The Queen's Hall Murder

By Adam Broome

SYNOPSIS

SIGNOR ARELLI of Milan, a famous composer, is about to make his first appearance in London. He is to conduct the first performance of a symphony of his own composition at the Queen's Hall. The event has aroused very great interest. The hall is crowded, and millions of listeners are waiting for the performance to come over the radio.

Parelli makes his entrance, and raising his baton suddenly collapses. Medical aid is immediately forthcoming, but it is obvious that the man is dead. In the audience are two young people, Lettice Manton and Stephen Garton.

"The inquest on the late Signor Agostino Parelli opened before the Coroner for the Western District, Dr Thripfall, this morning. Certain organs from the body had been examined by Sir Edward Greene, the Home Office analyst, and he appeared in person to present his report. There was no doubt in his mind that the death of Signor Parelli had been caused by the administration of the drug curare one of the deadliest alkaloid poisons known to pharmacology. The drug used to be employed by the natives of South America to render effective the arrows which they used against their enemies in tribal wars and in the hunting of game. A peculiarity of this drug, as Sir Edward explained, was that it could be taken by the mouth by a human being without causing the slightest ill effect, whereas the result of an injection into the blood stream of as little as a quarter of a grain was the almost instantaneous death of the victim in excruciating agony. A curious effect of the poison is its instantaneous paralysing of the motor nerves of the body without any effect at all upon the sensory nerve centres. This characteristic has led to the prohibition of its use by doctors in experiments involving vivisection."

The analyst's report went on to describe in detail the usual symptoms. The girl shuddered as she read.

"There was a slight—a very slight—scratch on the fleshy part at the base of Signor Parelli's thumb—the only sign of a recent incision that the doctor had been able to find on the conductor's body. He could not say that this was the actual point at which the poison had entered the conductor's body, but he was led to suppose that this must be the case. As to how exactly the incision had been made, it was impossible for him to say. The puncture might have been made by a sharp pin or needle. He could say quite definitely—in view of the results of his microscopic examination—that the blood had been caused to flow."

The girl paused. Mr. Manton pictured in her mind the awful agony which the famous composer must have endured during those last few moments of his life, moments which should have marked the turning point of another great phase of his triumphant career. Lettice Manton read on.

The gist of what she read was that the evidence of the other medical witnesses—men who had examined the body immediately after the occurrence as it lay in the musician's room beneath the platform of the Queen's Hall, corroborated the findings of Sir Edward Greene. Mr. Arthur Cope, the leader of the orchestra, testified to the manner in which Signor Parelli had met his death. The evidence of the police officers who were called to the scene, was mostly of a formal nature. Evidence was given by Mr. Thomas Harris, a chauffeur employed by a car-hire firm in the West End. He it was who picked up the dead man's baton after the body had been removed to the temporary mortuary. The baton was identified at a later stage as the one always used by Signor Parelli. It was presented to him by the King of Italy, and was lavishly decorated with diamonds, and other precious stones, and bands of platinum.

It had been closely examined by a Home Office analyst as it was thought at first by the police that it might have some connection with the conductor's mysterious death. But nothing of an unusual nature was found upon the staff. The witness deposed to having seen a man whose clothing he described fairly closely, in the act of hunting about among the decorative plaques below the platform whilst the audience was still filing out of the hall. He was unable to see his face, and doubted very much if he would be able to identify him should he see him again.

The last witness to be called was Mr. Luigi Martinelli, the dead man's personal servant and valet, who travelled everywhere with him and who, it was understood, performed even secretarial duties for the great conductor. He was obviously far from well. He described how he had entered Signor Parelli's employment more than thirty years ago, when the musician was a church organist struggling against poverty in a small village in his native country. It was a tale of devotion and fidelity which clearly moved the assembly. In those years this man had made, in his own way, as great strides as had his famous master in his. His affection and admiration for the dead man had been so great that he had, by long hours of patient study in the evenings when off duty, practically educated himself.

Beginning as a general odd-job man about the house and yard, he had triumphed over circumstances, and transformed himself into a combination of valet and secretary. His ambition was fostered by Parelli's extraordinary shyness of women. By one of the ironies of fate, the bulk of the admirers of his works were women. He himself was very nervous in their society, and he would never employ a maidservant in his establishment. The opinion was expressed that this evidence should silence rumours to the effect that the event was a love tragedy.

"That, I think," said Mrs. Manton, in her precise Victorian manner, "is rather nonsense." She rolled her "r's" ever so slightly—but enough to show her listeners that she knew where they should come. "I've lived long enough, my dear, to know that it's not always the men who are shyest with women who are the least susceptible."

Jack Warner and Ann Alvarado (Don Alvarado's ex-wife), up five points. They'll probably be married in December.

Jackie Coogan and Betty Grable, up 15 degrees. This is getting hot and may reach the altar any minute.

Carole Lombard and Robert Riskin, down 10 points. Carole is getting restless, as she usually does after a certain time.

Jan Harlow and Bill Powell, almost zero. Both parties looking for new talent.

Constance Bennett and Gilbert Roland, up five degrees. She may divorce the Marquise de la Falsaise and marry Gilbert almost any time.

Robert Taylor and Irene Hervey, down 15 points. Bob's too anxious to take advantage of his sudden popularity with Hollywood beauties.

Ann Sothern and Roger Pryor, steady. He'll be free soon and then they'll be married.

Joan Bennett and Gene Markey, down 10 points. There's a lot of smoke, and fire is expected.

Wants To Fall In Love

Nino Martini, opera and moving picture singer, wants to fall in love, he says, but the right girl hasn't come along so far.

He admires American girls, he asserts. "They are wonderful. They are beautiful," he enthuses, in a national home magazine. "They have trim, charming figures, and they know how to dress. They show splendid qualities of character, too.

But with all that this girl is an enigma, he declares. "Does she feel deeply? Are her emotions genuine and profound? Is she merely out for a good time? Does she like a man for himself or because of his position? I declare, I don't know."

Whether the Remedy You are taking for Headaches, Neuralgia or Rheumatism Pains is SAFE is Your Doctor. Ask Him

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches; or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with "Aspirin."

We say this because, before the discovery of "Aspirin," most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of "Aspirin" largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken "Aspirin" year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: "Aspirin" is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains . . . and safe for the average person to take regularly.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

A Pleasant-Tasting YEAST

Everybody nowadays knows that Yeast is good for them . . . that it aids digestion, makes a sluggish intestinal tract active and clears up the stagnating impurities that are apt to linger in the blood, clog the skin and cause pimples, boils, sallowness, poor colour and other complexion troubles.

But not everybody can take Yeast. Here is a Yeast that is pleasant to taste. It has a flavour you'll enjoy. And it is actually richer in the vitamins that make for health—particularly the "B" Vitamins.

Phillips Pure Live Yeast is an English preparation. It is not only pleasant to take but it is more convenient, because it doesn't spoil, doesn't lose its power and efficiency. It keeps indefinitely. You can buy several weeks' supply at one time.

And furthermore, it costs less. Twenty-five days' treatments may be purchased for $1.00. You can take it before each meal. The large size bottle contains 150 tablets at $1.00; the smaller size 50 tablets for 50 cents.

LESSON NO. 78 TONE RELATIONS

There are a great many or few intermediate tones between BLACK and WHITE, depending upon the SCALE of TONE chosen. With these different tones an artist may represent the LIGHT and DARK VALUES of objects.

In pen and ink sketches, for reproduction in the newspapers, solid Black on White, or White on Black, or the use of Black and White together with one or more of the intermediate tones obtained between these two extremes. In the latter case, depending upon the artist's choice whether he uses a three, required in the three tone scale. White, Middle-Tint, Half-Tone, Middle Shade, and Black represent the five tone scale. White, High-Tint, Middle Tint, Low Tint, High Shade, Middle Shade, Low Shade, and Black are required for the nine tone scale.

Whichever scale you select to use, remember that the intervals of that particular scale are of the utmost importance in your work, whether it be pictorial or decorative, a sketch or a design. It is with these tones or intervals that you must interpret, not only light and shade; but, also, the natural and the artificial colours in the objects seen in nature. Next week we shall chat more about how to use these Tone Scales in our five, or nine tone scale in his artistic representation.

The ones thus produced are known as the Black and White Scales of Light and Dark Values. If you have not already drawn up samples of three, five, and nine tone scales there is no time better than right now to do so. You will find these samples a real aid in deciding which scale or how many tones to use in the particular job on hand.

Fig. 261 illustrates what is known as the Black and White Scale. Note how related any one scale is related to the others as shown in the lower portion of the drawing. White, Half-Tone and Black represent the tones work, by careful selection and orderly mixtures. Remember, intervals are more or less Contrasts which bring us once again to Tone Relations.

Ex. No. 76. Draft out a larger copy of Fig. 261, being very careful that each name of tones is placed opposite the correct or corresponding number. There is a reason.

These lessons are free. We invite questions from our readers, which will be answered without any charge. A small fee is charged for criticism on readers' sketches. CROCHETED GLOVES PATTERN 1076

To look your smartest this winter the crocheted glove must be part of your wardrobe. You probably can't find a more striking pair than these with the circular cuff—a new note. It will dress up your entire coat! The cuff, in the simplest of stitches, is made in contrasting colors or in tones of one color—three being used. The hand, too, is in a simple stitch. The wool gives warmth and yet makes a glove that flatters the hand.

Safety First

by C. H. Tuck, Opt. D.

Many accidents are brought about through errors in judgment, and these are generally coupled with hasty decisions. It takes only a few minutes or seconds to drive slowly instead of going pell-mell blowing a horn and trusting that the children will hear it and remain on the side until the danger is over. It is right to think that if this be true that the future generation will be born car conscious and will, by instinct avoid danger? This is just as likely to be believed as it is to think that when the first cars came into being dead hens were found along the road and now the rising generation of hens have learned to stop, look and listen and so we have less of them lying by the roadside. The answer is that when the car was first used, traffic laws came into being and were respected. Then comes the speed fiend and the accidents which in turn had the laws enforced and revised and later, thought is given to the cause and a means to remedy it.

Claremont

Norman Mechin and two sons, of Oshawa, and Mrs. H. Mechin, of Pickering, called on friends here on Sunday afternoon last.

Miss S. E. Evans and Mrs. Fred Ward, are this week attending the Convention of the Baptist Women's Circle, being held at Simcoe Ont.

The Loyal Canning Factory is going full swing at present. A big market is obtained for the canned chicken. A fair-sized staff is employed at this time.

There will be found in another column of this issue, the sale announcement of the real estate and chattels of the Claremont Canning factory, Monday, Nov. 25th.

Miss Ethel Bray, of Pickering, spent a couple of days last week with Mrs. Rumohr, who is slowly improving in health, and is now able to be up and around the house again.

The community was somewhat shaken up on Hallowe'en night last, a few clocks stopped, and a good many chased out of bed. Some of our folks wanted to blame the boys for it, but we found out later that they were not responsible. These earthquakes are becoming so common, we have one every ten or fifteen years now.

D. A. and Mrs. Scott, of Fenelon Falls were in town over the week-end. Mrs. Scott remained for the United Church Supper on Tuesday evening, and on her return was accompanied by Robt. Andrew and the Misses Mary and Effie Miller who will be spending a visit at the Falls.

Mr. C. A. Overland, on Saturday, Nov. 2nd, passed his 5th anniversary mark in business by receiving nearly two hundred citizens in the store on that day. The thanks and appreciation of the proprietor is expressed and conveyed to his patrons of the past five years and a hope for the continuance of this favor.

Some of our people were "guests of the ghosts" at the school on Thursday afternoon last when the pupils of the rooms of Misses Hosie and Linton gave a Hallowe'en Party. Prizes for costumes were taken by Margaret Cowie, Rose M. Parker and Master Phillip. Tea was served the pupils and guests, completing and enjoyable afternoon's program.

Newspaper reports this week carry an account of the outstanding successes of a former Claremont boy, Harold Morgan, in the athletic field at Guelph. In the Collegiate Vocational Class, several records in the sprints and distance races were broken. On Thanksgiving Day he broke several records, principally the 2-mile record established in 1929 of 11.18 min for the 2 miles. Harold made a new record of 10.43 and 2-5, or a mile in 5.26. He is proving a sensation in Guelph athletic circles.

The United Church enjoyed a very successful week-end during their anniversary festivities. The Sunday services were both very well attended, Rev. W. Rackham, who preached at both services and the music by the home choir and the Cedar Grove choir were all very much appreciated. On Tuesday evening the Supper and program were also attended by a large crowd. The play, "Sonny-Jane" presented by the Markham Dramatic Club was given a big reception. The work of the players was given strong commendation, plenty of humour and also the serious moments.

The members of the Claremont Baptist Church met in goodly numbers at the church on Friday evening, Nov. 1st, to spend a social time with Rev. J. L. and Mrs. Harton and family, who have severed their connection with us. Tea was served by the ladies of the church at seven o'clock, after which visiting pastors and representatives of the different organizations of the church spoke kindly words of appreciation of their work during their stay among us. During the evening, an address was read by one of the deacons and a well-filled purse presented to them, showing in a small way the esteem in which they were held.

"The Cops are in Town" — such was the observation by some of the young fellows on Hallowe'en night. Some were a little hard to convince and required practical demonstration by "authority" resulting in Hallowe'en 1935 being one of the quietest in history. Some of the boys didn't like the idea of having to behave, and were making great threats, but evidently a second, wiser thought changed their minds, or possibly the police changed it for them. We know one of the officers who would have thoroughly enjoyed tearing into a gang of about thirty young men who resented his presence and threatened to "clean him up." The officer is yet unharmed.

The heavy rain of the first of the week filled up some of our dry cisterns.

B. Kilpatrick announces that his store will be closed on Monday next, (Remembrance Day).

Mrs. T. Paterson is with her daughter, Mrs. Pengelly at Brooklin yet, but is recovering nicely.

Mr. George Glover, of Madoc, visited his brother, Rev. J. E. Glover, here over the past week-end.

Ed. Pugh lost a large number of fowl one night last week. The fogs were of some help to the invaders.

The regular meeting of the W. M. S. of the United Church will be held at the Manse on Thursday, Nov. 14th.

Brougham

Mrs. Bert Harvey is a Toronto visitor for a few days.

Miss Bell Brown is visiting T. C. and Mrs. Brown at present.

Miss Gladys Gannon, of Toronto, spent Sunday with her people here.

Miss Jennie Duncan and Mr. G. New spent Sunday at the former's home here.

The Leslie Devitt family, of Toronto were visitors at the R. Devitt home on Sunday.

Anniversary services for our church will be held on Sunday, Nov. 17th. Further particulars later.

Mr. Norman Mechin, of Oshawa, and Mrs. Hugh Mechin, of Pickering called on old friends on Sunday.

The Walter Barton family of Scott were recent visitors of old time neighbors and friends of Brougham.

Mrs. R. Wetter and daughter and Mrs. Crocker, of Toronto, were Sunday visitors at the Matthew's House.

Miss Adeline Barclay spent Wednesday with old Brougham friends.

The earthquake has been the subject of conversation this week. Some thought that it was still Hallowe'en tricks.

A number of old friends from Brougham attended the funeral at Brooklin of the late Mr. Wesley Harvey, who was an esteemed resident of this village for a number of years.

The congregation of St. John's were pleased to have Mr. Rackham, of Hampton as speaker on Sunday. The text for his discourse was taken from Luke 19: 8, "This Day is Salvation come to this house."

A large number of the ladies of the church were present at the sewing meeting last Wednesday and a number of quilts were made ready for the sale to be done at the home of Mrs. Philip on Thursday afternoon.

The pictures and lecture on the Red Lake mining district, sponsored by the Y. P. S. on Tuesday evening last was much appreciated by those who attended. The work of our student missionaries are much better understood by seeing these views and hearing the lecture.

The Women's Institute will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. M. Hamilton, on Tuesday, Nov. 12th. This is a Thanksgiving Meeting. The roll call is to be answered by "What I am to be thankful for." The hostesses for the afternoon, are Mesdames Hamilton, Beer and Lemmon.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by most of the community at the Hallowe'en gathering in the Hall. Most of the juveniles and many of the adults were in costume. Many and varied were the characters impersonated and small prizes were given. The evening was spent in all kinds of Hallowe'en stunts and entertainment. Refreshments were served at the close. Weekly Editors Cite Troubles

Collecting Subscriptions In Hard Times Proves Tough Proposition

Regina—The long-suffering weekly newspaper editor fills a unique place in the community he serves. While his paper fills a definite need in the surrounding territory, his subscribers are indifferent to his adversities. During depression years his troubles increase, and the conducting of a country weekly requires a large measure of optimism.

Some of the difficulties surrounding the business were recounted here at the annual convention of Saskatchewan weekly editors. Efforts to have subscribers paid up resulted in many and varied proposals being put forward, in lieu of cash.

One editor recalled he had traded a year's subscription for a reel of old garden hose, and was quite satisfied with the bargain. Further north, another accepts furs and blueberries as a substitute. Livestock and poultry are accepted mediums for barter, and several editors avowed they toured their districts in old cars equipped with chicken crates, picking up several arrears in the form of poultry.

But one northern editor led the list easily with a story giving a new angle to the situation. He had taken almost everything offered until one day a hard pressed farmer tendered a weekly quart of buttermilk until his account was paid. The editor didn't like buttermilk, however, and suggested butter instead.

"Bring butter to pay my subscription?" said the farmer indignantly, as he stormed out of the office, "I should say not. I can sell butter for money."

When Farmers Begin to Buy

"There were two farmers in this office recently and they were seeking information showing the average yield of various kinds of grain in Canada covering a long period of years, writes the 'Stratford Beacon-Herald.' One of the visitors happened to remark that he was pleased his old binder had come through the 1935 cutting as he had doubts about it. Our recollection is that he said he had secured it in the year 1910 and had been running it continuously since. He admitted there were several home-made repairs on it; cutting had been had this year because so much of the grain was down, and so he was glad enough the binder had no gone too much out of condition. Would he have to secure a new one? The answer came quickly, 'I would get one right away or before next season if I could see my way clear to pay for it, and it would help a good deal if the prices were to come down.'

Judging from the conversation of these farmers there are many things which are needed on farms. One claim was this:

"I think I could take a pencil and a piece of your paper and sit right down here and make out quite a list of things I would like to get, and farm machinery and barn equipment would fill quite a share of it. We will buy just as soon as we can and I know of other farmers who are in exactly the same position. We have not got the ready money now and there is not a farmer I know who wants to go in debt. Some of them are stuck in debt now and we all know what it means to them. But there is no doubt about the large amounts of machinery and equipment which is needed on Ontario farms today. It would make a lot of business when it gets going."

We believe that is a correct statement and it is interesting because it has to do with a basic industry—actually with the basic industry as far as this country is concerned. When the farmer reaches the point where he has some money left over he is going to start buying. Perhaps because he wants to, but mainly because he will have to. That is a very old law about the farmer being the basis of our prosperity and we are apt to forget it at times or pay little attention to it. It comes to life once more when one hears farmers saying they are going to start buying just as soon as they have the money to do the paying. And when they start buying the rest of us are going to find the going a great deal better.

FLASHES

The present consumption of beef in Canada per head is estimated at 68.66 pounds (56.09 in 1933); pork, 66.36 pounds (74.58 in 1933); mutton and lamb, 6.28 pounds (.32 in 1933); poultry, 9.9 pounds; butter, 30.92 pounds; cheese, 3.64 pounds; eggs, 22.31 dozen per capita.

Average farm values per head of sheep, swine and poultry in 1934 increased over those of 1933, cattle alone showing slightly lower values. Milch cows decreased in value from $31 to $29 per head, and other cattle remained unchanged at $17. Sheep increased from $4 to $4.18; swine from $8.99 to $9.86; and poultry from 56 cents to 59 cents per head.

According to the latest estimates there were 55,700,000 sheep in North America in 1934. Canada had 3,400,000; the United States 52,200,000, and Newfoundland 100,000. In 1933, the number of sheep in the world was estimated at 688,300,000.

The wools of prime interest in international trade are merino and cross-bred. Canada, New Zealand, the British Isles, Irish Free State, Argentina, Uruguay, Chile, and Brazil (which also grows merino) and Spain (which also produces carpet wool) are producers of cross-bred wool. Merino is the prevalent type of wool of Australia, Union of South Africa, and the United States. Carpet wool is turned out by Soviet Russia, China, Indian, French Africa, Turkey, Iran, Syria, Peru, Bolivia, Mexico and Ecuador.

Skunk-tail grass, or wild barley, is a native perennial occurring from Lake Superior westward, particularly in alkaline soil where better grasses cannot thrive. It is found occasionally in Eastern Canada. This grass is a serious enemy to Western stockmen, being a source of injury to horses, cattle, and sheep through the barbed seeds and awns penetrating the soft tissue of the animal's mouths and causing irritation and inflamed ulcers.

According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the production of factory cheese in Canada in 1934 totalled 99,346,637 pounds, valued at $9,797,398, reaching both for quantity and for value the lowest point recorded during the present century. Compared with 1933 there was a decrease in value of $1,330,586, or 12 per cent, while the average price per pound dropped from 10.01 cents to 9.86 cents.

Ontario and Quebec together produced 96 per cent of the total, the former with 73,301,029 pounds, or 74 per cent, and the latter with 21,676,738 pounds, or 22 per cent. Slight increases over 1933 are recorded for New Brunswick and British Columbia, with decreases for the other provinces. No factory cheese is produced in Nova Scotia.

The number of dairy factories in operation in 1934 was 2,652. Comprised in that number were 1,231 creameries, a decrease from 1933 of five; 1,053 cheese factories, a decrease of 73; 347 combined butter and cheese factories, an increase of 16; and 21 concentrated milk plants, a decrease of 2. The total number of factories shows a decrease of 64. The combined total value of all products of dairy factories in 1934 was $92,629,905, or an increase over 1933 of $5,411,594, or 6 per cent.

To drive home to farmers in general the important place of good seed in an agricultural programme requires that a continuous, persistent, sound, educational programme be carried on over a period of years, said Professor Robert Summerby of MacDonald College in his presidential address to the Canadian Seed Growers' Association.

Many of the farmers of Eastern Canada who fed Western lambs during the 1934-35 winter under the Dominion Lamb Feeding Project are placing increased repeat orders, in many cases asking for double the number of lambs they fed a year ago. The applications, particularly from Quebec and Ontario, reflect the abundant supplies of hay, grain, silage, and other crops in Eastern Canada.

One large duck farm in Eastern Canada is planning to ship 2,000 boxes of ducks to England before the close of navigation at Montreal and to hold them in storage for subsequent sale.

First Passenger Command

Captain George K. Baillie, new commander of the Donaldson Atlantic liner "Leitia", who brought this Scottish ship into Montreal Harbour recently as his first passenger command.

Captain Baillie was for fourteen years master of the Donaldson freighter "Cortona", trading between Glasgow, the River Plate and Vancouver.

Captain Baillie is a Highlander and served his early apprenticeship in sail. He was last in Montreal during the war as an officer on the "Casandra".

The Week's Wit

Two sailors were discussing where they would live when they gave up the sea.

Said one: "When I get ashore after this next trip I'm going to get a nice pair of light oars, and I'm going to sling them across my shoulder and start walking inland. When I strike a place where people say, 'What are them things you've got on your shoulder?' that's where I'm going to settle down."

Extract from Homer, Odyssey, Book II, line 121, about 800 B.C.:

"Go with thy shapely oar till thou comest to the land of the men who know not the sea; and when a passer-by, accosting thee, saith that thou carriest a winnowing-fan on thy shoulder, there rest."—Punch (London).

The Kicker

I hate to be a kicker, I always long for peace, But the wheel that does the squeaking is the one that gets the grease.

It's nice to be a peaceful soul, and not too hard to please, But the dog that's always scratching is the one that has the fleas. I hate to be a kicker means nothing in a show— For the kickers in the chorus are the ones that get the dough. The art of soft soap spreading is a thing that palls and stales, But the guy that wields the hammer is the guy that drives the nails. Let us not put any notions that are harmful in your head, But the baby that keep yelling is the baby that gets fed.

University Veterans Dine

The third annual dinner of the University Veterans' League will be held at the Prince George Hotel, Toronto on November 9th, at 7 p.m.

In the spring of 1933 the University Veterans' League was formed. It aims to perpetuate the comradeship of the Great War, and to call forth again in the present crises of the nation and the Empire those qualities of leadership so superbly displayed by Canadian University men in that great crisis.

As with the previous reunions, a large attendance is expected. An invitation is being extended to veterans who served overseas with university units and to any veterans who ever attended a university.

Capt. E. A. Baker, M. C., O.B.E. will act as chairman at this year's reunion dinner.

Race History

Omaha is the brilliant turf sensation of the last few months. He is the 3-year-old son of the great Gallant Fox and is already eclipsing the outstanding turf records of his famous sire.

Last season Omaha came in first only once out of 9 starts, but this year the shoe is on the other foot, or should I say hoof?

Following very closely in Gallant Fox's famous footsteps, Omaha won the Kentucky Derby, following that great achievement with a win in the Belmont Stakes.

SCOUTING

The enterprising boys of the 2nd Guelph Troop collected and sold 2½ tons of waste paper to augment their troop funds.

Welland Scouts on first aid duty at the local fair attended two jockeys who were injured when thrown from their mounts in front of the grandstand. In addition the boys performed yeoman service patrolling the grounds and finding lost children.

St. Catharines Scouts opened their Christmas Toy Repair Shop in the freight building of the N.S. and T. (Niagara Street). Toy distribution will again be made in co-operation with the Canadian Legion.

Some 900 Scouts and Girl Guides representing every pack, troop and guide company in London attended the annual church parade to Metropolitan United Church. Dean C. E. Jenkins of St. Paul's Cathedral addressed the gathering. Rev. Dr. J. E. Hughson and Rev. D. W. DeMille assisted, Assistant District Commissioner Sutton read the Scripture lesson and Canon T. G. Wallace pronounced the benediction.

The 2nd Guelph Troop already are collecting toys for their Christmas Toy Repair Shop.

For the Decoration Day parade, the 10th Brantford Troop acted as guard of honour for the float. At the cemetery they helped distribute flowers and provided a guard of honour for the speakers' platform.

For Fire Prevention Week, Scouts of Guelph, Ont., and the local fire department co-operated in a unique window display in a vacant store on Wyndham Street. On one side of the window the fire department had a display illustrating home fire hazards, while on the other side the Scouts pictured the dangers of outdoor fires, such as in camps and in bush land.

Turning Boy Scout "adventure" into the real thing, three Philadelphia Scouts, Nature Directors of a large New Jersey permanent Scout camp, are planning to explore unknown areas of the 700 square mile Okefenokee swamp, on the Georgia-Florida border. The boys will seek specimens of rare fish and small mammals for the Academy of Natural Sciences.

A silver-gilt push-button used by King George to light the Jubilee Scout Beacon in Hyde Park has been presented by His Majesty to Imperial Scout Headquarters. The stand bears the inscription: "Presented by King George V to the Boy Scouts to commemorate the lighting of the bonfire in Hyde Park on May 6th, 1935."

Well, you must need a holiday."

No News
Triumphant Sutor: "Well, Willie, your sister is going to marry me! How is that for news?"
Willie: "Huh! Are you just NOW finding that out?"

As Good As Any
Billy's mother looked at him accusingly.
"What have you done with all your money, son?" she asked. "Your little bank is empty."
"Well, mother, answered the boy, "yesterday was a rainy day, so I spent it."

A man said recently that the nastiest phrase in the English language was: "I told you so."

Lecturer—I speak the language of wild animals."
Voice in Rear — Well, next time you meet a skunk, ask him what's the big idea."

Many a man who used to play golf to keep in the pink has given it up to keep out of the red.

Man — "My wife always gets hysterical when I stay out late at night."
Friend — "Hysterical, you mean."
Man — "No, hysterical. She digs up all my past."

Correct this sentence: "She married a rich guy," said the gossip, "but it didn't make her feel important."

Druggist — "Yes miss, you will find that most ladies like this lip-stick."

Young Lady — "You couldn't — er — tell me the kind the men like, could you?"

Cave men used to knock girls senseless, but that is no longer necessary.

Socialist Father—"What do you mean by playing truant? What makes you stay away from school?"
Son — "Class hatred, father."

"A friend is not a fellow who always falls for sham;

A friend is one who knows your faults and doesn't give a d—"

The Dub — Do you consider it sinful to play golf on Sundays?
Old Timer — It may be. But don't worry. What you play couldn't be called golf.

Some men give their children dimes for the church for the same reason they buy lightning rods.

"When one door closes, another opens; but we often look so long and regretfully upon the closed door that we do not see the one which has opened for us. Defeat is nothing but education; it is the first step towards something better"

Professor — What do you know of Marx?

Freshman — Did they have to pay for their fun, too?

You have probably noticed that in some families the children seem to climb to a common sense altitude much more rapidly than do their parents.

Product Of Toronto Men Eliminates Cutting By Surgeon.—Useful For Sculptor.

few months ago from the efforts of John Audley-Charles, returned soldier and practical chemist, and Dr. J. S. Lapp, dentist, who came upon it while collaborating upon an improvement of dental impression plaster. They applied it to surgical bandages for plaster casts with success and have since introduced it in leading Toronto hospitals.

Its easy removal lends itself particularly for use as a temporary cast, and in cases where frequent changes of a plaster are necessary. At the same time its rigidity and longevity equal the plaster cast now in use.

Seeds Must Be Well Dried Out

If seeds are to be saved from garden flowers, remember first that they must be well dried out and put away, in either metal or glass containers. They should be labeled carefully.

Seeds which are surrounded by pulp must be separated from the pulp when the pulp becomes somewhat soft, and then they should be dried before being placed in the containers.

We know that seeds saved from our gardens prove very satisfactory, so far as germination is concerned, but unfortunately they do not always come true to type because of cross-fertilization.

LOCALISMS

The rainfall on Monday night was one of the heaviest of the year, there being one and three eighths inches of a fall. It was very welcome as many wells have gone dry.

With Thanksgiving dinners and numerous fowl suppers, fowl have suffered severely during the past two or three weeks, not to mention the large number which have been stolen during the past month.

The next local meeting of the Horticultural Society will be held in the A. Y. P. A. rooms, Pickering on Tuesday, Nov. 19th, at 8 o'clock. Several of the members will give papers. Come and have a good time.

The choir from Centennial United Church presided over the music at the evening service in the United Church here on Sunday last. Many very pleasing comments on their services were heard following the service. The home choir were at Cherrywood for their Anniversary evening service.

W. Servant, who has been conducting butchering business in Pickering for over a year, found that the volume of business did not justify his continuing the business any longer, and decided to close up on Saturday last. He will be much missed by the choir of St. Andrew's church in which he was a valued member.

Florida is a delightful place in which to live during the winter months, but the large number of severe storms that have occurred frequently during the past few years, causing many deaths and much property damage detracts much from the pleasure of living there. One of these disastrous storms is now raging there.

A gasoline-pump robbery was carried out one night last week, at the "Green Flash" Station at the West end of the village. The pumps were "jimmied" open and forty gallons taken. The proprietor, who lives on the premises, did not hear what noise may have been made, they must have used a "rubber bar" to pry the locks off, or the operator a very sound sleeper.

George Wood, of Dunbarton, had missed one of his geese, but a few days ago found her safe and well in a straw stack, sitting on a nest of 9 eggs which she hoped would produce a flock of young goslings. This is the second time this year in which she had laid a nest of eggs having hatched a number of goslings in the spring. Mr. Wood does not know how long she has been setting on the eggs.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Richard Puckrin has had the misfortune to lose his second leg. On account of gangrene, one leg had to be amputated several years ago. Lately the other leg became affected by the same disease, and for some weeks has suffered great pain. One day last week the leg was amputated and he is now doing as well as can be expected. We hope that he will make a rapid recovery.

On Thursday afternoon the public and Continuation schools celebrated Hallowe'en by giving a short program and otherwise enjoyed themselves. On Friday evening evening the Continuation gave a Hallowe'en party in the school, at which there were a number of invited guests. A short program was rendered after which a delightful lunch was served, which was followed by an hour or two dancing. Everyone reports a very enjoyable evening.

Hallowe'en passed off very quietly on Thursday night last. The younger set dressed up in the usual Hallowe'en costume and wandered from one house to another, and demanded the inmates to "shell out" which was done good naturedly by handing out candies or other substitutes. Those of a more mature age and who felt that they could do a man's job, called on a number of places, and did some mischief, but nothing of a very serious nature, as any damage done was easily repaired.

The anniversary services in St. Andrew's Church on Sunday afternoon were very successful. The day being fine there was a large attendance. The guest preacher was Rev. Perry Jones, of Oshawa, who delivered a very impressive sermon, which was much enjoyed. Excellent music was rendered by the united choirs of St. Andrew's Church, Whitby and St. Andrew's, Pickering. On Tuesday evening the annual fowl supper was served in St. Andrew's Church, where a large number had assembled. After all had been served, a very attractive program was given under the direction of Mrs. Spragg, which was greatly enjoyed by all. The proceeds on Tuesday evening amounted to over $100.

H. Gibson who has purchased the coal business of Chas. Law, has taken up residence in G. D. Bly's residence on Church Street.

The other day at a gathering of women in Dunbarton, the usual topic of conversation, the earthquake, was being carried on, and various experiences were being narrated. One young lady was asked about her experiences, and she replied that "when she awoke she was sitting on the dresser." You can believe it or not.

On Sunday evening next, Rev. H. G. Crozier will speak on "Christ before Pilate" illustrating his sermon by a study of the famous painting by Munkacsy entitled, "Christ before Pilate." This will be interesting and helpful study and include a consideration of the question, "What shall I do with Jesus?" The morning service will be at 11 a. m. and will be preceded by the Sunday School Adult Bible Class and Y. P. Bible Class. Our Sunday School attendance is increasing. Come and make more.

The regular meeting of St. George's A. Y. P. A. was held in the Club rooms on Friday evening, Nov. 1st. The meeting opened with a hymn, "Jesus calls over the tumult" followed by prayer. The business was then discussed. The roll call was answered by each member with a joke. The rest of the evening was spent in musical, Mrs. Tanner being the convener. Prayers will be offered for Peace, for Remembrance of the fact that "Righteousness exalteth a Nation" and Thanksgiving for many blessings. The 2-minute silence will be observed in reverent remembrance of those who, though hating war and loving Peace, served. And of those who made the great sacrifice. The service will commence at 10:55 Monday, Nov. 11th.

On Thursday night last, or rather about five minutes after one o'clock on Friday morning another nature celebrated Hallowe'en by arousing the residents of Canada and the northern parts of the United States from their peaceful slumber and giving them a good shaking. For a time many wondered what was taking place. Some thought that it was simply Hallowe'en pranks that were being played upon an unsuspecting people. But it did not take long for most people to realize that it was a real earthquake. Beds shook, doors swung upon their hinges rattled and houses trembled. Many ran out on the streets, not knowing what might happen, but in Ontario very little damage was done. In Pickering about the worst that happened was bricks that fell from chimneys. Some were so terrified that they thought that the world was coming to an end. It was the worst earthquake ever recorded in Ontario. Scientists say that this part of the Continent will never experience severe earthquakes such as occur along the Pacific Coast and in Central America. We have had a number of tremors in past years but they did nothing worse than frighten a number of people. Even with the slight tremor that we experienced last Friday morning it gave us a very queer sensation, and it would give us some idea of the dreadful feeling that it would give us when a real earthquake takes place and buildings come tumbling down around us, spreading death and destruction. We should be thankful that we escaped the horrors that many other places have experienced.
