ward 14 Public School Trustee Ruth Haehnel and Jim Mackay whom she defeated by one vote.

Christensen and Mackay appealed the election results despite a recount using the same voting machines used on election night which left Berardinetti ahead by two votes.

Berardinetti said he was very happy about the court decision. "I'm happy to get the money back. It takes off the financial pressure," he said. He added that his costs for the hearing are $5,000.

Christensen estimates that the costs for all four could be as high as $50,000.

City Clerk John Nigh, who was Returning Officer for the election, said that he had not yet seen the written decision but depending on the reasons given for awarding all the costs to Scarborough he might appeal it.

The city has already applied for leave to appeal the same court's order that a manual recount be held to decide the winner of the races in Wards 4 and 14. No date has yet been set.

Seniors' Showcase

Scarborough seniors celebrate their talents, skills and crafts with a three-day showcase at Scarborough Town Centre, June 15th to 17th.

Opening ceremonies take place June 15th at 12 noon in the Central Court with Mayor Joyce Trimmer and special guest Ace Bailey of the Toronto Maple Leafs Stanley Cup winning team of 1932 and an All Star Hall of Famer.

Demonstrations of decoupage, woodcarving, woodburning, tole painting, quilting, bunka and more will be presented throughout the lower level of the mall on Thursday from 1 to 6 p.m., Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Quality handmade crafts such as decorated carvings, folk art, knitted goods, ceramics, etc. will be exhibited and can be purchased. The Art Gallery area situated in the new wing, lower level will feature watercolours, pastels and oil paintings on Thursday and Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

ON STAGE:

At the conclusion of Shenadoah which is in current presentation at the "new" Queen Elizabeth Theatre in the C.N.E. grounds, we found ourself recalling an experience that Oscar Levant related in his autobiography Memoirs of an Amnesiac.

It seems that he and Virgil Thompson had attended a screening of Young Man With a Horn. At its conclusion, Mr. Thompson in tears of emotion blurted out "What a dreadful movie!" (Similar to a story about Alexander Woolcott's reaction after the premiere of Thornton Wilder's Our Town.)

Anyway, allow us to state that we were in tears at the final curtain of Shenadoah. The tears were a combination of ineffable sadness over humanity and happiness at the happy ending, contrived as it is.

Shenadoah is a musical stage adaptation of the motion picture-it starred James Stewart-about a hardworking Virginia farmer determined to keep his six sons out of the American civil war. (Strong overtones of Seven Brides for Seven Brothers and Friendly Persuasion.)

It is a most impressive and at times visually stunning production. As is the case with most latter day musicals there are few songs that can be sung out of the context of the show and none that one can recall leaving the theatre. Yet they are performed with such appropriate vigour, passion and compassion that they become a parade of musical pleasures.

The triumph that is Shenadoah is the result of good production and a fine times. AL FRESCO II: Not only is next Wednesday the first day of summer, it's also the day that wily Johnny Lombardi has chosen to hold a media luncheon to kick off his annual CHIN International Picnic.

One expects that the contestants in the Miss Chin Bikini contest will be there and we might just make a few notes about them. A few notes? We'll be lucky if we can see them; our glasses usually fog up! Kidding aside, this is another of the fine events of summer and it is presented by a fine man. We'll be doing a feature on Mr. Lombardi in a future column. Right now though, we want to alert all that the picnic is on its way. TREASURE TIME: Sales response to the growing line of roots music CDs released in Canada has resulted in further additions to the Stony Plain catalogue. Here are just a few that have caught our attention.

Woody Guthrie-Library of Congress Recordings. These were made over three days by Alan Lomax in 1940. cast.

Hal Linden as the head of the household gives another of his unerring, honest portrayals. He is never gruff but always strong and the strength of this resolute man is tempered by kindness and the affection he so obviously has for his family. His only passion is the avoidance of war which he rightly perceives never changes anything.

Though Mr. Linden is the centre piece, he is surrounded by a fine cast that works well in ensemble or as individuals.

The six sons are played by Burke Lawrence, Christopher Martin, Nigel Hamer, Stephen McIntyre and Robin Blake. The last named is the youngest and his scenes with his equally young and black friend Gabriel played by Roy McKay are among the more charming moments in theatre.

It is the five older boys who do the dancing and it is reminiscent of Michael Kidd. It is, in fact, by Michael Tucker and most ebullient.

The daughter is played with requisite spunk by Tracey Moore and the daughter-in-law by Camilla Scott. Both sing beautifully and along with Mr. Linden and another are on evidence the possessors of the four finest voices in the show.

The other singer to which we refer is Stephen Simms in a quite small part of a freed prisoner of war. His singing of The Only Home I Know is so sweet that it brings a lump to one's throat.

The cast is a largish one and our space will not permit individual mention or comment of all. We can and do say only that Roy McKay, Donald Saunders, Thomas Cavanagh, Jim Selman, Michael Fletcher, Richard Liss, Jim Bearden, Sam Mancuso and David Connolly all do themselves proud in this fine production.

Old friend David War-rack conducts the orchestra with elan proving once again that he's one of the best in his profession.

By all odds Shenadoah shouldn't really be more than just another earnest musical bit, in this production anyway, everything seems to have come together in what can only be described as landmark theatre. We urge your custom.

One should also mention the Queen Elizabeth Theatre for those who England-not London in the bush.

It has been adapted by John Kane from the original MGM screenplay and retains all the old, beloved songs.

The premiere date isn't known to us as this is being written but we understand it'll be towards the close of the year. Auditions have already been announced but hopefuls might try contacting the Marlene Smith Group at 968-0455.

Incidentally, it's most pleasant to learn that friend Roz Gray, formerly with the National Ballet, is now with the E & WG project. Nice having you back Roz.

DINNER THEATRE I:

Singin' In The Rain is nearing the end of its ten month run at The Lighthouse. We were back for another visit within the past week and are pleased to note that it's holding up quite well. There have been large cast changes naturally but all parts have been matched nicely thank you.

Two of the principals from the original cast are still here. Joy Thompson is still Kathy Seldon and David Gibb can still Make 'Em Laugh with his inspired mugging and thrill to his excellent dancing.

We'd like to mention Ian Simpson in a relatively small part. What he does, he does well and that's as it should be. Sitting in the audience, however, on the night of our attendance were his proud parents watching him in his debut. Our best wishes and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Simpson of Brighton, Ontario.

We have, perhaps, one single criticism of the show as it is at present. The orchestra is well conducted and directed by Donald Horsburgh. It is in view of the audience which is not surprising in intimate dinner theatre. Given that, however, couldn't the orchestra wear suits? After all, it is playing for a performance, not a rehearsal. Just a suggestion.

DINNER THEATRE II:

Meanwhile, way out west well, Mississauga anyway, Stage West Theatre Restaurant is previewing its latest production tomorrow evening. Official opening for Oliver Twist is scheduled for a week tomorrow, June 22nd.

One can't help commenting in advance that one of the many joyous tunes in the show is Food, Glorious Food. How appropriate that is for Stage West and its monumental buffet.

AL FRESCO:

Ontario Place continues to present good entertainment at The Forum. Tonight it's the Ontario Place Pops with Tommy Hunter; tomorrow it's Gene Pitney (we hope he can still whistle if it should turn cold). Friday, Saturday and Sunday features the comedy on successive nights of Robert Klein, David Brenner and Steven Wright, Michael Damian appears next Monday and Tuesday and next Wednesday, the Pops returns with The Wonderful Gospel Concert.

How nice to anticipate an evening of Gospel music in the hurly burly of our might be unfamiliar with it. It is a simply fine facility. The stage size has the grandeur of The O'Keefe and the theatre has the intimacy of the Royal Alexandra. Who could wish anything more?

ON STAGE II: The Q.E. isn't the only theatre in T.O. undergoing renaissance of course. The Marlene Smith Group and the Ontario Heritage Foundation are proceeding at speed-careful speed that is with the reconstruction and refurbishing of the Elgin and Winter Garden project.

In fact, the first production for the Elgin has been announced. It's a production of The Wizard of Oz which has played two years in London. That's London,

War Against "Monster Homes" Continues In Scarborough

by Gay Abbate

Scarborough's war against "monster homes" continues as yet two more communities have a temporary freeze slapped on them.

The freezes, at the request of area residents, effectively restrict any new homes being built to 2,500 sq. ft. and 30 ft. in height.

First it was some 1,000 in Central Agincourt. Then it was a section of Courcellette Rd. and 188 homes in the Cliffcrest community.

Last week, council extended the freeze in Cliffcrest to include several hundred more homes. The area under the freeze now includes the area south of Kingston Rd. from Fenwood Heights near Bellamy Rd. to Brimley Rd.

The fifth area to get a freeze is part of the Centennial community in ward 9. The area under the ban includes some 1,075 homes bounded by Lawson Rd. on the north, Meadowvale Rd. on the west, Highland Creek on the south and Centennial Rd. and Pepper Tree Dr. on the east.

This latest ban is a result of opposition to a 4,500 sq. ft. home erected on Bathgate Dr. Ward Councillor Ron Moeser said eight demolition permits have been issued in the area and residents are afraid monster homes will go up in their place.

So-called "monster homes" are raising the ire of homeowners because the new homes usually take up most of the lot and overshadow adjacent homes. They also look out of place with the character of the street. Council hopes to come to grips with the problem which is mushrooming across Scarborough when planning staff bring forth their general amendment to all community by-laws to restrict house sizes by height and length.

Wellness Centre Health Fair June 21

The La'Briyat Wellness Centre is sponsoring its 9th annual Health Fair on Wed. June 21st from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at The Bernard Betel Centre, 1003 Steeles Ave. W.

cise, Nutrition and Heart Care"; and Ray Applebaum, executive director of the Older Adults Centres' Association of Ontario, who will lecture on "Seniors' Centres-Wellness Centres".

The Health Fair will offer literature and information from over 50 community agencies. Clinics will be offered in the areas of glaucoma screening, public health counselling, eye care, dental consulting, blood pressure testing and denture care.

Lectures and demonstrations in the areas of back care, personal safety, smoking cessation and weight control will be ongoing throughout the day. Healthy snacks and a full lunch will be available.

The Health Fair is free and open to everyone. There will be door prizes and hourly draws.

Ask Bell Cellular To Move Tower

by Gay Abbate

Scarborough Council plans to ask Bell Cellular to move a radio communications tower it put up on the northwest corner of Warden Ave. and Ellesmere Rd.

Area residents are furious that the tower was put up without their knowledge. The tower, put up almost overnight, is adjacent to residents' back yards. Residents say this is too close.

Councillor Doug Mahood who went to see it called it "grotesque".

Residents have been trying to get rid of the monstrosity for the past six months. They finally turned to Scarborough Council for help.

Council not only decided to ask Bell to move it at least 100 metres or 305 ft. from the nearest home but it also decided to make future towers subject to all zoning by-laws.

Council also directed its buildings commissioner not to issue building permits for future towers unless the federal government has already approved the tower's licence.

Council also decided to let the federal government know it was not pleased at the way the tower was allowed to go up in 24 hours without residents or politicians being notified.

40 Years For Club Med

Yes, it's hard to believe, but come May 1990, Club Med will celebrate 40 years of bringing the most varied kinds of vacation experiences to people around the world.

The club today is vastly different in some respects from the club of 1950, when members were accommodated in surplus army tents and helped prepare their own meals.

Take, for example, the club's newest luxury village called Club Med-Opio, opening in June on the French Riviera. The finishing touches being put on the village reflect the club's ongoing dedication to providing more comfort and more service.

Heated swimming pools, indoors and out. Saunas, Turkish baths, massage, locks on the doors, telephones and T.V.s in the rooms. What hasn't changed is the club's insistence on finding the best possible locations to build on.

Opio is perched 900 feet above the coast with a 360 degree view of the sea and mountains.

Closer to home, Club Med-Huatulco, which opened on the Oaxacan coast in May 1988, was an instant success. One of the features praised by everyone who has stayed there - the large private terraces equipped with hammock, easy chairs, and unspoiled views of the coastline.

Vacationers also have appreciated the five separate dining areas offering a range of choices from Moroccan to Argentine, from freshly caught seafood to Italian specialties.

In another direction, the club has made a commitment to offer Single Rooms whenever possible. There is no extra charge this season for a single room at Caravelle, Huatulco, Playa Blanca, and Sonora Bay. For a 20% surcharge, solo accommodations can be reserved at Buccaneer's Creek, Paradise Island, and Turkoise (subject to space availability).

What will never change at Club Med is the desire to provide the most options in sports, recreation, and pure fun for members. Freedom of choice and an inquiring attitude, not the age of a person, draw people to Club Med year after year.

Tennis, Horseback Riding, And Scuba

One of the trends growing is the desire to really learn a new sport or perfect a particular sport while on vacation. For this segment of the vacationing population, Club Med pioneered a special tennis program called Intensive Tennis at Sonora Bay (Mexico), Paradise Island (Nassau), and The Sandpiper (Florida).

Members liked the quality of the two or more hours of instruction each day and felt they had made real progress by the end of the week. This past fall, improved amenities were added. Caravelle on the island of Guadeloupe, underwent a $3 million renovation and was purchased by the club, which had formerly leased the facilities.

In December 1987, the club purchased Playa Blanca (Mexico) previously leased, and after a $14 million renovation the village reopened in November 1988.

The new village in Huatulco, Mexico has been enthusiastically received by vacationers looking for the latest undiscovered destination and a new Mini Club has been added to St. Lucia to satisfy the increasing demand for 'family' villages.

After extensive hurricane damages in September 1988 to Club Med-Cancun, the village reopened in April 1989 upon the completion of a $5 million rebuilding program.

Club Med has also entered the corporate meeting and incentive market with a program called 'Rent-A-Village', which is now eight years old. Under this program, more than two dozen corporations have "rented" entire villages, or parts of them, offering to their employees and guests a blend of business and relaxation.

Once a company has tried the Rent-A-Village program, they often rebook for subsequent years. Nikon did the first 3-tiered incentive program with Club Med; and, the Sony Corporation, Sweet Life Foods, and Discovery Toys have chosen the club for two years.

Other companies participating in the Rent-A-Village program include Polar Vac-Sweep (three years); American Express; The Trane Company and Singer.

Day Tripping Through P.E.I.

by Kumari Campbell

As Prince Edward Island's easternmost reaches you will find a distinctive vacation spot. From Savage Harbour along the North Side, around East Point and down the South Side as far as Annandale, spectacular white, pearly beaches sprawl beneath a backdrop of Marram grass sand dunes.

Why, you may ask, once

Here are some children playing in Florida. The beach, petting zoos and fishing are just some activities that will delight children who are on vacation in the sunshine state. (Florida Department of Commerce, Division of Tourism) 1989.

you have found these vacation treasures, are they so secluded? The answer is simple. This part of Kings County (a mere 50 mile drive from Charlottetown) is less well known to visitors to Prince Edward Island.

You must understand at the outset, however, that this is not an area of vast commercial attractions, grandiose structures... or for that matter, anything large and glitzy. The items of large proportions that you are sure of finding here are the great outdoors and the hearts of its residents. And these will surely enhance your vacation in Eastern Kings County.

Eastern Kings County is definitely the place for the outdoors enthusiast. The Kings Byway Scenic Dr. particularly between St. Peters and East Point), as well as the many secondary highways, are quiet and fairly level in terrain; custom-made for the cyclist. If windsurfing is your thing, you can fulfill your every dream in any of the numerous coves and bays on the South Side - from Little Harbour to Boughton Bay. Take your pick.

The Souris, Fortune and Boughton Rivers, as well as South Lake and Basin Head will provide you with hours of exhilarating canoeing and kayaking. (At Basin Head you can even rent the canoes.)

For the angler, upwards of two dozen popular ponds and fishing holes dot the region. That's over and above the Morell River, which is the island's foremost salmon river. If you fancy something more exciting, why not try a deep sea fishing excursion.

Charters are available at Savage Harbour, Red Head and North Lake. And for a touch of the exotic, try your Crowbush Cove and a private one at St. Peters provide excellent accommodations.

So, if you would like to commune with nature and enjoy the luxury of your own private holiday haven, I suggest you head to the 'far east' when next you visit Prince Edward Island.

Fat Cat Image Bad For All

Toronto's "fat cat" image hurts all of Southern Ontario says Gordon Riehl, incoming President at The Board of Trade of Metropolitan Toronto. Riehl became the board's 116th president at the organization's 145th Annual General Meeting on Mon. June 12, replacing outgoing President Peter Hermant.

"One of the things that inhibits Toronto from achieving some of the things that it wants is the fact we have the image of being the fat cat, and even the people that ought to be our friends often are not," says Riehl. "But when Toronto gets it in the eye and we are not treated fairly, it hurts all of Southern Ontario."

"I think the board could help improve Toronto's image by working to better relations with other boards and municipalities in Ontario," says Riehl, "and I look forward to doing that in the coming year."

"The air traffic controller shortage and cap on the number of flights at Pearson International Airport is an example of Toronto being short-changed," says Riehl. "The situation at Pearson is more important than a lot of people think. Business is being driven across the border. Every day eight buses leave the Royal York Hotel to take you directly to Buffalo Airport."

He added, "Toronto is the major domestic hub in terms of passenger flight connections and cargo shipments. Its capacity problems do not just hurt Toronto, they hurt the whole of Southern Ontario."

Riehl is a taxation expert with a long history of involvement with the board. He sees the board's involvement in the community this way: "Unlike government, whose horizons tend to be a maximum of four years, this organization has been in existence for nearly 150 years. It has outlived many administrations and stayed with issues long enough to see them through to com-

Deteriorating infrastructure, a term under which he includes transportation, housing and health, is a real concern for Riehl. "Government has the responsibility to do the things for people that they cannot do for themselves as individuals. They have closed private enterprise out of the housing market and the rental market, replacing it with public monies. That is taking money away from other areas where it is needed," he says.

"Government should be trying to get private enterprise to build houses like they used to and go back to building the roads and providing the infrastructure they are supposed to. The European Economic Community, in order to get agreement from less industrialized countries like Portugal, Spain and Greece, had to agree to help them with their infrastructure so they could compete in a free market system with countries like France and Germany. That shows you the importance of infrastructure."

The Board of Trade recently established a Committee on Health Services. It is the only major business organization in Ontario examining issues relating to cost and quality of health care, as an escalating proportion of the Ontario budget. Health care costs currently represent one-third of the budget and are expected to reach 40% by the year 2000, according to recent government predictions.

The recent move by the Ontario Government to make OHIP payments a payroll tax and no longer an individual responsibility is the major concern to the board.

Says Riehl, "With a stroke of the pen the Ontario Government has made medical care free for all voters and shifted the costs onto business. While I don't think business will get much sympathy by complaining of the increased burden, the danger is that the public loses all touch with the most swiftly rising area of provincial spending. People may be more likely to abuse the health care system if they are not aware of the costs and, by doing that, they may be denying care to those people who really need it."

The Board of Trade of Metropolitan Toronto is the largest board/chamber of commerce in North America with more than 15,800 members.

Hear About Post Office Horrors

by Gay Abbate

A federal Liberal party task force investigating work conditions in Canada Post was in Scarborough last Friday and heard horror tales about inhuman treatment of employees.

The hearing, held at the Holiday Inn at Warden Ave. and Highway 401, was the second in Metro. Scarborough Agincourt MP Jim Karygiannis said the task force will ask the federal government to set up a royal commission to investigate all the allegations by employees.

Mississauga East MP Albina Guarnier said the task force was "not on a witch hunt but on a fact finding mission".

The 12 people, who addressed the task force, recounted stories of physical and verbal abuse, sexual harassment, intimidation, unjust discipline and hit squads who spy on employees.

Most of those who came under fire are supervisors. However, management in general was criticized for trying to break the union and for having its mind made up on grievances before hearing from employees.

One former employee, Ann Grajpel, was fired after 14 years when she was sick with cancer. She told the hearing that the post office "literally wiped the floor with me". She said she was fired because she could not return to her old job even though she asked for a different assignment.

"I didn't ask to get cancer. I had plenty of problems. I didn't need to get fired as well," she said. "It's inhuman to be treated this way."

While there were plenty of allegations and names of guilty parties thrown around, the hearing only heard from one side. However, Scarborough Rouge River MP Derek Lee said it was not the task force's job to verify all the allegations. He said the royal commission would do that.

Mary Donnelly, a shop steward, accused management of trying to harass those active in the union. "If you're active, you're a target," she said after recounting several incidents of harassment against her.

The task force was taken on a tour of the Progress Ave. plant and spoke with management about some of the allegations. Canada Post refused to allow reporters to be present.

Board Condemns Student Massacre In China

by Gay Abbate

The Scarborough Board of Education has condemned the recent massacre of students in Beijing, China.

Trustees passed a resolution last week saying they "are shocked and saddened by the reports of atrocities to the students in China".

Copies of the resolution were sent to Zhang Wen Pu, the ambassador from the People's Republic of China and to Xianhong Cheng, the consulate general.

As well, flags at all Scarborough schools are at half mast.

Trustees decided to condemn the massacre because of the large number of Chinese students enrolled in the Scarborough school system. The Chinese population in Scarborough, located mainly north of Highway 401, is estimated to be between 40,000 and 50,000.

Wesingi Of Pickering Wins Club Championship

Hot on the heels of his decisive victory in the 88/89 A.W.H.P.A.W.O. Invitational, Estonian-born senior citizen Uno H. Wesingi of Pickering captured the 1989 West Hill Chess Club Championship with an impressive 8-1/2-2-1/2 score.

The quest for the title in this 12-person single round-robin tournament was essentially a 3-man race between Wesingi, West Hill's Ermanno Mucignat, a former Club Champion, and Aleksander Kitenbergs of West Hill.

Wesingi, the top seed of the event, has a pre-tourne CFC rating of 1902 (Class A). Mucignat, the tournament's number 2 seed at 1857 (Class A), was second with an 8-3 result.

The Italian-born Mucignat was the W.H.C.C. Champion in 1983, 1984, 1985 and 1987 (The 1986 and 1988 Club Championships were won by Polish-born Peter Jasionowski of Scarborough. Mr. Jasionowski is the W.H.C.C.'s highest rated player with a National Candidate Master rating of 2090 but was unable to defend his title due to other commitments).

The 4th seed of the Championship, rated at 1712 (Class B), Latvian-born Kitenbergs finished third with 7-4. 7th seed Colin Dale of West Hill also finished with 7-4 but was fourth on tiebreak; however as the top scoring Junior (under 18) player in the tournament, Dale was awarded the title of 1989 W.H.C.C. Junior Champion, a triumph for the 1567 (Class C) rated player.

Third seed Maurice Smith of Scarborough, rated at 1796 (Class B), placed fifth with 6-1/2-4-1/2, while 7th seed Garnet Bugg of Agincourt, rated at 1562 (Class C), finished sixth with 6-5. The other 6 participants scored less than 50%.

4th seed Kitenbergs was the frontrunner for most of the Championship. Wesingi suffered 2 defeats in the first 5 rounds of play, while Mucignat lost and tied 1 game respectively; by comparison, Kitenbergs had 4-1/2-5, including a win over Wesingi in Round 1. From Rounds 6 to 8, Mucignat and Wesingi kept pace with Kitenbergs so that after 8 rounds of play, Kitenbergs had 7.8 while Mucignat and Wesingi each had 6/8, 2 full points ahead of Dale, Bugg and Smith.

As the winner of the 1989 W.H.C.C. Championship, Wesingi will have his name engraved on the permanent plaque of the W.H.C.C. Championship. He will receive an individual engraved plaque to keep. Dale will also receive an individual engraved plaque to keep for becoming Junior Champion. Messieurs Mucignat and Kitenbergs will receive chessbook prizes for their efforts.

The awards ceremony for the 1989 W.H.C.C. Championship were held on June 9.

Scarborough Swim Club Update

by Muriel Warden
Scarborough Swim Club's head coach, Darin Muma, accompanied five of this city's top swimmers to an International Youth Cup Meet held in Vancouver.

Sean Ferreira, Jennifer Fleming, Heather Palmateer, Naomi Ford and Jo Parody swam to a total 50% personal best times which pleased Darin at this point in the summer long course swim season.

The team witnessed some excellent races provided by the youth swim squads of 56 clubs representing 8 countries, - U.S.A., Hungary, England, Scotland, New Zealand, Israel, France and Canada.

Best performer for Scarborough was Sean Ferreira in his two breaststroke events. In the consolation finals, Sean placed 2nd in the 200 metre event and 6th in the 100 metres. His times were his lifetime best and qualified him for the summer National Swim Championships to be held in Calgary Aug. 1st through 5th.

Jo Parody made the qualifying standard for National Youth Championships in her best event, the 800 metre Freestyle. Jo and Sean and Naomi Ford will travel to St. John, New Brunswick, July 20th-23rd for the Youth Championships.

Meanwhile, the young age-group squad of Scarborough have been racing well at the local long course pools. Coach Rob Masson is very pleased to report that we now have the following six swimmers qualified for the National TAG (Top Age Group) rankings:

Kerri Ford, 12, in 100 f/s, 100 bk, 200 bk and 100 fly; Bob Hayes, 12, in 100, 200 & 400 f/s, 100 & 200 bk, 100 & 200 fly; Nemad Minic, 12, in 200 fly; Jaime Winton, 12, in 100 f/s; Brian Guerriero, 14, in 100 br; Curt Punchard, 14, in 200 br.

Particularly pleasing was the 11 & 12 year old girls Relay Team of Kerri Ford, Jaime Winton, Amanda Skopee, and Risha Bhawani making the National team rankings.

Coach Rob Masson has been up to more than coaching this past winter. After daily coaching duties with Scarborough's young age-groupers are completed, Rob heads over to the North York YMCA to do his own swim training for Masters' Competition. At the Masters short course Championships held in Laval, Quebec, swimming in the 25-30 age-group, Rob had 2 wins in the 200 fly and 400 individual medley events, was 2nd in the 500 fly, 800 freestyle, and 400 freestyle and 3rd in the 50 f/s. What is even more outstanding is the World Records now registered to Rob in the 400 IM with a time of 4:43.82 and the 200 fly at 2:10.50.

Being a swimmer himself, currently at such a high level, gives Rob greater insight to the pressures and feelings of his young athletes. It is fresh in his mind how it feels to hurt during a rigorous practice, but he is personally setting the example for his young stars to prove that eventually the dedication, hard work and pain will be rewarded!

Scouting Hike For Hunger

Approximately 350 Beavers, Cubs and Scouts hiked through the Scarborough area and raised over $2,300 worth of food for the food bank run by Agincourt Community Services Association.

Food was raised by asking boys to bring in a tin of food each week and by canvassing on a door-to-door basis.

Upon completion of the hike, each person was given hot chocolate and a "Hike For Hunger" crest. The hike was such a success they are planning to make it an annual event.
