Study School Restructuring

The Durham Board will undertake over the next several years a study of the impact of restructuring elementary and secondary schools as a result of implementing the Ministry of Education's Transition Years initiative. The initiative covers students in grades 7 to 9 and calls for destreaming of grade 9 so that students will study a common curriculum. The board also will proceed with the development of a policy on evaluation of student achievement within the context of parameters set by the Report on Assessment and Evaluation of Student Achievement Policy. Trustees Marg Jackson and Audrey McLean were appointed to the policy development committee.

"Homes For Hope" Helps Hostel Services

The Oshawa & District Real Estate Board (ODREB) debuted "Homes for Hope" Pins at the recent General Membership Civic Evening on Apr. 20. The pins are a fundraising idea which came about from the London and St. Thomas Real Estate Board. The ODREB picked the local Hostel Services as the recipients of the proceeds from the pins. The organization's mission is to provide a wide range of residential and community support services, but they have had many funding cuts from the Government. Above, realtors look through the selection of Homes for Hope Pins on sale at their annual general membership civic evening on Apr. 20th.

Board & Secondary School Teachers Reach Agreement

On Wed. Apr. 7, the Durham Board of Education and the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, District 17, reached the basis of a tentative agreement. The settlement was achieved through the assistance of provincial mediator David Whitehead, appointed by the Education Relations Commission.

The one year agreement will be effective from Sept. 1, 1992, to Aug. 31, 1993, and covers about 1,500 teachers. Effective May 1, 1993, salaries for teachers, vice principals, and principals, and allowances for positions of responsibility will increase by 0.3 per cent. This means that a qualified teacher may earn from $31,195 to $64,538 and a principal may earn up to $86,776.

Currently a teacher may earn from $31,102 to $64,345 and a principal may earn up to $86,516. Effective July 1, 1993, the hourly rates for Continuing Education teachers and Home Instruction teachers will increase by 0.3 per cent to $29.41 per hour. There will be no increase in the allowances for extra degrees or special education qualifications.

Effective May 1, 1993, the Ontario Dental Association fee schedule will be updated from 1991 to 1992; co-insurance will be removed from the Basic Dental plan; out-of-country medical insurance will be dropped from the Extended Health package; and life insurance will be capped.

Teachers and students in the French immersion and gifted programs will now be included in the calculation for establishing the pupil-teacher ratio. A one year arrangement for the 1993-94 school year will provide schools with the flexibility to explore different staffing models for grade 9 classes which will be destreamed as a result of implementation of the Ministry of Education's Transition Years Initiative.

The membership of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, District 17, ratified the agreement on Fri. Apr. 16, and trustees of the Durham Board of Education ratified the agreement on Mon.

Apr. 26. The total cost to the Durham Board of Education of negotiated increases for the 1992-93 term of the agreement is $69,346.

Yours To Flee

Dear Sir Madam,

Perhaps the motto on Ontario license plates should be changed to "Yours To Flee".

After all, a recent Environics poll of 1,006 Ontarians revealed that a shocking 41% of them would seriously consider moving out of the province if they could afford it.

What's more 50% of Metro Toronto residents and 54% of those aged 25 to 34 said the same. Even 37 per cent of NDP supporters said they would leave if they could!

Why do so many seem to have a sense of hopelessness about their future in this province, once a province of opportunity?

The poll also showed that 76% of Ontarians believe the provincial debt is growing so quickly that it will soon reach a crisis proportion and another 6% say we're already there.

Ontarians place the blame for this dismal situation squarely on the shoulders of Premier Bob Rae and the NDP. In fact, only three per cent of Ontarians had a lot of confidence in Premier Rae's ability to manage the province's finances.

On the positive side, 61% of Ontarians supported the widespread privatization of government assets and services. Even more encouraging, 67% of union members and 54% of NDP supporters backed widespread privatization.

These Environics poll results were responses to questions commissioned by Ontarians for Responsible Government.

The Premier should heed the views of Ontarians, abandon his destructive policies and adopt the right ones to get our province back on track.

Merely cutting some public service jobs and spending a little less on them is nothing more than a band aid solution. Premier Rae needs to fundamentally restructure government. If he isn't prepared to do so, he should resign and let someone else do the job.

Yours truly,

Colin Brown,
President,
National Citizens' Coalition

Report From Parliament

from Tom Wappel

M.P. Scarborough West

Tom Wappel, MP for Scarborough West, commented on the Conservative Government's 1993 Budget.

"For nine years, this government has claimed to be the champion of deficit reduction. In reality, quite the opposite is true. In the budget of February, 1990, the government predicted that this year's deficit would drop to $21 billion. It was wrong! In the February 1991 budget, it predicted that the deficit would be $24 billion this year. It was wrong! In the February 1992 budget, it predicted that the 1992-1993 deficit would be $27.5 billion. It was wrong! In the December, 1992 Economic Statement, the Government predicted that the 1992-1993 deficit would be $34.4 billion. It was wrong! Today the Minister announced that the predicted 1992-1993 deficit will be $35.5 billion! This is a difference of over $14 billion between the 1990 prediction and today's reality," commented Wappel.

"Most of the budget's forecasts are five years into the future. In view of this government's track record when predicting budget deficits, these forecasts cannot be trusted nor relied upon," continued Wappel.

"This is clearly a pre-election, stay the course budget. The Conservative Government is treading water until its new leader is chosen in June. Unfortunately, it is the country that has to suffer while forced to wait for the internal politics of the Conservative Party to resolve themselves," concluded Tom Wappel.

Grants To Ontario Book Publishers Top $1.8 Million For 1992-93

Anne Swarbrick, Ontario's Minister of Culture, Tourism and Recreation, has announced that 52 Ontario companies will receive funding of $928,707 from the Ontario Publishing Centre (OPC). This final round of grants from the OPC for this fiscal year means that provincial support to Ontario's book industry has topped $1.8 million in 1992-93. Much of the grant money has gone to Toronto area companies.

This is the scene at the GM Van plant on Eglinton Ave. E. Scarborough last week as the unions and supporters protested the moving of the profitable plant to Flint, Michigan. There doesn't appear to be any really good reason why this successful plant should be moved at all. (Photo: Bob Watson)

Most Decided Voters Want Manning For PM

Reform Party spokesmen say they were 'pleased but not surprised' that a Toronto radio station listener survey (Apr. 21) showed that the greatest number of decided voters said they would vote for Preston Manning as the next Prime Minister of Canada.

Radio station CFRB said its survey showed 29% of respondents supported Manning while 20% favoured Jean Chretien, 16% supported Kim Campbell and only 3% thought Audrey McLaughlin would make a good Prime Minister. Thirty-two percent said 'none of the above'.

Reform candidate for Don Valley North, Peter Cobbold, said 'we've known for a long time that many Canadians see in Preston the qualities they believe are important in a Prime Minister. This CFRB survey shows that there is a lot of potential vet to be tapped by our party'.

Cobbold's explanation for the growing support for Manning and the Reform Party is the consistency and conviction that Manning has brought to Reform's proposals to solve the deficit crisis. For 6 years Manning has been the only leader willing to seriously discuss the perils of out of control deficit financing and the threat posed to social safety programs.

Cobbold added that, 'three years ago, politicians like Bob Rae, the leaders of the old line parties in Ottawa and special interest groups vilified Preston for warning of the looming deficit crisis and the impact it was having on the economy. Today they're all taking excerpts from those old speeches and presenting them as brand new ideas. It shows the sorry state of political leadership we've had in this nation for far too long'.

Too Many Governments Interfering In Our Taxes?

Do we have too many governments interfering in our tax legislation? Metro citizens can't be blamed for being impatient with the stalling and lethargy on the part of our governments. Thirty or forty years of this injustice is far too much. In an honourable situation where an injustice has been recognized, it is very quickly corrected with apology. Instead, this Rowlands gang has now taken on the gangster mentality of intrigue and plotting against their fellow citizens.

After being cheated for these many years Rowlands is trying to rub salt in the wound. June Rowlands and her sidekicks have the audacity to appeal the assessments of Scarborough residents. It is dirty and hypocritical that she not apply the same arguments to her own constituents. The Scarborough people Rowlands is taking revenge on are the very same residents who were also assessed at an early stage in history under antiquated assessments. This is becoming a storybook episode.

Since what has now become anarchy in our assessment structure, the challenge to resolve has become too great for our various government bodies. Just as in the case of individuals, these injustices should be brought before our courts to resolve.

Our various commercial enterprises that are caught within an accustomed pattern and feel that they cannot provide their services on the basis of sound business practice because of a disrupted pattern; these should be assisted by way of short-term subsidy or assistance. Such assistance should be readily acknowledged as interim assistance. Toronto City Council who has over these many years taken advantage of their neighbouring municipalities and prospered, should now be called on by way of Market Value Assessment legislation to equally contribute toward these business subsidies.

Toronto City Council can no longer expect to use the monstrous argument of business calamity to remain sheltered and excluded from their financial responsibility to their fellow citizens. To Scarborough residents who have now been hit with tax increases, we can only say with regret 'Welcome to the club'. This is what we other people have had to fight against and will continue to fight for you.

There have been too many pious tears shed on behalf of this privileged municipality of the City of Toronto and no consideration for the people who have been cheated in the outlying municipalities of North York, Scarborough, East York, York, and Etobicoke. These municipalities just want a fair financial share that we, in turn, may contribute and be able to share. This is the Christian ethic. We are meeting unwelcomed opposition and plotting from opponents of Market Value Assessment, our attempt to infuse this Christian principle into the downtown area. When people are being cheated, while the amount is important, the principle is most important. Do not give us any more false arguments. Give us the overall percentage revenue as compared to property values of each municipality.

Yours truly,

Mike Boychyn

World's Largest Clean-Up Set To Start

Hundreds of thousands of volunteers will participate in Pitch-In Week, Canada's largest environmental clean-up campaign which takes place May 3-9.

Armed with brooms, shovels, rakes, specially imprinted garbage bags and, in some cases, heavy equipment to remove large debris, volunteers are cleaning up Arctic, Atlantic and Pacific Canada and areas in between. Projects include the clean-up of downtown rapid transit corridors, remote mountain trails and massive community wide environmental projects involving tens of thousands of people.

Across Canada, volunteers will tackle 5,359 projects, of which 2,205 will take place in Ontario. They will be assisted by 2,827 volunteer local Pitch-In Week coordinators. In Ontario projects will take place in 470 communities. This compares to 1,222 communities nationwide.

Pitch-In Week, whose 1993 theme is "Cleaning Up The World Starts at Home", is the largest single environmental clean-up campaign in the world. Pitch-In Canada, national sponsors of the campaign, is part of Clean World International, a Secretariat of national organizations concerned with promoting waste reduction, recycling and environmental clean-up.

Canada Tops The World In Generating Garbage - It's Pitch-in Week

When it comes to generating garbage, Canada outperforms all other countries in the industrialized world. That, according to the organizers of Pitch-In Week, to be held May 3-9, is not a source of pride.

A study conducted by Washington Analysis Corporation for the Canadian Council of Ministers of Environment reports that each Canadian produces an average of 1.7 kg of garbage a day. West Germans, the Swiss and Dutch produce less than 1.5 kg and the British, Japanese and Swedes produce less than 1 kg a day.

The volume of garbage generated is causing a disposal crisis in many areas of Canada. Even though it is the largest country in the world, many of Canada's heavily populated areas are running out of landfill space.

"In some communities waste disposal costs have risen to more than $200 per tonne and, in some cases, waste items have been banned from landfills all together," states Dr. Dave Ankney, president of the Ontario Federation of Anglers & Hunters who, along with Pitch-In Week, organize Pitch-In Week which encourages grass roots action to eliminate waste and litter. Organizers of 1993 Pitch-

In Week expect that hundreds of thousands of Canadians will respond to the campaign's theme, Cleaning Up the World Starts at Home, by pitching in to solve waste management problems in their community.

"The efforts of the National Task Force on Packaging, whose target is to reduce packaging waste by 50% in the year 2000 is a move in the right direction," says Ankney, adding that packaging represents 50% of municipal solid waste and each Canadian family produces an estimated one tonne of packaging waste each year.

"Cleaning up dump sites and city streets cost taxpayers millions of dollars each year. This is money which could be more productively spent on improving a community's other basic services.

Anyone interested in participating in, or registering a project for Pitch-In Week can contact Pitch-In Ontario, 36 Toronto St., Ste.

850, Toronto, M5C 2C5, for further information or to request free garbage bags to assist them with their activities. Materials will be made available while supplies last.

North York School 1st. In Maths

A team of Grade 7 students from North York's Cummer Valley Middle School has placed first in Canada in the Canadian National Mathematics League Contest.

Roger Hong, Manfred Lau, Adrian Lau, Daniel Jacobs and Simon Law were crowned champions in the University of Windsor-sponsored contest among 605 schools.

Cummer Valley's Grade 8 team of Vincent Yeung, Colin Huang, Savvas Panagiotakakos, Miriam Hamburg, Alex Blasko, and Franklin Sham finished second in Ontario and sixth in Canada. A total of 566 Schools took part in the Grade 8 contest held in February. Yeung came fourth in Ontario and 16th in Canada. Huang placed eighth in Ontario.

"We're proud of these students, but it speaks well of all our students and teachers and the emphasis they place on mathematics," says Cummer Valley's Vice-Principal Anne Gomme.

Mathematics and literacy are the top priorities of the North York Board of Education.

"North York can be proud of these students and their results as an indication of our efforts to improve students' performance in mathematics across the system," said Director of Education Veronica Lacey.

Annual Carnation Campaign

Library Exhibit On Toronto 200 Celebrations

The Metropolitan Toronto Reference Library presents a new gallery exhibit entitled "The First 100 Years: Town of York-City of Toronto 1793-1893". This exhibit, part of the 1993 Toronto 200 celebrations, opens May 1st and runs through to July 10th, 1993. During its first 100 years

Toronto grew from unspoiled wilderness to a nineteenth century metropolis. The original wooden Town of York matured into a durable brick and stone Victorian city. By 1893 the city had acquired her characteristic shape and many of her distinctive institutions, including:

Yonge Street, Eaton's, the Star and the Globe, the University of Toronto, the Parliament Buildings, streetcars, the Toronto Island ferry, the C.N.E. and St. Lawrence Hall. But achieving these landmarks took a great deal of time and hard work.

"The First 100 Years" exhibition highlights early Toronto development, from the original plans of Lieutenant-Governor John Graves Simcoe and the political achievements of the Family Compact in the early 1800's, to the financial successes of the business community and the creation of trade unions. Manuscripts, letters, paintings, engravings and leaflets, from the collections of the History Department's Baldwin Room (known internationally for its collection of primary materials relating to Canada) and Map Room, provide an interesting window into city life in early Toronto.

The exhibit is open to the public, in the Gallery on the main floor of the library during regular hours: Mon. through Thurs. 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sat. 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

IN YOUR TOES

John Cranko's Romeo and Juliet is a staple of the National Ballet and always welcome in performance. The story is well known, of course, the music of Prokofiev is dramatic as well as romantic (somewhat more, the former) and the characters, within the sometimes and necessarily strict confines of ballet, are vital. Indeed the characterizations are so valid as to make delineation between dancing and acting almost seamless.

The National is presenting the beloved work until May 14th at The O'Keefe and The Column was there for opening night and the debut of Yseult Lendvai as Juliet.

It might have been George B.S. who allowed that youth is too precious to be wasted upon the young. Not in the world of ballet. Miss Lendvai is undeniably young but then so is the girl woman she portrays. To that portrayal she brings a vitality that could have carried it even without her undoubted technical expertise. She is at once shy, mischievous and passionate. Quite a tour de force.

Her dancing is also wondrous to behold. There is one specific movement - there is a name for it no doubt but it's unknown to us - in which she spins her body in mid-air at a slight angle to the stage and is caught by her partner who then swoops her to the ground in a Saint Andrew cruciform. It's a breathtaking piece of dance and Miss Lendvai performs it superbly. As well, her pied is arguably the equal of the now retired Veronica Tennant. All in all a most auspicious debut.

The lady was partnered by reliable Raymond Smith. He has been with The National for a number of years and never disappoints in performance. He isn't spectacular and, one suspects, by design. Yet at each performance he extends himself just a little bit more, or seems to. In that respect he reminds one of Tomas Schramek who is now moving into semi-character roles.

He danced the role of the twisted Tybalt and brought suitable malevolence to the role though one misses the definitive performances of Hazaros Surneyan.

There were a number of debut performances, among them that of Pierre Quinn as Mercutio. It's the sort of loveable knockabout role that dancers love and Mr. Quinn made the most of it as did James O'Connor as Benvolio.

Another was that of Simone Orlando in the relatively small role of Rosalind. One sometimes forgets that it's love of Rosalind that causes Romeo to meet Juliet. Miss Orlando in her portrayal makes an audience realize why Romeo is initially infatuated with her. We still are.

Though we rarely read the reviews of others it's noted that one reviewer bestowed upon the production, a five out of five. No disagreement here.

Local Theatre Awards

by Frank Knight

The news from the local community theatre at this time of year is, of course, the A.C.T.C.O. Festival 1993 Awards which cover the groups in central and southern Ontario. In Scarborough only the three groups work out of the Village Theatre entered the competition.

1. In the comedy and drama category The Theatre Guild was nominated twice and won an adjudicators award for ensemble work in "The Boys Next Door" play. Scarborough Players received five nominations and received awards for ensemble performance in "Chapter Two" and adjudicators award for youth performance in "The Children's Hour".

2. In the Musical category the players received a nomination for "Leader Of The Pack" but the only musical theatre group S.M.T. received 12 nominations over two musicals and obtained the following awards for "My Fair Lady" - Best Set Design - Best Choreographer and adjudicators awards for Chorus Ensemble and Potential, with "Once Upon A Mattress" they picked up Best Supporting Female and Best Leading Female - Best Presentation and Best Musical Director.

As I have said previously our Scarborough Theatre Groups compare well with other community Theatre Groups and are a source of pride to the city.

federal budgets; this is really important. After having already reduced top ticket prices for 93-94, the National Ballet now announced reductions in the cost of subscription tickets ranging from $74 to $92.

The intricacies of the price reductions elude those of us who remove their footwear to count over twenty but the literal bottom line is substantial savings for those who love ballet. For many, it is the finest of the performing arts.

For more details call the National Ballet.

IN THE CLUBS:

Anthropologists claim that man-oops, humankind is the only species that blushes (or, as Mark Twain appended, needs to). The jury is still out, however, on whether or not we are the only one to laugh.

Whatever, there certainly was a large turnout of us at the Old Firehall on Lombard St. laughing mightily at Second City's opening of its latest show Inhale To The Chief.

As always, it's wickedly funny. As always, the humour owes as much to the skill of the performers as it does to the excellent material. As always, The Column is hard pressed to describe said material without simply reporting it word for word even if that were possible to do, given a body wracked with laughter.

In the approximate two hours from opening to closing (no improv on opening night) we counted 23 sketches and blackouts.

Among them was one about a cabal of women and the way they truly are masters mistresses of the world. (Just why do women always go to the bath room together? And, do they truly experience pain during childbirth or is it simply faked to put their mates on guilt trips?)

There's a Babbitt and Bromide type sketch that achingly recalls similar situations in all of us.

How about the one where a young man brings home his date, a transvestite to meet his father and his transvestite wife?

Watch for the caballeros singing about NAFTA.

There's much, much more and an audience must truly experience it for itself. There is quite simply no way - none for The Column at least - adequately to describe Inhale To The Chief except to state that it's hilarious.

And, of course the excellent cast must be mentioned. Ladies first; they are Kathryn Greenwood, Judith Scott and Jenny Parsons. The gentlemen are Nick Johnne (a Belushi type) Steven Morel, Brian Smith and Jonathan Wilson.

Tight stage management by Peter Sherk and fine musical accompaniment by Bob Derkach.

Excuse us now, while we retape our cracked ribs.

BACK AGAIN:

Toronto can't seem to get enough of Shirley Valentine. The popular one woman play about the English middle class housewife who finds a new and romantic life in the Greek isles returns to the St. Lawrence Centre tonight and is scheduled to run until May 29th. (It's The Column's feeling that the run will be extended.)

Once again the Willy Russell play will star Nicola Cavendish. The title role is a well written one and probably plays well with anyone cast but it's difficult to imagine anyone doing it better than Miss Cavendish who seems to have made it peculiarly her own.

She's absolutely charming and we can only say that, given the opportunity, we'd never give her cause to run away.

ON T.V.:

Like her or not - we like her - Elizabeth Taylor is the only remaining star of Hollywood's golden years. She got in, just as they were winding down, in the film Lassie Come Home. After National Velvet, she shot to the top and has remained there ever since.

Not a bad actress, either. Some forget that she has won two Academy Awards. Granted, the Oscars aren't always indicative of thespian skills but it remains that they aren't easily earned.

Anyway, the American Film Institute salutes the lady tonight with its Lifetime Achievement Award. Global Television will broadcast the ceremony at 9. Carol Burnett is the hostess and she will be joined by Roddy McDowall, Angela Lansbury, Michael York, Michael Caine and Dennis Hopper. How the last named came to be included escapes us but five out of six isn't bad.

REMINISCENCE: During the past week the bi-centennial of the mutiny on the Bounty was observed. Why was it interesting to The Column? Please read on.

Around 1912, the City of Toronto tried to build a street car line along St. Clair Ave. At the Wells Hill Ravine, just east of Bathurst St. a heavy rainfall and mudslide wiped out the landfill used to fill the ravine.

The existing bridge was also destroyed so the city decided to build a new and proper one. It did so and the new line was opened on Aug. 13th, 1913, almost eighty years ago.

The bridge is still there though one must look sharp to be aware of it. The project manager was a huge Viking lately arrived from the Isle of Man. His name was Enos Christian and he claimed descent from Fletcher Cristian who led the mutiny on the Bounty and who also came-as did most of the crew-from the Isle of Man. He was our step father.

IN PRINT:

The Column remains unconvinced that democracy is here to stay in the Soviet Union Russia or whatever. It is completely alien to the slavish/oriental psyche. The so called leaders know that and are deliberately manipulating the new economy so that it will fail and the people will once again embrace the devil they know rather than the devil that apparently can't work... for them anyway. The leaders will declare that at least it was tried and now it's back to the old ways. It might not happen in our lifetime but it most assuredly will take place.

There's a sort of perverse satisfaction in finding out that we are not alone in our opinion and perception. As proof, we offer The Porcupine, a wickedly funny book by Julian Barnes (Random House of Canada).

In it an aging and former ruler of a satellite dominion is on trial for treason and corruption by the leaders of the new government.

Slowly and methodically he reduces all their charges to virtual absurdity knowing full well that the corruption of even the most ideologically inclined government will convict him.

It's a short work and padded to make it book length but the consummate writing skill of Mr. Barnes makes what is bumph in others into a joy to read.

Sophisticated readers will agree, for example, with the observation that "that weak (unprintable in a family journal) with birdshit on his head had been such a hypocrite, such a betrayer of Socialism. When Gorbachev came on his round of urgent consultations, which consisted of informing his oldest, closest allies that he would drop them down the crapper unless they stumped up some of Uncle Sam's hot, hard, dollars..."

There's much more, some of it funny, all of it trenchant. Another success for Mr. Barnes.

FAST EXIT:

"Russia has two generals in whom she can confide - Generals Janvier and Février." From Punch magazine in 1853 and attributed to Nicholas I who died two years later.

SEATON HIKING TRAIL

Now that the weather is definitely warming up, a pleasant excursion on the weekend is a trip along the Seaton Hiking trail. The northern entrance is located on the south side of Highway 7 at Green River, approximately 8 kms east of Markham. To locate the southern entrance, take Brock Rd. north and turn left at the first road north of Finch Ave. to Camp Pidaca.

The trail is marked with single yellow rings (double rings in case of direction change). Keep these in sight and you will remain on the designated path. The trail contains three sections: (1) A walking trail from Camp Pidaca to Clarke's Hollow where easy walking enables you to view a range of natural features, animals and sights at leisure. (2) A wilderness trail located in the mid portion of Clarke's Hollow to Whitevale. This area presents an ideal setting to experience "true wilderness", a feature that is becoming increasingly rare in southern Ontario; and (3) a heritage trail from Whitevale to Green River where old millworks, ponds and lowland woods have been used to highlight the natural historic features of the area.

The hiking trail was created in cooperation with the Metropolitan Toronto and Region Conservation Authority and developed with high school and university students under Ontario's summer works program.

The trail, a living laboratory that provides a natural science experience for everyone, is a single, uninterrupted link of more than 1,000 acres stretching from Green River in the north to Camp Pidaca in the south, a distance of 7.2 kms. With twists and turns the actual walking distance is over 10 kms.

FOODLAND ONTARIO CLASSICS

FRIED CUCUMBER ROUNDS

Easy to make, these hot cucumber slices are good as finger food with drinks or as a side dish with chicken or fish. They look particularly attractive when garnished with a greenhouse tomato flower.

1	Ontario Greenhouse Cucumber (unpeeled)
1/4 cup (50 mL)	all-purpose flour
1	egg
1 tbsp (15 mL)	milk
1/2 cup (125 mL)	dry bread crumbs or cornmeal
1 tsp (5 mL)	dried dillweed
1/2 tsp (2 mL)	salt
1/4 tsp (1 mL)	each black pepper and cayenne pepper
1/4 cup (50 mL)	(approx) vegetable oil
1 small	Ontario Greenhouse Tomato for Tomato Flower (see below)

Cut cucumber into 1/2-inch (1 cm) rounds. Place flour in bag. In small bowl, beat egg with milk until blended. In another bowl, combine bread crumbs with dillweed, salt, pepper and cayenne.

Dredge each cucumber round in flour, dip into egg mixture and then into bread crumb mixture to coat well. Set aside on plate while coating all rounds, then fry immediately.

In large skillet, heat half of the oil over medium heat; fry breaded cucumber slices, in batches, for 2 to 3 min. as needed. Drain on paper towels and serve hot garnished with tomato flower. Makes about 20 hors d'oeuvres.

Preparation Time: 10 min.
Cooking Time: 6 min.

Tomato Flower: Remove stem and cut tomato from top into 5 wedges but do not cut completely through to bottom. Turn tomato over and flatten out wedges. Garnish with parsley in center.

There were seven local clubs competing in the "Kentucky Fried Chicken" "C" level swim meet hosted by Uxbridge Swim Club on Sun. Apr. 25th.

Ten year old Robert Vukelich has been working consistently with Coach Marina Cochrane since joining the Age Group East development program of the Scarborough Swim Club last December. His hard work and concentration paid off in Gold medals as he won his 5 events, covering all strokes, and anchored Scarborough's winning relay in the 9 & 10 age group.

Phil and Tim teamed up with Andrew Yong and Ravi Sivakumaran to be the winning combination in the 14 and under boys team event. Phil and Tim were triple Gold medal winners in their individual events. Portraits of Excellence Series Few athletes ever manage to achieve international standing, but that's exactly what Leah Homma of Willowdale, has done. Homma, 18, is an extraordinary gymnast, and that is the reason that The Ontario Gymnastic Federation has chosen her, along with 9 other exceptional female gymnasts to be portrayed in their newest product - The Portraits of Excellence poster series.

Portraits of Excellence is a commemorative set of ten attractive full colour posters of young female gymnasts, all of whom have achieved international celebrity standing. This series features only female gymnasts as part of The O.G.F.'s sport equity program.

According to Executive Director Joe Rabel, sports breaststroke and was 2nd to Nicole in the 100 Individual Medley (IM) event.

Nicole also won bronze medals for 50 free and 25 fly swims. Karen was a silver medalist in 25 fly and Lydia won silver in 50 breaststroke.

Kevin Collins, 8, was second in 25 fly, 50 backstroke and 3rd in free. Edwin Li won 3 bronze medals for his 50 free, 50 breast and 100 I.M. efforts.

Ribbon winners placing 4th through 6th for Scarborough, were Jason Swamy, 7, Justin Rampersad, 9, Geoffrey Swamy, 10, Alim Karim, Dale Collins, 9, Jason Heikura, 12, Jennifer Hachey, 12, Nicole Fische, 12 and Kelsey Colliore, 11 equity is necessary. "Many elite female gymnasts go unnoticed for a variety of reasons. The primary purpose of this series is to acknowledge those women who have achieved exceptional results, while at the same time provide role models for those athletes who aspire to similar levels of excellence."

With current demographics of over 75% female participants, gymnastics represents one sport where females have shown that they can achieve international success.

The other very important aspect of the Portraits of Excellence campaign is the Program Endowment Fund. A new idea developed by the O.G.F. the Program Endowment Fund was designed to address the fact that government sports continue to decline each year. The Fund is intended to financially assist future gymnasts. All net proceeds from the sales of the posters will go into the Program Endowment Fund.

The 10 posters are 18" x 24" in size, and feature full colour action photos contributed by world class photographers. Each poster is autographed and features the career highlights of each gymnast.

The Ontario Gymnastic Federation hopes that this series will be a success, not only for the featured athletes, but also for those future athletes who will benefit from the money earned for the Program Endowment Fund.

For more information on how you can obtain this exciting new series, contact The Ontario Gymnastic Federation at (416) 495-4110, or FAX (416) 495-4122.

Halifax, Nova Scotia

Halifax, Nova Scotia's proper capital city, shrugs its grey cloak of winter and embraces summer with a passion.

Musicians, buskers, rickshaw drivers, town criers and military bands take to the streets, while dockside parties, Citadel Hill concerts and the spark and sparkle of a lively maritime port light up summer in the city like no other spot in Canada.

Once a British garrison town and still home to Canada's east coast navy, the harbour city proudly carries much of its colonial past: the noon-gun firing of the Citadel cannon; four o'clock tea with the Mayor; a resident town crier; statues of Robbie Burns, Sir Walter Scott and Sir Winston Churchill and the occasional game of rugby or cricket on the Halifax Commons.

But it is the hustle and bustle of the restored waterfront that defines Halifax's popularity as a summer tourist destination.

Thronged of visitors walk the wharves, piers and parks watching the parade of vessels - tugs, ferries, sailboats, yachts, container ships, submarines and the province's own tall ship, Bluenose II - ply the waters of the world's second largest harbour.

A collection of charter boats offer tours of the navy dockyard, the stylish Northwest Arm and McNab's Island while the Dartmouth ferry carries the less affluent (75 cents, one way) for a mariner's view of the mile-wide anchorage on its cross-harbour trips.

The Maritime Museum of the Atlantic, HMCS Sackville, CSS Acadia and the department of fisheries and oceans fascinating (or repulsive) "Touch Tank" of deep-sea denizens completes the array of harbour-front attractions; while nearby pubs in centuries-old buildings offer up cold beer, fish and chips and rousing sing-a-long songs of Nova Scotia's proud and illustrious seafaring heritage.

The summer scene in Halifax hits high gear in July with a series of festivals, events and concerts.

The grandest show of summer is the exciting and extravagant Nova Scotia International tattoo - a two hour, non stop military and civilian talent showcase with lots of colour, flash and pizzazz. This year's Tattoo, at the Halifax Metro Centre is on from July 1 to 7.

On Canada Day, July 1, Bluenose II celebrates its 30th year as Nova Scotia's sailing ambassador with an on board musical birthday party.

The same week, July 1, the Metropolitan Scottish Festival and Highland Games brings out the tartan and the pipes for a day long celebration of Scottish music, and sports events including the colourful caber toss.

This year's Moosehead Grand Prix auto race is next, July 9 to 11 as the fastest cars and best drivers race the downtown streets for fame and fortune.

The Atlantic Jazz Festival, July 17 to 25 brings together the region's best players in evening concerts and free afternoon jams.

And the wild and wacky International Buskerfest, Aug. 5 to 15 returns the action to the streets as jugglers, clowns, mimes, singers, dancers and novelty acts from around the world perform for loonie-filled "hats" in an atmosphere of fun and laughter that bespeaks the famous maritime hospitality that Halifax wears so well.

Use A Hanging Basket

Don't wait until May 24th to add colour to your garden. Visit The Hanging Basket Sale at The Civic Garden Centre on Sat. May 8th or Sun. May 9th from 12 noon to 5 p.m., and choose a basket bursting with bloom that will give your garden that special finishing touch this season. Hanging baskets for sun and shade will be available.

Mother's Day can be made doubly enjoyable by planning to attend The Southern Ontario Orchid Society Show which is being held at the centre at the same time.

The baskets have been selected by The Civic Garden Centre's horticulturists who have chosen an exquisite selection for both sun and shade. The centre's volunteers will be happy to assist you with your purchase.

The Civic Garden Centre relies on plant sales to help raise funds. The centre is a volunteer-based organization with open membership whose mandate is to provide horticultural information and promote the floral arts.

The centre offers courses, a free gardening hot line service, soil testing, an extensive gardening book shop and library, special programming and garden tours.

CLASS ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT

PROGRESS AVENUE EXTENSION AND PARTIAL INTERCHANGE AT HIGHWAY 401

The City of Scarborough has initiated a Class Environmental Assessment Study to examine the potential northerly extension of Progress Avenue east of Markham Road to Milner Avenue with a partial interchange at Highway 401.

STUDY AREA

This study will follow the Class Environmental Assessment process approved for municipal road projects. Two Public Information Centres are planned during this study. The Information Centres will provide area residents and interest groups the opportunity to discuss the need for the project and view preliminary design proposals with members of the project team. At the end of this study an Environmental Study Report will be submitted to the Clerk of the City of Scarborough and will be available for public viewing.

You are encouraged to contact project staff at any time if you have questions or concerns about this project. If you feel, after consulting with project staff, that serious environmental concerns remain unresolved, it is your right to request that the project be subject to the formal requirements of the environment assessment review and approval process. The final decision rests with the Minister of the Environment.

Information and comments obtained during the study will be maintained as a public data base and will be kept on file. If you wish to be involved in this study or receive additional information, please contact:
