NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The liquor bill that is before the legislature fails to inspire the temperance element with hope for the future of the cause of temperance. At first sight the bill appeared perfectly fair, but an analysis of the different clauses brings the conviction that in the bill a step backward has been taken in the cause of temperance. In some respects the liquor party has not much cause for feeling gratified, but as a whole they can congratulate themselves. One of the most objectionable features of the bill is the legalizing of the sale of liquor on steamboats and on dining and cafe cars. Another feature that does not meet with the approval of the temperance party is the legalizing of the sale of liquor to guests in hotels on Sundays. The three-fifths majority required by the new bill to carry local option is decidedly unfair and is directly opposed to the British idea of fair play. With the passing of the bill local option will be killed. The clause requiring twenty-five per cent. of the voters to appear on a petition before a by-law can be granted is quite reasonable as is also the clause making it compulsory for councils to pass the third reading of the by-law after it has been carried by the municipality.

Much of the money that is given away for charitable purposes is worse than wasted. The motive behind the act may be of the noblest kind, but many a time money is given where the beneficiary is unworthy of our sympathy or support. Often it is difficult to decide whether it is better to give or refuse. A beggar can often excite within us the deepest sympathy and move us to tears by his heart-rending story of his misfortunes, when his only trouble is a hatred for work and a love for drink. But there can be no mistake in our responding liberally to the silent but strong appeal that is made to us by the famine sufferers of Japan. The Japanese are a people whom we have learned to admire. No people ever made greater progress than they in their march towards civilization. In a very few years they have emerged from the deepest ignorance and have entered a state of the highest civilization. In intellectual power they are not surpassed by those of any of the western nations. The love of liberty is as dear to them as to an Anglo-Saxon, and they have proved themselves brave defenders of that freedom. They are an industrious, sober, and frugal class of people and the calamity that has now befallen them is no fault of theirs. Undoubtedly the large number of able-bodied men who had to leave their farms to defend their homes and liberty allowed many farms to go untilled, or only partly so, and thus the famine. They are in some respects a proud people, who disdain appealing for assistance. But that fact appeals to us much stronger, and it is the duty of Canadians who are enjoying great prosperity to hold out a helping hand to those who are the allies of the British Nation.

One of the most beautiful scenes that the works of nature presents to the eye of man is the Falls of Niagara. From a scenic standpoint its destruction would be a calamity not only to Canada and the United States, who jointly own the wonder, but to the whole world. One of the chief objective points of the European or Asiatic tourist who comes to America, to feast his eyes upon our natural beauties is Niagara Falls. Much pessimistic talk is being heard these days regarding the effect upon the Falls of the diverting of its waters by the various power companies who have been given charters to operate at Niagara. There are those who believe that ere long Niagara Falls will be a thing of the past, and that the Falls will then possess none of the attractions that it does now. We do not think there is much ground for these gloomy forebodings. Immense quantities of water have been diverted from their natural channels during the last few years, yet the closest observer cannot see that the falls have altered its appearance in the least degree, by the decrease of the water flowing over the precipice. Many more power companies might be granted privileges similar to those already granted and yet not destroy the beauty of the Falls. A point worth taking into consideration in dealing with this question is the fact that every horse power generated, means a saving of the coal supply of this continent. The time is coming when the matter of coal supply will be a very serious question. The time was when we considered our forests unlimited in quantity, but we now see our error, and our legislators are taking means to preserve our forests. The same thing will take place with our coal deposits. There is a limit to their extent and the time is coming when steps will be taken towards the conservation of the supply. The sooner we realize that fact the better. One of the best means towards that end is to utilize at the present time all the available water power, of which Canada has an abundance.

 Miss Ethel Bessor returned home from the Sanatorium in Gravenhurst, Muskoka, on Friday last, where she has been for the past year. Miss Bessor's many friends will be pleased to learn that she has entirely recovered from her illness and is looking quite herself again.—Economist.

 Mrs. Hiram Miller, of Battleford, who with three children, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. James Mustard, of the Tenth of Markham, for two months past returned home last week.
 One of our Markham young men suffered a keen disappointment last Wednesday night. He journeyed to Malvern to the carnival and was preparing to don his skating shoes when he discovered that one was a lady's. In his hurry on leaving home he had taken along one of his sister's shoes. He submitted a few expressions that he hadn't learned at Sunday School and spent the rest of the evening watching the fun the others were having.

 John Jones has bought George Hudson's 200-acre farm on the 4th of Uxbridge, and has disposed of his 50 acres on the 5th to Alex. Ewen, who lives across the way.
 Pat. Cosgrove's driver dropped dead while on the way home to Siloam on Saturday night, and Mr. Cosgrove had to walk the remainder of the way. It is only two months since that he had a horse die in the Mansion sheds.—Journal.
 A. B. Barber has purchased the Blackburn property on Plank street.
 The scholars of the Methodist Sunday school donated $33 to the fund for the starving Japanese last Sunday day afternoon.
 A. B. Barber has accepted a position with the International Harvester Co. and will work in the neighborhood of Peterboro.
 Miss L. Barber, who has been attending the Furze Business College, Sault Ste. Marie, has passed her final examination taking the excellent mark of 98 per cent.
 H. Jones & Son received an exceptionally large pine log Tuesday, being 16 feet long, 5 feet in diameter. It required three teams to draw it from Geo. Laughton's in Uxbridge township to the Jones' wood yard.
 Tuesday morning Messrs. J. McGregor, Frank Orchard, Wm. Oliver, Ben Ward, Frank Dobson and Wes. Young started for the West with their carloads of effects. Their wives and families will leave in the course of a couple of weeks. We are sorry to see such good citizens leave town and vicinity.—Times.

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health is the Great Source of Power to Inspire and Encourage—All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study. If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, irregularities of the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:
 "Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.
 "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality.—Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.
 "What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.
 "If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful."

 The infant son of W. and Mrs. Waddell died at the family residence on Thursday. The funeral took place on Friday when the remains were interred in the Baptist cemetery. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved parents. We regret to say that Mrs. Waddell is not in the best of health.
 Mrs. McLean, wife of the Rev. McLean, of Toronto, at one time pastor of the Erskine church, died at her home in that city on Wednesday of last week. The funeral took place on Friday when the remains were conveyed here and the interment was made in St. John's cemetery on the 7th concession.

The road at the four corners at the present time is in an exceedingly bad condition, making it almost impossible to cross the street. It would be a good idea to have crossings put in so that pedestrians would be kept out of the mud. Every spring we have the same trouble to contend with and we believe that something might be done to avoid it.

An illustrated travel talk on a "Tour Through Europe," under the auspices of the Young People's Society of the Claremont Baptist church will be held this Friday evening. The lecture will take you through England and its metropolis, London; Scotland and its beautiful city, Edinburgh; Holland with its famous canals and cathedrals; Belgium with its museums and battlefields; Switzerland with its beautiful scenery; The Rhine river with its vine-clad banks; Gay Paris with its picture galleries, palaces and parks. To this will be added scenes from the ocean voyage and portraits from the World's Baptist Congress. The Rev. C. J. Cameron, B. A., Field-secretary of McMaster University, Toronto, travelling companion of Revs. C. A. Shutt and A. R. Park will also take part in the program. Program begins at 8 o'clock. Admission 15 cents.

A Distressing Case.

Young Man Experimented With Noose and Was Choked.

An accident of a peculiarly distressing nature is reported from St. Pauls, whereby a young life full of promise was blotted out in a manner singularly sad. Mr. John Baxter lives on a farm about a mile from St. Pauls. His son Walker, a young man of nearly eighteen years, of a healthy disposition and not known to have had trouble of any kind, was found by his father hanging to a beam in the barn, under circumstances which indicate that he was unexpectedly caught by a noose with which he had been experimenting.

The awful discovery, which has distracted the parents and family, consisting of five brothers and two sisters, was made at noon Saturday when the unfortunate young man did not come in for dinner. The body, when found, was still warm, and it is presumed that he was caught by the rope at about eleven o'clock.

A number of facts point to likelihood of the death being due to accident. That morning the young man had said he was not coming to town, as a chum who lived nearby was going to be over to have some fun. Whether the noose was prepared in anticipation of this visit or not will never be known, but the fact that the young man had been reading Detective Murray's reminiscences in a Toronto newspaper makes it likely that an experiment was being tried, with perhaps a demonstration in prospect upon his friend's arrival.

The deceased was deeply affected by religious emotions, and a list of a couple of dozen Torrey-Alexander texts was found in his pocket, together with the names of a large number of books which he wished to read. He was not given to reading fiction, and his life does not seem to have been such as would lead to brooding or despair. The rope used was put over a beam near the front door, and no attempt was made to close any of the doors. The slip noose was ready to his hand evidently prepared so that he might disengage himself, and his knees reached to the floor, which would hardly have been the case had the act been deliberate. The rope was very soft, and probably tightened around his neck so suddenly that he became terrified and was unable to release himself.—Stratford Herald.

In answer to the question we may say that the rules forbid the House of Refuge admitting any one suffering from an incurable disease as in the case of the indigent referred to. To be sent to the Home for Incurables would cost the township much more than it does at present.

—The mild weather that we are having at present is dispelling quickly the small amount of snow and ice that we have. The roads are not in good shape for automobilists, but if the present weather continue they will be creating consternation along the Kingston road in a very few days. In a very few days the farmers also will be in the midst of their spring work, and the busy housewife will be doing everything in her power to make things unpleasant by her inevitable housecleaning.

Police Village.

The regular meeting of the Trustees of the Police Village of Pickering was held in the Fire Hall on the evening of Monday, March 19th. Members present: R. S. Dillingham and Dr. Bateman.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and confirmed.

R. S. Dillingham reported that R. Gordon and J. H. Rogers had signified their intention of paying for drainage privilege.

It was arranged that the Chairman and Secretary were each to secure the collection of certain of the accounts outstanding at as early a date as possible.
