Press Unfair --- High School Information Available To Ratepayers

Data On Salaries Of High School Teachers Available To Taxpayers

Due to the misleading stories appearing during the last two weeks in other papers in this area, regarding Pickering Township Council, the Pickering District High School and salaries paid the teachers by the Board, we feel the matter should be cleared.

First of all—neither Council or the School Board are holding back the figures on teachers' salaries. Those salary figures are, at this moment, in the Municipal Office at Brougham, and are available to anyone interested enough to want to see them.

According to the High School Area Act, the figures are not to be released to the press and the Board was acting according to this Act. The Board invited the entire Council to attend its regular meeting. Only two members appeared. They were Reeve Geo. Todd, and Councillor Clare A. Balsdon. Mr. Todd was given the figures he asked for and they are now in the Municipal Office.

Despite newspaper stories, the Township Council and the High School Board enjoy the most cordial and harmonious relations, and are co-operating to the best interests of the ratepayers.

Goddard—Risk

Dunbarton United Church was beautifully decorated with delphinium, daisies and palms for the marriage of Marion Jane, youngest daughter of Charles and Mrs. Risk, and Earl Stewart Goddard, son of Frank and Mrs. Goddard, of Milliken. Rev. A. F. Bamford officiated and the wedding music was played by Mrs. P. N. Spratt, of Whitby. The soloist was Miss Mary Might, contraalto, Toronto, who sang "O Perfect Love", "Because" and "Forever Thine".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of white Swiss organdy over taffeta. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was gathered to a cap of small white flowers. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies and bouvardia. Her attendances, Mrs. Bruce Colby, matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. L. Courtice and Mrs. P. Johnstone, sisters of the bride, were gowned alike in pale green organdy over taffeta with deeper green sashes and matching shoes. They wore picture hats and carried bouquets of Shasta daisies with trailing ivy. The flower girls Beverley and Sandra Goddard, nieces of the groom, also wore pale green organdy ankle-length dresses with wreaths of sweetheart roses and daisies in their hair. They carried nosegays of mixed flowers. Mr. Jack Goddard, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Bruce Colby and Bill Laughlin.

At the reception which was held in the garden at Ancrain, home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother received in delphinium blue crepe and lace floor-length gown with a picture hat of pink lacy straw and corsage of roses. The groom's mother wore a gown of lilac crepe and lace with matching (continued in adjoining column)

Premier "Tommy" Douglas, SaaK To Visit Pickering

The Hon. T. C. Douglas, Premier of Saskatchewan, will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. von Pilla over the week-end of August 9th.

Dutch Reformed Church Attempting To Place Immigrants Here

Mr. R. Tjalma, Social Worker with the Dutch Reformed Church in this area, reported to the News a few days ago on the difficulties being met in their rehabilitation of the Dutch people coming to Canada. There will be an average of at least one ship-load per month this year, about eighty percent only of whom have been sponsored, the remaining twenty having to look after themselves.

It appears, in listening to Mr. Tjalma, that our Immigration Authorities are practicing an old game, in having these people believe that we are picking up gold off the streets in Canada—that there is work for everybody—which is not quite so, and wild, impossible promises should not be made. Some of the stories told are pathetic—families being pushed around from one city and bureau to another—no one knowing what to do with them or where to send them.

The Dutch immigrant has created for himself, in Canada, a very favorable reputation, and while there may be farms and farmers or others in this area who would be interested in employing a man, a couple or a family, there is no local contact with administrators.

The News has offered to receive and forward, to the proper authorities, any enquiries regarding these people and possible employment.

This work is being carried on by the Protestant Dutch Reformed Church, in Canada.

Ontario County Junior Farmers' Annual Picnic

The Annual Picnic of the Ontario County Junior Farmer Association was held at Geneva Park, Kedron, on Friday evening, July 18.

The program got under way at 7:30 p. m. with a picnic lunch, ice cream and soft drinks. The sports and ball games which were to have followed the lunch had to be cancelled owing to the weather, however, several of the members availed themselves of the opportunity to have a swim in the pool.

A dance, which commenced around 9:00 p. m. attracted many additional Junior Farmers who had been unable to attend the earlier proceedings.

The party broke up about 1:00 a. m. and everyone felt that it had been a most enjoyable and worthwhile evening in spite of the unfavorable weather.

The arrangements for the picnic were made by the Ontario County Junior Farmer Executive. The members of the Brooklin Junior Farmers were responsible for the final arrangements.

hat and corsage of roses. The couple left on a motor trip to Haliburton District and on their return will live at Hamilton.

PICKERING TOWNSHIP COUNCIL

will meet on FRIDAY, AUGUST 1, 1952
At 10.00 A. M.
At the Municipal Building, Brougham, for General Business (Regular Monthly Meeting)

NOISE TERRIFIC HERE ON WEEK-END

Residents, within some distance of the local restaurants were kept awake until the small hours last Sunday morning, by the yelling, singing and cursing of a group of men. Filthy songs and curses drifted in the windows of some homes until 2:30 a. m. "It was the worst language you could ever imagine" said one resident. Others said they could not get to sleep for the racket. It is believed this group were from out of town. They can't get away with it at home, so they come over here. Doesn't make sense to us. We suggest police be called in at once if it occurs again.

Horticultural Society Picnic Port Perry — July 30.

Pickering Horticultural Society held their picnic on Wednesday afternoon, July 30, at Port Perry Park, leaving the four-corners here at 2:30. Cars are wanted—if you want transportation or have room in your car—phone Gerald Cowan or Russell Truesdale. Bring picnic basket and own dishes.

Pickering Women's Institute

The regular monthly meeting of the Pickering Branch, Women's Institute, will be held at the home of Mrs. A. E. Calvert, on Tuesday, July 29, at 2:30 p. m. The Pickering Ladies will entertain the ladies of the Ajax and Whitby Branches. After a brief business period a social hour will be held. Roll Call—"A beautiful thought from Poetry or Prose."

Canadian Girls In Training National Camp

A dream came true—after five years of hoping and planning by the National C. G. I. T. Committee. This dream was in the form of the very first National C. G. I. T. Group, which was experienced by sixty-four girls from British Columbia to Newfoundland at Camp Kwasind, situated on picturesque Skeiston Lake, near Utterson, Ontario. One of the purposes of this adventure was to strengthen C. G. I. T. as a national organization. This was realized during the carefully planned program in which the girls participated each day. For two hours every morning the campers shared ideas and suggestions which will influence the program and policy planning for the whole organization. The interest groups were courses in the various phases of leadership training—each girl choosing the one which will help her most on her return home. The spiritual life of the campers too, was deepened. The Bible Study, which was a discussion of our basic Christian beliefs, was led by Miss Lois Tupper, the Director of the Women's Leadership Training School, McMaster University.

All was not work however. Skeiston Lake provided an excellent place for the daily swim and canoeing, which was a real relief from the heat. Each evening, when the weather permitted, there was the fellowship of a program around the campfire. These included talent nights and sing songs. Two of the evenings were labelled "International Night". Here the campers had the opportunity to hear about the countries, customs and costumes of the special guests at camp. There was Miss Yung Chung Kim from Korea, who has left her family in Pusan, to study at the University of Toronto on a scholarship; and Miss Maria Chela, who has just arrived in Canada from Angola, Africa. There were also two others: Miss Carol Chian, of Formosa and Luz Llanqui, of Bolivia.

As the campers and leaders joined hands in the Friendship Circle, to sing "Taps", on the last night of camp, they realized anew the deep fellowship which had been theirs for twelve days. This was an experience which challenged the first National Campers to uphold the theme of the closing ceremony—"Go Forth with God." — Jessie Beahy

BASEBALL BY CLIFF GORDON

MILLS BASES LOADED HOMER Gives Pickering 8-2 Win

Well folks, Babe Ruth hasn't too much on this fellow Mills. Monday night, with the socks loaded, Coach Boyes pulled Bye in favor of Mills. His strategy paid off as Mills worked the ball well off his bat out into deep left field for a round trip ticket with no stopovers on it.

The game started off very fast as Featherstone threw only three pitches to retire the side in the first inning. Miller, too, faced a small number of men as Hood walked and the next three went down in order. Brougham managed one hit in their half of the second but that was all the damage they could do. In the home team's half of the second it was too much—Miller and his slow methodical pitching and the side went down in order. The third inning appeared from the start as if Brougham might get a lift as Elliott led off with a free pass. Miller however, forced him at second and the next two fellows went down in order.

Bye, the first man up for Pickering in the third, led off with a sharp single. Featherstone fanned; Hood was safe on an error at third, and Pickering were in a good scoring position with only one gone. Holter however, was tagged out in going to first on a bunt and Morris grounded out second to first. Things looked a little dark for our friend Bill in the fourth, as a walk and a couple of hits looked like sure material, but a keen eye of the umpire noted a lead off and some good playing on the locals' part put out the fire. The locals got their first run in the last of the fourth, as Caldwell doubled and came home on an error on Pyette's hit. Brougham bounced right back and led the score in the fifth. With two gone in the last of the fifth, Holter singled—Morris doubled, scoring Holter; Stewart doubled, scoring Morris, but Caldwell went down to first unassisted. Neither team got a man on in the sixth. Pickering added another in the seventh as Hood got a lift via an error and then proceeded to steal second, third and of all things—home. Pretty good for a little fellow, we would say. Then came the eighth, and as we said before, Mills corked one with the paths full to make the count read 7-1. Brougham put up a desperate bid in their half of the ninth to get back in the game, but all they could manage was a lone tally off a pair of hits.

Next week Whitby Stokers will provide the opposition for our lads. Batteries for Monday's game—Brougham — Miller and Wilson Pickering — Featherstone and Stewart.

FLORENCE BURTON Tells Rotarians Of Trip To Ottawa

Miss Florence Burton, one of our High School pupils, and the one chosen by the Rotary Club to Pickering's representative at the annual reception in Ottawa to outstanding pupils, by the Ottawa Rotary Club, spoke at the weekly dinner of the local Club on Monday evening.

A delightful personality, Miss Burton told of the Ottawa Club's president telling them they wanted them to "see a little bit of everything", and were hustled from one place to another, while they would like to have spent more time at a number of their calls than they were permitted. They of course spent considerable time around the Parliament Buildings, visiting the different Chambers, libraries, memorials etc. Shaking hands with Mr. St. Laurent, Mr. Drew and other dignitaries was something of a thrill, the Prime Minister presenting each of the many students with his or her Certificate of Citizenship.

A Visit to the Mint, the R. C. M. P. Barracks, Rideau Hall and the Archives were also included in their three-day tour of the capitol.

While in Ottawa the students were billeted largely in private homes. Miss Burton expressed her thanks to the Rotary Club for having sent her to Ottawa.

Pickering Village

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Morley were in Beaverton on Thursday of last week attending the Brown-Hickson wedding. Mr. Brown is on the teaching staff of Pickering Public School. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Barrett and Mr. Murwood Barrett have just returned from Western Canada where they attended—the Calgary Stampede. While there, they visited the Miller Bros. and report fine crops there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ashton had his brother, Mr. N. Ashton and family from Napanee with them one day last week.

Miss Audrey Hunt has been off work, due to an infected foot, for a few weeks.

Miss Betty Baker was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower on Wednesday night at the Bushby home, given by Mrs. Barbara Warne and Mrs. Eileen Mills, in honor of her forthcoming marriage. About twenty of Betty's schoolmates and friends were present and all had an enjoyable evening.

Her many friends will regret to hear of the sudden passing of Mrs. Charles Baxter, of Oshawa, formerly of Pickering, at the Oshawa Hospital on Monday morning after a very brief illness. The funeral service will be held this afternoon at the Luke Macintosh Funeral Home.

Miss Jessie Bushby has returned from the First National Camp, at Skeleton Lake, and had as her guests—Muriel Stewart, from Fillmore, Seak, Darla Christie, Darlington, Man, and P. Moore, Owen Sound. Misses Vivian and Judith MacLay, of Toronto, are holidaying with their aunt, Mrs. E. S. Chapman.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Banks, Elwood White and Mr. Fred Wright, spent the week-end at Midland.

Miss Euna MacRae spent last week end with her aunt and other relatives.

Messrs. Jim Kook, Jack Boyes and Cliff Barke, (big-time ball fans), spent several days in Cleveland this week.

Mr. Stan Balsdon was off work for a few days last week following a minor operation on his left wrist.

Two Drownings At Rouge Over Week-end

The Rouge River, during the past few years having become a much-frequented bathing and swimming site, by city dwellers and surrounding residents and cottagers, has also become the scene of a number of drownings each year—two, over the past week-end. We can say however, from personal observation in that river that a great many swimmers, or rather bathers, are out and out careless when in the water, and when an accident does occur, there are always some who look around for someone to blame, and it usually ends up with it being—the Township Council.

We have evidence again this week of the fact that it does not matter how many steps authorities may take, to prevent accidents, there will always be some to ignore any and all warnings.

With the usual and regular number of drownings in the Rouge each year, life-saving equipment might well be provided in that area by someone—we can't say with whom does this responsibility lie.

Gormaly — Maddaford

The marriage of Miss Margaret Maddaford, daughter of Mrs. Francis Maddaford, Whitby, to Mr. William MacDonald Gormaly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gormaly, of Toronto, took place in St. Francis de Sales Church, Pickering, on Saturday, July 19.

The bride, given in marriage by her godfather, Mr. Norman Commender, wore a gown of lace. Her veil was held by a cap of lace, and she carried a white missal. Her sister, Mrs. Arthur Hoenan, was her matron of honor, wearing a nylon gown of delicate pink. In pale blue taffeta and bonnet Elizabeth Henan acted as flower girl, carrying a small nosegay. Mr. Herbert Gormaly, twin brother, was best man, and ushers Mr. Arthur Henan and Mr. Ed. Mahoney, of St. Catharines.

A reception followed at "one-haven," home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Irwin. The bride and groom left on a motor trip and will live temporarily in Whitby.

As fresh and natural as calico and denim—that's one of Canada's newest radio singing duos—Joyce Sullivan and Merrick Jarrett (above) of Toronto, who give a novel dialogue treatment to old folk songs in the broadcast series "A Man and a Maid", heard Thursday nights at 7:30 on the Trans-Canada network. Joyce is better known as the solo singer-guitarist around Toronto for several years. Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Solomon, Fairport Beach.

ANNE HIRST
Your Family Counselor

"Dear Anne Hirst: My daughter is heartbroken over her first love affair. She had gone with this nice boy for nearly a year, and they are both 17. A month ago, he told her they were too young to go steady. He told his mother he loves my girl, but doesn't know what he wants to do. Recently he's been going with a fast crowd, and he's changed so much. My daughter is a good girl; she doesn't smoke or drink which is rare nowadays.

"I've reminded her she has plenty of time to meet someone else, but she says she cannot stop thinking of him. I wish I knew how to comfort her!

"The trouble is, while she kept steady company with him she lost contact with other friends. Please advise me. I wrote you once before, and I thank you for your answer. It has been a great help. A Very Worried Mother"

PANGS OF FIRST LOVE

Few of us would relive our first love affair. The pangs that mark its end strike too deep. Susceptible young hearts feel their world has crashed. . . Don't let your girl feel guilty that she cannot forget this boy. That wouldn't be natural. Time, and other dates will dull the edge of her grief.

It should not take long for her to get back with her former friends. Summer brings picnics, excursions and other informal outings that attract group parties, and the boys and girls she knows in her church will not let her be lonely long. You can plan some of these get-togethers with her, and start a wider social life for her again.

Incidentally, since this young man is experimenting with a different crowd it is well that she does not date him. Later, when he learns to discriminate, he'll probably appreciate her more than ever.

I hope that other teenagers who read this column will take heed of your daughter's sad experience and distribute their dates among all their friends. Then, if one boy gets restless (as young boys will) they will not be left alone.

Your daughter is, as you say, an intelligent girl, and smart, too. She will not make this mistake again. Your assurance that her plight is not uncommon will help reconcile her, just now, and guide her in the future. How fortunate you are that she confides in you!

TO "UNHAPPY" Marriage between cousins (I presume you mean first cousins) was long practiced all over the world, including this country. Then came a period of disapproval, which still obtains in many communities.

The objection lies, of course, in the children—such a union. Sometimes both parents inherit the same unfortunate traits (physical or mental) which can be passed on to their offspring, though I am told this does not always occur. The present consensus seems to be that such parents take no more chances than others.

It is safest that both these young people consult a physician who knows the family history of each, and take his advice.

ACT OF A CAD

"Dear Anne Hirst: The most awful thing has happened to me! A boy I met recently asked me for a date. I knew his reputation, and refused. Now he's spreading a nasty story about me!

"None of my friends will believe it, I'm sure. But what of acquaintances, and other people whose respect I want too?"

"Isn't this a pretty rotten thing to do? Is there any way he can be stopped?"

FRIGHTENED

Tell your father, or another male relative. He will know how to handle such a cad.—That is, if you are so frightened you feel a stop must be put to it.

After years of knowing that some people stoop to contemptible lies, I've concluded the best way to handle the matter is to ignore it.

This revolting character has added one more item to his unsavory reputation. Don't worry about it. Others know what he is, and will only laugh him down.

Young girls who date on'y one boy are apt, some sad day, to find him gone. Make all the friends you can handle while you are young. It pays. . . Anne Hirst is here to advise you. Address her at Box 1, 123 Eighteenth St. New Toronto, Ont.

LIKE FATHER

A prominent radio announcer took his young daughter to a church dinner. The parson invited the youngster to say grace. She bowed her head and said, "These victuals, good friends, are coming to you through the courtesy of Almighty God."

High school driving courses have succeeded so well that 40 per cent of the states now require driver education.

"You're Bigger, I'm Older," brags two-year-old Lonnie Davis to his half-grown great dane puppy, ten months old. "And I know better than you about getting cleaned up." Lonnie is trying to talk the pup into having his chin wiped before entering a Small-Fry Puppy Show.

CHRONICLES OF GINGER FARM
 by Gwendoline P. Clarke

If there were a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Insects I should certainly be in trouble. And no doubt I would have plenty of company. It was this way: I was looking at our shrubs, thinking it was time the pruning shears were put into operation, when I noticed the flowering elders had most of their leaves chewed off. "Now what on earth is doing that?" I wondered. Closer inspection gave the answer. Under the leaves and along the stalks were dozens—maybe hundreds—of light grey caterpillars, about an inch long. Different from tent caterpillars but apparently just as destructive. And I was destructive too! I put a large paper bag into a tin pail and into it I dropped every leaf I could find that had a caterpillar on it. After more than an hour's work I put the bag into the kitchen stove and set a match to it without my conscience troubling me at all.

Where lies the difference, I wonder? I couldn't be unkind to any sort of bird or beast but yet I took an unholy joy in cremating those horrible caterpillars. In fact while I like animals I don't like insects at all—except ladybirds and spiders—spiders because of their fascinating web-spinning industry. But now I think of it a spider isn't an insect but belongs to a class of animals called "Arachnida" which also includes scorpions, mites and ticks. In Greek mythology Arachne and Minerva tried to outdo each other in the art of weaving. The goddess Athena—or Minerva—was so jealous of Arachne that she turned the poor girl into a spider as she worked—and so spiders have been spinning and weaving ever since.

After doing my best on the elderberry bushes I turned to a couple of mountain ash trees, which I have been nursing from infancy. These I found were being attacked by another type of caterpillar—golden-brown in colour. I proceeded to give them the same treatment as the others. As I did so I wondered why so many destructive insects are allowed to plague our existence. Life would be so much pleasanter without them.

But still, bugs notwithstanding, we don't have to look far to find reasons for rejoicing. We have all our first crop hay safely stowed away in the barn—and it is in first class condition. The weather has been uncomfortably warm of late but it has certainly shortened the haying season. Now we shall have time for other work before the second cutting is ready—which is just as well as we have quite a lot of extras in the offing—which have nothing to do with farming.

One of our little chores this past week has been rescuing some of our livestock from conditions brought on by their own folly. Out in the calf pasture at the back of the house two little heifers, Whitey and Red, have been grazing all summer. Whitey is quiet and contented and takes her feed where she finds it. But Red wants whatever is on the other sides of the fence and is continually poking her head through the wide wire mesh to get it. Sometimes her head gets caught, sometimes it doesn't. When it does she never bothers twisting and turning to free herself but waits patiently for someone to come along to disentangle her horns from the wire—quite confident that she will be rescued. The other day as I did exactly as she expected I fell to thinking what a resemblance there is between Red and Whitey to various types of people. We have human beings like Whitey, industriously earning their living, going their own quiet way, giving no trouble to anyone, nor getting into any kind of jam from which they expect someone to come along and extricate them.

There are also folks like Red—discontentedly looking towards what is just beyond their reach; leaving feed that is close at hand and straining for that which can only be secured by getting into difficulties themselves while giving other people the trouble of rescuing them from the result of their own folly.

Then we have Alicat who stayed on the beams of the barn for three days and wouldn't come down. Finally rescued and brought to the house he purred like a threshing machine. Now he gets on the kitchen roof and is afraid to come down. One day Partner tried to rescue him and had his thumb bitten as a result. In the night a storm came up and Alicat chose the lesser of two evils and came down. The same thing happens every day. After being fed and fussed over the cat goes back to the roof and has to be rescued all over again.

I am sure there must be a parallel to that in human behaviour—possibly in those who lack the courage of their own convictions—but my space is gone so I'll leave you to figure that one out.

TV STUFF

It was five minutes before the end of a tense Army-Navy football game. The score was 28-28; Army had worked the ball to the Navy three-yard line. The stands were in an uproar.

Suddenly a man who had been following the fray on his television set snapped off the current.

"What's the idea?" cried his outraged guests. "We'll miss the most exciting part."

"I know," admitted the host, "but do you think I'm going to get caught in that mob?"

Austerity Smasher—The British may have an austerity program, but they also have pretty 18-year-old Joan Collins to grace their cinema screens. Joan, shown above in a London studio, has her first big role in the film, "I Believe In You."

Snowball Fight In July?—Russel Green, 9, holds a placard advertising his unique summer treat—nice, cold snowballs, which he's been hoarding in the family's deep freezer. Russel only intended to sell them for cooling-off purposes, but the little boy at left thinks it's a fine time to revive a favorite winter sport.

Claremont Co-Operative Offers Excellent Service To Farmers Here

One of the better examples of the co-operative plan, is the Claremont Co-operative in Claremont (phone 38). Not only has it been a boon to its members, but also the entire community. Today, this is a business of no little consequence, contributing much to the stimulation of business in our part of the Province and offering the highest quality merchandise at the best prices.

Through care buying and by giving careful consideration to the needs of their members and patrons, this concern handles a complete line of Co-op, Master, Blatchford and Pioneer Feeds and a most complete line of farm needs and farm supplies, such as: Blue Coal, Building Supplies, and Co-op Black Hawk Ramm Machinery. They also supply a service to the district in the marketing of winter wheat and grain. This has made it possible for the farmers of this section to do their business profitably and economically.

Mr. Edgar Ward, President; Mr. Alan Ellicott, Vice-President; Mr. Ralph Faulkner, Secretary, and the rest of the Board of Directors, including Lloyd Pugh, Ken Holliday, Walter Symes, Alex Schneider, Lewis Jones and Milton Pegg, have done much to raise the standard of living conditions of the residents of this part of the Province.

We feel that this progressive business deserves our congratulations and we wish them continued success. A highly respected local couple, who do not want their names revealed, gave your reporter a sum of money as a donation to our Community Association. The money was turned over to our Treasurer, and will be put to good use. On behalf of the Association officers and members, we sincerely thank the anonymous donors. May the good Lord bless and comfort them.

Esmond Skidmore was in Buffalo recently to attend a convention of the American Natural Hygiene Society of which Es. is an active member and a well known exemplar of the society's theories and activities. Incidentally, Esmond presided at the grand piano during the convention banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Brush wish to thank our local police and firemen who so energetically searched for and located the Brush kiddies one evening last week when Mr. and Mrs. Brush had to leave home suddenly and rush their baby to the Sick Children's Hospital. Arthur Skidmore drove the parents and child to the City. The baby is reported to be recovering.

H. G. Healey opened his barber shop at the Dew Drop corner a trifle over one year ago. Such a shop had long been needed in this area, and from the day of opening, it has been well patronized. Mr. Healey thanks all who have helped to make his business a success.

I charge you all that each one of you concentrate all the thoughts of your heart on love and unity. When a thought of war comes oppose it by a stronger thought of peace. A thought of hatred must be destroyed by a more powerful thought of love. Thoughts of war bring destruction to all harmony, well-being, restfulness and content.

Thoughts of love are constructive of brotherhood, peace, friendship and happiness. If you desire with all your heart, friendship with every race on earth, your thought, spiritual and positive, will spread—it will become the desire of others, growing stronger and stronger, until it reaches the minds of all men.

For good Lumber & Building Materials Visit Kingston Road Lumber & Coal Co.

Kingston Road Lumber and Coal Co. is located at Stop 30, Kingston Road, Scarborough (phone Scar 3814), and enjoys a most enviable reputation by virtue of many years of honest business dealings with the public. With their modern and complete supplies of lumber and building materials, they are equipped to furnish anything that is available in the line of good lumber, doors, plywood, trim, and all kinds of mill work. New materials are coming in to the market for the building trade and this firm is only too glad to give you information concerning them. They handle everything available in even the largest houses, and they are sure to be able to supply you with whatever you may require. How many of us have been planning and putting off whatever building or repair is needed because we think of today as one of high costs. People who should know—real estate men, financial experts and builders all tell us that it will be some years before there is any real reduction in the cost of materials and labor. They advise that the property owner proceed now while good materials are again available.

Firms such as the Kingston Road Lumber and Coal Co. have been serving the public for so many years and have not failed to take an interest in their patrons in giving full value and in seeing that they have the best in lumber and building materials, that, together with good workmanship, will assure them of buildings of permanence and at a cost consistent with the trends of today.

Mr. Moore, President of this firm who has been in the lumber business for over forty years, and all of his employees are familiar with building plans and requirements and will be glad to go over your plans with you and assist you in obtaining materials that will be best suited to the type of construction you desire. So why not go ahead with those remodeling plans and building, and stop in at the Kingston Road Lumber and Coal Ltd. and see how they can assist you in this respect.

Audley

Rains have materially improved the pasture and late grain outlook. A and Mrs. Gane have purchased a house in Frenchman's Bay and will move there about the first of August.

The Community Club picnic was a success at the Lynbrook Park one week ago. The executive are to be congratulated on their good arrangements for the games and supper. Races for the youngsters and contests for the older ones as well as a ball game, made for the enjoyment of all.

Wm. McQuay, youngest son of the late Thomas and Mrs. McQuay who owned the farm on which George and Mrs. Puckrin live, who left here for the West about fifty-five years ago, returned last week to visit the old home for the first time. He was a student at No. 5, here and left for Edmonton and then went to Saskatchewan, where he was employed in railroad work, until his retirement recently and now resides with his wife and family in Regina. Will was a real favorite with his fellow school-mates. He was particularly impressed with the growth of the maple and other trees here. The old stone fence, which his father took so much time to build, stood out prominently but it is now hidden by the dense growth of shrubbery on the roadsides. His nephew, Ross McQuay, of Whitby, and his wife drove him over the old haunts.

The Audley Community Club are debating whether to continue with Blue Cross Hospitalization scheme, on account of the new high rates. These are apparently aimed at the crowding out such local clubs from their scheme, on the plea that such clubs cost the Company more than they get out of it. It looks unfair to many of the members who think that the whole body average should be the guide and not a few singled out for comparisons. This Club was one of the first groups to boost the scheme of Hospital Care, a few years back.

Audley Woman's Association
The Audley W. A. held the July meeting at the home of Mrs. C. Puckrin and Mrs. M. Hedge with eighteen ladies present. Mrs. Wm. Guthrie presided. A committee was appointed to have hinged legs put on the tables. Plans were made for an ice cream social in August.

The roll call was answered by a verse containing "Saviour." The story of the origin of the hymn "All the way my Saviour leads me" was read before it was sung. Mrs. John Puckrin read the Scripture, followed by prayer by Mrs. Arch. Bell. Mrs. M. Hedge read a poem—"The Ladies' Aid". Mrs. Robt. Hedge played two piano numbers. Miss Margaret Puckrin gave an interesting talk on her caravanner's work at the Vacation Bible School in the Hutsville district, which she attended, the first two weeks in July. The Audley Vacation School is to be held from August 11 to 15, in Baggotsville school.

The West Group served refreshments. — Corr.

Claremont

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Taylor and family spent Sunday at Port Bolster on Lake Simcoe.

About ten members of the local Women's Institute took the bus trip to Guelph last week and all report a very interesting and enjoyable day there.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Peasey of Toronto were Sunday visitors with Mrs. D. Pugh.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Pickens and Mr. and Mrs. H. Mills, of Toronto, were week-end visitors with Mrs. J. McCullough here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nicholson of Toronto, were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hammond.

You are asked to watch this paper next week for an advertisement about the official opening at the floodlighted Park.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Howard Pugh had the misfortune last week to cut the end off one of his fingers while fixing a lawn-mower.

Little damage was reported as a result of the heavy thunderstorm here, early Monday morning. Crops do not appear to have suffered by it.

The Women's Mission Circle of the Baptist Church is to meet on July 29th, at 2.30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. D. Pugh. Mrs. Lye's group in charge of the program. All the women of the community are invited to attend this meeting.

Members of the local library are asked to note that the Library will be open this Saturday and will then be closed until August 16th, that the Librarian might enjoy a few holidays.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Alan Friar, in the loss of their infant son on Saturday last.

Owing to the sudden death at Aurora, of the mother of Rev. G. Davison, services were taken by Mr. Harold Mills, assisted by Mr. J. Coates, in the Baptist Church, on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McGregor and Brenda, of Brougham, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Redshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cooper and Gary, are away this week enjoying holidays.

The whole community was shocked on Sunday to learn of the sudden passing of Mrs. Florence Davison, mother of Rev. George Davison, of the Baptist Church here. She passed away at York County Hospital, Newmarket. Mrs. Davison had come over from England only a very short time ago, to visit her son and friends here during the summer.

She is survived by her husband, Frederick, of Stafford, England; Alice, Harry, Edith and Florence, also of England; William of Aurora, and Rev. G. of Claremont. The service was held on Wednesday at the home of her son in Aurora, with interment in Claremont Union Cem-

One-Minute News from Johns-Manville

Transite Pipe Provides 2,000 New J-M Jobs

Johns-Manville is often asked: "Are you developing new uses for asbestos?"

J-M's constant search for new and improved uses of asbestos products is typified by the development of "Transite" (asbestos-cement) pipe.

Transite pipe, because of the many economies it provides, has become one of J-M's major businesses.

Today thousands of miles of Transite pipe have been installed in the U.S. and Canada for use as underground water mains, sewer mains, irrigation lines, house connection sewer lines, flues and vents, electric conduit, industrial process lines, ducts and stacks.

The great expansion of uses of Transite pipe now provides nearly 2,000 jobs in Johns-Manville plants, offices, and sales territories.

It is a good example of how new businesses can be developed under our economic system—businesses which create new jobs and new and useful products for the service of the public.

This is one of a series of brief articles bringing you facts of community interest about Johns-Manville or about conditions affecting our national economy.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

• The most compelling figure in Olympic Games trials anywhere — perhaps in the games themselves—will be a blind man.

There's something heart-catching about the blind, their struggle against the unkind and tragic blows of Fate that have robbed them of the opportunity to see the physical beauties and the color of a very wonderful world. And there's something even more poignantly gripping and profoundly impressive in the struggle of those in the dark to maintain some parallel with the life they cannot see.

So we believe that an almost blind athlete, who has completely lost the sight of one eye, and the other seriously affected, offers a most heroic figure among the great athletes of this continent who will compete for places on the United States Olympic team.

The gallant athlete in question is Bill Bangert. He finished fourth in the shotput feature of the National Indoor track championships held at Madison Square Garden recently. He put the 16-pound weight 52 feet 10 1/4 inches, which was one-quarter of an inch better than his title-winning toss in 1945. Jim Fuchs, world champion, won with 56 feet, 3 1/4 inches.

The remarkable part of Bangert's feat was that the almost sightless athlete had to be led to the putting ring where, of course, he was on his own.

Amazingly, this blind young giant's recent effort was better than any Olympic record prior to that of the London Games, when W. M. Thompson won with 56 feet 2 inches. In that event the great American athlete, Fuchs was third with a put almost exactly the same as Bangert's 53 feet, 10 1/4 inches.

The mighty Ralph Ross, four times U.S. national champion and twice Olympic winner, could not do as well as this sightless boy has done. Ross's best was an even 51 feet.

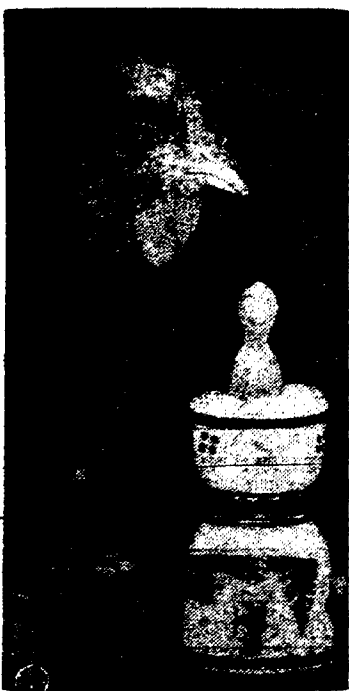

Bangert's determination and tremendous courage in the face of a disheartening physical condition, are typical of his entire life—in business, sports. Before his eye-sight failed, he was a variety football player as well as shot and discus star at Missouri University and later at Purdue. He reached the national amateur heavyweight boxing final. He made a success as a road-builder. He even did a good job as a singer, but it took too much time from business.

The world will wish this gallant soul well in his battle for Olympic fame. Indeed the world admires all athletes who, despite physical handicaps, make their way well along the athletic trail. But those who live in the twilight of vision far below the normal are the most compelling of all, and it is amazing how, in several varieties of sport, they have risen above a deficiency which might be thought insurmountable.

Athletes whose eyesight is below normal dot the baseball picture. There are a dozen be-spectacled stars in baseball, in the major leagues, several in the minors. They are by no means blind, of course, but their eye-sight is not good. Yet they have overcome that handicap. Several players in major hockey have worn glasses. Hal Laycoe of Boston Bruins is one. When Canadiens won the Stanley Cup in 1946, one of their stars was the whirlwind "Dutch" Hiller, a little bit of a be-spectacled player who could really fly, but whose defective vision forced him to wear heavy glasses.

Your comments and suggestions for this column will be welcomed by Elmer Ferguson, c/o Calvert House, 431 Yonge St., Toronto.

heaving for the Indians, while Di-Mag is in television work around New York.

1941—American League once again, score 7-5. That one was a real thriller, Ted Williams' ninth-inning homer being the decisive clout. Williams is in uniform of a U.S. Marine Captain now. Whether or not he refuses to return salutes—as he used to refuse to acknowledge the fans' applause—we haven't heard.

Rudy York and Lou Boudreau hit homers which were big factors in the A.L.'s 1942 win—score 3-1. York was playing semi-pro ball in the middle west by latest reports, while Boudreau is managing Red Sox.

Star of the American's 5-3 win the next summer—think hard!—Bobby Doerr. Bobby is ranching out in Oregon and, so they say, making a lot more dough than he ever did in baseball.

The Nationals surprised everybody, including themselves most likely, with a 7-1 triumph, in the next tangle. Bill Nicholson's double was the crucial blow that time. Bill was with the Cubs then and with the Phillies now, which might be termed going from bad to worse, in reverse.

Ted Williams, with a pair of four-ply blows, copped the spotlight at Fenway Park in 1946. We've already reported on his present whereabouts. Stan Spence—now with Charleston in the American Association—pinch hit for somebody in the next tilt, driving in Doerr to win for the Americans.

Vic Raschi—then as now with the Yankees—won his own game in 1948 when he singled with the bases jammed—final score 5-2, favor of the Americans.

Raschi, Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams paced the Americans, to an 11-7 win in 1949.

Red Schoendienst broke up the longest game in the series in 1950. Ralph Kiner had tied the score for the Nationals with a homer in the ninth and it went along even—Stephen till the 14th when Red clouted one that went all the way. Schoendienst, of course, is still a standout with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Stan Musial, Bob Elliott, Gil Hodges and Ralph Kiner all hit homers when the Nationals squeaked the Americans 8-3 in Briggs Stadium last summer. All four of them are still in spangles—and if you want to know where just look up the box scores.

SPORTS & A SIXBIT CRITIC

Too bad that rain cut short the 1952 All Star baseball game and so prevented Satchel Paige from showing the folks his stuff. It would have been a fitting climax to the career of a man who, in the opinion of many, was the greatest hurler of all time and whose only fault was that he was born ten—or perhaps it's twenty—years too early. But he might fool us all yet. The way he's been going lately Satchelfoot might be starring along about 1960.

And, when you come right down to it, Mr. Paige is liable to be remembered long after many of the other All Star "heroes" are totally forgotten. There have been 19 of these Inter-league affairs, up to now—each of which had one or more "standouts". But it's surprising how many of them have passed almost completely out of the picture.

Babe Ruth was the big noise in the initial set-back in 1933. His long homer with a man on base made the difference which permitted the American League to take that game 4-2. The Babe, now, is doing his clouting in another world.

Top man the following summer was, of course, nobody else but Carl Hubbell whose feat of striking out Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Jimmy Foxx, Al Simmons and Joe Cronin in succession was a feat never beaten and probably never equalled. Hubbell is still in the game as head of the N. Y. Giants farm system.

The aforementioned Jimmy Foxx was undoubtedly the 1935 headliner. "Double X's" homer with Lou Gehrig on base in the first inning and his single in the fifth which drove in another run, gave the American Looper another victory, 4-1. When last heard of Foxx was managing—of all things—a girls' softball team out west.

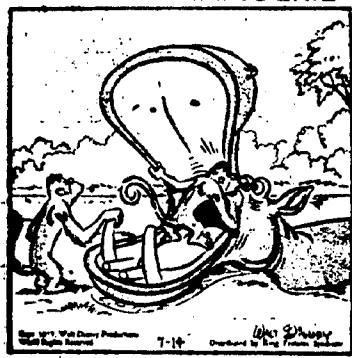

The Nationals broke into the victory column the following year with Dizzy Dean, Lon Warneke and Carl Hubbell as the top-notchers in a close 4-3 battle. Dean is mauling the Queen's English over the airwaves for the Mutual Broadcasting System. Warneke is a N.L. umpire. Hubbell we have already mentioned; and Augie Galan, who homered in that game, is coaching for Oakland in the Pacific League.

The American League had it easy—score 8-3—in 1937. Lou Gehrig led the attack that day—and Lou, of course, like the immortal Babe, has passed on. Joe Medwick, who had four hits for the losers that same day, is managing the Tampa team down in Florida.

Four to one in favor of the Nationals was the 1938 result with Johnny Vander Meer, Lee and Mac Brown doing the mound work. Vander Meer is still pitching—for Tulsa in the Texas loop. Lee has retired; and Brown is a scout for the Boston Red Sox.

In 1939 the Americans came through once more, score 3 to 1. Bobby Feller's relief pitching was outstanding and Joe DiMaggio chipped in with a homer that didn't hurt any. Feller, of course, is still
