On Tuesday fire did a large amount of damage to Thos. Reeveley's property, south of the C. P. R. The fire had evidently started from a spark from a passing locomotive and for a time was confined to the right-of-way of the C. P. R. Everything being so exceedingly dry it eventually spread south by the strong wind from the north, and before long covered a large space, mostly on Mr. Reeveley's property. Mr. Reeveley suffered the loss of his fine barn, all the material for a new residence, a 12-acre field of hay, besides fences and other minor losses, his loss being estimated at $2,500.

Another excursion also took place over this line on Thursday when the Methodist Sunday School held their annual picnic at Riverdale Park. Contractor Stewart, who began work on the new sewage system about a week ago, has now from 150 to 200 men employed. If the weather holds good he may get the excavation and laying of the pipe completed by the end of the year. About 15 miles of pipe are to be laid, and the price for his part of the contract is $54,000. The contractors for the sewage disposal plant have not yet begun work as the site has not yet been secured. The price for this is over $34,000. The cost of the sewer pipe and cement will bring the total up to $125,000.

VILLAGE WIPED OUT.

Between Two and Three Hundred People Homeless.

A despatch from Cochrane, Ont., says: Between two and three hundred people were rendered homeless as the result of the destruction by fire of the little town of Hearst, 134 miles west of here. They all tell stories of three days' and nights' fight with fire, nothing but a bucket brigade being available. Several times they thought that the fire had been conquered, but each time it sprang up again and a weary fight was resumed. The wind almost blew a cyclone, and men who had been through the Porcupine fire began to make for the railway tracks, fearing for their lives. Finally it got beyond all control, and everyone took refuge on the Transcontinental Railway tracks. Mr. M. J. O'Brien, of the firm of O'Brien, McDougall and O'Gorman, who have their construction headquarters at Hearst, took all homeless people to his camps at Pit 7, where they were fed and the women and children housed. They passed the night and next day there until the relief train arrived in the midst of smoke and flame and torrid heat.

Hearst is a town of between six and eight hundred inhabitants mostly foreigners. Most of the dwellings were built of wood and a short time ago. There are also, however, the divisional offices of the Transcontinental Railway, a large cement round house, the offices of M. J. O'Brien, the contractor for that section of the railroad, and a large house occupied by a brother of Mr. O'Brien, who was in charge of the work. A short time ago a fire burned one section of Hearst.

N. T. R. LINKED UP.

System From Quebec to the Pacific Will be Ready This Fall.

A despatch from Ottawa, says: Collingwood Schreiber, chief consulting engineer of the Government returned from an inspection of the G. T. P. from Winnipeg to Prince Rupert, announces that all sections of the line are linked up, and will be ready to operate this fall. As the Government has completed the Eastern section this means that the only gap now remaining from Halifax to Prince Rupert is the Quebec bridge.

THEIR FAREWELL TOUR.

Will Start on July 23 for Western Canada.

A despatch from Ottawa, says: The farewell tour of the West of their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught will start on July 23rd from Ottawa, all the principal cities being visited.

HINDU RISING IS SERIOUS.

Shots Were Fired, and Authorities Repulsed.

A despatch from Ottawa says: The fight of the Hindus to obtain entry into British Columbia reached a climax Saturday night, according to official reports received here by the immigration branch of the Department of the Interior. The investigation by agents of the department resulted on Saturday morning in an order refusing entrance to nearly 350 of the Hindus on board the Komagata Maru, and the captain of the vessel was given until 6 o'clock to act. He found himself unable to control the ship and make steam. He asked for assistance, and a tug was sent out from Vancouver with immigration officials, special officers and about 100 police.

This force was beaten back by the infuriated Hindus, who threw bits of coal hatchets, odd bits of machinery, bricks, etc., besides firing several shots. The police did not return the shots, but endeavored for several hours to gain the decks of the Komagata Maru without success. About 20 of them were injured, including the tug captain, who had two ribs broken. When the police withdrew, a number of the injured officers were removed to a hospital.

FIVE VESSELS LOST.

Heavy Storm Sweeps the Coast of Nova Scotia.

A despatch from Halifax, N.S., says: Three steamers and two schooners were wrecked as the result of the heavy storm that swept over the coast, all the crews reaching shore in safety, but some of them had a trying experience, as thick fog had prevailed. The vessels were the Norwegian steamer Ragna, 1,052 tons, from Chester, Pa., to St. Ann's, C.B., which ran ashore at Ballent, C.B.; the Cuban steamer Cienfuegos, 1,139 tons, which struck at Scatarie, C.B., bound from Mobile, Ala., with a cargo of pine for Montreal; the Italian barque King Malcolm, Portland to New Brunswick, part in ballast. The schooner Harold C. Beecher (American) also struck on Scatarie. She sailed from New York for Sydney. The schooner Clarence Verner struck of Cape Sable, N.S. She was bound from New York for Halifax with 1,200 tons of hard coal. All the vessels are in bad positions, and the prospects of floating them are slight. The coast was swept by a gale of wind and heavy squalls.

ELECTRICAL EFFECTS.

Striking Feature of this Year's Canadian National Exhibition.

Do you remember how the tiny electric lights twinkled like fireflies amid the foliage of the trees at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto last year? That was the foundation of a wonderful system of electrical ornamentation that is being completed for this year's Exhibition. The Grand Plaza will be canopied with electric stars, and the foundation will be illuminated, while various devices symbolical of Peace Year will help to beautify the grounds.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT.

Car Turned Turtle During a Joy Ride Near Vancouver.

A despatch from Vancouver, B.C., says: Their automobile having overturned at a street corner in Thurne, six miles out from Vancouver, five people were crushed under an overturned car at 1 o'clock on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Peter Rinan was killed outright, and her husband badly hurt, as were R. P. Seward, the chauffeur and F. Brady another passenger. Seward had taken his employer's car out for a joy-ride.

CANADA'S FINEST PARK.

Formal Opening of Lyon Boulevard at Port Arthur.

A despatch from Port Arthur, Ont., says: A large crowd of citizens were the guests of the City Council at a banquet at the Prince Arthur Hotel in honor of J. W. Lyon of Guelph, who on Wednesday donated 99 acres to the city on a location to be known as Lyon boulevard and Lyon Park. The driveway of four miles, surrounding Current River reservoir, was formally opened on Wednesday afternoon by J. W. Lyon. A feature was a procession of 81 private automobiles, nearly one mile in length, containing city and Board of Trade officials. The Lyon boulevard and park will become the finest park in Canada.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

Ottawa Athlete Shoots Himself in Hotel.

A despatch from Ottawa says: Harold (Hal) Walters, aged 45, well known in athletic circles as a member of the old Rough Riders' football team, committed suicide Saturday afternoon in the Bodega Hotel, shooting himself through the temple in full view of a number of persons in the barroom. Walters fired two shots, the first passing through his hat and not injuring him. He then deliberately pressed the 38-calibre revolver against his right temple and discharged the weapon. Walters was a veteran of the South African War and a former member of the local police force. Recently he has been attached to the staff of the Dominion Geological Survey.

WASHINGTON AROUSED.

Entry of Dillon Into the United States Not Relished.

A despatch from Kingston says: The American authorities are making enquiries with regard to the entry of Luke Dillon into the United States last Saturday afternoon at Cape Vincent. The immigration officer did not know the released dynamiter who had spent 14 years in Portsmouth Penitentiary. The paroled convict was accompanied by several Kingston people, including a priest. Their presence with him was passport enough. It is usual in such cases to notify Washington but whether such notification was given by Ottawa is not known. It is understood there will be some Government correspondence over the matter.

GUARDS FIRE ON AIRSHIP.

German Craft Inadvertently Crossed Frontier.

A despatch from Berlin says: It became known on Friday for the first time that the military Zeppelin airship Z-4 was fired at by Russian frontier guards while she was on a cruise from Allenstein, in East Prussia, 65 miles from Königsberg. Many shots were fired at the airship, but none of them struck the vessel.

It is assumed that the airship inadvertently crossed into Russian territory. The Pan-German press is very irate over the incident.

LABOR WAR IN B.C.

Striks May be Called to Force Better Treatment of Miners.

A despatch from Vancouver, British Columbia, says: The British Columbia Labor Federation decided just before noon adjournment on Wednesday to call a general strike of labor forces in British Columbia because of conditions arising out of the miners' strike on Vancouver Island. A referendum of the unions will be taken during the next six weeks and on this the strike actually depends. The vote was 43 to 36.

THE CROP IN SASKATCHEWAN.

Conditions are Very Poor in Some Places—Generally Excellent.

A despatch from Regina, Sask., says: The crop report of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, based on replies received by telegraph to inquiries as to the conditions on July 11, states that conditions at the moment justify the statement that seldom has the crop within one Province shown such excellence on the one hand and such poor conditions on the other. Fortunately the area of the crop in which conditions are excellent greatly exceeds that in which they are poor. The outlook at the moment is for seventy-five per cent. of an average crop.

Conditions have been improved recently by a fairly general rain on July 11 and a considerable number of local showers. Seldom have the crops been called upon to withstand a long period of intense and continuous heat with few and local rains as have most of the crops in the western and central parts of the Province during the period from June 30 to July 14. Without the slightest doubt the summer fallow that has been early and deeply plowed and has also received sufficient subsequent cultivation, has justified itself once more, and will prove to be the sheet-anchor of those farmers in the drier districts that had prepared one. In many of the newer districts, of course, settlement is almost too new for this form of preparation to be as general as it must become if agriculture is to be successfully and permanently practised in those districts.

MILLION LOGS SWEEP AWAY.

Cloud Burst Does Heavy Damage in Part of New Brunswick.

A despatch from Apohaqui, N.B., says: A cloud burst Saturday morning during the most disastrous storm in the memory of residents of Apohaqui caused damage in that section conservatively estimated at $300,000, and will result in the closing of the Jones Brothers mill at Apohaqui, owing to the loss of one million logs and the wrecking of the end of the structure by the mighty flood in the mill stream. Roads and bridges were swept away by torrential rainfalls and flood, and crops are ruined in the mill stream valley. Barns owned by A. E. Colpitts and James O'Neill were struck by lightning and burned, and four logging houses were

CHILD ATE MATCH HEADS.

Little Daughter of Well-Known Hockey Player the Victim.

A despatch from Stratford says: Little three-year-old Irene Edmunds, of Nile street, got hold of some matches and played with them. She was still playing with them when her mother found her and took them away. The heads of some of the matches had apparently been bitten off. The child was seized with spells of vomiting so severe that the parents summoned Dr. Hepburn. The doctor had her taken to the hospital immediately, and for three hours, with the assistance of Dr. Rankin, he worked on the child, but with no avail, and she died about three o'clock Friday afternoon. The victim of the matches is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toad Edmunds. Mr. Edmunds is renowned as wide as the Dominion in hockey circles, both as a player and referee.

STRANGE WASH ON LINE.

Consists of the Bones of a Whale 45 Feet Long.

A despatch from Ottawa, says: In a yard at the corner of Queen and O'Connor Streets in Ottawa, there is the most remarkable looking wash hanging out on a clothes line that the capital ever saw. It consists of the bones of a whale. Nearby are the fins called by whalers the front feet of the sea monster, and the big vertebral bones are strung together on an iron water pipe. The yard adjoins the building of the Dominion Fisheries exhibit. The whale lately sported itself in the waters of the North Atlantic. It was 45 feet long, which will be the measurement of the skeleton when it is put together and mounted. The work will take all summer.

TWO BROTHERS DROWNED.

One Reached Shore After Boat Upset, but Returned to Aid Other.

A despatch from Digby, N.S., says: A double drowning accident occurred at Barton on Tuesday evening. Three young men, Kenneth Perry, of Barton, and Reginald and Claude Miner, sons of the late Dr. Miner, of Dorchester, Mass., were out motor boating. When returning from the boat in a small punt during a rough sea, it capsized, throwing its occupants into the water. Young Perry swam ashore. Reginald Miner also swam ashore, but returned to save his brother, with the result that both were drowned. Reginald Miner was aged 20, and Claude 16.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Several members of the north-west mounted police will leave shortly for the Arctic regions to bring back the Eskimos who are implicated in the murder of the two explorers, Radford and street. It is expected that it will require two years to accomplish the task. The incident does not attract much notice, but it is an evidence to show that in British territory a criminal will be hunted by the officers of the law, so long as there is the barest possible chance to effect his capture, and with no regard to the expense that will be incurred. It is true that many murderers have escaped punishment, but only in cases where there has been no clue to the guilty persons. It is only by the strict enforcement of the law that we can secure respect for the law. In no other country in the world is life and property more secure than in British territory and the reason for this is because the law is enforced.

A few years ago Canada was boasting of her rapid increase of population. The country was growing at the rate of half a million a year, and the west was being rapidly filled up. The government was expending large sums of money for immigration agents and for advertising the country. Shipload after shipload of immigrants entered Canadian ports, many of whom were from the central and southern parts of Europe, and were far from being a desirable class of settlers. The building of thousands of miles of railway, found employment for many of these new-comers, who were really unfitted for any other kind of work. But now as business of all kinds is more or less stagnant and as railway construction has been hindered by the stringency in the money market, large cities are now finding themselves burdened by thousands of foreigners, who are out of employment and who must be supported at the expense of the city tax-payer. It is now proposed to have these people deported, at least those who have been in the country within a limited period. We cannot see why the government is so anxious to have the country settled so soon. It would be all very well if the character of the immigrants were such as to give strength to the country, but we believe it a great mistake to sacrifice quality for quantity. There is a certain class of immigrants who come from the central and southern portions of Europe who are illiterate and low in character who will never make good Canadian citizens. No matter what influence might be brought to bear upon them, they would never be assimilated by Canada, and so long as they remain here they will be a burden. During railway construction and other work of a similar character, they are almost a necessity, as this is a class of work that Canadians as a rule refuse to enter. But while they may assist in this work, it is not necessary that they should become permanent citizens. Our government cannot exercise too much care in the matter of inducing foreigners to become residents of Canada. Slow and sure should be a good motto to adopt in peopling our Dominion.

Beautiful Hair--A Clean Cool Scalp

USE PARISIAN SAGE. IT MAKES THE HAIR FLUFFY AND ABUNDANT. It is needless for you to have hair that is anything short of perfect. If it is falling out, losing color, splitting or if the scalp burns and itches, immediately get from T. M. McFadden or any drug counter a 50-cent bottle of Parisian Sage—use it frequently—the first application removes dandruff, invigorates the scalp, and beautifies the hair until it is gloriously radiant. Parisian Sage supplies hair needs—perfectly harmless. It contains the exact element required to make the hair soft, wavy, glossy and to make it grow thick and beautiful. You will surely like Parisian Sage. It is one of the best and most delightful hair tonic known.

SUFFERED EVERYTHING

For Years, Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Canadian women are continually writing us such letters as the two following, which are heartfelt expressions of gratitude for restored health:

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and falling of womb and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully for years until I began taking your medicine. I also recommend it for nervousness and indigestion." — Mrs. HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ont.

Chesterville, Ont.—"I heard your medicines highly praised, and a year ago I began taking them for falling of womb and ovarian trouble. My left side pained me all the time and just before my periods which were irregular and painful it would be worse. To sit down caused me pain and suffering and I would be so nervous sometimes that I could not bear to see any one or hear any one speak. Little specks would float before my eyes and I was always constipated.

"I cannot say too much for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, for there are no medicines like them. I have taken them and I recommend them to all women. You may publish this testimonial." — Mrs. STEPHEN J. MARTIN, Chesterville, Ontario, Canada.

Remember the garden party to be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of Erskine church on the evening of Tuesday, Aug. 4th, on the beautiful lawn at Cairnbroig, Ellwood Genos, popular entertainer, of Toronto, and the mixed quartette, of Broadview Presbyterian church, Toronto, have already been secured. Fuller particulars next week.

The army worm has made its appearance south of Claremont and is causing considerable excitement along the seventh concession. They are going in a westerly direction and a number of farms are already badly affected and much damage has resulted from the visitation. There are millions of the destructive creatures and they have voracious appetites. Only by taking prompt and energetic measures can their ravages be stayed.

We are very pleased to report that the ten pupils of the Claremont school who wrote on their entrance examinations all passed, Veta Stevenson the youngest of the class, taking honors and a scholarship. She also stands second in the county. This shows the excellent work done by Miss Hogg. Her leaving here is very much regretted, not only will the public school suffer a severe loss, but also the Methodist church Miss Hogg being an active worker in Epworth League and Bible class teacher in the S. School.

The annual garden party of the Methodist Ladies' Aid Society will be held on the church lawn on the evening of Wednesday, July 29th. An excellent program will be given by Miss Inez McCulloch, elocutionist, of Lindsay, and Mrs. W. P. Hewitt, soloist of Bathurst St. Church, Toronto. Short addresses will be given by the resident ministers. The Claremont Citizens' band will furnish choice music during the evening. Ice-cream and other refreshments will be secured from a booth on the grounds. Tea will be served from 6 o'clock until all have been served. Admission 25 cents, children 15 cents.

Some of our citizens complain of the conduct of some of the young people of the village who make a practice of disturbing their neighbors during the midnight hours. A repetition of the offence may lead to trouble.

If you peep into the kitchens these days you are greeted with the aroma of cherries, berries and other seasonal fruits and garden stuff, which the ladies seem to think will be needed before the winter is over.

The Army Worm in Ontario County

The army worm which is providing such a troublesome pest in many parts of Western Ontario has recently made its appearance in Ontario County. It has been located in several sections south of the Kingston road and is bad as far north as Brougham. The outbreaks seem to originate in most cases in the flats and pasture land where the moth breed and where the worms have done considerable damage, but until the last few days in this County, their ravages have for the most part been confined to this land. As the worms become larger, however, and food becomes scarce they begin to move in large numbers in search of new crops in which to feed and in many cases devour every crop with which they come in contact. Oats, corn, timothy, etc., seem to be the crops most preferred while potatoes and the root crops are comparatively immune when other food is to be had.

Prompt action is very essential wherever these worms make their appearance. Little can be done to destroy them satisfactorily therefore treatment consists in keeping them from spreading and thus localizing their ravages. When the worms are found in large numbers in a pasture field and have not begun to march, a trench should be ploughed around the affected area at least one foot deep with the perpendicular side away from the worms. The bottom of the trench should be cleaned out and the earth on the walls of the trench left as loose as possible to prevent the worms from crawling up. Post holes should be sunk about one foot deep every twenty or twenty-five feet along the trench. When the worms crawl to the trench they fall in and being unable to climb out they are easily destroyed. This method can be very successfully employed to prevent them from getting into grain crops, when they are on the march, by constructing a trench directly in front of the army or around the edge of the grain fields. By scattering a poisoned bran mash along the bottom of the trench large numbers of the worms will be destroyed. The mash can be made by mixing one pound of paris green with fifty pounds of dry bran and then moistening with sweetened water until the whole mass will crumble readily between the fingers.

When the worms have already entered a standing crop of grain the extent of their operations should be ascertained and the affected portion cut at once for hay or burned to destroy the pests and a trench should be dug to protect the remaining portion of the crop. Large numbers of the worms may be destroyed by spraying their feeding grounds with paris green, four pounds to one hundred gallons of water. It would be unsafe, however, to pasture stock on this land for some time after the spraying was done. Where it can be done safely, burning over the affected areas will destroy large numbers of the worms. For further information regarding the habits and life history of these pests and for advice with reference to their control write or phone the Department of Agriculture, Whitby, R. M. Tipper, Representative.

With Eggplant.

To Prepare Eggplant.—It goes without saying that an eggplant should be fresh and sound, without spots. You can tell whether it is fresh or not by the green cup around the stem end. If this is blackened, the vegetable is not fresh. The other end also will be wrinkled and dull, whereas a fine eggplant is smooth and plump and shining. Wash the skin as one would a tomato, and then pare and cut up. It is usually sliced, but sometimes cut into dice or julienne strips. It turns dark quickly, so it should be cooked immediately. One can have ready a savory dish of eggplant in fifteen minutes. Perhaps the reason that the fried eggplant one gets at some eating places is bitter is because it stands after being cut up. When it is to be stuffed, the skin is left on. It is then either parboiled whole or cut in half and cooked, the skin loosened around the edges. It may then be fried in deep fat, the cut side down. It may also be stuffed and baked.

Baked Eggplant.—Baked eggplant commonly means one elaborately seasoned; but this is not necessary. Wash and put into the oven to bake in the same way you would a potato. A small one will require about thirty minutes to bake, and is done when a fork shows it is soft all through. Take off the skin, mash and put into the frying pan with plenty of butter over a hot fire, and stir until the water has evaporated. This tastes and looks somewhat like the chop sueys without crisp vegetables, and like all eggplant, should be served hot. It needs little seasoning, but when a bit of onion is fried with it the resemblance to chop suey is not lessened.

A cook from India, in describing baked eggplant, says: "A person does not know the real flavor of eggplant until he has eaten it baked." He gives this method as an alternative of boiling, but prefers this, as it preserves all the delicate flavor of the vegetable. He says also it may be used as the foundation of a number of dishes, such things as eggplant croquettes, as well as eggplant stuffing for fowl, being mixed with bread crumbs and egg and seasoned with salt and pepper. This pulp also is used for plant souffle and omelet.

Grilled or Boiled Eggplant.—Thin slices of this vegetable may be rubbed with butter or oil and broiled, but this makes them a little too dry on the surface. They may, however, be served with a tomato sauce.

Fried in the Pan.—The easiest and quickest way to prepare the eggplant is to fry or saute it in a pan with a little butter or oil. Cut the eggplant into one-third inch slices, season with salt and pepper which has been mixed together, and then fry in a little oil or butter until soft. It also may be rolled in flour and fried in this way, or even dipped in egg and crumbs. Seasoned with salt and pepper only, and then fried with tomatoes which are served on the slice of eggplant it is good or it is good enough quite by itself and looks much like a small buckwheat cake.

Escaloped Eggplant.—The eggplant is combined with tomato in slices and baked in escalop, with oil instead of milk, and with other additions to taste or the cooked pulp finely broken is combined with grated bread crumbs, well seasoned with a little bit of cream and finally a well-beaten egg. It must only be heated through in the oven and not dried. No matter how eggplant is cooked it must not be too dry, although we cook it to dry it somewhat.

Stuffed Eggplant.—This is a great subject by itself. The eggplant may be boiled whole or baked, one end cut off the pulp scooped out, leaving a little layer to support the thin skin, then the pulp mixed with bread crumbs, seasonings chopped meat, etc., and put back into the oven for fifteen or twenty minutes. It is often cut in half lengthwise, cooked, the pulp scooped out, prepared, and put back, then baked.

St Lawrence Sugar

Facts About Sugar Which You Should Know

THE more highly refined a sugar is the better the product. A pound of highly refined sugar is equal to considerably more than the same quantity of raw sugar, because in the former, water and foreign matter have been removed.

The quality of any sugar depends upon the degree of refinement to which it is subjected.

The art of refinement has reached its highest standard in St. Lawrence Sugar.

St. Lawrence represents the finest quality sugar that scientific refining, combined with the choicest raw materials can produce.

While the price of lower grade sugars appears cheaper than St. Lawrence Sugar, they are in reality more expensive because a much larger quantity of inferior sugar is required for sweetening.

The idea that any sugar is exposed to dirt, dust or other impurities and is scooped by soiled hands out of a dirty bin is repulsive to the fastidious housekeeper.

To avoid this, buy St. Lawrence Sugar in sealed cartons or sealed bags, which, from the time it is manufactured in the Refinery and until the package or bag is opened by the consumer, never comes in contact with human hands, nor is exposed to the air.

It is to your interest to insist upon having St. Lawrence Sugar either in 2 or 5 lb. sealed carton packages or in 10, 20, 25, 50 or 100 lb. sealed bags, which may be had either in fine, medium or coarse grain.

ROBBING WOMEN OF THEIR HEALTH

Anaemia Unless Checked Passes Into Hopeless Decline

Anaemia is like a spectre that steals on you unawares and drives all happiness out of existence. It is a thief that robs you of your life and energy. Thousands of women in this country are the victims of anaemia (that is, bloodlessness), which spares neither rich nor poor, young or old. It robs woman of her health, her vitality, her beauty—of everything that gives a woman her charm. The chief symptoms of this trouble include a distaste for food, prostrating headaches, extreme languor, loss of weight, nervousness, pale cheeks, lips and gums, heart palpitations, dizziness and a constant feeling of wretchedness.

The only way to effect a cure is to increase the blood supply—to make it pure, rich and red. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved thousands of young girls and women from the early fate that threatened them through anaemia's ravages, for these pills enrich the blood, stimulate the circulation, nourish the nerves, and restore the energy and perfect health that make women attractive. If you are a victim of bloodlessness in any way, do not let it run into a hopeless decline, but begin the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to-day. The following bit of evidence proves the worth of this medicine. Mrs. Maurice Sims, Liverpool N. S., says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a blessing to me. About two years ago I was so badly run down that I had to give up all work and go to bed. My husband and parents were much worried about me as they thought I was going into consumption. The doctor who was attending me changed his medicine several times; but it did me no good and I began to feel very much discouraged myself. One day a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to do so. In a few weeks I felt much better and I continued taking the pills for a couple of months until I was again in perfect health. I believe that if I had not taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would not have survived, and I shall always be very grateful for what they have done for me."

You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CRUELTY IN GERMAN ARMY.

Brutality of Officers to Privates Slowly Decreasing.

The increasing criticism of press and parliament is slowly reducing the number of cases of mistreatment of soldiers by their officers, but a recent report shows that 490 noncommissioned officers and officers were convicted of such offence last year. This was a reduction of ninety cases from the figures of five years ago, writes a Berlin correspondent.

These 490 convictions by no means indicate, however, that only that number of private soldiers were brutally handled during the year. A recent case, and one by no means unusual, was the conviction of a noncommissioned officer of the Third Bavarian regiment, who was charged with no less than ninety offences against the men under him. One soldier was lamed by being struck on the kneecap with a gunbutt, and there were a dozen of cases in which recruits were choked and struck in the face. It is not long since a captain was forced to leave the service after his third conviction for mistreating recruits. The charges against him covered brutal treatment in 140 cases.

Complaints of these conditions made in the reichstag, have from time to time moved the minister of war to declare that the government was equally concerned and was doing its best to put a stop to them. Figures have been quoted to show that cases of mistreatment are gradually growing less common, and it has been declared that the government desired that punishment of the offenders be exemplary.

With all credit to the minister of war, it must nevertheless be said that sentences in the majority of these cases are extremely mild and by no means calculated to discourage brutal officers from a repetition of their offences. The noncommissioned officer just mentioned was sentenced to three months and fifteen days' imprisonment and degraded. This is a really severe sentence, but it is at the same time a most unusual one.

The following case is typical of the nearly ten cases occurring on an average each week. A noncommissioned officer of the Third Guard Field Artillery regiment commanded a recruit to clean harnesses. He was not satisfied with the recruit's work and started expressing his dissatisfaction by striking the man over the head with a bridle. He then forced him to march up and down in the stables and to do setting up exercises, including the fatiguing knee bend, until the recruit fell from exhaustion. He kicked him in the thigh and on the knees and otherwise maltreated him. The recruit was removed to the field hospital suffering among other things, with concussion of the brain. The court martial condemned the officer to five weeks' light arrest.

MODEL COTTON PLANTATION.

English Spinners Seek to Be Independent of America.

In the hope of some day securing a raw cotton supply independent of America, the International Federation of Master Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers' Association of England has launched a scheme for the establishment of a model cotton plantation in Punjab, India.

Considering the advances already made in India, it is estimated that before many years the Indian crop will be almost as large as the American crop. The model plantation in India will demonstrate the benefits which arise from intensive farming thereby encouraging the landed proprietors to adopt this system and to improve the yields per acre and the quality of the fibre.

The land will be sown with as large percentage of American cotton seed as possible, and the Agricultural Department of Punjab will have the right to purchase any of the surplus seed produced which is not required for the estate, for distribution in other districts.

The Federation has secured a twenty years' lease of 7,500 acres close to the railway and water supply. A modern ginning mill is to be erected, and as there is scarcely any population in the vicinity, model villages are to be established for the workmen, who are to be brought in and instructed by experts.

Leading members of the Federation believe that within a few years it will be possible to increase the Indian cotton crop to ten million bales without encroaching on the area required for food. Manufacturer in all countries using Indian cotton are subscribing to the project.

Some people dream of success. Others keep awake and believe it.

Magic "Nerviline" Cures Toothache, Earache

IT RELIEVES EVERY EXTERNAL PAIN.

Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Tight Chest and Hoarseness.

It's when sickness comes at night, when you are far from the druggist or the doctor, that's when you need Nerviline most. Experienced mothers are never without it. It may be earache, perhaps a stiff neck, or one of the kiddies coughing with a bad chest cold. Nothing can give quicker results than vigorous rubbing with this old-time family remedy.

Nerviline is too useful, too valuable to be without. For lumbago, lame back, sciatica or neuralgia there is no liniment with half of Nerviline's power to penetrate and ease the pain.

As a family safeguard, as something to ward off sickness and to cure the minor ills that will occur in every family, to cure pain anywhere, you can find nothing to compare with old-time Nerviline, which for forty years has been the most widely used family remedy in the Dominion. The most economical size in the large 50c. family size bottle, small trial size 25c. All dealers sell Nerviline.

FOREIGN POPULATION.

That the growth of the foreign population in Canada has also added to our criminal statistics is shown by the fact that there are at the present time no less than seven murder cases under review by the Department of Justice and in every case it is a foreigner involved. The last Canadian criminal statistics available, those for 1912-13 show that in that year there were 52 charges and 25 convictions for murder. Of the 25 convictions no less than 17 were foreign born—foreign born meaning elsewhere than in Canada, the United States or Great Britain. One was born in Scotland, one in England and the remaining six in Canada.

During the same period there were 31 convictions for attempt to murder, and of these only three were Canadian born. The nationality of three were not given and the remaining twenty-four were born outside of Canada. Of these six were Americans and four English, leaving fifteen what are known as "foreigners."

According to the last census figures those born in foreign countries—excluding United States and Great Britain—formed 8.2 per cent. population, yet in 1912 the foreign born offenders of all classes were 17.2 per cent.

The Canadian born offenders represented 36.1 per cent., although Canadian born form 77.9 per cent. of the population. British born outside of Canada were 19 per cent. of the offenders, but formed 11.6 per cent. of the population. American born formed 4.2 per cent. of the population, but the convicted of American birth were 7.6 per cent.

GOOD CHANGE.

Tea and Coffee to Postum.

The large army of persons who have found relief from many chronic ailments by changing from tea and coffee to Postum as a daily beverage, is growing each day.

It is only a simple question of trying it for oneself in order to know the joy of returning health as realized by this young lady. She writes:

"I had been a coffee drinker nearly all my life and it affected my stomach—caused insomnia and I was seldom without a headache. (Tea is just as injurious because it contains the same drug, caffeine). I had heard about Postum and how beneficial it was, so concluded to quit coffee and try it.

"I was delighted with the change. I can now sleep well and seldom ever have headache. My stomach has gotten strong and I can eat without suffering afterwards. I think my whole system greatly benefited by Postum.

"My brother also suffered from stomach trouble while he drank coffee, but now, since using Postum, he feels so much better he would not go back to coffee for anything."

Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

AUSTRALIA'S POSITION.

Among the Richest Portions of the British Empire.

It has been proved that anything that can be grown or produced in any other part of the Empire can be successfully grown or produced within the island continent of Australia. Whether in the form of wheat, wool, dairy products, fruit, timber, meat, or minerals, Australia has been able already to produce and export in fairly substantial quantities, and to-day there is a rapidly growing demand for every kind of product. The growing demand for the products has encouraged the Australian Governments to "speed up" the work of immigration. The soil is there and the climate is eminently favorable. Although for several years there has been a steady stream of immigration and the new-comers have soon been able to "fit in" and become successful producers those who are apt to think the best opportunities have been seized and that there is a fear of over-crowding, might be reminded of the fact that Australia is still one of the most sparsely peopled portions of the British Empire. It has shown that it is naturally among the richest by reason of its wonderful mineral resources, its fertile soil, and its healthy climate; yet there are per square mile a smaller number of people than in almost any other part. There is a population of only 1.5 persons to the square mile as compared with 373.3 persons to the square mile in the United Kingdom.

How a Sick Woman Can Regain Health

READ THIS VERY CAREFULLY.

"For years I was thin and delicate. I lost color and was easily tired; a yellow pallor, pimples and blotches on my face were not only mortifying to my feelings, but because I thought my skin would never look nice again I grew despondent. Then my appetite failed. I grew very weak. Various remedies, pills, tonics and tablets I tried without permanent benefit. A visit to my sister put into my hands a box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. She placed reliance upon them and now that they have made me a well woman I would not be without them whatever they might cost. I found Dr. Hamilton's Pills by their mild yet searching action very suitable to the delicate character of a woman's nature. They never once gripped me, yet they established regularity. My appetite grew keen—my blood red and pure—heavy rings under my eyes disappeared and to-day my skin is as clear and un-wrinkled as when I was a girl. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

The above straightforward letter from Mrs. J. Y. Todd, wife of a well-known miller in Rogersville, is proof sufficient that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a wonderful woman's medicine. Use no other pill but Dr. Hamilton's. 25c. per box. All dealers or The Catarrh-ozone Co., Kingston, Ontario.

From present appearances there is little likelihood of the Toronto-Eastern electric railway being constructed this season west of Pickering. The long debate in parliament evidently had an injurious effect on Canadian credit in foreign countries where the bonds will be placed on the market.

The unfortunate young ladies lived with their invalid mother, who is a widow, their father having died two years ago. —John Stephenson had the misfortune to fall out of his hay mow one day last week bruising his head and shaking him up rather badly. He was able to continue his work, but he has suffered from the effect of the fall for several days.

—John Gormley had a rather strange and unpleasant experience on Saturday last. He was engaged at J. R. Linton's on the lake shore raking hay, and one of the tugs came loose, thus allowing the tongue to drop to the ground. The rake coming on to the horses' heels frightened them, causing them to run. Mr. Gormley tried to guide them up a small hill, but suddenly he lost consciousness. Mr. Linton, seeing the horses loose and running through the field, rushed to the scene. He found Mr. Gormley lying apparently dead in front of the rake. The tongue of the rake was broken and the doubletree had got free but which was fortunate for Mr. Gormley, who recovered consciousness in a few minutes. He sustained no bodily injury whatever, and what caused him to collapse is a mystery, and he is now none the worse of his experience.

—An interesting chase, in the nature of a buffalo hunt, took place on Monday afternoon in the O'Leary property west of the village. A number of men and boys gathered to capture one of H. Wade's cattle for slaughter, but the critter decidedly objected to any such proceeding, and every means known to civilized man was used to capture the animal, but all of no avail as she eluded her pursuers at every turn. Pop-guns, revolvers, shot guns and rifles, as well as heavy artillery were placed at strategic points, and after about three hours cannonading the animal yielded to the persuasions of her enemies, when a shot reached a vital spot of the now infuriated beast. To add to the excitement, Mr. Wade's driver took fright at a passing auto and ran away, and the new buggy to which it was attached was badly damaged.

—W. W. Sparks was in the city on Wednesday last attending a meeting in connection with the hydro-electric system. The object of the meeting was to arrange meetings in Pickering township and other adjoining municipalities, where it is proposed to introduce the system. These meetings are for the purpose of enlightening the people in regard to its many uses cost etc. Mr. Sparks reports that the Hon. Adam Beck will speak in Pickering village on a date that has not yet been fixed. A large amount of literature will be circulated dealing with the system and this should be studied up carefully. Now is time for the people of Pickering to take action and not turn down the offer. The great advantage of hydro-electric is that the consumer gets electric power and light at cost, and is not charged exorbitant prices, in order that shareholders may receive huge dividends. The Seymour Power Co. who have been approached at different times, seem somewhat diffident in regard to coming into this township, so we should give the hydro-electric every possible encouragement to do so.
